Who we are

We are on a mission to create the next generation of modern foreign languages (MFL) teachers in the UK.

The National Modern Languages SCITT has been training outstanding language teachers since 2016, earning a strong reputation for developing skilled and confident languages teachers. As the only national teacher training programme in England dedicated exclusively to modern foreign languages, we offer unmatched expertise for those aspiring to inspire the next generation of linguists.

Our unique programme, designed by experienced modern foreign languages educators, was born from a deep passion for languages and language learning. The programme blends extensive school-based, in-classroom practical experience with outstanding training.

We train you to teach:

Arabic *	Japanese *
French	Mandarin *
German	Russian *
Italian *	Spanish

*Places for these courses are limited and are not available in every hub. You will also need French, German or Spanish as a second language.

Who we are looking for

We are looking for passionate linguists with sound subject knowledge who have the potential to become outstanding modern foreign languages teachers.

Resilient, reflective, adaptable

We welcome applicants with an understanding of the educational context in England but will offer a programme of acclimatisation for those trainees who need to gain this experience.

We are looking for applicants who can demonstrate good written English, personal resilience, enthusiasm, confidence, emotional intelligence and the ability to be reflective.

You don't need a degree in languages to train with us!

Whilst many of our trainees have language degrees, some are fluent in a modern language but have studied other subjects – ranging from academic subjects such as history or science, all the way through to more vocational subjects such as finance or marketing.

Some of our trainees are foreign nationals, fluent in their native language and with a good understanding of English.

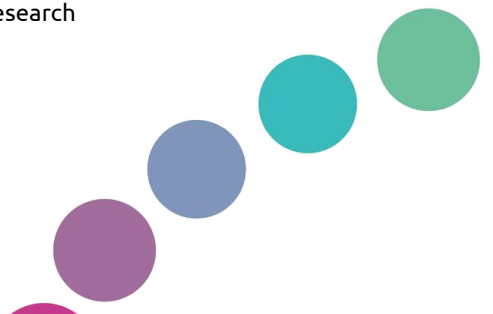

Others join us from a well-established career and are at a point in their life when they want a new challenge and want to make a difference to the lives of young people.

Changing careers?

Making the switch to teaching is often much easier than people realise. Teaching is an exciting and rewarding career. As long as you have a passion for languages and think that you can motivate and inspire young people then our course will teach you the rest and our team will support you all the way.

Many of our alumni have entered the teaching profession from a range of careers including:

- Translation
- Foreign language assistants (FLAs) in European schools
- Teaching assistants with language skills
- Journalism
- International aid/development
- Logistics and distribution.
- Marketing and public relations
- Travel and tourism
- Academic research

"The combination of hub training days and the practical experience gained during two placements was fantastic. Spending more time in school was incredibly enriching for me as I learnt so much more whilst in a school environment. My placements included a state school and an independent school and seeing the distinct workings of each was so interesting, it was an amazing experience."

- Charlotte Troussier, 2024 cohort

*Yo enseño.
¿Cuál es tu superpoder?*

"My mentors have been incredibly supportive, generously offering their time to provide valuable feedback after each lesson. They highlighted areas for improvement, encouraged me to explore different approaches, and provided guidance on my ideas and suggestions."

- Yunzheng Chen, 2024 cohort

Why choose us?

We are the only national teacher training provider focused solely on modern languages. This makes us uniquely different from other routes into teaching.

A choice of languages

You can train to teach in:

- Arabic*
- French
- German
- Italian*
- Japanese*
- Mandarin*
- Russian*
- Spanish

A course designed by linguists, for linguists

Our course has been designed by modern languages experts. Some of these professionals are also actively involved in the delivery of the course and run training sessions throughout your training year.

Great combination of theory and hands-on classroom experience

Our School Centred Initial Teacher Training (SCITT) provides a mix of academic learning, additional specialist training from modern languages experts and practical experience through school placements. You will spend time in the classroom by undertaking two placements in different schools. This helps you decide what kind of school you want to work in and equips you with the practical skills and insight needed for your new career as a teacher.

Part of a wider professional community

We are plugged in to the teaching and language teaching communities, which means you can be too! This provides you with access to a wealth of resources and expertise. Colleagues within our communities are always ready to help and support. It's a vibrant, exciting world, where your love for languages and commitment to education can push your professional career to the next level.

A choice of training locations across England

Through our collaborative and supportive network of hubs across England, you can choose to train somewhere that is convenient for you. Our hubs are partnered with a range of excellent schools giving you access to a variety of educational settings from both the state and independent sector.

Find out more about our hubs at: www.nationalmodernlanguages.com/locations

Our academic partner

We are proud to work with our excellent academic partner, Sheffield Hallam University, which provides the teaching, support and assessment for the PGCE qualification.

100%
of trainees are confident the training programme will make them a good or better teacher.**

*Places for these courses are limited and are not available in every hub. You will also need French, German or Spanish as a second language.

Career opportunities

It's not just 'teaching' – it's a career with many different facets!

The teaching profession offers a huge variety of career opportunities. These include:

- Head of a language department where you can lead and manage teaching and learning of modern languages within a school.
- Lead practitioner – providing support across more than one school in modern languages.
- A pastoral role, such as head of year or key stage.
- Senior leadership roles such as assistant head, deputy head or headteacher, shaping the strategic direction of a school.
- Working as a mentor, coach, trainer or facilitator.

As well as excellent career opportunities, teaching offers a competitive salary, job security and job satisfaction. By becoming a teacher, you will provide opportunities for the future generation, helping young people to:

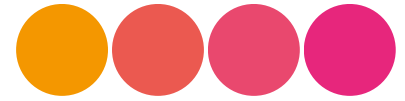

- Become fluent in another language, improve their communication skills and learn about other cultures.
- Have a competitive edge if they decide to apply to university.
- Prepare for their future career and acquire the knowledge to compete in a global job market.
- Succeed in life by providing them with a solid platform from which they can flourish.

"I would absolutely recommend the National Modern Languages SCITT to others. I loved doing my training with them and I am eternally grateful for what I learnt. As a cohort, we all got on very well and I made friends for life, one of which I work with now in my current role. After completing my training, I got a job at my placement school. This year I started a new role in a new school as head of modern foreign languages."

- Katie Langley, 2019 cohort.

How we will support you

From the start of your course through to applying for your first job, and beyond, we are here to support your teacher training journey. Training with other linguists, you develop your very own support network built on your love for languages.

Support before you apply

Our dedicated and experienced team will:

- Guide you through the necessary paperwork.
- Check your qualifications.
- Provide advice on fees and funding.
- Arrange for you to attend a taster day in your chosen hub.
- Explain the interview process.
- Help to arrange school experience.
- Support you every step of the way.

Support before you start the course

Before you start your training with us, you will take part in a comprehensive pre-course programme (March to July) that provides an introduction to the course and prepares you for the start of your training.

Just before you start your training you will be invited to attend our familiarisation week which takes place in Sheffield in August.

During familiarisation, you will take part in a comprehensive programme of training where you will meet our experienced staff, start forming relationships with your fellow trainees, and gain advice, tips and techniques to help you throughout your first weeks of training. To provide you with a language learning experience from the perspective of a learner, you will be taught Serbian.

For further information about the support you will receive before you start the course, please visit: www.nationalmodernlanguages.com/why-choose-us

Support during the course

Training with your peers will provide you with your very own support network. You will get to meet other trainees at the local training sessions in your hub as well as central training days held in Sheffield and online. This is a great opportunity to share experiences of teacher training with your peers – people who really understand the rewards and challenges of language teacher training.

You will also receive support throughout your course from the NML SCITT central and local teams who will guide you, review your progress and ensure you are supported throughout your training year.

During your placements in schools you will be supported by a school-based mentor who is an experienced teacher of languages and will meet with you formally once a week as well as support you throughout your time in school.

When it comes to applying for your first teaching job, we will give you all the support you need with applications and interview techniques to help you secure your employment within the modern languages teaching sector. We use our vast network of schools in England to help secure your first teaching post and have an excellent track record of helping our trainees secure employment after completing their training.

Support after the course

The support doesn't stop when you finish the course. Our former trainees are now teachers and some are even mentoring new trainees! There is a whole network of National Modern Languages SCITT alumni who are supporting one another throughout their careers. In addition, our friendly central team are here to help and provide support when needed.

100%
of trainees are confident that the NML SCITT training programme is well led and managed.*

Find out more about the course outline at: nationalmodernlanguages.com/courses

*Places for these courses are limited and are not available in every hub. You will also need French, German or Spanish as a second language.

Fees and funding

There are various funding sources to support you through your teacher training programme. It's not guaranteed, but there are different options you can consider.

2025/26 tuition fees
£9,535 full-time
Duration: one year

Disclosure Barring Service (DBS)

In addition, we charge an administration fee to cover your UK-enhanced DBS check, health check and pre-course programme. Anyone who has already paid for a previous UK-enhanced DBS disclosure and signed up to the update service will pay a reduced fee.

We will send you further details about the administration fee once you have accepted our offer via DfE apply ((the government's service for applications for teacher training courses).

Bursary and scholarship

You may be eligible for a bursary or scholarship to help fund your training. These are tax-free amounts of money you receive and you do not need to pay them back.

Funding available	Amount
Bursary - all languages	£26,000
Scholarship (French, German and Spanish only)	£28,000

Eligibility

For the bursary, you'll need at least one of the following to be eligible: a bachelor's degree class 2:2 (honours) or higher/a master's degree/a PhD.

We will assess your eligibility and will apply for the bursary on your behalf. The scholarship for languages is offered by the British Council. They set their own eligibility criteria and you will need to apply to them directly.

Tuition fees and maintenance loans

You may be eligible for further financial support via a tuition fee loan to help cover the cost of the fees and/or a maintenance loan to help with living costs. You can still apply for a tuition fee and a maintenance loan regardless of whether you get a teaching bursary or scholarship.

You can find out more about the funding available at getintoteaching.education.gov.uk

Important info for non-UK nationals

If you're interested in training to teach in England as an international student, please refer to the guidance at getintoteaching.education.gov.uk.

Please note, we are not a licensed sponsor of student visas, but we can consider applications from non-UK nationals with:

- EU Pre-settled and Settled Status under the EU Settlement Scheme
- A visa through the Youth Mobility Scheme
- A graduate visa
- High Potential Individual \(HPI\) visa
- A visa through resettlement/refugee schemes
- A British National \(overseas\) visa
- A family visa
- UK ancestry visa

For further information and guidance for international students, visit the the fees and financial support for non-UK trainee teachers page of the Get into Teaching website. To find out more about student visas, visit www.gov.uk/student-visa. Alternatively, we are happy to talk to you, so please do not hesitate to contact us.

Entry requirements

We are looking for passionate linguists with sound subject knowledge who have the potential to train to be outstanding teachers of modern foreign languages.

Entry requirements

- A good honours degree or a recognised equivalent qualification with a high level of fluency in at least one modern language.
- GCSE English and maths grade C/4 or above (or equivalent).
- If English is not your first language, you may need to take the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) exam and gain an academic score of 7.0 with a minimum of 6.5 in all skills or equivalent. For more information visit: www.ielts.org.
- If you are from outside the UK and don't have GCSEs or a UK degree, please be aware that, to comply with the Department for Education guidelines, you will need to prove that you have the equivalent qualifications through a UK European Network of National Information Centres (ENIC) statement of comparability. This should include the corresponding transcripts for GCSE qualifications and degrees gained outside the UK. For more information visit: www.enic.org.uk.
- We will happily check your qualifications and advise you.

"I think the SCITT experience is the best route into teaching, providing many more hours of necessary classroom time. Furthermore, the university side of the programme was led by inspiring and knowledgeable individuals who were eager and supportive. Finally, having the opportunity to meet regularly with large numbers of other modern foreign languages student teachers on the programme was invaluable." - Alan Lee, 2020 cohort

Get school experience to help with your application

Gaining relevant teaching experience is highly encouraged and can be valuable for your application.

This could be achieved through a school experience placement or voluntary work. While it's not a mandatory requirement, such experience can strengthen your application. If you haven't had the chance to gain school experience, don't let that discourage you from applying.

You can explore school experience opportunities before starting your teacher training through the Department for Education's Get School Experience programme. This will provide valuable insights and give you helpful examples to include in your application and discuss during interviews.

Visit: schoolsexperience.education.gov.uk for more information.

You can also come along to one of our taster days. These are held at our geographical hubs around the UK. You will spend time in one of our hub schools where you will get the chance to:

- Observe lessons.
- See how teachers manage a classroom.
- Speak to tutors and current trainees.
- Watch a range of lessons and age groups being taught.
- Learn more about teacher training including the application and interview process.

Visit www.nationalmodernlanguages.com/events for more information. Please do not hesitate to contact our team if you have any questions.

How to apply

Register

First, you need to register on the DfE apply website and select National Modern Languages SCITT as your training provider.

Complete your application online

You can save it as you go, rather than complete it in one sitting. You will need the following information to complete your form:

- Our training provider code: 2F1
- Course code:
  - French, German or Spanish: 342L
  - Italian with French, German or Spanish*: Y821
  - Japanese with French, German or Spanish*: Z946
  - Mandarin with French, German or Spanish*: H035
  - Russian with French, German or Spanish*: B157
- Please specify on the application form, the geographical hub where you would like to undertake your training. You can find a full list of our hubs on our website: www.nationalmodernlanguages.com/locations
- Your qualifications including your GCSEs, A-levels, (or equivalents) and degree.
- School and work experience: including dates, any periods spent abroad and your current occupation.
- Please ensure any gaps in your education or employment history are fully explained.

Personal statement

You will have up to 1,000 words to explain why you want to be a teacher and in particular a teacher of languages. It's your chance to talk about your motivation for becoming a teacher, your commitment to educating children and young people and your potential to train with us. You should also inform us of your level of language expertise, what skills and experiences you will bring to your new profession and how you will contribute to your future department and school. This is a crucial part of your application, so don't rush it and make sure we get a good insight into you as a person and as a professional.

References

Provide contact details for two referees. They won't be contacted until you accept a place on the course.

- If you are a recent graduate, then you'll need an academic reference.
- If you already work in a school, you'll need a reference from your headteacher.
- If are looking to change careers, then you'll need a reference from your most recent employer.

You can use a character reference, such as from a mentor or someone you know through volunteering, as a second reference. For safeguarding purposes, we require references from verified professional email addresses. Unfortunately, we cannot accept references from personal email accounts.

Submit application online

We will review your application and if you're successful, you will be invited for an interview.

Interview

This is our chance to get to know you and hear why you want to become a teacher, as well as discuss your skills and experience.

We understand interviews can be stressful, so we strive to make you feel at ease and can offer preparation advice beforehand.

Outcome

After the interview, we will inform you of the outcome. If successful, you'll receive a course offer. If not, we'll provide constructive feedback and discuss future options.

Keep in touch

Once you have been offered a place, we will keep in touch with you throughout the year to update you with key dates, support you in meeting the conditions of our offer and provide information in preparation for the start of your course.

*Places for these courses are limited and are not available in every hub. You will also need French, German or Spanish as a second language.

The interview process

If you are shortlisted you will be invited to an interview with the hub lead staff at your chosen location.

Interview process

The interview process will include:

- Written tasks in English and the main language in which you wish to train to teach.
- An interview and spoken language tests.
- A ten-minute teaching task which you will be able to prepare in advance.

We are committed to providing a high-quality experience for prospective trainees and have planned our interview process accordingly.

We will try to contact all successful applicants at the end of the interview day. Similarly, we will provide feedback if we have not made an offer and give you advice on the next steps.

Safeguarding children and young people

The National Modern Languages SCITT is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people.

Acceptance on the programme will be subject to the following checks:

- Health.
- Identity.
- Relevant qualifications.
- Right to work and study in the UK.
- UK enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS).
- Worldwide criminal record checks (certificates of good conduct).
- References.
- Childcare disqualification and disqualification by association declaration (where applicable).
- An online search for all shortlisted candidates. This is in line with statutory guidance issued by the Department for Education: Keeping children safe in education.

Successful applicants will only be able to commence their training when clearance from all the above checks has been obtained. We will inform you of the relevant documents you will need to provide after you are offered an interview.

We will carry out rigorous and extensive scrutiny to ensure compliance with the Department for Education's Keeping Children Safe in Education legislation.

"Working as a teaching assistant has deepened my love for teaching, reinforcing my decision to pursue it as a career. Combined with my passion for languages, this inspired me to apply for teacher training." - Annabelle Hornsby, 2024 cohort

100%
of trainees agree their training has enabled them to teach the knowledge specific to their subject or phase.*
