

LET'S P.L.A.Y.

– A Welcome from the Director of Parks & Recreation

Welcome to the Spring 2026 issue of P.L.A.Y. – Parks, Leisure, and Activities for YOU! As your Director of Parks & Recreation for the City of Palm Springs, I'm excited to share another season of opportunities to get active, connect with others, and enjoy the incredible spaces and programs that make our community "Like No Place Else."

This Spring, I want to start by recognizing the people who make P.L.A.Y. possible – our fantastic Parks & Recreation team. I am genuinely proud of their dedication, creativity, and heart. Each day, our team shows up to deliver quality programs, safe and welcoming facilities, and create memorable experiences for residents and visitors alike. From early mornings at the Swim Center to after-school activities, special events, project management, park maintenance, and everything in between, our team continues to raise the bar for what a modern parks and recreation system can be.

This season, we are focusing on Demuth Park as we initiate several improvements. We are already making progress on the pickleball expansion project, and we are also beginning enhancements to the parking lot, upgrades to both the small and large dog parks, improvements for ADA access, and the construction of a new restroom building. Projects of this magnitude require patience, flexibility, and careful planning. I would like to extend a sincere thank you to our community for your understanding and cooperation during these construction efforts. Once completed, these improvements will provide enhanced amenities and a better park experience for everyone to enjoy.

Demuth Park is a noteworthy project, but it is just one part of a larger initiative. Throughout Palm Springs, we are making consistent and deliberate efforts to enhance our parks and recreation system. Our commitment includes improving maintenance, expanding opportunities for play and wellness, refreshing community centers, and creating spaces that foster connection, inclusion, and community pride. With each passing season, we are building a park system that embodies the energy and identity of Palm Springs.

I would like to share some exciting news: we are partnering with the Palm Springs Parks Foundation, which will act as our nonprofit arm. This partnership is crucial for supporting the future of parks and recreation in our city. The Foundation will be hosting a launch event on April 15, 2026. For more details and information on how to get involved, please visit their website at PSParks.org.

On behalf of our entire Parks & Recreation team, thank you for continuing to show up, participate, and support the spaces and programs that bring Palm Springs together. We cannot wait to see you this Spring at our parks, in our facilities, and out in the community. If you see us around, don't hesitate to say hello, and as always let's remember to PLAY!

Sincerely,
Nicholas S. Gonzalez
Director of Parks & Recreation

CHAMPIONS OF P.L.A.Y.

– A Message from the Parks & Recreation Commission Chair

As Chair of the Parks & Recreation Commission for the City of Palm Springs, it's my pleasure to welcome you to the Spring 2026 issue of P.L.A.Y. – Parks, Leisure, and Activities for YOU! On behalf of the Parks & Recreation Commission, we are excited to share another season of ways to get outside, get active, and stay connected through the programs, facilities, and community experiences that make Palm Springs special.

This Spring, the Parks & Recreation Commission remains focused on supporting a parks and recreation system that is continually improving and responsive to the community. In partnership with Parks & Recreation staff, we are taking an active role in reviewing key updates, discussing priorities, and offering recommendations that help strengthen our parks, facilities, services, and citywide programming. Our work is rooted in the belief that parks and recreation are essential community assets that contribute to health, belonging, and community pride.

Our advisory role is equally important to our commitment to listening. We value the perspectives of residents, user groups, neighbors, and community partners who engage with us. Whether it's at a public meeting, a special event, or a recreation program, or simply through sharing feedback, your involvement shapes the future of our parks and recreation system. It also highlights the importance of continued investment and thoughtful planning.

To everyone who participates in our programs, attends our events, visits our parks, or supports these community spaces in big and small ways, thank you. Your energy and engagement are what bring P.L.A.Y. to life. We encourage you to try something new this season, invite a friend, and take advantage of all the opportunities included in this brochure. And if you'd like to be part of the conversation, we invite you to join us at an upcoming Parks & Recreation Commission meeting and share your ideas.

Together, let's keep Palm Springs moving, connecting, and PLAYing this Spring!

Sincerely,
John Miraglia
