A heartfelt tribute to the 15 remarkable women who played a pivotal role in shaping the Indian Constitution. Often overshadowed in the grand narrative of nation-building, these women made invaluable contributions, championing principles like gender equality, social justice, and individual rights. Through engaging storytelling and meticulous research, the book brings their stories to life—exploring their ideas, struggles, and the lasting impact of their work on India's democratic framework. It's not just a history book; it's a celebration of resilience, vision, and the often-overlooked contributions of women in shaping the nation.

Vedant Jadhavar is a law student, writer, and researcher with a deep passion for constitutional studies and Indian history. He completed his Junior College at Mithibai College, Mumbai, before pursuing a BLS LLB at Government Law College, Mumbai—an institution known for producing some of India's most distinguished legal minds.

Twenty Voices. One Nation. Many Gods.

What does faith mean in a country as diverse as India? How does spirituality shape identity?

In this book, twenty Indians—from different walks of life, religions, and philosophies—share deeply personal essays on their beliefs, doubts, and journeys of self-discovery.

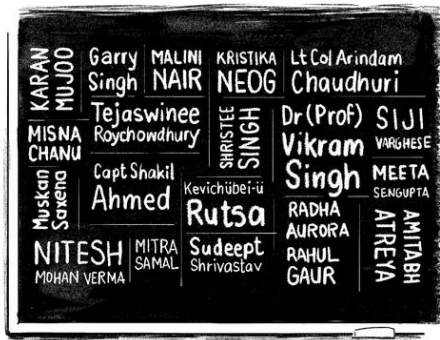

Suitable for readers over thirteen years of age.

Sahana Ahmed is the founder and CEO of Bare Bones Publishing. She is the author of COMBAT SKIRTS (2018) and the editor of AMITY: PEACE POEMS (2022). For her work as the National President of the Rural Tourism Council of WICCI (Women's Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry) and the India Country Chair of World Peace at G100, she received the Woman of the Decade award at the 2022 Women Economic Forum.
