We can only realize our best possible selves by building love and acknowledging our past and present. Our students and families need to hear our voices of love and support more than ever. We can't support our students if we don't support who they are and where they're from. We celebrate that New York City is an immigrant city.

Because of this, EHTP acknowledges that it is located in ancestral Lenape homelands and it recognizes the longstanding significance of these lands for Lenape nations past and present.

We are also conscious that New York City has the largest urban Native population in the United States.

We believe that historical awareness of Indigenous exclusion and erasure is critically important and are committed to working to overcome their effects in our own educational institutions.

EHTP'S JAMES BALDWIN AWARD

Since its founding in 1958, East Harlem Tutorial Program has been grounded in the power of the written word. Literature sparks the imagination, speaks to the heart, and opens the mind. It ignites possibility in the classroom and beyond. It challenges the status quo, and it incites us to transform the world.

In creating the James Baldwin Award, we pay homage to an East Harlem hero and a world treasure, whose literary genius paved the way for generations to come and celebrate the writers and activists who assume the mantle of the written word to build love, equity, and justice.

STORY, MISSION & VISION

HISTORIA, MISIÓN Y VISIÓN

East Harlem Tutorial Program (EHTP) began in 1958 as a children's reading group and has since grown into a multi-site after-school program for public school students and a network of charter schools focused on significantly increasing the college graduation rate in East Harlem.

East Harlem Tutorial Program scholars build the academic skills, strength of character, and emotional well-being to thrive in school and lead in their communities. We envision a world where all young people access an unconditionally supportive education that offers them the freedom to embrace—and build on—their inherent power as learners.

STORY, MISSION & VISION

HISTORIA, MISIÓN Y VISIÓN

In addition to operating a network of Pre-K - 12th grade public charter schools in East Harlem, East Harlem Tutorial Program offers students in the community a variety of after-school programs for elementary, middle and high school scholars, in addition to support for college scholars and a teaching residency program to support new teachers from our communities.

We entered the 2022-2023 school year with our first high school senior class and we couldn't be happier as we prepare them for the next chapter in their lives. This also has us excited about the future of our organization and East Harlem Scholars Academies. Our high school is currently located at the Heckscher Building where we share space with El Museo del Barrio. Our new high school building on 104th Street and 1st Avenue is rising as construction continues. We are so excited to be able to open a new high school building in East Harlem, the first in 60 years. Our space will officially open by early 2024, and in the coming months we can't wait to welcome scholars, families and community members to the new space.

These past two years, our team of educators worked so hard everyday to provide the highest quality of teaching, learning and care for our scholars. We strive to ensure that our students are thriving and being their best possible selves. Our families are excited that many of the traditions and events we loved so much before the pandemic have started up again, like community circles, back-to-school nights and college fairs.

The last few years have taught us how important it is to be united even in the toughest of times. Soon we will be celebrating our 65th anniversary serving El Barrio. We remain committed to our mission - to ensure all students in East Harlem can achieve post-secondary success and become their best possible selves. It is an honor to be a part of each scholar's path and on behalf of our leadership team we thank all of you for your support and contributions—muchas gracias!

Warmly,

The EHTP Senior Team

NUESTRO IMPACTO EN LAS ACADEMIAS ESCOLARES

▲ Above is a map of our five charter schools, across three campuses in East Harlem

East Harlem Tutorial Program is committed to serving 25 percent of East Harlem children by 2025, and East Harlem Scholars Academies are contributing more and more to that goal. Our two elementary schools, two middle schools and high school serve almost 1,400 students from Pre-K through 12th grade. Our high school Scholars will also benefit from the success of our renowned after-school and summer programs, which are available to students as they develop their college plans.

How our scholars learned at school

At the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic, we transitioned to a virtual instruction style for our scholars. As attendance was affected city and nationwide, we continued meeting our scholars and their families where they were, from an in-person experience to virtual and then hybrid in the 2021-2022 school year.

Our Out of School Time program is designed to provide scholars with a rich after-school experience that grows their academic capacity and stokes their intellectual curiosity in a fun and enriching environment. Our Summer Programs serve to curb learning loss and provide scholars with an opportunity to deepen their passions through STEAM-based club activities. With a focus on strengthening ELA and Math capacity, scholars have an array of activities that keep them excited about learning.

College Scholars

Our Post-Secondary Success programs provide college scholars with 1:1 advising, mentorship, and internship opportunities as they matriculate through college and beyond. Our Post-Secondary Readiness team works closely with students in 9th -12th grade with post-secondary planning and our College Success team is dedicated to seeing our scholars through graduation. Our annual College Scholar Summit brings our youth together for a day of networking, mock interview, and internship attainment support to support and grow their professional capacity.

What story can be told through a reflection in an eye? What were scholars up to in out-of-school time at EHTP?

This year our scholars OST after-school scholars participated in an array of activities that were culturally rich, engaging, and designed to get scholars exposed to different opportunities. It is our hope that scholars will walk away with a new experience with each club in which they participate. Providing Tutoring, Robotics, Coding, Theater, Art, Music, and more, our youth are engaging in academically rigorous and engaging programs.

OUR IMPACT:TEACHING RESIDENCYNUESTRO IMPACTO EN EL PROGRAMA RESIDENCIA DOCENTETeaching Residency Demographics

The East Harlem Teaching Residency is a paid teacher residency that develops, supports, and certifies aspiring educators to become highly effective elementary teachers in East Harlem. In partnership with Hunter College School of Education, we prepare our Residents to affect educational outcomes in East Harlem and promote an equitable society.

The Residency is designed specifically for recent college graduates and career changers who are looking to become passionate teachers dedicated to transforming educational outcomes for East Harlem students. We look for residents who can build a connection with our scholars and the East Harlem community.

Job Placement Post-Residency

Every resident from Cohorts 1-6 that has graduated from EHTR has found a full-time teaching position after completing the residency program.

Cohort Demographics

86% of our teaching residents identify as POC. This is important because it allows our students to have role models in their classrooms who look like them.

NYC Average is 41.4% & National Average is 27.7%

WHAT'S YOUR WHY?

Rebecca, a one-time Resident who now mentors our residents at East Harlem Scholars Academy, shares her why: "East Harlem Teaching Residency built a strong foundation for setting up a classroom, planning instruction, and creating a classroom community." Read more about Rebecca, who change careers to become a teacher, in her blog post: ehtp.org/ehtpnews.

East Harlem Teaching Residency offers a 28-month secondary inclusive-learning program – with a $45,000 annual stipend – for aspiring educators to become highly effective 6th through 12th grade teachers. In partnership with @hunterschoolofed, we prepare our Residents to affect educational outcomes in #EastHarlem and promote an #equitable society. Congratulations to the graduates of this year's East Harlem Tutorial Program Teaching Residency program! For two years, these dedicated members of our community have studied for their MEd (Master's of Special Education) at Hunter College while practicing teaching at East Harlem Scholars Academies.

Now, these community members will become teachers, helping to lead the next generation of students! See more photos in the reel below.

OUR IMPACT:PUBLIC ENGAGEMENTNUESTRO IMPACTO EN LA PARTICIPACIÓN PÚBLICA*

During the pandemic, the East Harlem community was hit hard.

EHTP quickly pivoted our services to virtual platforms and had to meet needs that long existed in the community but were exacerbated by the financial and health crises following the onset of the pandemic.

The seeds of a new team were planted with the launch of EHTP Emergency Assistance Fund that supported families with mini-grants of up to $500 to meet urgent needs related to COVID. EHTP provided computers, wifi hotspots, and internet bill assistance, to ensure our scholars stayed connected to their education.

In FY22, we made the Emergency Assistance Fund permanent to the systems we have in place to support families experience urgent challenges and needs. By the end of June 2022, EHTP provided over $200,000 in assistance to families.

OUR IMPACT:

PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT

NUESTRO IMPACTO EN LA PARTICIPACIÓN PÚBLICA

In addition to financial support, the newly formed Public Engagement team formed connections with local groups, city and state agencies, and relief coalitions to provide additional longer-term support to families receiving assistance. This new team, formed in FY21, absorbed responsibilities for EHTP service and workforce development programs from the former team, and added community and government relationships into its portfolio.

Today EHTP has been able to better connect with partners in the community to work together on existing and emerging needs in East Harlem.

In a typical year, we usually have around 350 volunteers dedicating over 14,000 hours to our scholars. During #COVID19, we had 35 College Program mentors and 13 High School after-school tutors STILL SUPPORTING THEIR SCHOLARS through virtual platforms!

LOOKING AHEAD

OUR FUTURE

NUESTRO FUTURO

Campaign for East Harlem, Phase II:

When we built our “blue building” at 2050 Second Avenue, it became a landmark emblematic of EHTP and our East Harlem Scholars Academies. Now we are constructing the first new public high school building in East Harlem in 60 years!

The 70,000-square-foot building will include a full-size gym and auditorium, STEM labs, art and music rooms, and an event space open to the community. It will have a full admissions preference for East Harlem families.

Watch recent progress as East Harlem Scholars Academy High School has topped out! This large-scale ground-up project will provide a new state-of-the-art high school for the community.

The new school will feature art & music classrooms, science labs, a theater, and a gymnasium to support a flexible enhanced academic schedule. We are thrilled to celebrate this project milestone with @jrmconstructionmgmt and the many partners involved!
