Disposables

Dishes, glasses, cutlery, takeaways and all the other single-use items all compostable, certified for food contact, and promotable with EcoHero

Disposable are certainly indispensable and fossil plastic remains the most efficient material to make them, but it has a monstrous environmental impact: every year, around 100,000,000 tonnes of petroleum are extracted and processed into disposable items that are used for a few minutes and then thrown away, creating a volume of waste equivalent to 15 Cheops pyramids

In addition, it is estimated that only about 10-15% is recycled, while most part ends up in landfills or, even worse, in the oceans, causing such phenomena as groundwater pollution and the creation of ocean floating islands of plastic big about three times the size of France. This plastic breaks down into micro-fragments which, when ingested by fish, enter the food chain

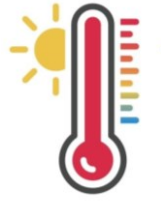

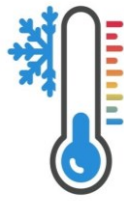

Perhaps the campaign against the use of plastic is not so pointless: although it may be seen as an imposition that only adds to operating costs, it may be a good opportunity to protect the ecosystem and leave a better world for the next generation

We prefer the optimistic view and have decided to anticipate the ban on all products with a high environmental impact by proposing 100% compostable disposable products, made from innovative renewable raw materials

Biodegradable

The terms "biodegradable" and "compostable" are often used interchangeably, but they indicate very different degradation characteristics

European regulations state that to be defined as biodegradable, a product must be 90% decomposed within 6 months, while it is compostable if it is completely decomposed in less than 3 months

Compostable

In addition, compostable products cannot contain fossil raw materials and can be thrown in the wet trash, turned into compost to use as agricultural fertilizer or fuel for biogas power plants

This double environmental benefit is one of the reasons that convinced us to offer you only compostable disposable products made from renewable resources and with low environmental impact production processes

All products in the catalogue are certified for food contact by the best international bodies and labelled in accordance with the local regulations

A large pile of bamboo straws, showing their natural tan color and hollow structure, arranged in a dense, overlapping cluster.

Eco Straws

Around 400 billion straws are used worldwide every year. Taken together, they would form a chain of incredible length, equivalent to 2,000 times the circumference of the Earth. If we also consider that it takes about 4g of oil to make a 20cm long straw, this means that every year about 1.6 billion kilograms of oil are extracted, refined and processed, only to be used for a few minutes and thrown into the environment: so many straws could fill the Colosseum 16,000 times over

That is why fossil plastic straws have been banned across Europe. H+ offers you fantastic reusable and washable alternatives in bamboo, borosilicate glass, metal and silicone or, for those who still prefer disposable straws, compostable solutions in PLA, paper or straw. We do not propose solution that alter the flavour of drinks like pasta or rice straws

All promotable with EcoHero, naturally certificate for for food contact, customizable, available in alternative models and also in bulk to reduce the environmental impact of packaging

Washing

To clean straws to perfection, manufacturers recommend hand washing with soapy water and a dedicate brush you can find in each pack

Field tests at partner facilities have shown good results even with dishwashing. The best method is to soak the straws and then wash them in the dishwasher

You can place them in the classic cutlery container, but with the special basket for straws you will certainly get better washing since they stay in the perfect upright position

Pizza

Pizza takeout cartons are not all the same: there are models that do not allow steam to escape and soak the pizza, others that do not resist stacking and crush the pizza, in addition to the fact that municipal regulations usually indicate to throw them in the undifferentiated garbage, because they are not recyclable if they are dirty or made with plastic film

We offer several models that solve these problems, two compostable and one Made in Naples, designed to keep pizza as freshly baked, stackable without risk, and suitable for heating pizza in the oven. They are all customizable, including with EcoHero designs
