Are you an outstanding Early Years teacher and leader who aspires to take the next steps in your teaching and leadership career? We are looking for an outstanding Early Years teacher, who is an ambitious and highly motivated leader, to join our thriving school and lead our Early Years provision into its next phase of development.

This position offers opportunities to work with other early years specialists across the Trust which could lead to further leadership opportunities in the future.

We strongly encourage you to come and meet the team to learn about more about the role and find out all about our fantastic school where leadership, behaviour and personal development are judged outstanding.

The Trust is built on partnership and thriving on local schools working together. In September 2024, Loseley Fields will also be leading and managing Farncombe Infants School, our neighbouring local church infant school.
