JEWELRY CLEANING IN PREPARATION FOR SPARKLE & SIP

As the Sparkle & Sip event draws near, a quiet ritual unfolds behind the scenes—one that blends care, collaboration, and a deep respect for the beauty on display. This week, committee members gathered to clean and prepare the jewelry collections that will grace the event's tables, trays, and velvet stands.

Armed with soft cloths, gentle cleansers, and a shared sense of stewardship, volunteers worked methodically through each piece. From pearl strands to rhinestone brooches, turquoise cuffs to gold bangles, every item was handled with intention. "It's not just about shine," one member noted. "It's about honoring the story each piece carries—and making sure it's ready to meet new eyes."

POLISH, TAG, AND PREPARE EACH PIECE WITH LOVE & GRATITUDE

The cleaning process was more than technical—it was ceremonial. Settings were checked, and clasps were tested. Laughter and playlist hums filled the room as committee members swapped tips on polishing techniques and admired the transformation of dulled surfaces into radiant reflections. Soft cloths buffed away dust and fingerprints. Tags were handwritten or printed with care, noting style, price, and collection. Zip bags were matched to each item, ensuring safe transport and easy setup. What could have felt overwhelming became a shared ritual. The jewelry now gleams with renewed brilliance, thanks to the loving hands of those who believe in the power of presentation. It's a reminder that behind every elegant display is a team of caretakers, polishing not just metal and stone, but the experience itself.

By the end of the day, thousands of items stood ready—gleaming, organized, and infused with the care of those who believe in the power of presentation. Sparkle & Sip may be a celebration, but its heart begins here: in the hands of stewards who polish, tag, and prepare with love.

The GFWC Punta Gorda Woman's Club invites you to an enchanting evening of elegance and generosity at our Sparkle & Sip fundraiser. This dazzling event combines style and purpose, featuring a stunning collection of donated costume jewelry, with each piece available from $5 to $25. Women are encouraged to wear chic colorful outfits, leaving room for the event's fabulous bling to steal the spotlight. To enhance the experience, all attendees will enjoy delectable nibbles alongside beer, coolers, wine, water, iced tea, and pink lemonade—creating the perfect atmosphere for mingling and fun. We warmly invite you to join us for this memorable event. 💕
