How to Start a Side Business and Make Money

Starting an embroidery or sewing business from home is an exciting way to turn creativity into income. With the rising demand for personalized products such as monogrammed apparel, custom gifts, and branded merchandise, embroidery and sewing has become a profitable small-business opportunity. The best part is that you don't need a large shop or massive startup costs to begin. Many entrepreneurs successfully run embroidery businesses right from their living rooms or home studios.

ALTERATIONS

A clothing alterations business provides modification services for garments to improve their fit or appearance. These services cater to a wide audience, including individuals who need simple adjustments, such as hemming pants or taking in seams, and those seeking complex alterations for formalwear, such as wedding dresses, suits, or uniforms.

MONOGRAMMING

Starting an embroidery and monogram business can be a rewarding way to turn creativity into profit. With the growing demand for personalized items, ranging from custom apparel to home décor, this niche offers strong potential for both small startups and scalable brands.

You don't need a storefront to build a profitable sewing business.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

Sewing children's clothing can be a profitable and fulfilling business for creative entrepreneurs. With many parents seeking unique, high-quality, and comfortable garments for their kids, handmade clothing offers something mass-produced brands often cannot: individuality and craftsmanship.

Invest in Your Next Chapter

Turn your tax refund into something that works for you.

2026 Quilting Trends

Bold. Bright. Reimagined.

High-energy jewel tones meet saturated brights. Traditional blocks return, reworked in graphic scale.

Flying Geese. Log Cabin. Bigger scale. Bolder contrast.

Texture matters. Hand-stitching and dimensional quilting add depth and story.

2026 is confident. Expressive. Unapologetically vibrant.
