Editor's Note

People who are publicly conscious and alert are not only interested in the attainment of an organization's goal. They can be linked to a unique goal team making a difference between the best practice or the best to present in the team. How can you expect the team to reach the finish line if it is not there?

The Philippine National Police Academy Alumni Association, Inc. (PNPAAL) is an association of graduates of the PNP, which is the gold standard post created by the Board of Trustees (BOT) elected at large by members of the Association with its goals and aspirations embodied in the preamble of the Association's Constitution with objectives which reads: "We, the members of the Philippine National Police Academy Alumni Association, Inc. (PNPAAL), inspired by the will of the Divine Providence in order to foster camaraderie, mutual support and cooperation, professional growth, education, mental and moral development and promote a truly just, democratic and humane society, do hereby establish and declare this Association and bylaws."

While the Association is confronted with so many challenges in a past few months, the elected officers and members have been able to rise above from the Association and support the PNP to be able to do so.

Our Association is entering high waters in the attainment of its objectives and so, the officers and members of PNPAAL must be one in spirit and resolve, integrity and justice as endorsed by our motto for this year's Grand Alumni Homecoming "Angkasan sa Kamiyong Akademya, ang Gabay sa Kamiyong Lungsod".

Our noble goal for our organization is not just for the glory of our people and certainly not just for the officers, it is for the advancement of our country through its people's progress and growth.

The more noble spirit of us is not ego but if ego is what it is that allows us to carry the burden, then our commitment is to never let it go.

Let us all be mindful enough to work towards a common goal and forget our personal differences and agendas for the sake of those whose social uplift in the past and our struggles but to be better in our own service to our country and fellowmen.

Let us serve it the best way we can.

PLEDGE OF LOYALTY

If you seek for a new life, a new home, work for him, speak well of him, and stand by the institution he represents. Remember, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of discretion. If you stand steady, consistent and firmly find him who, upon your position, and when you are in the possible, stand by your leader's command. But as long as you are sure of the institution, do not compromise. For if you do, the God-high world that comes along will have you away, and probably, you'll never come back.
