+ MORE

The family business has been developing, marketing and selling premium intimate products across the globe for more than 25 years. Quality "Made in Germany" is the company's number one priority:

All pjur group products are manufactured exclusively in Germany and subject to stringent quality and safety management processes.

Furthermore, the personal lubricants are tested for skin compatibility by the external institute Dermatest. They are also dermatologically tested.

Absolutely one of our favourite Brands. Pjur has something for everyone. Lubes, Enhancing and stimulating products, hygiene products. Silicones, waterbased, specialty anal lubes, and we can't forget their Med range. A visit to Nauti NZ is not complete until you have looked at the Pjur range, a must have to ADD TO CART

HIGHLY COMPATIBLE INTIMATE CARE PRODUCTS

MORE CHOICE · MORE QUALITY · MORE INTIMACY

Made in Germany

WHY ARE PERSONAL LUBRICANTS MEDICAL DEVICES? WHAT FUNCTIONS AND PROPERTIES PUT THEM IN THIS CLASS?

Personal lubricants are applied to sensitive areas of the body such as the vagina, anus and penis. During use, they also usually enter the body. They are often used to compensate for a lack of moisture in these different areas of the body. To ensure that the products are compatible and safe for use, it is crucial that personal lubricants are manufactured as medical devices within the framework of a good quality management system.

Welcome to the world of pjur med!
The pjur med series (pronounced "pure") signifies advanced premium lifestyle-products with naturally sourced ingredients for the health conscious consumer. This product line offers you silicone-based lubricants without preservatives, suitable for highly sensitive skin/mucosa, and water-based lubricants enriched with naturally sourced and nature-identical substances that benefit sensitive mucous membranes and are suited for every skin type. A spray and serum for men that can reduce over-sensitivity, and products for intimate hygiene and care.

A lubricant is a substance that helps to reduce friction. There are different intimate personal lubricants, but the idea is the same - they can be used to provide extra moisture to the intimate area of your body. pjur med formulas are hormone free, do not contain spermicidal substances and are compatible with latex-condoms.
pjur med glides complement the natural lubrication of the vaginal mucosa to relieve vaginal dryness.

Own Your

Pleasure

I just finished watching "The Principles of Pleasure" on Netflix (highly recommend it) and it made me think how far we have come in terms of openness around sex and pleasure but also how much more education and talking and sharing is needed!

As a woman in my early 40's who now owns and runs a sextoy business I have learnt a hell of a lot over this journey in the last 3 or so years, and still have a lot to learn and grow.

Growing up we didn't talk about sex, in fact I'm still waiting for my sex talk from my mum! We got the basic puberty talk at school and I don't remember Sex Ed from High School apart from putting a condom on a banana and us all being very giggly... It wasn't something we really spoke about with friends unless we had had few drinks but never in great detail.

YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW!

Unless we open up and talk about sex, share our experiences with our friends we don't really know what we are missing out on, or if what we are wanting or feeling or experiencing is "normal". If more women came together and opened up about their sex lives we could all help each other to learn and grow in our own sexuality.

You are allowed to want sex, enjoy sex, you are allowed to masturbate, in fact you should, how can someone else know how to please you if you don't know what feels good to you. Trying new things, experimenting is all part of the fun and doing that firstly with yourself opens up a world of fun and pleasure with a partner.

SEX IS PLEASURE, pure and simple. There should be no right or wrongs, no judgments, no shame. The one thing I always say when I'm at a Nauti Party is - "why not give it a go, if you are both into it and consenting then go for it, if you don't enjoy it don't do it again.

If we all talked with our friends more about our bedroom activities, we might actually be surprised that we are not as "freaky" as we thought, they are doing just as "freaky" things if not more so and SEX and PLEASURE really is just a normal part of a healthy relationship..

Pleasure the Way it SHOULD BE

The Concept behind TENGA -

"What does sexual pleasure mean to you? Have you ever talked about pleasure with others? Not as humorous anecdote, but about how great pleasure is? Topics around sexuality can be quite taboo, and the products designed to provide for these needs, have always been branded as lewd and obscene. That's why TENGA is here! Revolutionizing sexual pleasure, bringing sexuality to the forefront, for all to enjoy. Try one of our revolutionary pleasure items fabricated with these grand ambitions in mind."

Another Nauti NZ Fav, TENGA, a Japan based company are most commonly known for their Males Masturbators and TENGA Eggs. But there is a lot more to this brand if you look a little further..

Fun Factory Vision BE PLAYFUL

"Our toys are colorful and come in all shapes and sizes. They stand for free, playful, and passionate sexuality — for every sex, gender, and orientation — whether you're alone, together, in bed, in a bathtub, or in a car. What's important is feeling good, laughing, and having a lot of FUN!"

There are so many ways to get turned on. That's why we make such a wide selection of toys! We hope to help you explore your desires, change up your habits, and stay open to new things. We stand for sex toys that do more than get excellent reviews. We want to satisfy you in every way. Because life's too short to not have really fun sex!"

PUT A RING ON IT

Cockrings - What you need to know.

What are they? Well the name says it all really. Simply they are a ring that is worn around the cock.

Worn around the base of the penis and sometimes the testicles to make erections harder, bigger, and longer-lasting. They can come in a variety of sizes and materials - usually a rubber jelly type or silicone.

Placed on once a partial or full erection has occurred they work by slowing the blood flow back away from the penis allowing for the erection to last longer. Cockrings can be beneficial if the wearer struggles with Erectile Dysfunction, if an erection is not possible at all then the use of a penis pump first may also be an option.

Some penis owners even with no erection issues like to use a cockring as they make your erections harder and stronger, and well who wouldn't want that?

Another benefit of wearing a cockring is it may increase sensation, which can make masturbation, oral sex, and intercourse more pleasurable.

Cock rings slow blood flow and prolong sensation, which can also result in more powerful orgasms - again who doesn't want that!

SAFETY TIPS

Here are some cock ring safety tips to help you get the most out of them without an embarrassing trip to the ER

- If you're using a cock ring for ED, speak to your healthcare provider first to rule out any underlying medical conditions.
- Don't wear a cock ring for more than 20 minutes at a time.
- Use a bit of lube to make the ring easier to get on and off.
- Unless you're using a flexible cock ring, you'll need to choose the right size so it does its job without cutting off circulation.
- Avoid rings made of materials you may be allergic to, such as certain metals or latex.
- Wash cock rings and other sex toys after every use to get rid of bacteria and reduce the risk of STI transmission.
- Take it off if you feel any discomfort or pain, or notice any bruising.

Now we cant discuss cockrings without mentioning the Vibrating Variety. Vibration adds in clitoral stimulation while keeping everyone's hands free. Again they come in a variety of styles, sizes, colours and intensities. Alternatively the cockring could be turned around to give vibration to the balls and taint area of the wearer..

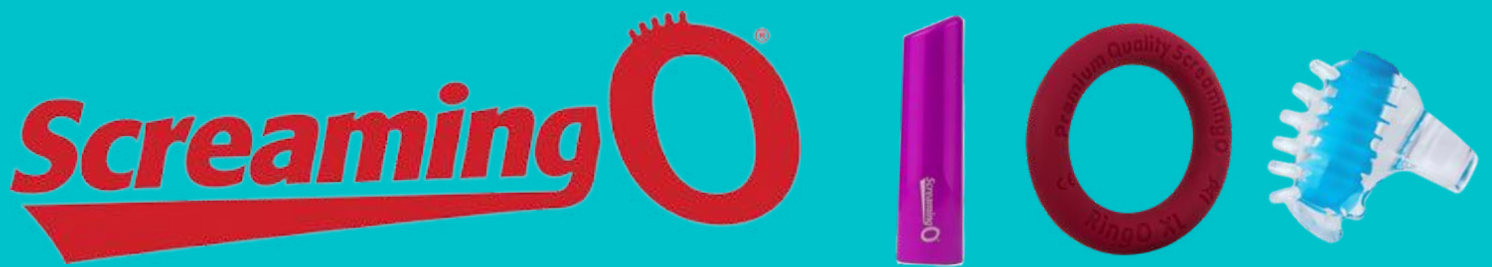

So many options and so much fun to be had...

VUSH a sexual wellness brand that wants you to love loving yourself. Whoever you are, wherever you come from, whoever you love; you're welcome here, just as you are.

"We're for the beginners, for the nervous, for the curious, for the brave. For anyone who was made to feel shame about their body. For anyone who has been taught not to prioritize their pleasure. We're working to change the conversation around sexual wellness for you, but to do that, we had to create products worth talking about."

PILLOW TALK

With JONI MORRISSEY

How to use your vibrator discreetly when you don't live alone.

All of us have experienced it - aroused, but nervous that the next room will hear us if we turn on the vibrator. No matter where you live, you are likely to have a very valid concern: how can I mask my vibrator's annoying buzzing sound?

It might seem strange to suggest a room redesign, but I honestly think it is worth it. Consider moving your bed to the other side of the room if it's relatively close to the door.

1. First, do a sound check

The vibrator you're using probably sounds louder than it actually is. Therefore, I recommend conducting a trial run when you are next alone at home. Turn your buzzy companion to the highest setting and leave the room. What can you hear from the other room? Can you hear it in the living room? The office? To feel more at ease, perform a listening check where necessary in the house.

4. Bring a waterproof vibe into the shower/bath.

Your vibe may be loud(ish), but the cascade of your shower is loud(ish)-er!

Ensure that the vibe is waterproof. Don't confuse waterproof with water-resistant. The PlusOne G-spot Massager and PlusOne - Air Pulse Arouser are wonderful options for shower time play. "Waterproof" means the toy can be fully submerged, while "water-resistant" simply means you can get it wet when you clean it.

2. Get a really thick sheet/comforter.

Purchasing a super thick comforter might feel like it adds weight to your bed. Plus, it muffles louder toys well.

5. Block the space under your door with a rolled-up towel

Rolling up a towel or blanket to cover the small space between the door and the floor stops scents and sounds from escaping.

3. Be strategic about where you put your bed. Position your bed closer to walls you don't share with other people.

6. Drown out the sound with other sounds

Play music or put on a TV show

If you can get off with sport or the formula one blaring in the background ,have at it — the cheers do a GREAT job of camouflaging buzz. Other good options: Music videos, and any movie in the “Terminator” series (aka the loudest movies ever made).

7. Buy a quieter vibe

If you're truly worried about your roomies hearing you, avoid the toys that are particularly loud. I recommends

- Touch by We – Vibe

For a quieter vibrator

Though vibrations are an amazing modern invention, there are many pleasure products that don't vibrate, such as those that create feelings of fullness, pressure, or heat

I recommends these two non vibrating toys especially:

- A stainless steel/ glass toy that stimulates internal hot spots
- Naughty Bits Shake Your Ass Petite Vibrating Butt Plug a booty plug that can stimulate the nerve-dense anus in new ways.

8. Ask for 30 minutes of alone time

The majority of people don't feel uncomfortable telling their roommate they need the apartment for a few hours so they can get off with their partners, so why should it be any different with themselves?

9. Alternatively, you might decide not to give AF if you feel comfortable with others hearing your toy

The reasons for hiding the sound of your vibrator are many, but most of them are related to either the shame of masturbating or the shame of using a vibrator while masturbating, neither of which are things we should be ashamed of. Masturbation is a self-care process!

Keep in mind that your roommates are probably doing the same thing. If your parents are your roommates, you may feel somewhat disturbed by the thought. However, the fact remains.

we VIBE

We LOVE We-Vibe here at Nauti NZ - one of our most popular and requested brands.

Inventor Bruce Murison wondered why there wasn't a massager that could just slide in between a couple while they made love. The more he researched, the more he found an industry full of products that were intimidating, poorly designed and cheaply made of potentially toxic materials. And nothing was specifically designed for shared use by couples.

We-Vibe Chorus

Designed to wear during sex

We-Vibe is the most popular rechargeable vibrator for couples in the world, with over 6 million units sold. People all across the globe use it to add more fun and intimacy into their loving relationships.
