Aux Cord Wars: Live Musical Gameshow is a brilliantly-packaged musical experience that is perfect for ALL colleges and Universities, large and small. For over two hours, your students get the once-in-a-lifetime chance to control the music and win cash or prizes on the spot!

Hosted by nationally and internationally touring entertainers, Jay Dukes and Trizzy; with our ACW official DJ's, DJ 7Tre & DJ Smeezo, positioned side by side keeping the experience live. This event has an old-school DJ competition vibe, but with YOUR students in control. Let's see who can move the crowd by playing the best songs, while the audience decides their fate.

"The show was amazing, it brought me so much joy after having a very hard time here in college. I was amazed but the energy Yall brought to UNCC, and I hope to see y'all again soon!!"

Yvonne G., Student
University of North Carolina at Charlotte

"Continue up the good work make other happy like you made me today this about my first time smiling and having a good time by myself I really appreciate y'all for coming out again y'all open up another party of me I don't like to show around other people but keep up the work guys !!!"

Breanna P., Student | Georgia Southwestern State University

"Since the beginning of working with the Aux Cord Wars team, they have been a pleasure to work with. They worked well with our contract and were super flexible with any requests we had. When explaining the Jesuit values and the content restrictions we had they were very understanding of our values and made any accommodations they needed to make for our student audience. The team checked in with us throughout the program to make sure this was the experience we were hoping for. Our students truly enjoyed the experience, and many did not want to leave when the program was over. I recommend working with Aux Cord Wars and we would have them again on our campus."

Astrid Beltrán, M.S. Ed. | Assistant Vice President for Diversity & Student Engagement | Loyola University Chicago
