WHAT'S INSIDE

AVOCADO DAO

THE AVOCADIAN
FIRST ANNIVERSARY EDITION
EDITOR'S NOTE

Hi Avocadians
Welcome to the 13th Edition of the Avocadian! Our community newsletter has been going for a whole year. The very first edition came out in November 2021, and we a super proud of how far Avocado DAO and our Avocadians have come since then.

This month, we have one of Avocado DAO's OG contributors in the spotlight, and I'd also like to take this opportunity to thank the editorial team who write month on month to bring you the latest news and updates. Here's to many more Avocadian newsletters to come!

A YEAR OF THE AVOCADIAN!

The Avocadian released its very first edition in November 2021. It has now been an entire year since the team has been writing to bring you the latest insights from Avocado DAO's activities. Some of our editorial team have been with us since the very beginning sharing their consistent creativity, effort, and teamwork! Look out for our feature spread on P6 for our editorial contributors.

Avocado DAO releases its Q3 Treasury Report

Avocado DAO has released its latest Treasury Report to share details of the DAO's activities and the Treasury's current standing. The report covers the current breakdown of figures and looks at the developments that have taken place over the Q3 period.

The report outlines the Treasury investment and Game tokens, NFTs, and web3 investments as they stand at the end of Q3 2022. We take a look at our new strategic partnerships with game studios, and other web3 projects that are developing innovative gaming infrastructure, as we work together towards common goals for the gaming community. The report covers our new scholarship programs and plans for the future, such as our recently launched Questing Portal which is accessible to anyone who loves gaming and winning rewards.

You can read our Treasury Report and the details of our Questing Platform on our medium blog @ https://avocadoguild.medium.com

WHAT ELSE IS NEW?

AVOCADO LAUNCHES NEW QUESTING PORTAL

Avocado DAO has launched its new Questing Portal! Linked directly to the Avocado website, our new platform provides tons of value! Users can have fun completing quests for which they receive token rewards. These can be traded in the Avo shop for exciting merch, useful courses, and lots more! The portal is already full of quests and our players are loving the new rewards. More details in the Mod Update section on P7!

AVOCADO'S TEAM TALKS WEB3 GAMING

Avocado's senior team is generally busy iterating new developments for operations and the website, and recently they have been sharing their thoughts in a number of industry talks. Alvin De Cruz, our lead developer joined Evolution and PlayMining for a discussion on GameFi, and our partnership lead, James Chen, hosted GameSwift, an exciting new gaming ID platform, on our Discord channel to discuss our partnership.

WHAT'S BEEN HAPPENING IN THE COMMUNITY

In the last week of October, our co-founder, Brendan, traveled to the Philippines to co-host a community meet and greet alongside our partner DG. Pals. It was a great event where scholars connected with each other, we gave away loads of cool merch, and played DG. Pals' newly launched board game.  Brendan then went on to join the community in Indonesia for a smaller get-together with the Avocadian scholars.

On the 31st of October, our partnership lead, James Chen, hosted an AMA with GameSwift on our Discord community to talk about their identity platform. Winners took away prizes for the best questions.

Our lead developer, Alvin De Cruz, joined PlayMining for an insightful AMA hosted by Singapore-based Evolution, to answer the question: What is GameFi?

We gave away a ton of crypto prizes in our November Avocado week and hosted a 5-day League of Kingdoms tournament with our partners Glip.gg, with a total prize pool of $1000!

COMMUNITY PHOTOS
by: AG.Skyy

AG. Sky interviewed some of our Avocadians on their recent experiences with the guild to find out how Avocado DAO has been able to help them make more friends and what they have learned from their experience of events like our meet & greet in the Philippines recently?

"It took me a year to overcome that and just recently I became active." AG. April mentions as she tells the story of how she went from being a silent reader of Avocado DAO's Discord server to becoming one of the representatives that Avocado DAO sends whenever a tournament or event is held in the Philippines. Being active in the community has not only helped her get out of her comfort zone but April now speaks fluently and confidently in front of many people. She is also determined to learn more about Web3 as she makes her way to becoming one of the most active scholars in Avocado DAO.

On the other hand, AG. Jolya, one of our former Crypto Educators, describes her daily experience in Avocado DAO as her "purpose". She found her purpose which is to educate. She helps with the crypto education of Avocado DAO's scholars and by doing so, it also helped her to be a better person by sharing and supporting the education of her fellow scholars.

Along with the other Avocadians, AG. Hades is also one to mention! Avocado DAO was able to help him to afford the things he needed. Not only has he been able to gain friends and knowledge, but he was able to find the person he wants to be with! Isn't that great? In addition, AG. Hades was happy to meet the contributors and team behind Avocado DAO. As you can see, all of our scholars are grateful for the chance to meet each other in real life as more opportunities come their way!

TEAM SPOTLIGHT

In the spotlight this month, we have David Shi, head of operations and one of the earliest contributors of Avocado DAO: One of the O.Gs, the team said when they nominated him for this special edition of the Avocadian.

Q: How did you get involved and join Avocado DAO?
A: I've always loved playing games and I had a keen interest in gaming and blockchain technology. In early 2021, Sir Brendino approached me with the idea of Avocado DAO and the opportunities behind Axie Infinity. It sounded really exciting! I started shortly after that, and I've never looked back.

Q: What does your role at Avocado entail?
A: I am head of operations at Avocado DAO and look after our scholarship operations which involves providing direction to our scholarship managers and making sure we have sufficient human and IT resources to execute our initiatives. I also look after product development and content creation.

Q: What keeps you motivated to build when the whole market is in chaos?
A: There are a few points that I consider here:
Firstly, I am taking a long-term view; blockchain and web3 gaming are here to stay. The imagination and ideas are there, the technology just needs to catch up. Hence, everyone in the space needs to keep building. Secondly, I have a strong personal belief that blockchain technology and decentralized ownership of assets and content is the way forward and it's only a matter of time, we are still very early in the industry and tech.
Then, I also look at the market - and market movements are just corrections and road bumps along the way - There are some really good projects in addition to Avocado DAO in the web3 space that see this end goal and are hunkered down and building in the bear market.

Q: How has your interaction with the Avocadians and the community in Avocado DAO been to date?
A: The Avocadian community is the lifeblood of the DAO. I am always impressed by the things our community can do, whether it's achieving high ranks in a game, creating memes, or writing a thoughtful piece on the latest web3 topic. It's rewarding to see the progression of the people in our community.

Q: What is the most important lesson you've learned that you'd like to share with the Avocadians?
A: Always hold the majority of your crypto assets in a cold wallet such as Trezor or Ledger and safely store your seed phrases and private key. Centralized exchanges should be used to transact, they are not a place to store value.

Q: What is your advice to people who want to learn about web3 or maybe who want to play for Avocado guild?
A: For learning about crypto, I'd say have a Twitter account and find good accounts to follow. A good rule of thumb for good accounts is that they are not shilling a product or token, they have invested their own money based on their own advice and their views and comments are in line with your understanding of the space. You can also post your own thoughts on Twitter about the web3 space to get feedback from others.
For people who want to play for the guild, come and join our Discord channel and become part of our community!

Q: One last question, what is one fun fact about you?
A: I love the Souls series and I can proudly say I took down Malenia with a riposting critical!

AVOCADIAN CONTRIBUTORS

Meet the Avocadians who contribute their penmanship, or keyboard-manship, month on month for the last year to bring you the best and latest news from Avocado DAO. This month, with our special year edition, we want to recognize and thank the writers for their contribution to making the newsletter what is it for our readers.

AG. Mxmx
Maxi is our awesome newsletter contributor, coordinating the articles, gathering the monthly art, and is also our extra sharp eyes when it comes to the final review. She brings her positive can-do attitude and is always full of ideas and excitement for each month of the Avocadian newsletter.

AG. AtomArc
Each month, AtomArc gathers all the information from the community events that took place, together with the winner's leaderboard so that we can share it in the Avocadian. He always has creative ideas and finds a way of voicing them, making sure that he expresses himself in the most creative way he can think of.

AG. Sky
Bringing the latest news from community members, Sky reports on the achievements of our Avocadians, getting details of how they have progressed in the real world from the gains of crypto gaming, and life as part of Avocado guild. Sky loves the Avocado community, and is always busy behind the scenes, quietly working on making the community better and hearing their thoughts.

AG. Natsu
Natsu wears several writing hats and contributes to the crypto update section and provides insights into scholarship games. With his finger on the pulse, he always has the latest crypto news which he loves to share with the community. He also writes the latest gaming tips and tricks in easy-to-follow steps.

AG. Demdem
AG Demdem joined the team not long after the launch of the Avocadian. She brings us the Mod updates each and every month, covering the most important activities in the community. Demdem is always up to date with the latest scholar events and has an enthusiastic and positive way of writing for the community.

AG. RB
Our talented designer creates our amazing front covers and designs our graphics to add that extra flair to the newsletter. He is great at putting our words into visuals and we are excited whenever the new front cover is unveiled - as it is always epic!

We would also like to thank AG. Rolf for his contributions to the Crypto updates and Gaming insights until recently, to AG. Sharon who is always on hand to help, AG. Chip.Penguin, with great ideas to contribute, is always willing to help with the finer details, and lastly to our expert AG. Jenny, our marketing lead who oversees and helps get our newsletter live on the website at the end of every month.

Thank you to all of our newsletter contributors for your part in bringing the Avocadian to life!

NEW SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Avocado DAO launches another exciting scholarship!

From a multiplayer FPS game to a move-to-earn mobile MMORPG, Avocado DAO opens its door to the newest scholarship, DG. Pals.

Scholars can now apply to play our latest NFT game and start gaining token rewards in the DG. Verse! DG. Pals is an interoperable multi-game, multi-genre, and multi-chain NFT blockchain gaming project. DG. Pals already has its first two games live, D.G.P: New World and D.G.P: Legends. To play and gain rewards, you need to hatch and collect DG. Eggs that give you the ability to transform them into new and unique NFTs.

The game has a dual token economy, with its governance token ($DGG) and in-game token ($OPL). One must complete daily and weekly quests to earn $OPL which can also be used to level up your NFTs.

AVOCADO LAUNCHES ITS NEW QUESTING PORTAL

We are super excited to launch our new Questing Portal. Avocadians can now dive into our portal to win more points and rewards to use in the Avo shop!

There are tons of different activities, from in-game quests to challenges that you can share in the community. You can access the dashboard to track your progress and exchange your Avo eXperience Points (AXP) for cool rewards in the Avo shop!

MOD UPDATE

CHOOSE YOUR PRIZES IN THE NEW AVO SHOP

The Avo shop is the place to go to exchange your AXP for lots of great rewards. From cool Avo merch to scholarship shares, and courses, there are loads of items to select from. You can swap your AXP for $SEED (the Avo shop currency) for Avocado merch that will get shipped to your home, or get NFTs, a new scholarship or spend them on computer study courses.

Sign up to the Questing Portal, access the Avo shop, and scroll the rewards. You can see some of our merch on the next page!

With more quests and more rewards added all the time, we can't wait for you to check it out!

TOP 20 AVP EARNERS

By AG.Mxmx

Rewarding Avocado's Most Active Members

Avocado recognizes and rewards scholars who participate the most within the community on our social channels and show their support by joining events, contributing, and helping the Avocadian community.

Scholars gain Avo points (AVP) for their contribution and participation. They can trade these in the Avo Shop to purchase the AvoArmy role which gives them access to even more rewards and opportunities. New Avocado Army scholars are announced in Discord at the start of each month. AVP can also be used for an increased share in scholarships, guaranteed scholarship positions, and merch. Check out some of our items on P9 below!

CONTESTS, TOURNAMENTS & WINNER ANNOUNCEMENTS

by: AG.AtomArc

November has been a fun month, Avocado week landed at the beginning of the month, so it was a perfect time to follow on from the activities of the week before and create a Halloween-themed Avocado event. We had lots of creative entries with a prize pool of 1000 Avo Points! In addition, we hosted some game tournaments to test out new games and play existing ones.

Avocadians had a terrific and frightening night as they participated in Avocado Week 4—Halloween Edition! With 1,000 AVP as the prize pool, this brought new and excitingly spooky Halloween activities, especially for the seasonal festivities.

Mastery Monday | Gas Free Game Night

Mastery Monday meets Gas Fee Game Nights - Call of Duty: Mobile (COD) was chosen by the majority of Avocadians as the game of the week for both Gas Fee Game Night and Mastery Monday. The winners split a $25 gas fee of their choice, plus there was AVP for everyone who attended the event.

Tiktok Thursday I Avo Follow Party

AG. Farah, as well as AG. Kai, shared some footage on our official TikTok account to give some insider insight into Avocado DAO and how it benefits them in their lives.

Fun-loving Friday I Horror Story Telling

Avocadians and our Co-founder, Sir Brendino, had a ghoulish time sharing their true-life horror stories live in the booth. AG. Chay told the story of the day she was sick: "I woke up around 12 midnight, it was so dark. I was about to get up when I saw a child right in front of the light switch near the door. I was so scared that I just got back into bed and pretended I didn't see it." Spooooky!

Avocado DAO: Digital Art Contest

A-BOO-cadians were absolutely magnificent after showcasing their creative imaginations and brilliance in the digital art contest. The event lasted a week, during which they voted for the best digital art that enthralled their eyes and minds, as well as the spookiest avocado-themed banner.

"I appreciate how our guild allows us to express ourselves in many ways and share our talents. As there are so many talented artists at Avocado DAO, winning is a huge surprise. I had a great time at the event, and thank you for the opportunity, Avocado DAO!" said AG Avens. See this month's winners showcased in our Artwork section P15.

Avocado DAO: Writing Competition

The Avocadian writers had their day in the sun as their dedication and creativity shone through in their finished pieces. The writing challenge winners were awarded CBTs (CyBall Battery Tokens) for their impressive essays.

ARCHLOOT CLOSED BETA TEST 3 TOURNAMENT

by: AG.AtomArc

ArchLoot is a UGC (user-generated content) NFT game on the BNB Chain with over 300k fans around the globe. Being an iconic innovative project, it has raised $17m in funds and is backed by names like Binance NFT, YGG SEA, and FOTA. With 40 global team members, the project amassed 300k community members in around five months.

Avocado DAO took part in the closed beta, and five Avocadians managed to make it to the rankings! We are so proud of you!

One of our winners, AG. Reyz said: "It's a pretty fun game because the game is different from other games like Axie or CyBall that use system turn-based cards. Archloot is different because it's a kind of open world in which you can explore the map. You can upgrade some items in-game and get weapons like gacha that are common or legendary tier. It was great to play with Avocado friends as you can co-op in the game which is fun."
AG. Kyura, another of our tournament winners, added: "I really enjoy playing this type of MMORPG game, where players can set characters according to the type of game. There are several modes such as adventure, PvP, Team vs Team, Raid Boss monsters, and others. It was great fun playing with friends in the Avocado community to level up in the game. Progress is faster when played with friends, so it's best not to play alone. Try not to die, because the durability of the body part will decrease each time it dies. If the durability runs out, you will need repair potions to repair it. Players can also become stronger as they level up and equipment has been upgraded."

WHAT'S NEW IN CRYPTO

CRYPTO UPDATES

by: AG. Natsu & AG.Melzzie

Ethereum Merge Update

In our September edition, we covered the then-current Ethereum Merge, the network's transition from proof-of-work to a proof-of-stake blockchain named the Beacon. It is estimated that the change will result in around a 99.95% reduction in energy consumption. This is important because as decentralization becomes more mainstream, the blockchain will need to become more sustainable as well as scalable. The Merge has solved this problem by changing its consensus mechanism to proof of stake.

To scale and enable more transfers of data, PoS enables developers to start using a type of data partitioning to improve throughput (the amount of data that can be processed).

This is known as sharding, which involves breaking up the blockchain into smaller pieces (shards) and storing them in different places. This reduces the load on the network which improves latency and allows the network to process a higher amount of transactions more rapidly.

It's worth noting that the Merge won't provide all the answers immediately, but it has opened the door for sharding to improve speed on the Ethereum blockchain. Users can expect to see faster transaction speed and lower gas fees.

As Ethereum's transaction capabilities improve, it has the potential to be a major blockchain for financial transactions and data transfer, providing efficiency, and handling large amounts of data at lightning speed while registering the data on the immutable ledger that is blockchain.

Merkle Tree Proof-of-Reserves

With the recent crash of FTX and lack of transparency, Centralized Exchanges (CEX) have started to look at ways they can improve user confidence. One way to achieve this is by implementing a Merkle-tree Proof-of-Reserves (PoR).

A Merkle tree is a structure used to verify the integrity of data. They are particularly useful in blockchain technology where users need to share and validate information in peer-to-peer transactions. The Merkle proof tree serves to validate ID and add much-needed transparency to centralized exchanges to validate Proof-of-Reserves. This ensures transparency and confidence in the exchange's reserve funds.

In an article by Decrypt.co with the Headline, 'Binance CEO promises to implement proof-of-reserves after the run on FTX', they reported that the founder of Binance, CZ, stated: "A Merkle tree is a data structure used by blockchains to store transaction data. Hence, "Merkle-tree proof of reserves" could imply a system that proves that exchange users' crypto holdings are safe and sound using public blockchain information."

This is a welcome call from many in the computer science industry, as well as from users who see this as a means of adding transparency and reinstating confidence in the crypto market, which will enable people to trade with more security of their funds whilst on exchange.

Kraken already has a similar structure that verifies that the exchange possesses assets to cover its liabilities and that the balances they hold are backed by real assets. Gate.io recently had a Proof-of-Reserve audit carried out to prove that it provides 100% Proof-of-Reserves on user assets. This structure provides transparency and protects its users, and if Binance, as well as other such exchanges, implements a Merkle-tree Proof-of-Reserves system, it will enable users to have more clarity and give these types of platforms better credibility. We recommend that users do their own research on exchanges that they use and look at safe storage options on a cold wallet.

PLEASE NOTE: Not financial advice. We always advice readers to do their own research. The views & opinions expressed in the Avocadian's articles are those of the authors & do not necessarily reflect the views of Avocado DAO.
What is Dollar Cost Average (DCA) and how does it work?

A routine saving strategy or Dollar Cost Averaging (DCA) is a simple method where you invest the same amount of money every month or every week. This strategy will help you become disciplined to buy more units when the price goes down and less when the price goes up. Regardless of the economic conditions. Regardless of price fluctuations.

It is said that the Dollar Cost Averaging investment strategy is often carried out by world multi-billionaires such as Warren Buffet.

The idea behind DCA is to save consistently regardless of rising or falling prices. Regardless of the conditions and market situation at that time. DCA will help you to get into the habit of buying regardless of market and price fluctuations and continue to invest using this method. This will make it easier for you to make investment decisions and avoid emotional decisions.

Saving regularly is the most appropriate strategy for novice investors. The longer you invest, the greater the amount of money you save with a more optimal return.

You don't need to rush to get rich, because investing takes time to show results, even up to 10-40 years. The investment decisions you make today can have a big impact on the future if done regularly and consistently adopting known strategies correctly.

PLEASE NOTE: Not financial advice. We always advice readers to do their own research. The views & opinions expressed in the Avocadian's articles are those of the authors & do not necessarily reflect the views of Avocado DAO.

Phantom Galaxies tips and tricks

Phantom Galaxies is an NFT fast-paced third-person experience that looks and plays just like a traditional 3D-action RPG genre game.

Phantom Galaxies aims to be the leading multichain science-fiction mecha-shared world online ARPG. It will provide the most fully fleshed-out blockchain-integrated PC and Console game experience that enables true game asset ownership and player-driven governance. Phantom Galaxies will be a full "AAA" game that will serve as a shining example of real in-game governance by players and holders of the game's official utility and governance fungible token, ASTRAFER (source: Phantom Galaxies Litepaper).

Phantom Galaxies is currently in the Alpha test stage where players can access the game if they have NFT key access which can be purchased on Opensea. The game is currently available on PC.

At present, there is a Phantom Galaxies event called Astrafite Rush with 6 event cycles:

Avocadians, alongside their Starfighter, embark on a journey filled with fun and exciting battles to become the very best! We warmly welcome you to join us and embark on a journey together in Phantom Galaxies where you can:
1. Train and level up your skills and dexterity in controlling the Starfighter to become strong!

2. Complete the 6-cycle Astrafite Rush event and dominate the leaderboard!

3. Have a chance to become one of Avocado's scholars in the Phantom Galaxies game in the future!

Avocado DAO Goals:
- Gather as many people as possible who have no NFT (Planet, Asteroid, etc..) to join the Avocado DAO team.
- Conquer the leaderboard of the Astrafite Rush event.
- Create a fun and engaging community for Phantom Galaxies.

In-Game Tips & Tricks:

1: When you have just started the game, make sure to select the "Stellar Journeymen". This ability allows you to receive more XP. This ability helps you to grow early on in the game.

2: Use your "Mecha robot mode" and "Starship mode" properly depending on the situation.

MECHA ROBOT MODE

It's basically your combat mode, aiming and killing enemies is easier in this mode

When in mecha robot mode, you earn 50% damage reduction, So use it properly

STARSHIP MODE

Very good with the evasive maneuver

Has a very high travel speed

3: If you are planning to go for an Astrafite Rush event, here's the guide for grinding from the Phantom Galaxies team (https://medium.com/@PhantomGalaxies/preparing-for-the-astrafite-rush-grind-to-30-guide-eff2235996c)
