WELCOME

United in Love is Coventry's newest celebration of love, identity, and community. Taking place in the heart of the city (University Square), this free one-day festival is all about bringing people together in a space where everyone can feel seen, heard, and celebrated. From vibrant performances to inspiring talks, creative workshops to family-friendly fun, the festival is a chance to connect with others and embrace the spirit of our community.

The festival is run by Unity in Coventry, a community organisation dedicated to creating inclusive spaces for LGBTQ+ people and allies. United in Love builds on this mission, transforming University Square into a colourful hub filled with music, drag, dance, food, and culture. It's a festival made by and for the community, designed to showcase local talent as well as welcome national artists to Coventry's stage.

Whether you come with friends, family, or on your own, United in Love offers something for everyone. Expect joy, laughter, and moments of reflection as we celebrate the power of love and solidarity. Above all, the festival is a reminder that Pride is more than a single event-it's a movement rooted in equality, unity, and the belief that Coventry is stronger when we come together.

ABOUT UNITY

Unity in Coventry was founded to strengthen connections within Coventry's LGBTQ+ community and create opportunities for people to come together in safe, supportive, and celebratory spaces. The organisation's mission is simple: to build a city where everyone feels valued and accepted, while championing equality and inclusion across all areas of life.

The CIC is led by three directors with a wealth of experience in both LGBTQ+ venues and community organisations. Richard Easter, owner of The Yard Coventry, has been at the forefront of building a thriving nightlife scene that is welcoming to all. Martin Parsonage, Operations Manager for Glamorous Coventry, brings his expertise in running inclusive spaces that prioritise visibility, and fun. Dee Hodgson, who works with the mental health charity Mind, adds vital knowledge and insight into the importance of wellbeing and support for those in the community.

Unity in Coventry CIC is here to celebrate diversity, champion equality, and create lasting spaces where LGBTQ+ people feel proud, supported, and truly belong.
