SCHOOL BOARD CHAIR REPORT

Tēnā koutou katoa

It's my pleasure on behalf of the School Board to thank everyone in the College community for a notably successful year.

At the start of the year, we were glad to have a delegation travel from Pakuranga College in Auckland to entrust Nicola Jacobsen, our new Principal, to our care. We were pleased to have previous Principals, Maurie Jackways and Wayne Bosley, join us for this very special day.

On the same day, our guests from Ngāi Tahu led officials from the Ministry of Education, the building contractors (Naylor Love), and the College community in blessing the site for the redevelopment of the College. Seldom can two such significant events have happened on the same day.

Throughout the year, we've all coped with the inevitable disruption of a major construction project right in the heart of the campus. The new buildings are now taking shape and in 2022 students and staff will finally enjoy facilities that will be as good as any in the country. We express gratitude to previous Board members and to Wayne Bosley who have pressed so hard for this project to become a reality.

To complete the picture of major change, we've been pleased with the rollout of the refreshed College uniform and the positive reception to the changes. The Board thanks the members of the Uniform Committee for their sustained efforts over a long period of time.

I'm grateful to all members of the Board for the time that they willingly give to the effective governance of the College. We have appreciated the contributions of Annabel Hutchison as the student-elected member of the Board. Bridget Legnavsky was elected as Deputy Chair this year and the Finance Committee was chaired by Ben Taylor.

We look forward to the future contributions that will come from the work of the revitalised MAC Foundation. New trustees have been appointed to the Foundation and the new Chair is Matt Williams, an ex-student of the College. Maurie Jackways has kindly offered to establish a database of College alumni and this is a welcome initiative.

In July, the term of our Limited Statutory Manager, Madeleine Hawkesby, came to an end and the Minister of Education returned all of the statutory governance powers to the Board. We expressed appreciation to Madeleine for the advice and assistance that she provided to the Board.

We are grateful to the College's staff for an excellent year of sustained achievement. We send best wishes to those staff and students who are leaving the College this year. As a Board, we are confident that 2022 will be another milestone year for the College and we are excited for the future.

Ngā mihi nui

Dr Ian W Hall, Board Chair

PRINCIPAL'S WELCOME

Kia ora koutou

Our kaupapa:

Toitū te whenua, toitū te takata

The land is strong, the people are fulfilled is about our connection to each other and our environment. It's the strength of our partnership that ensures our young people can work to achieve their personal best and develop their strengths and talents.

Tēnā koutou ki te hapori o Wānaka, e hīkaka ana tōku ngakau ki te mahitahi mō ā tātou tamariki.

To the Wānaka community, my heart is excited to work together for our children.

Tēnā koutou ki te kura o Tititea, kua reri au ki te āki i a koutou, kaiako mā, ākongā mā, koutou mā ki te angitu i ō koutou whaingā.

To Mount Aspiring College, I am ready to encourage you - teachers, students, everyone - to achieve your goals.

I would like to thank our teachers, students, and community for all they have done to support the College this year. It's certainly been a busy one - a new building project underway, a new school uniform, changes to education in New Zealand (NCEA and the curriculum refresh), learning from home, and learning at school. There has been a lot of change and some time to reflect on this. Despite the change that happens, however disruptive it might be, I use it as a reminder of what is important. For me that is our young people, our connections to each other, and our connection to the special environment that we live in.

Our students have achieved remarkable things this year and despite the interruption of COVID lockdown, they have continued to make opportunities happen. Not only is their academic progress excellent, but they have taken on the challenge, through student-led conferences, taking ownership of their learning and reflecting on their strengths and areas for growth. They have made the most of the opportunities at the College to get involved in co-curricular activities, competitions, service projects, and the list goes on.

It's a great place to be, and I am grateful for the support and kindness the staff, students, the School Board and the community have shown me in my first year as Tūmuāki of Te Kura o Tititea. The 2021 school magazine is a celebration of the students' achievements and a testament to how committed students are to making the most of the opportunities available at the College.

Nicola Jacobsen, Principal

I came to Mount Aspiring College in 2018 from my Auckland school of over 3,000 students. My biggest worry when making the move was that my family was flinging me away from my home to a 'desolate lake in the middle of nowhere'. Despite this admittedly dramatic take, I can now see that in the four years I have lived here, I feel very at home in Wānaka (I do concede that the lake has grown on me a little). It goes without saying that I have been shaped by my environment and the people of MAC.

Our school is currently in the middle of some very significant changes. A new uniform; ongoing construction; new leadership; and changes to the dean and house system have all been necessary responses to growth. I feel extremely lucky to have been a Head Student during this time. It has been fantastic to work alongside Meg and Mrs Jacobsen to define what these roles mean to us, and to refine what it means to be a leader during a period of transition.

If there is anything that I have learned this year, it is that change must be embraced as an essential part of life. Naturally, the interruptions we have experienced for a second year in a row due to COVID-19 have played a large role in this. In a world where we do not know what next week looks like, it has been crucial to take each day step-by-step and never take anything for granted. Exciting expectations have transformed overnight into disappointments, and it is obvious that we would all have preferred life to have continued in the fashion of the 'before times'. Regardless, I see that the people of this school have proven resilient and taken challenges head on.

Nothing has taught me this more than the experience I have gained in the arts here at school. Creative processes and performance are an integral part of internalising and metabolising the many challenges we face in our world. In order to push through, grow, and change, it is crucial to share an understanding of our common humanity. Thus, the place of the arts in education reminds us to pursue this goal not as individuals, but as a diverse and multi-faceted collective: audiences, leaders, educators, and performers.

Personally, I look back at how much I have grown, and see the many ways in which I have changed (even over the period of a year). I am infinitely grateful to Meg, to Mrs Jacobsen, to the teachers who have known me throughout my time at MAC, to my friends, peers, and whānau, and to the Wānaka community. I thank you all for your compassion, your forgiveness, your encouragement, and your understanding. I cannot wait to come back to school and witness all of the changes that have unfolded in my time away.

Olive Blyth

HEAD STUDENTS & SCHOOL BOARD STUDENT REP

It seems only yesterday that I was looking at applying for the role of BoTRep, thinking how awesome it would be if I could be voted in, and yet, here we are, at the end of 2021, and I have spent this incredible year as your Student Representative on the School Board for Mount Aspiring College. Having this role has been an immense privilege, and not one I have taken for granted. I feel incredibly fortunate to have been able to work with and alongside wonderful students and Board members, from whom I have learned so much. This role has given me a better understanding and appreciation of how the school operates, and has allowed me to develop and strengthen my collaboration and communication skills through this valuable leadership experience.

This past year I have been involved in some very important and exciting changes within the school, including the recruitment of our new Principal, Mrs Jacobsen, and the implementation of our new uniform. I feel very honoured to have been able to contribute and have an influence on these decisions. Being a part of the Student Executive Committee has also been a highlight of my year, and it has been really rewarding to spend time working alongside student leaders and being able to positively impact the school environment.

I want to express my gratitude to the Board who have been so welcoming and supportive, making this experience much less intimidating and so memorable and enjoyable. If I could leave students with any advice, it would be to get involved and stay authentic to yourself. Your school experience will go quickly, so make the most of it by spending it doing what you enjoy and with people you love. Thank you for this opportunity, I can't wait to see the progress and development of MAC in the future.

Annabel Hutchison

Having the opportunity to serve as one of Mount Aspiring College's 2021 Head Students has been an absolute honour. If I could have told my Year 8 self that I would be in the position that I am today, she would have most likely cried. I don't think she thought that when putting 'I want to be Head Girl' into her Prezi presentation, that it would actually happen.

It's crazy to think that this year is almost over, let alone our schooling career is coming to an end. The chance to serve as a Head Student has been incredible. I have learnt so much about myself and how to work with others, as well as having so many opportunities for which I am very grateful.

This year has been unexpected. In the world we are living in currently, we never quite know what is around the corner. Despite the uncertainty, there have been numerous opportunities that this role has provided me. One of these was speaking at the Wānaka ANZAC Day Service about the role of women in the military. I felt privileged to share the stories of wahine that have served our country, and ensure that their names are never forgotten. Throughout the year we have also met many politicians, including Minister Chris Hipkins, who a week later we saw on the news updating us on our latest COVID cases in our second national lockdown.

For me, I think the greatest thing that has come out of this year is the new Wellness Committee. I believe that this will fill a space within the MAC culture to ensure that students, parents, and staff wellbeing is prioritised for many years to come.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank everyone that has supported me this year. To Olive, Mrs Jacobsen, and my teachers, thank you for putting up with me and guiding me through this journey. To the Student Exec and the House Leaders, thank you so much for the huge amount of hard work and dedication you each brought to your roles. To Mum and Dad, I cannot thank you enough for your constant love, it means the world. Finally, the wider Wānaka community, thank you for supporting Mount Aspiring College in so many ways.

I would like to encourage everyone to apply for a leadership position and put themselves out there. Whilst uncomfortable at times, it is a very rewarding role. Stand up for what is right, don't back down. In the past, I have felt that I shouldn't speak out, as I was afraid of people's perceptions. This role has taught me that the ultimate damage is not what is done by the 'bad people' but the silence of the so-called 'good'. We all have our own individual voices, but when they come together we can harness the power of the collective and make real change.

I have always felt immense pride to be able to say I attend MAC and I will carry this with me for the rest of my life. I cannot express my gratitude enough towards Wānaka, and Mount Aspiring College.

It has been an honour to serve the school, and I am looking forward to what the future holds.

MAC UPGRADE

The new building project kicked off this year, with the official start involving Ngāi Tahu, the Ministry of Education, Naylor-Love and the College. The new build will provide world-class facilities, with modern learning environments for MAC students.

The first stage of the build is due to be ready for use at the start of Term 2, 2022. This will house our Year 7 programme, and Music and Drama. The theatre will provide a great space for student work to be showcased, and community groups to use.

Naylor Love have provided more for our students than the new build; as a company; they have supported students by providing work experience on site, careers advice and, as part of their contract, they offer a scholarship for a MAC student. It's a very exciting new chapter for the College and, by the end of 2022, it will not only provide excellent teaching and learning spaces, but also a place for our community.

Jess Carswell

Jess Carswell describes herself as very academic, but she also strives for excellence in other areas such as sport and service.

“I am motivated by challenge and the reward when a challenge is overcome.”

Jess has her sights set on a career in mechanical and biomedical engineering.

“I am particularly interested in maths and the sciences and how they help people and communities,” she said.

The 17-year-old Year 13 student holds three different leadership positions at Wānaka’s Mount Aspiring College — 2021 MAC Senior Student Executive, 2021 Whānau Leader at Mount Aspiring College and part of the leadership group for the hockey team.

Jess was top in Year 12 academically and second in Year 11 academically at Huanui College in Whangarei.

Jess moved to Wānaka and Mount Aspiring College at the start of this year to experience a new place and new activities, in particular Outdoor Pursuits in her final year of high school.

In 2019 Jess came top in New Zealand in Cambridge IGCSE Mathematics and achieved Cambridge IGCSE in six subjects, and the following year she achieved Cambridge AS in five subjects.

This year Jess is already aceing a University of Canterbury Mathematics course, MATH199, is at present sitting at an A* grade and so far has all excellence NCEA Level 3 credits, (18/18).

Hopes for the future: Study engineering at the University of Canterbury.

Olive Blyth

The world is a stage for talented performer Olive Blyth.

COVID19 permitting, the Year 13 Mount Aspiring College pupil hopes to pursue studies in performing arts at Victoria University in Wellington and in London.

Olive’s goal to attend a three-week workshop at the Globe Theatre in London this year had to be put on hold because of lockdown restrictions in the UK.

Olive now hopes to fulfil that dream in June next year, depending on how things develop with the pandemic.

“I am looking at going to Wellington next year to study in arts, predominantly. I am looking at music and theatre, the interplay between those two disciplines, to explore and create. Next year, I am also heading to London with the Shakespeare Globe Centre New Zealand group. I had planned to do that this July but obviously it was a no go,” Olive said.

Olive developed a love of performance early — “if you were to ask my family, they would always say I loved performing” — and got involved in Broadway-style musical theatre when the Blyth family lived in Auckland.

“I realised the impact the arts can have in communities and individuals, on growth and learning. The arts is a great vehicle for processing what we are going through, especially with the Covid situation we are in,” Olive said.

Jazz piano music is Olive’s particular passion, but many genres appeal. So do many instruments. Olive sings and has played trumpet, flute, bass guitar, violin and timpani, although piano is a main focus.

“The thing I love most about playing jazz is the challenge and being free to improvise. That definitely has an influence on broader life in general, improvising around things that happen.”

Hopes for the future: To explore opportunities in music and theatre in Wellington and London.

OUTDOOR PURSUITS 21

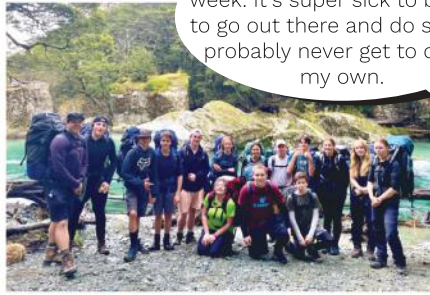

I really enjoyed going outdoors and doing things I wouldn't normally do.

OP trips are the highlight of my week. It's super sick to be able to go out there and do stuff I'd probably never get to do on my own.

The opportunity to go on adventures that challenged me! It taught me new skills and made me fall in love with the outdoors!

OP helped me push the limits of my abilities. I am better and more confident in the outdoor environment.

OP is awesome!

A highlight of mine had to be the night skiing up the snow farm.

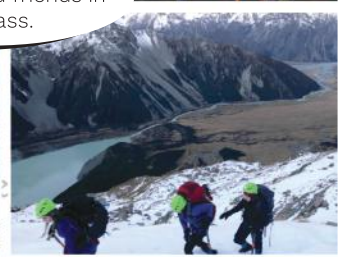

It was super cool to get out and do something different and enjoy the outdoors.

I made so many good friends in our class.

I looked forward to every session

OP was a great way to keep healthy and happy.

You get to meet a cool class of like minded friends, go on amazing trips and learn awesome skills.

I got to spend time in the stunning outdoors surrounding Wānaka, learn great skills and do it all with an amazing group of people.

I tried new things and stepped outside of my comfort zone.

I highly recommend OP ;)

Despite popular opinion, Arawhata is a group of friendly handsome young men who only have good intentions and really just want to make some friends. Unfortunately the stench of alpha dog was quite strong in the beginning and upon reflection it must have been a bit scary. Guy has had a big year in the Hostel, needless to say, he is loved by all. Samuel Finnegan aka 'call me Sammy', is popular with the ladies, seeming to spend more time in the girls house than in our house #wesupportyou. Jimmy loves to cook. Unfortunately his chicken has gotten progressively dryer every week he cooks it. Luckily he makes sure to include plain rice with it #howdoyouevenburnrice. Jack Steel Unwin, the man, the myth, the mildly autistic legend, can be summed up by a direct quote, "My idols are Elon Musk, Mark Zuckerberg, and of course Iron Man". #growupbabyface. Tom and Nic share a love of OP, study periods and living in the friendzone. Nic's life has many benefits, laying in bed and having a mean rig. Tom's life consists of two things, rugby and the girls. Unfortunately this year he did not have much success with either, seeming to lose every game and girl. Big thanks to Jenny, Zanna and Grace for making this an unforgettable year. Met some amazing people and gained some amazing memories #cheatheboys.

Welcome to Avalanche, a house full of champs Archie works on his bio while Thomas wakes up from his nap. Angus comes home from a long day at school. Two periods today, that is all. Noah's in the kitchen, two litres of milk with the macaroni Archie heads over to Cascade, oh no just kidding, he's lonely. Angus' head still hurts, we think he may be dying Flynn is still single but not for lack of trying.

First up we have Jessie bear: ascended from the wops of Northland. She continues to amaze us with her monthly night terrors and completing Monday morning inspections solo by the break of dawn. Despite her enormous brains, she can still be found face first sliding down easy rider.

Further down the mountain we have Alana Taggart, quick to get down the slope but never on her skis. With her strange laundry addiction, the power of Persil still can't block out her distinctive lingering smell. While she isn't perfect, her expertise in dance never fails to impress her peers.

Next on the dance floor we have Emma P; born and bred as a Jafa, she has taken Wānaka in her stride, making frequent use of the poop trench on every tramp. Embracing mother nature to its fullest, Cascade has her to thank for their vegetarianism and new found iron deficiencies. Don't be fooled by Emma's position as oldest in the house, her behaviour and tastebuds are equal to that of a 5 year old.

Speaking of childish, Venetia Wilson is responsible for our ever growing electricity bill. Although she can't turn the oven off, she is weirdly knowledgeable on the human body, ready to list a fact at any Cascade dinner. She never fails to get in front of a camera, always loving a quick model op. We find her common snack of raw garlic weird, however, it may be a coping mechanism for enduring her fellow housemate Sophie Wiles's dinners.

Nominated early on as the worst housemate, Miss Wiles should now be awarded most improved due to her recent learnings on how to properly clean a toilet. Embarrassed by her peanut allergy that was only discovered by her housemates when she broke into hives, Sophie now spends her days cowering away from Sophia who is found shovelling mounds of peanut butter down her throat.

It's a Thursday night, time for inspection For most useless in the house, Jacob is up for selection Archie's making pizza, "daddy, how do I make this dough?" Flynn's been trying for eight months, still not dating though. The C1s have started and it's getting late Jacob has relaxed which is, VERY great. As said before, we are all good pals Noah loved formal, so many gorgeous gals. It's 7:30pm, it's still quite bright "Mmm I think i might have an early night." "Should I go talk to her, is that a good idea?" The words murmured by the boy with long hair. I wonder why Thomas is looking so grim Oh look, Nic's trying to get Thomas to the gym. Hopefully Angus can find some L3 credits His relationship with the ladies needs some merits. Time to finish this poem, Archie getting a little moody The Avalanche household, yours truly.

As grandma of the house, Sophia loves to indulge in the food budget with her weekly pesto, haloumi, and mushroom cravings. She can be found manifesting with her crystals but clearly didn't wish to stay on her bike during Sunday OP's. None the less, her resilience and determination never fails to provide quality entertainment.

The Cade's Super 6 are known for themed dinners, dress up picnics and evening dance parties. We can safely say Cascade has committed to all Hostel has put on offer, including having the highest attendance to OP's, and babysitting a number of hostellers and locals who refuse to go home. If you're ever in need of Macka, Amelia, Noah, Sam, or Dylan look no further than the Cascade lounge. #Upthecade.

LIVERPOOL

Liverpool has been undoubtedly the best house this year, so here is a glimpse of the members;

Mum (Anya); Anya Vanessa Fearnside, a valued/ feared member of Liverpool. Anya's highlight of the year was a free trip to dunners during o week via the ambulance #churinternalbleeding. Strengths include tearing down your self-esteem, staying in the talking stage (8 months). She carries Thursday inspection and suffers from acute memory loss on Friday, we are still unsure why. Overall pretty good shout, rating still pending... just like her acceptance into every uni she applied to.

Daddy (Emma); Daddy is the second most valued member of Liverpool (after Jaymie). Emma can often be seen carrying the backpack on house walks, making dumb comments or jokes, or buying the kids fizzy drinks behind mum's back. Rating 8/10.

Oldest brat (Ella); Ella is quite possibly the bossiest person in Liverpool, yet has no authority to be. The former princess of Whakatane has had a rough year with no slaves to boss around, however, lockdown landed her with the ultimate slave (cheers Arawhata). Very moody. Does a mean kitchen clean though. Rating 6.5/10.

Middle brat (Camryn); Camryn? Who? You may not have heard of her because she left the house a total of 7 times. When Camryn isn't hogging all our dishes in her room, she's a pretty drama-free housemate. Her strength, her udon noodles #froth. Rating 7/10.

Yung brat (Nina); When Nina isn't crying about her 3 merit credits, she's getting on really good with the Year 12 boys. Extremely messy, gave housemates glandular fever. Is only useful for helping with school work, and her house. Very cute tho tbh. Rating 6.9/10.

Glue (Jaymie); Glue you may ask...? Jaymie is the housemate that binds everyone's souls together. The housemate of your dreams. This year would have been way more difficult if it wasn't for her. Jaymie's strengths include always ensuring we get our weekly vege intake and hanging off walls of rock upside down. Rating 10/10 #liveloughjaymie.

Overall, Liverpool has had a banger of a year with lots of moments we will remember forever. We are extremely grateful for all the opportunities the Hostel has given us and we can all agree on the fact that this was the best last year we could have asked for #wholesome #cancelcade.

Welcome to Rob Roy,
Our house is filled with joy.
First up we have K Dog,
She stretches like a frog,
And recently got a piano, which she hogs.
Next we have Sophie Sunshine,
Who in the mornings is not so divine,
But can cook a slow meat that rates a nine.
Up next is Meals,
Who's fallen head over heels,
But can't ride anything that has two wheels.
Now we have Beanie Boo,
She likes to wear chunky shoes,
And never does her dishes... but what's new.
Here comes Macka Packa,
When it comes to school work she is a slacka,
But being house alpha she is the attacka.
Last but not least we have Han Power,
It's unknown when she has a shower,

ROB ROY

But she reminds us of a blossoming sunflower.
This poem is pretty slick,
Don't be fooled Rob Roy has not clicked
But thanks for reading about a mix of six quirky chicks!

HOSTEL PICS

proud to be supporting our local schools

Ten lucky students were fortunate enough to attend the inaugural kapa haka trip to Rotorua from 23 – 30 July, along with staff and parents. Everyone agreed that they grew from the experience and the highlights were many and varied:

My highlight was going to my mate's haukāinga, meeting and seeing where his whānau comes from. Tawhiri

I really enjoyed Tamaki Tours. Not only looking at what the iwi used to be like, and how they are keeping it alive, but also watching the performance was amazing and their final song brought me to tears. I loved the way that I started getting more comfortable in speaking te reo Māori. The whole trip brought me closer to my own whakapapa and has inspired me to go forward to learn more te reo, and research my hapu and iwi history. Mihi

One highlight was Te Puia (The Māori Arts and Crafts Institute) where they specialise in teaching Māori art forms, such as weaving with harakeke, wood, stone and bone carving. My main highlight was the bond we built as a roopu but also creating bonds with all of our guides, seeing how they keep traditions from the past going and seeing the happiness and enjoyment that everyone had on their faces as we performed waiata for them. Kahu

I really enjoyed Whakarewarewa Village, and the Blue Lake was amazing. Hazel

The best part for me was having the opportunity to take all of my MAC whānau to my marae, where my people came from. It's a very rare thing to be able to do that so I'm thankful for the chance. Hadley

I highly recommend the trip to anyone interested in Māori culture. We stayed at Tangatarua Marae at Toi Ohomai, which is a stunning marae with amazing carvings and even a heated floor! We did many fun activities like climbing Mt Tarawera, Redwoods treetops walk, running down a scree slope, four wheel driving in a bus as well as a riff off. I learnt a lot – the story of Hinemoa, the history of Tangatarua Marae, how devastating the Mt Tarawera eruption was for the Māori people of Rotorua, and did you know that if you fall in a geothermal pool it gets named after you? Our guides shared personal stories and everyone spoke te reo, whether that was simply 'kia ora' or whole sentences. We also grew in confidence as a group and thanked everyone that we met with a waiata. Ella

To understand how amazing this trip was would require you to go on it yourself. The calibre of learning done was perfectly balanced with the amount of fun everyone had. I loved every single part of it, especially the fact that we were able to do outdoor walks and activities. Living for a week in the Tangatarua marae was a fantastic experience and I loved waking up every day to the sight of prominent figures in Māori history portrayed through amazingly detailed whakairo. I just loved it. Every single part. Ryan

ROTORUA TRIP

Going to Rotorua was such a fun experience. This trip has taught me so much. I felt myself open up to people and build strong relationships with multiple people on a level that I never would have expected. One of my highlights was spending time with Hadley and his whānau. It really opened my eyes to Māori culture and the importance it holds. Breanna

My highlight was introducing Te Makahi o Tititea to my whānau in Rotorua. I was able to show them where I grew up and where my kapa haka journey started. Whakawhanaungatanga played a key role throughout our haerenga. Over the week, many of our taura became confident in speaking Te Reo Māori around Rotorua and showed great pride when representing their kura. Whaea Candace

Tamariki mā, you left such an impression on people I don't really think you realise how big. Robyn Tamati

Seeing Papatuanuku so alive; the steaming pavements and bubbling mud. Nicky Davis.

I did not expect that we would make such strong connections with haukāinga (local people), that authenticity is something that will stay with me. I enjoyed watching all the students grow in confidence. Whaea Kaz

Ella Briscall, Ryan Enoka, Mihi and Taki McLachlan, Hazel Murray, Kahu and Tawhiri Rupapera, Hadley Tamati, Jacob Toomey and Breanna Thurston (STUDENTS). Candace Carroll, Nicky Davis, Kenna Fraser, Kaz Roberts, Dean Sheppard and Robyn Tamati (STAFF/PARENTS).

TEAM GREEN

We at Team Green are passionate about helping the environment as well as promoting a sustainable lifestyle at school and in the wider community.

Projects and events we have been involved with this year:

At "OUR PLACE", the sustainability hub at this year's Wānaka A & P Show, Team Green and a group of community-based organisations came together to create a space of interactive and fun learning for all ages to show how land, water, flora, fauna, climate and humans, are all connected. Team Green's aim was to promote active transport and our pedal powered juice bikes were a big success. Our earring-making stall, where we showed people how to make upcycled earrings from bike inner tubes, was also very popular!

In June, Team Green helped to plant 50 native plants at Camphill Road, and during assembly we promoted participation in Plastic Free July 2021 and asked students to design drain art for our school to raise awareness and stop littering at school.

We also sorted through hundreds of old library books and held a book sale at school to raise funds for solar panels for the new building.

Team Green members were involved at the Annual Rippon Apple Drive, the Matariki Celebrations, held an upcycled earring workshop at the library, took part at the Future Thinker Forum towards a regenerative Visitor Economy and volunteered at the WAO Summit.

Currently Team Green is planning for our transport week in Term 4 in collaboration with GetSMART. We would like to encourage students and staff to use active transport to and from school as their main mode of transport!

Another big milestone for Team Green this year was MAC becoming an Enviroschool at the beginning of July 2021, a goal we have been working towards for quite some time!

If you have an interest in the environment and would like to make a change towards a more sustainable school and community, come and join the GREEN SIDE.

Rebels (Team Green) meet every Thursday at lunchtime in T1.

"Never doubt that a small group of committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it is the only thing that ever has." — Margaret Mead.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH'S HILLARY AWARD

4,160 Hours

In 2021 at Mount Aspiring College we had a total of 58 students actively working on the Duke of Edinburgh award. 35 students are currently working toward their Bronze, 16 on their Silver and seven who have continued the programme for many years and are working on their Gold award.

These students will collectively complete around 4,160 hours of service to the community, learning a new skill and being physically active in 2021. Some of these volunteer hours are for Food For Love, the Wānaka Library, coaching various sports, local preschools, community garden projects, senior living facilities, helping a friend or neighbour in need, and many more.

A HUGE thank you to all of these students, their families that have supported them, and the local businesses and community groups that have accepted these students and have taken the time to build relationships with them.

The Duke of Edinburgh's Hillary Award scheme has taken me to some incredible places that I would otherwise probably never have been to. It has given me the opportunity to meet and participate in new experiences with like-minded people. - Maddi Frazer

The Duke of Edinburgh is a great incentive to gain new skills and volunteer your time to the community. - Lulu Pettit

WORK-BASED LEARNING PROGRAMME

We are lucky to have a number of wonderful employers in Wānaka who support our students with a range of opportunities.

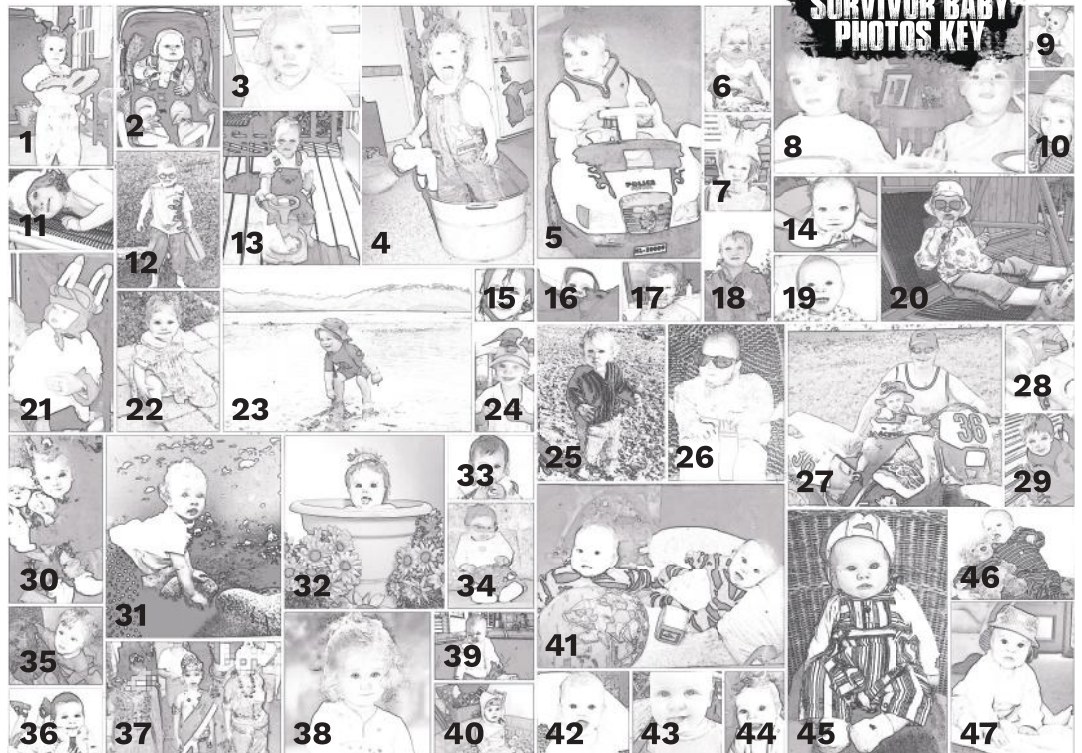

There are a number of options for students in the Work-based Learning Programmes: Work Experience in Years 10 to 13, the Central Otago Youth Employment Programme (COYEP) in Year 11, and Gateway and Pathways in Years 12 and 13.

If you are interested in developing our young people in partnership with Mount Aspiring College or are looking to employ school leavers please drop Pete Smalley an email. He can be reached at smalleyp@mtaspiring.school.nz.

Thank you to everyone who has supported our programmes in 2021.

LIBRARY

"When in doubt go to the library."

- J.K. Rowling

It's been a busy year in the library in our temporary space where we have maintained a warm, safe and welcoming environment for our school community.

As part of our move we took the opportunity to refresh our collection. We removed the tattered and torn, stained and forlorn books which were handed on to Team Green.

We are now replacing these items, filling the gaps in series, responding to requests for new books and rebuilding our collections. We are also acquiring graphix and manga, adding items in Te Reo Māori, and sourcing resources to support the New Zealand History Curriculum. We were grateful to receive $200 worth of NZ History books from the Ministry of Education.

We have added over 1100 books to the collection, and the librarians have been supported in processing these - barcoding, stamping, labelling, covering, and cataloguing - by Eamon, Emma, and Shannae from HQ doing weekly work experience, and Zephyr working on the William Pike Challenge.

Our students and staff can access around 2000 eBooks through our Wheelers ePlatform.

These eBooks are now discoverable and downloadable through our catalogue when signed in using a MAC login thanks to Nick, our IT guru. Wheelers generously granted us free access to 900 eAudiobooks for 12 weeks due to lockdown.

We updated our library page at library.mtaspiring.school.nz, adding useful links and resources to support students and staff.

We have co-ordinated loans from the National Library to support teaching and learning across all curriculum areas, supplying around 800 extra books to support inquiry and reading engagement. We have also continued to co-ordinate the Scholastic Book Club for our Year 7 and 8 classes.

We have created in-library displays to celebrate Matariki, promote the Out on the Shelves campaign and focus on Romance, among others, and we contribute weekly to the MAC newsletter to communicate with our community.

KITENGA

Kitenga is a safe space where all emotions, opinions and understandings can be shared through unique minds that all have one thing in common; we love to question and gain a deeper understanding of anything and everything. We do this through philosophical discussions, riddles, creative and strategic challenges and so much more! - Kerah Alexander, Year 8

How long a minute is depends on which side of the toilet door you are on. What if humans could live forever? These are a couple of the many philosophical discussions we have at Kitenga. We do a lot of critical thinking and talk about how feelings affect our preferences. We try not to go on tangents during these discussions but that never goes to plan! - George Simonsohn, Year 8

Our civilised philosophical discussions help us gain a higher and deeper understanding of the topic at hand. Everyone understands each other and we make connections to other subjects and ideas outside of the classroom. These connections have created paths of knowledge in our brains that could help us in adult life. - Domenico Robinson, Year 8

When making my clock I had to think outside the box, let my imagination flow and push my mind to the limits. I felt more and more enthusiastic as the time went on and my clock improved as did my mind. - Vinnie Vickers, Year 7

This is the car I drive in Kitenga. I know I am driving it when I am taking ownership, accepting the consequences and responsibility when I stuff up. - Arnaud McKenzie, Year 7

In Kitenga we learn how to drive our own car and learn how to fix it if someone else is driving our car by taking ownership, accountability and responsibility for ourselves and our learning. - Nada Jodeh, Year 7

'Use what is in the room and a marble to develop a timer.' Creative challenges make us problem solve and they also help us to build persistence and tenacity. We have to question the problem and we have to be flexible and work with people who think differently to us. - Ethan Highstead, Year 8

We are always pushing ourselves to ask the more critical questions. Since this all began, I have noticed that I automatically try to find a more strategic approach. I am so grateful for this programme as it teaches me so much about life. - Mabel North, Year 8.

NEW UNIFORM

Following a thorough consultation process our new MAC uniform was rolled out at the start of Term 2. Some initial delays in supplies and a grace period for 2021 have meant that this has been a year of transition with some students continuing to wear the old MAC uniform, as evidenced in our class photos. However, from 2022 all students, including Year 13's, will be wearing the new uniform.

We have taken a fresh new unisex approach which enables students to 'mix and match' trousers, skirts and shorts to their personal preference, along with our new teal-coloured vests, cardigans and jerseys. We also have a subtly different option for senior students.

Everyone is in agreement that the new uniform looks very smart and can be worn with pride. Next year we hope to add a blazer to the ensemble.

Mount Aspiring College would like to acknowledge all the hard work put into this change by the Uniform Committee and is also extremely grateful to Community Networks, the Rotary Club of Wānaka and the JR McKenzie Trust for their financial assistance with the purchase of items for some families.

HOUSE DAY

40 HOUR FAMINE

The 40 Hour Famine 'Hype Week' was in week 8, leading up to the official 40 Hour Famine weekend, and was packed with activities each day for the students and teachers. The 40 Hour Famine Committee organised this to raise more awareness for the 40 Hour Famine, and the hope that more students would sign up, get involved, or donate. Additionally to this, each committee were tasked with the challenge to contribute in some way to the 40 Hour Famine, with Sports putting on a primary school movie night, Academic with the whole Committee signing up, Cultural with a lunchtime concert, and Service with a Mitre 10 bake sale.

Monday morning the Famine Committee hosted a breakfast for the staff in the staff room, with generously sponsored treats and ingredients from local businesses like Pembroke Patisserie, Kai Pai and Four Square. Monday also entailed a three-legged race for the deans of each house, with Iron house taking the win. Tuesday's concert was a great hit, gathering students from across the school to sing and dance. Thursday was the #screamforSSAfrica event, where the male house leaders got their legs waxed, and a great team of year 9 boys took the initiative to run a "burger sizzle" for even further fundraising.

And finally Friday we had a "real chicken" come in and take photos with students, as well as a sausage sizzle. This year a theme for 40 Hour Famine was that $26 could buy chickens for families in need in Sub-Saharan Africa, so the 40 Hour Famine Committee put a creative twist on this to follow on from last year's baby goat. Overall, the school has managed to raise around $20,000 so far, which is an absolutely incredible amount of money.

It has been so cool to see students getting stuck in, and taking on some fantastic challenges. From walking 40 kilometres, to 40 hours of service, to 40 hours of making meals for Food For Love... 40 Hour Famine 2021 has been a way MAC has gone above and beyond by truly helping our wider global community, whilst giving back to Wānaka too.

- Nicole Meyer

This year the Academic Committee has had the most awesome time organising academic events for MAC. The main events that we've run are a debating competition, buddy programme, mathletics and published an academic newsletter. Our Committee also put a team together for Relay for Life, which was a big highlight for all of us. We've had the best year and have been really grateful for everyone's involvement in the events we've run.

Debating

In Term 2, each house provided a team from Year 7 and 8, Year 9 and 10, and the senior years to participate in a competitive inter-house debating competition. It was amazing to see across the board the level of speaking, confidence, preparation and research that was put into each debate, but also that so much improvement could be seen from even the first debate to the second. It is so great to know that we have an incredible community within MAC of keen public speakers every year. In the end, Pisa won overall, placing first for the Year 7 and 8, and Year 9 and 10s. The Academic Committee can't wait to see you speak again in 2022.

Academic Newsletter

Throughout the year, at the end of each term we organised an academic spread to put in the newsletter. In this we would gather content from teachers to show the outstanding work done both in and out of school. We showed musical performances, creative writing and art done in the junior and senior school, all executed at a high level. Hopefully you've had a chance to look at your peers' work this year, and maybe get your own work shown in the newsletter next year.

Buddy Programme

The Buddy Programme is an initiative to get senior students involved in the learning of junior students, and their general school life. The Academic Committee, along with other senior leaders, have visited their assigned Year 7 homeroom each Wednesday period 5 throughout the year. We have had a great time working with these classes on their school work as well as organising academic-based games and activities. Not only has this programme given the Year 12 and 13 students another opportunity to develop their leadership skills, but also to make connections with the younger students at MAC.

Mathletics

The inter-house mathletics competition ran in week 2 of Term 4. Junior students from Years 7 to 10 formed teams of four, and competed against each other and the clock to see who the school's upcoming mathematicians are! With an extra incentive of house points on the line, inter-house mathletics was a competitive yet fun event. We are super impressed with everyone's maths skills and want to thank everyone who got involved.

CREATIVE WRITING

Paris of the East - by Louis Darby

The midday sun glares above the buzzing metropolis. A variety of different gas-powered vehicles bustle throughout the city. Sounds of modern-day society reverberate across the streets and sidewalks. Every person, every civilian has a different, detailed story behind the metal mask of "The Paris Of The East". Steam bellows from the open eastern restaurants, where an alluring scent of fried wontons and noodles attracts the passing civilians. A selection of choices laid before me; all better-sounding than the last. Consumers feeding like sharks in an avid frenzy of chum. An unending myriad of meals, ripe with taste. A multitude of euphoric flavors rush through my senses. The rich, sweet aroma of the pork, doused in sweet, sour dressing. Tastes and sapidity never sensed before, resting my mind into a dream of euphoria. At the docks of the seaport, birds and gulls squawk, echoing throughout the harbour. The potent scent of salts from the ocean wreaks about the docks.

Sailors and fishermen of all kinds sit above the wading waters of the sea, catching fish from the wharves that tower above the serene, blue waves. Ship horns bellow, audibly echoing across the surface of the water. Sky and clouds, blankets of society, reach the horizon of the sea, where the glowing sun begins to set, surrounded by a coat of purple twilight.

The brisk darkness of the night begins to set onto the city, as neon lights start to glare throughout the shadows of the streets. The scent of smoking tobacco emits throughout the avenues, an ambience of a city that reaches far to the horizon. A seemingly endless metropolis decorated with shining lights that illuminate throughout the night sky. Unending amounts of civilians gather onto the underground metro, systemized together in a cluster of unmoving citizens, hastening along the train tracks. Mice scatter across the metro underbelly, scavenging any resources they can get their claws on. Along the streets, vendors and salesmen exclaim and coerce wandering civilians into purchasing their varied goods and products. Diverse beverages, reaching across the large spectrum of fruit flavours, line the aisles of the street food stalls. Across the nearing waters lies the Pearl Of The Orient, a towering monument of the city that glimmers in it's mighty figure, refracting light onto the expanse of the ocean waters. The tower's magnificent height pierced the sky above, where light pollution rested in the clouds, like hallowed angels descending down on the incandescent city. Hordes of working class citizens work day in and day out, slaving away at the behemoth factories; a mindless routine of exertion. Plumes of smoke emanate from the towering chimneys and industries, flooding into the night, dissipating into the light of the moon.

Being there - by Isla Henderson

It is the brink of winter. The moonless, brisk night settles in on the town, starless and mute. Paved streets: desolated, death-like and fixed. The houses are bible-black, shut down from any outside interactions. Hush. This ominous and solemn town sleeps now.

The untouched air hovers. Withholding the scent of peace; menacing branches interlock, barricading the town like a bird trapped in a cage. Severed power lines hang with sadness, as their purpose has been ripped from their grasp.

All that is heard, a hum from an outcast river. It edges on the town, sighing in anguish. A veil of ghost-grey fog cloaks this ghastly town, like a deathly vapour it devours the lifeless surroundings. Lonely park benches hibernate, enclosed with rust.

Motionless.

Unworn pathways invaded with roots.

Motionless.

Naked oaks exposed.

Motionless.

The looming threat of a cold-blooded winter advances.

In the distance, raised on a hill sat an obscure hunching house. It is an unusual home. Isolated. Astray. Lost. Cracked stone laid sporadically on each other; finger-like vines uncontrollably climbed the frame, sections of ancient red paint shine through timber showing a glimpse of a happier past. Wild, untamed beech trees border the end of the drive. Their white bare limbs intermingle in an odd embrace, forming a structure like an archway of a church.

Look! Closer.. no, closer. There is a flickering of light, a spark of hope. A table. A chair. A lamp.

Many books.

Listen. The old man flips the pages, his eyes are unclosed to see the dark, folded town. He is present in life, yet distant. Trapped in the cage of the book he holds, he is innocent and naive. A thread of his former self. Hiding away from the world. Locked in four walls of fantasy, with no key to escape. Never had he pushed boundaries against life. Never had he broken the law. Never had he done anything to disobey her.

He is unknown. Unwanted. Maybe this is why she is now targeting him? He has no purpose. No reason to live. A lonely man, in a lonely house. It is time.

She, mother nature, has won. Taking control hungrily, fire rips open the pages. Orange flames wave at the old man as print and paper dissolves inside them. Burning words fall from their sentences. The timber turns red once again. She is unfathomable.

As if clueless, the old man stays perfectly still. She has come to collect him, he knew it was his time. The smoke continues to choke the house, spreading down the hill. Deathly coughs echo throughout the town; but not a soul comes to help. Glaring down towards the fearful town, she cackles with glee, then attacks. She hunts. She destroys.

Listen. It's the night scampering away, escaping from its threat of light, like a vampire in the sun. All is vulnerable.

The Quake - by Ella Hall

The city is buzzing with life; flawless, untainted buildings loom over her. Carefully constructed framework crawling higher into the clouds. The pavement beneath the soles of her shoes has been warmed a little by the sun and sends bolts of heat up through her legs. A delicate whisper of sea salt tickles her nose and she thinks about how she hasn't visited the beach, in what feels like forever. "Perhaps I'll go tomorrow," she considers. The cathedral stands proudly to her right as she saunters past, stained glass eyes staring. A tiny breath of air teases the flourishing green trees, causing miniature tornadoes to dance atop the branches. The whirring of car engines fills the streets and the city is almost pulsing. Just as she is about to cross the street, a bus thunders past in front of her; a stampede of wildebeest shaking the concrete savanna. She waits for the ground to stop quaking, and prepares to cross the road. Except, the bus flits further and further down the street and the shaking continues. In fact, it's getting more intense, she realises. It's an earthquake. "Oh well," she thinks, "It's nothing I haven't been through before." So she leans against the nearby fence and waits, once again, for the shaking to stop. But it doesn't. Soon she is gripping the fence and struggling to stand upright. She's thrown to the ground like a ragdoll, and bites her tongue in the process. The metallic taste of blood fills every crevice in her mouth as she tries to reach the wooden bench about a metre in front of her, but every time she makes even the smallest amount of progress, an invisible force pulls her back. She feels like one of those tiny metal balls in a pinball machine at an arcade and Mother Nature has decided she wants to play. At long last, she grabs a hold of the metal leg of the bench, and uses all her strength to pull herself underneath it. She covers her head with her hands and shuts her eyes tight. The earth is still shaking. Shaking, shaking, shaking. It doesn't feel like it will ever stop.

And then it does. She ever-so-slowly opens her eyes and tries to see through the hazy layer of dust that hangs in the air. She peers out from beneath the bench and looks across to the buildings on the other side of the street. They look like they've been hit by a bomb. Or a wrecking ball. She drags herself to a standing position and takes it all in. What was once carefully structured and planned is now a pile of rubble. The road in front of her is now a sea of tarseal and cars are swimming around in it. It reminds her of her grandmother's creme brulee; once you crack the hard caramelised surface, your spoon sinks further and further into the custardy mixture beneath. She keeps walking, eager to get back to her apartment, dodging cracks in the pavement cautiously. She quickens her pace as she thinks about what could've happened to her apartment. And her cat who she left in the apartment that morning, promising to be back right after work. Oh god. She can't stop thinking of the buildings opposite the wooden bench and how they had been reduced to ruins in mere minutes. But those buildings were probably quite old. Right? And she lives on the third floor. That's a good thing isn't it? She keeps telling herself that everything will be okay but it's not very convincing.

THE WASHSTATION

AUTO & JETWASHES ○ DOGWASH ○ VACUUMS ○ LAUNDROMAT

Corner of Deering Street and McCormick Street, Three Parks, Wanaka. WWW.THEWASHSTATION.CO.NZ

Mountain stands, radiating unbroken dignity, towering over the world, shading us from the vexation of the blazing sun.

Mighty Mountain mumbles the melodies of the earth; shielding the village, creating a humble haven of placidity.

Mountain is powerful. Mountain is relentless. Mountain is unimpaired and raw.

Out of nowhere, like a stealthy snake swiftly shuddering its way along the valley floor, Earthquake rumbles into town.

Mountain tries to cling desperately to the dauntless, undamaged figure she previously was.

Piece by agonizing piece, Earthquake sends Mountain crumbling: down, down, down.

Mountain becomes Boulder.

Boulder, the pieces left behind after Earthquake had their way with the world.

Boulder: beaten, broken and bruised, yet still provides structured stability for surrounding trees to suffocate, clinging to Boulder as a lifeline with their strangling, spear-like talons.

Boulder is selfless. Boulder is damaged. Boulder is unyielding.

Precipitately, Landslide crashes through the newfound bubble of tranquility; vindictively shattering all that is in its path, destroying all life that was created.

Boulder is without the strength to protect and resist the recent bewildering torment of our world.

Piece by agonizing piece, Landslide sends Boulder tumbling: down, down, down.

Boulder becomes Rock.

Rock, nothing but a discarded fragment of what Boulder once was.

Rock, unappreciated and abandoned, yet still contributes to the cycle of nature; directing unforgiving rivers into mellow creeks, constructing twists and turns, flows and rapids.

Rock is diminutive. Rock is insignificant. Rock is broken.

Like a stampede of a thousand furious horses, Flood comes rumbling down the creek; sweeping, shredding, smothering the spark of hope and life.

Rock has become weakened like a soldier, broken by the constantly relapsing war of nature.

Piece by agonizing piece, Flood sends Rock sinking: down, down, down.

Rock becomes Pebble.

Pebble, small and unnoticeable, seemingly inconsequential, yet forms the stable paths on which we tread.

Pebble, each unique from the next, carved unforgivingly by nature to tell a story, tracing the reprehensible battles of the Earth.

Pebble is meaningless. Pebble is infinitesimal. Pebble is valorous.

Day by harrowing day, Nature grinds its forces down on Pebble; sanding away the last layer of hope, pulverising the thick skin created to deflect the never-ending bloodshed that is life.

The war of the world has come to an end, and Pebble, unable to fight back, was destroyed.

Piece by agonizing piece, Nature crushes Pebble: down, down, down.

Pebble becomes Sand.

Sand, seemingly never-ending quantities stretching as far as the eye can see; each individual granule tells a unique and tragic tale that we could never dream to know.

Sand, shaping the churning ocean floors; burying centuries of forgotten treasures beneath its unforgiving layers.

Sand has faced strenuous tragedies. Sand has been broken. Sand has survived.

Sand, although easily disregarded, has fought the endless battles of life resiliently.

Although their shell has been marked, shattered by the tragedies of the world, deep down within remains the pure, hopeful soul they once were.

Piece by agonizing piece, Mountain was fractured and changed, moulded: down, down, down to the liking of the world.

Mountain becomes Sand.

Mountain and Human, polar opposites, yet deep within they cry out the same tale of battles we will never understand.

A tale of pain, a tale of suffering, a tale of true devastation and destruction.

Mountain and Human, stories entwined together in the form of a beautiful tragedy.

Much like Mountain, Human has been broken down, achingly crushed by the unforgiving torment of the world.

Human, suffocated by the midst of the thunderous war raging around her, day by day her skin gathers scars from battles lost with the idea of life.

Her heart holds stories that no combination of words could ever dream to do justice.

In a moment of beautiful realisation, the sky opens up its gaping heart and raindrops fall: down, down, down, washing the blood, sweat, and tears from the wounds carved into her broken soul.

Human, like Mountain, has faced the cruel wrath of the world, and survived.

Human slowly grew stronger,

And Mountain, at long last, became Sand.

CULTURAL COMMITTEE

We are all so proud to be part of this year's Cultural Committee. Together, we strive to make a difference within an incredibly important aspect of our school, all things cultural. This is evident from the hard working members of our Committee. They consist of 13 talented senior students of the College who are actively involved in: kapa haka, music, drama, dance, visual arts and other cultural activities.

An area of focus for our Committee this year was to raise the profile and importance of Te Ao Māori at our school. This is a unique part of our culture that we can all be proud of. We wanted to support a successful house haka competition and worked hard to ensure that all students and staff had the time and resources needed to feel confident in performing this with pride. It was fantastic to see the involvement and enthusiasm from everyone for the haka on the day.

Other aspirations of our Committee this year included organising Showquest, holding a lunchtime live music fundraiser as part of supporting the 40 Hour Famine, and taking part in and organising activities for the Relay for Life. We were all very involved in ensuring that our first ever Tupu Arts Week at the end of Term 2, celebrating aspects of our Arts learning, was successful. We were so happy to share just a taste of the things we do here with our community across the week.

We are truly proud of all that we have accomplished, it has been a great year. - Holly Gibson and Lauren Rimmer

FESTIVAL OF COLOUR = A COLOURFUL WEEK

The Festival of Colour is a biennial arts festival held in Wānaka and the Southern Lakes region. After a difficult year in 2020, the Festival aimed to bring back some heart and soul and good vibes into the community. Closed borders certainly did not stop organisers putting together an outstanding line-up of national performers, many of whom shared their skills and knowledge with our youth community through the schools' programme.

The Festival is held in the last week of Term 1 but, for a group of our Year 8 students, it began at the beginning of the school year with 16 chosen to participate in a climate change photography project. 'Wānaka, Through the Eye of the Lens' came about in collaboration with Track Zero, an organisation which combines the arts to show the effects of global warming. The students were gifted a digital camera and taught photography techniques by two renowned New Zealand photographers. Each student had one of their photos exhibited as part of the Festival of Colour. The exhibition was then picked up by Urban Grind cafe in town, before being displayed in the school foyer.

Twenty of our Year 7 and 8 students left their mark on Helwick Street after transforming 42 of the shop windows into works of art with New Zealand artist Michel Tuffery. These students along with a group of seniors worked tirelessly at the start of the week to complete the murals which portrayed a wave-like Pasifika design flowing down both sides of the street.

We were lucky to have so many of our students involved in the Schoolfest. Year 9 students got a visit from author and Poet Laureate Selina Tusitala Marsh who conducted a poetry writing workshop. Our choir students worked with Voices NZ on their own choir pieces as well as some new songs.

The following week the NZ String Quartet played for Years 7-10. Their performance was outstanding and for many students this was their first taste of concert music. Our students were impressed that the quartet had played in major centres all over the world and really took to question time at the end.

The Music Department hosted electronica songwriter and performer Anthonie Tonnon in a 'life changing' workshop for our senior music students. This came complete with all the tech as Anthonie showed the students his whole set up and performed for the group.

Our performance was buzzing with physical theatre workshops from Thomas Monkton with Year 11, Red Leap Theatre company with Year 12 and 13 and Rollicking Entertainment with Years 8 and 10 all bringing their own take on physical theatre skills with the Year 10s getting a taste of stage combat.

We feel very lucky to have such talent in town for the Festival of Colour and especially grateful for the artists giving up their time to educate and enlighten our students.

TUPU ARTS WEEK

This year was the very first year that the Tupu Arts Week was put together by the Arts Department. It was a new and exciting adventure for all students and staff involved. So much was learnt in the journey and students tackled challenges head-on like true professionals. They demonstrated with grace and maturity that deep focus, effort and commitment to their craft can bring fabulous results. The Arts Department were very proud of the dedication students showed to ensuring this week was a success. The students were able to execute examples of high-level collaboration, critical problem solving and of course beautiful creative work, all 21st century learning skills. I am very grateful for an Arts Department team that continues to go above and beyond to bring real-world learning opportunities to the forefront of our Learning programmes. We sincerely thank the wonderful Wānaka Community for coming out and supporting our students work. Supporting youth in Arts means our students get to see how all their hard work paid off when it can be appreciated by audiences. - Emily McRae

'Flagons and Foxtrots'

'Flagons and Foxtrots' was a very exciting opportunity for the Entertainment & Event Technologies class to work together on a full scale collaborative project. Working over Terms 1 and 2, the team developed a vision for the overall design of the show and worked hard behind the scenes to bring the actors and the audience back into the early 1960s. The costume, make-up, lighting, and set departments were headed by Year 13s in the group which allowed for the group to work in a real life, industry-based environment during the rehearsal and design process. Despite the numerous unexpected challenges thrown in along the way, the team made the best of tricky situations and persevered. Without the many hours put in behind the scenes, the show would not have gone ahead the way it did, so the class of designers came out the other end feeling very proud and satisfied with their work. - Olive Blyth

Our Senior Drama students put on an amazing showing of 'Flagons and Foxtrots' by Alison Quigan and Ross Gumbley early in MAC's Term 2 Arts Week. The two shows went off without a hitch and the students were all really proud! Working with two casts for two shows was difficult, especially with some common cast members between the two, but all of the Senior Drama students put in the effort and made it in the end, resulting in an amazing performance to start off the Arts Week. As well as earning some credits for their work, students learnt valuable skills like teamwork, communication and organisation that can help them in other aspects of school life. I would like to thank all of you who participated and ensured that we put on a show to remember! - Ethan Brady

Directors note for 'Flagons and Foxtrots'

Tackling this work was all about providing a light-hearted text that also allowed for acting opportunities, challenging enough for Level 3 assessment criteria. The class felt it would be good to explore comedy as laughter is great medicine for the soul. COVID19 has reminded us more than ever how important it is that we engage with, and appreciate, our neighbours and immediate community. The dance hall era of New Zealand did exactly that. Everyone and anyone went to the Saturday night dance enjoying the music and each other's company. Long term relationships were made and musicians became locally famous.

Rita represented another turning point in the proud history New Zealand has for women standing up for equity in all sectors of life. We sit in very new times as we navigate what it means to be human and how we exist beside and with each other in our social and working lives. We can be thankful for characters such as Rita who asked questions and asked more of society in order to create understanding for the rights of all.

I couldn't be prouder of this crew of students. The new Entertainment and Event Technologies course meant that it is the first time students have been completely responsible for all the components off stage as well as navigating their responsibilities on stage. It has been a very large undertaking and students have had a rich learning experience as they constantly problem-solved to get things to work. Preparing all this for an off-site venue is also extra challenging because you cannot truly tell how things will work until you actually get there. The students had only one day to rehearse the work in the actual situation. They all stepped into the challenge with brave hearts and worked with grit and determination.

We hoped our audience enjoyed a trip down memory lane and a moment to see things as they used to be. In order to learn about where we are now it is important to explore parts of where we came from. Despite the conservative attitudes and somewhat archaic expectations what is still apparent about the good old fashioned Kiwi is their ability to see the funny side of things, and their will to look out for each other.

Drop Dead Juliet

Year 10 Drama presented a quirky and lighthearted version of Romeo and Juliet called 'Drop Dead Juliet' by Allison Williams. In this version Juliet takes charge, telling Shakespeare how to rewrite the script. The play explored many of the themes of the original with plenty of physical antics along the way.

The students learnt a raft of skills doing this production, most specifically how to manage themselves in rehearsal when working in a large ensemble group. The main purpose of this performance was to give the students a taste of what is required to mount a production for the stage. Having limited class time to rehearse, students had to work really hard to get to the stage in the Lake Wānaka Centre. The presentational over-the-top style of the show required the students to really step out of their comfort zone. I was very proud of their efforts and the way they looked after each other during our time at the performance venue. Some students also worked hard to learn these skills of stage production; prop-making, make-up and lighting, with the help of the senior technical students. These backstage students were very mature, mostly working independently whilst rehearsals happened in class.

It was an absolute pleasure getting to know and work with such a bubbly and brave group. Whilst learning to master performance and technical skills when students work on productions, they are also mastering incredibly important skills in creative and critical thinking, communication and citizenship. The confidence gained and the ability to think on your feet can be applied to all aspects of life. - Emily McRae

'Furreal' - Year 10 Art

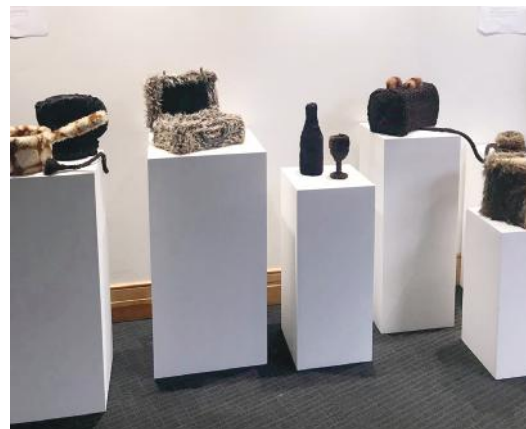

Recycled household materials transformed through the covering with fake fur inspired by Meret Oppenheim.

Inspired by the conversation between Oppenheim, Picasso and Dora Maar in a Paris cafe, where Picasso remarked that one could cover just about anything with fur. "Even this cup and saucer," Oppenheim replied.

Students then took this inspiration to turn everyday household objects into bizarre

'furreal' objects that bring them to life, allowing the observer to stop and question what it is and even make up their own answer on what they feel it has turned into.

Working with 3D objects in a surreal manner became an extension of the Year 10 surrealist still life paintings worked on in the first half of the year.

SHOW QUEST

Based on the fabulous learning and National Showquest title gained in 2020 by the Cultural Committee, a challenge was given to the Cultural Committee and friends to lead an opportunity for the junior students to showcase their performance skills. This meant that senior students could strengthen their leadership and mentoring skills and work across a range of production areas both on and off the stage.

It also meant assessment opportunities for senior students. This year's Showquest team was run by three Year 13 students, Lucy Fenton, Holly Gibson, and Nikita Sinclair with the teacher support of Jane Watson-Taylor and Danielle Pullar, who all took on the task of filling last year's shoes. Our team consisted of 31 dancing students and two backstage crew, with a wide range of ages 11-17 years old. Our team started planning our performance at the end of last year and held auditions early in Term 1. Following was eight weeks of rehearsals every lunch time and a couple of long weekend rehearsals as well. Our whole cast displayed such amazing commitment and dedication in turning up every single day and working hard so that we could bring our vision to life. Our performance had to be a 10 minute performing art piece that included dance and drama on an issue that is important to us. This was our idea created by the student leaders:

Throughout adolescence young people flow in and out of depression and anxiety. They may appear happy or fine on the outside but anxiety is always waiting in the shadows ready to wash over them like waves at various points. Simply trying to fix people for good is not the answer but we can definitely stand by, ready to lift them back up when they fall. We can all be stronger together. Check on your friends and ask for help when you need support.

Five schools attended the regional competition, Mount Aspiring College, Otago Girls High School, Logan Park High School, Dunstan High School and Wakatipu High School.

Mount Aspiring college was able to come out on top with first place also winning five awards, Best Choreography, Tikanga Award, Best use of Drama, Best use of Props and ZM Soundtrack Award.

Our next step was that a recording of our performance was entered for the national competition where one of the students involved (Hunter Cranfield) won Outstanding Rangatahi. This video was shown at the Mount Aspiring College Art Week at the end of term at the Lake Wānaka Centre for the community to come and watch. Amazing friendships have been created in the opportunity to showcase Wānaka's wonderful dance and drama skills. We thank the community for all the support to make our dream of performing come true.

Nikita Sinclair

Happy holidays to our Aspiring Learners students.

We are so proud of your achievements and look forward to seeing you next year.

Congratulations to the students leaving MAC in 2021. Wishing you all the best for the next step on your chosen path.

MAC KAPA HAKA + HAKA COMPETITION

Te Mākahi to Tititea kicked off the year by welcoming our new Principal Mrs Jacobson to our wonderful school with a powhiri. This year with the help of our tutor Candace Carol and Whaea Kaz we've been able to learn new waiata, mōteatea, haka and so much more. Not only growing our bracket sizes but also our numbers in the group. This year we welcomed many students from all year levels, and we've had many leaders step up. Personally, I feel like I have become more confident in leading waiata this year which is something I'd never thought would happen.

Like every year, the rōpu opened Cardrona Ski Field and welcomed all of their staff to the maunga and lovely area of Wānaka. Also a small number of our group went down to Dunedin to support and watch Tawhiri Rupapera and Ryan Enoka at the Ngā Manu Kōrero Speech Competition, and we were delighted to see that Tawhiri came second overall in the senior Māori section 'Pei Te Hurinui Jones. Next we had Matariki. Like every year the rōpu gets on stage and performs some pieces that we have been practising, and this year we performed 'Te Taukaea Aroha' and the MAC Haka. Just before the end of Term 2 the group went down to the Lake Wānaka Centre and met up with the other Kapa Haka groups of Hawea Flat School, Tarras Primary, Wānaka Primary, Holy Family, Take Karara and some of the local Early Childhood Centres. During the day we all stood up to become leaders and taught games such as 'Pukana', sang waiata, and at the end all performed for each other which was amazing to see from a senior point of view, the fact that we know that Kapa Haka will still keep going is a great feeling.

At the start of Term 3 the rōpu went to Rotorua where we stayed marae-style for a week at the Tangatarua marae. We toured around important places such as Mt Tarawera, which erupted in 1886, and the buried village where we performed for one of our guides to show our appreciation. We also went to Whakarewarewa, the living village, where we saw how the people use the natural geothermal resources to cook, bathe and wash. Right next to Whakarewarewa is Te Puia, the home of the geyser Pōhutu and the Māori Arts and Crafts Institute. Our last night however was one to be remembered, we went to Tamaki tours and were treated to an amazing experience filled with laughs, astonishing performances by none other than Ruakura (ask the senior boys about them they'd love to fanboy over them) and delicious food.

This year has been by far the best year of Kapa Haka since I've joined. I've been able to step out of my comfort zone and become a leader and I hope that our future Kaea and Kaitātaki of this rōpu will find it as incredible as I did. I'd like to say a huge thank you to Whaea Candace, Whaea Kaz and all of the parent help we have had this year for making this possible. - Mihi McLachlan

This year was the year I really had to step up as a leader after our leaders Flynn Rosie and Jessie McKenzie had left the rōpu. 2021 was my year to show off my Māoritanga and to share some of my knowledge of Te Ao Māori. This year, all of the student leaders in Kapa Haka really showed their aroha and leadership towards the group, most of us all stepped out of our box and had a lead part in a song, or even a haka for the first time. We started off quietly, but as the year went on everyone started to gain confidence to lead whenever needed. It has gotten to the point where if someone needs to lead something on the spot, there will always be someone who'll lead the rōpu. I have seen so much growth in Te Mākahi o Tititea since my first day at school, but I've got to say this year was the most fun, improving, exciting and the best year for this rōpu. - Tawhiri Rupapera

It was amazing to see everyone at the House Haka Competition this year. A huge thank you to the parents who came to watch and to our fantastic judges Nadine Perry, Candace Carroll, Wayne Enoka and Jo Waide. There was great participation across all houses as everyone took hold of this opportunity to participate in and appreciate the haka as a significant aspect of Māoritanga. The union of a friendly house competition and learning Te Reo was a huge success and the growing confidence and involvement in Maori culture within the school was super encouraging to see.

Year 13 member of Kapa Haka and the Cultural Committee, Tawhiri Ruapera, opened the competition with a karakia before the first house, Roy, took the floor dressed in black, with wahine adorned in blue feathers and ta moko lips and boys wearing blue headbands and war paint. What followed was an outstanding performance with special mention to students Hadley Tamati and Tana Hansen for their opening waiata, Mr. Tuhoē for his mihi and Hadley again alongside Jacob Mulvey for leading Roy house to second place.

Next up Barker performed passionately, led by Tawhiri and senior Kapa Haka members. The green house displayed unique choreography where the tāne (boys) in front split down the middle for the wahine to come forward for the last lines of the haka.

It was super exciting to see the Te Kura o Tititea (MAC) come together.

The school wide participation in the Haka is so powerful and anyone who missed it should head to the Facebook page to watch the video. - Lauren Rimmer

A haka competition is a fairly common competition held in most NZ schools where their houses compete against one another either performing a haka of choice or the school haka.

This year, all of the houses took it to a whole new level of competition and grace. The leadership and discipline that went into each of the houses, Roy, Iron, Pisa, Barker, was astounding. Pisa came out on top and not only was it a huge win for their house and leaders, I would like to congratulate all of the houses senior leaders for putting in the effort to teach not only the haka to their respective houses but also the cultural significance behind it, and for those being taught being open to learning. I'd also like to thank the judges for giving up their time to come watch and having the tough job of deciding the winners. And for the future leaders, I hope that it keeps getting better and better. - Mihi McLachlan

MACSTOCK

As is tradition at Mount Aspiring College, Term 2 came to an end with the annual music showcase, MACStock. This year it was a successful night, with both our senior and junior performers putting on an excellent show to an audience of all ages, which provided a valuable experience for all those involved.

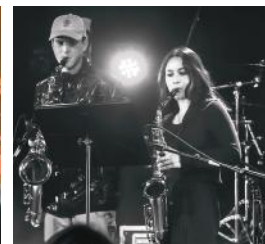

For the first time ever, due to the growth and talent of our school, the show was split over two nights allowing junior students to have their moment in the spotlight on Thursday night. Friday night saw both solo/duo and band performances from our seniors, playing from a variety of genres.

Original compositions and well-known hits gave the chance for senior music students to show off their talent and be assessed on group performance as well as bringing out a mosh pit of their peers.

Some senior students were returning for their fourth, fifth and even sixth and final year playing at MACStock.

The night progressed through from Level 1 to Level 3 and concluded with a DJ set from students in the music tech class which was offered at MAC for the first time this year. There was an incredible showcase of talent which included Mr Doyle and Mr Hodges showing off their guitar skills alongside the students.

Overall it was a very enjoyable night that we look forward to coming around again next year. - Kimiya Byrne

SMOKEFREE ROCKQUEST

This year's Smokefree Rockquest was held at the Lake Wānaka Centre in June. Rockquest is held every year and is a regional competition that schools all over NZ participate in. It aims to showcase high school students' songwriting abilities. We had nine acts in total participating from MAC.

MAC CHOIR

The MAC Choir 2021 had some huge achievements that we should all be incredibly proud of. They put such an incredible amount of time and effort into it. The main focus of this year for the Choir was to enter the Otago Regional Big Sing Competition in June. This prestigious choral competition is an event that the MAC Choir usually enters every two years. Because 2020 led to issues surrounding travelling and big clusters of people, the level of performance was extremely high. The MAC Choir prepared three pieces across three categories: New Zealand composition, Choral Art music, and an open section where popular music can be performed. The Choir learned a piece in Te Reo Māori, and we were especially thrilled to have Mihi McLachlan - also a leader in the MAC Kapa Haka group, open our Māori piece with a beautiful karanga. The Choir also presented a sacred piece called 'You Do Not Walk Alone,' and a composition called 'Be a Light.' The Choir did such an incredible job and were thrilled with the results of their performances; they were awarded the Isabel Chetwin Trophy for the Most Improved Choir, and Choir Director, Mrs Joanne Waide, was given the Conductor's Award for the festival.

The Choir then turned their attention to the New Zealand Male Choir concert, planned to take place late in September at the Hawea Community Hall. The NZ Male Choir had requested the 'MAC singers' to be part of their New Zealand tour, and the concert programme included repertoire that MAC students would perform alongside the Male Choir, and individual pieces which would showcase their repertoire from the Big Sing. It was wonderful to be given two pieces: 'Adiemus' and 'Pokarekare Ana' to prepare for this concert. These arrangements were technically clever, and especially memorable for a New Zealand audience.

This year, it has been fantastic to have so many young singers in the MAC Choir. Everyone has worked really hard for our special events but we would especially like to acknowledge the new skills that these young singers have adopted to contribute to our full and rich choral sound. We would also like to acknowledge the contribution that our Year 13 singers have given to the Choir over many years: Danielle Carney, Mihi McLachlan, Ashley Bates and Anja Malmø - your service to our Choir has been invaluable and we wish you all the very best for the future! As our Choir looks towards 2022, we hope to build on the strong and vibrant choral sound that we have developed this year. We are excited to see what pieces and events we can undertake in 2022, and we look forward to the arrival of our new members!

SERVICE COMMITTEE

The goal for the 2021 Service Committee was to build a stronger connection amongst the school, community and rest of New Zealand. We started the year off by organising an 'Amazing Race' for the Year 13 students with the intention to start building bonds between the locals, hostellers and other new students. Valentine's Day was next on the agenda, where we had the objective to spread the love around the school. Students and teachers had the opportunity to send a token of appreciation through the lolly bags and free notes we created. The team also took up the challenge of participating in the Cancer Society's Relay for Life, where we walked in a relay format for 24 hours fundraising money for the charity. We also organised a school mufti day to fundraise for the Pork Pie Charity Run where all proceeds were donated to KidsCan. Unfortunately, we then had to say goodbye to Miss Plunkett our amazing teacher support, but were lucky when Mr Pennycuik joined us. In regards to National Volunteer Week, the Committee took the initiative to run alongside this and organise a school volunteer week. Each lunchtime, over five days, we had a service-based activity which anyone at school could take part in, while also having opportunities for them to take up after school and continue in the future. Being a part of the Committee has allowed me to learn and grow so much as an individual, while also giving me the opportunity to give back to the school and community who have given so much to me. I truly believe that this Committee has so much potential to continue with the objective we set out with this year, and I encourage any future members to continue thinking of new ways to keep helping wherever they can. - Georgia Robertson

Students Against Dangerous Driving (SADD) is a student led initiative with the collective goal of preventing loss on New Zealand roads. The SADD team provides guidance and support using best practice, evidence based, road safety education approaches to influence their peers and wider community to positively promote safe road user behaviour. Our point of difference is to offer youth-centered leadership development and behaviour changing opportunities within a road safety context, emphasis is on good decision-making and societal contribution. SADD offers opportunities for students to work collaboratively and build relationships with like-minded road safety partners like the Wānaka Police, Fire Brigade and Wānaka Alcohol Group.

This year we have worked on a variety of different events and activities as a Committee to bring about as much positive change as we can. We have worked alongside the Wānaka Police on multiple occasions including parking management and a mandatory breath testing stop. SADD is a really useful Committee to connect students with the community and also educate everyone on safe driving. During the year we put on a mock crash scenario which had Wānaka Police, Fire Brigade and St John all attending to put on a show for the students of what one wrong decision can lead to. This was an incredibly valuable experience for the students with many questioning whether the crash really was real.

Although towards the end of this year we have had some setbacks due to COVID-19 and as a result, lockdown, we have had an incredibly successful year and we plan to continue with other activities and events in Term 4.

Maddi Frazer - SADD Committee Member

STICKS'n'STONES

At MAC we have a Sticks 'n' Stones ambassador group. Sticks 'n' Stones is a national organisation that runs programmes, events and groups across NZ with the end goal to make bullying a thing of the past. At MAC our group consists of students ranging from Years 7-13 and we run school wide events such as Pink Shirt Day.

This event was held on Friday 21 May, with the aim of reducing bullying in Aotearoa by celebrating diversity in all its forms and supporting workplaces, communities and schools to be safe, supportive, welcoming and inclusive of all people. While all people can be the target of bullying, some groups or individuals experience more bullying than others.

The whole school went pink, with everyone pulling anything they could find out of their wardrobes, and the website was even pink. Throughout the day there were pink cupcakes in the quad, pink hairspray and we chalked a whole wall pink next to the basketball courts.

It was awesome to see the whole school come together to support an awesome cause and take a stand against bullying.

STUDENTS IN THE COMMUNITY

Our unique Students in the Community programme allows our Year 13 students to gain insight into their community and to volunteer their services and support where needed.

The programme has been helping the Upper Clutha community for over 25 years, over this time students have donated tens of thousands of hours of service. In 2021 our Year 13s have spent over 3000 hours in different sectors of the community.

This year our students took up volunteer roles working in large community events such as Challenge, Hawea Epic, the A&P Show, and the biennial Festival of Colour. Time was spent out in the community with preschoolers, youth and the elderly, with sports teams and clubs, and in nature and community gardens. New roles and relationships were formed with the QLDC Library and the SPCA.

It is important that as part of the program our Year 13 students get to define their community in order to give back to it in a way that is meaningful. This has meant that we have had students in roles within the College supporting our own school community, as well as spreading kindness in other regions of New Zealand.

STUDENT FEEDBACK

I feel fulfilled knowing that I am actively giving back on a weekly basis. This programme has brought me closer to some really cool organisations and people I wouldn't have ever met otherwise. - Nicole Meyer

I enjoyed the large community events. I think they allowed us to feel connected as we are immersing ourselves with all types of people in Wānaka. - Meg Thomas

During the course of this year, particularly in the Winter School holidays, I have been donating my time to the Maniototo Ice Rink and Luge Track in Naseby. Now being one of the older athletes, coaching allows me to share my knowledge and skill to the next generation of Lugers which I take great pride in. I have mainly been involved with coaching Lugging to the younger kids and athletes, while also working during the nights creating and maintaining snow and ice for the track and skating rink. However when I can, I help out with skate hire, around the office and general working bees. Despite being small, the Naseby community has given me so many opportunities as this place is where my sporting career in Natural Track Luge has originated, giving me the opportunity to compete internationally, representing my country. Therefore, it has been important to me that I give back to this community as much as I can. Between this year and last, I have volunteered around 200-250 hours to this community. However, it is the group effort of all the parents, athletes, and many others coming together which keeps this great facility running, allowing many people from out of town to enjoy and experience what Naseby has to offer. And I am grateful to be part of that. - Flyn Coburn

By working for various committees, organisations and events I was able to meet so many different people, who all had a great passion for what they were doing. Through this programme, I was able to discover that even the little things you can do to help out your community, can have a huge impact. Ultimately, being able to volunteer for so many different things was a very rewarding experience. If I were to give advice to any Year 13s entering the SIC Programme next year, I would say to go into this programme with an open mind and try to get involved in anything you can. Giving back to the community is an ultimately rewarding and enriching experience that is worth the time and effort that you put into it. This programme has allowed me to gain connections in the community, meet new people and discover all of the different ways our community works together. - Tesoro Levy

My favourite activity I did for SIC this year was coaching netball. My Year 3/4 team had so much energy and we had a lot of fun at practices, games and tournaments. Giving back to the netball community made me remember why I love playing the sport. - Isla Gellatly

ORGANISATION FEEDBACK

Thank you SO SO much for sending the volunteers my way - they were awesome! They seem wise and mature beyond their age. - Paula Mitchell, QLDC Library

Without volunteers spending their time every week showing up to volunteer, our programmes would not be possible. - M!NT Charitable Trust

I want to thank you most sincerely for your volunteering and the respectful way you conducted yourselves. - Wānaka Retirement Village

The volunteers were all fabulous and instrumental in the success of the weekend summit. - Lynne Christie, Wānaka Sounz, YAMI

The 2021 Sports Committee successfully initiated numerous events within Mount Aspiring College, which are described below. Despite COVID cancelling the Wakatipu exchange for the second year in a row, we took this as an opportunity to connect with the year levels and co-ordinate more activities. This Committee consists of 14 student leaders, all with a passion for sport and positively influencing sporting behaviours within the school. 2021 was a great year for the Sports Committee as we achieved our main objective of creating opportunities for students to be involved in physical education.

Lunchtime Activities

Lunchtime activities and sports were a hit this year. The Committee took to setting up and managing games such as four corners, basketball, and capture the flag. We loved seeing the year groups engage in positive lunchtime activities and put all their energy to good use. The Committee felt it was a super rewarding initiative to provide for the students and we will definitely continue to offer these sporting opportunities.

Highlights of 2021 Sporting Achievements:

This year, 11 students competed at the Maadi National Rowing Championships at Lake Karapiro, Cambridge. With over 2500 athletes the competition was fierce. Four crews made the A finals: coming away with an 8th in the U18 double, 7th in the U18 quad, 4th in the U17 double and an amazing 1st place in the U17 coxed quad which consisted of Pipi Horan, Emily Findlay, Neve Faed, Bella Sarginson, and Thomas Mitchell.

MAC sport climbers performed strongly in the recent NZAC National Indoor Bouldering Series. The series comprised of four events in Wellington, Christchurch, Dunedin and Auckland. Congratulations to the following climbers: Nat Warburton won the U16 Males Series with wins in all four events. Tama Huston-Jefferies finished 3rd in the U14 Males Series. Fia Warburton won the U12 Female Series with convincing wins in each event.

Athletics Day

On Athletics Day we were at school early to help set up for the busy day ahead. After some perseverance on tent setups and moving around the benches, we were ready to commence. Although Athletics Day was non-compulsory, the turnout of students was enormous. Overall the combination of good weather and great attitudes proved to make a great Athletics Day as always.

Kavanagh Exchange

Kavanagh Exchange is for our Year 7 and 8's and it is a great opportunity for the junior school to play sports and make new friends. The Sports Committee selects and coaches these teams leading up to the exchange. As a Committee, we divided into our sporting groups and spread the word around the school. We are proud of our junior sports teams and loved working with them.

Swimming Sports

Swimming Sports were held at the start of the year in Term 1. It starts off with the Sports Committee meeting early in the morning to sort out the final things before the students arrive. Once the students arrive we sort out the houses and each student chooses between competing in competitive or non-competitive races. Overall Swimming Sports is a fun, eventful day with lots of friendly competition and house relays.

Social Volleyball

As a Committee, we organise and participate in a lot of social sports. This year we focused on mixing the juniors into the senior sports groups. During Term 3, social volleyball returned for another great season. This competition involves a mixture of Year 9 to 13 students every Monday lunchtime. We had nearly 100 entries in our social volleyball programme which allowed us to create eight even social teams with a variety of students and teachers of different ages and abilities. "Social volleyball has always been the highlight of my week as we get to mix with juniors and seniors of the College" 2021 Sport Committee member, Martha Toghill stated.

We had two successful MAC teams in the Challenge Wanaka Half Secondary School teams this year. MAC students Tom Sides, Hugo Sinclair, Carter Guichard, Zavier Taylor (Year 10) and Cooper Mills (Year 11) came 1st out of all the Secondary School teams and placed 4th overall in the Challenge teams with a time of 4:21:11. In addition to this, the MAC team consisting of McKay Watson, Ben Silipo, Hannah Prosser and Olivia McLachlan placed second in a time of 4:31:03 in the Secondary School teams division and 6th overall.

A very successful student, Zoe Antone, entered 2021 moving into the U17 category for archery, which shoots a distance of 60 metres (having previously shot at 45 metres). During the school holidays, Zoe shot in the Archery New Zealand National Championship and is proud to now be ranked second in New Zealand in the U17 recurve category.

MAC XC HUNTER SKIING

This is my second year doing the MAC XC Skiing programme and I really enjoy it, because it is social, fun and I improve my skiing. The XC Skiing Olympics in our last session were great and I loved the tube race! - Nico Pettit

The 2021 MAC XC Skiing programme was cut short due to lockdown, but the participating 43 students enjoyed their skiing sessions nevertheless. The programme runs during Term 3 up at the SnowFarm and is open to all MAC students. Whether it's your first time on cross-country skis or you are a seasoned skier looking to refine your technique, the programme is aimed for everyone. The SnowFarm instructors deliver sessions which are fun and help the students to develop new skills.
