Reflecting on my journey at St. Mary's University since 2022, I am filled with gratitude. Graduating in Accounting and Finance this year is a milestone I owe first to the Almighty God for His unwavering support. My time here has been truly rewarding; the university provides a comfortable, inspiring environment and remains deeply committed to quality education.

When my scores came in, I honestly didn't expect it to be this good. I know I wanted good grades and prayed for them, but I knew the possibility of scoring low still. I know my strength but I could have failed despite it. So when I prepared I focused on my weakness, which is feeling burn-out. I focused on making my study environment good and taking regular breaks.

Looking back on my university journey, I've realized that success isn't a stroke of luck; it is the result of discipline and daily sacrifices. There were many nights of exhaustion, but my faith and the support of those around me kept my vision clear.

St. Mary's University is a veteran institution that was involved in the field at the time when the government of Ethiopia understood that educated manpower is crucial for the development of the country and believed that government schools alone are not enough to educate the citizens in this field. Since its inception, the university has united to produce educated manpower, and until now, it has graduated a significant number of manpower in various fields, from Diploma to Master's regular and distance learning programs, and has been able to deploy them in various fields. It is a fact that many believe that it should be taken as an experience, but the students who pass the national exit test that the government has announced as a key task in the quality of education are a proof of this.

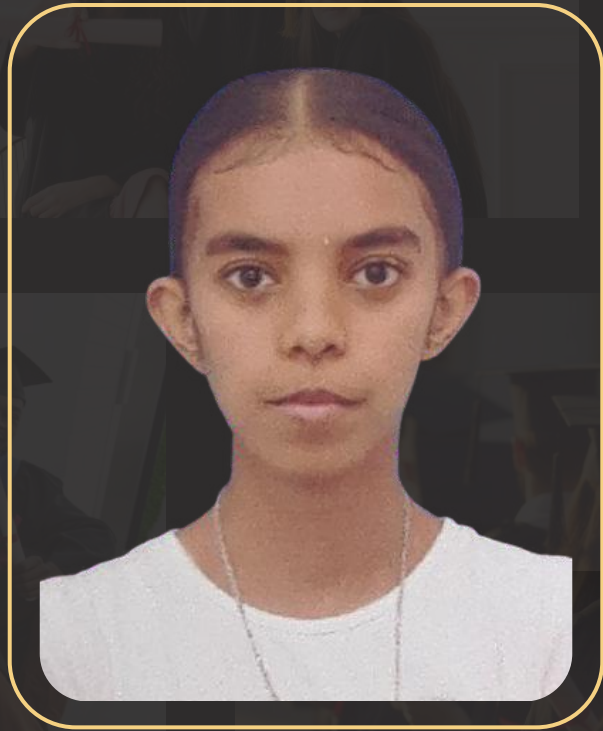

The journey has been a transformative experience, blending academic challenges with profound personal growth. Beyond gaining specialized knowledge, I developed crucial critical thinking and time management. This transformative period prepared me to confidently transition from a student into a capable professional, having embraced both, the highs of success and the lessons of overcoming obstacles

"Honestly, this success came down to three things. First and foremost, I thank God for giving me the inner strength to keep going. From there, it was a matter of pure effort: countless late nights spent reading, pushing through practice questions, and dedicated time in CDEE classes and practice tests

From nervous beginnings to unforgettable endings, my time at St. Mary's University was a journey shaped by laughter, late nights studies, and lessons beyond the classroom. Through every challenge, it was my friends beside me who made the path lighter and the memories richer.

After transferring from AASTU, my experience at St. Mary's University has been truly meaningful. The Accounting and Finance department has excellent instructors who make learning clear, practical, and engaging, which is why many students succeed in their national exit exams. The environment was welcoming from the very beginning, which helped me settle in quickly and stay motivated. I want to say thank you to my friends, my teachers, and the university staff, especially the chief registrar Mr. Solomon, for their support and encouragement throughout my journey. Their guidance made my time here memorable and impactful.

My academic journey was defined by balance and discipline. As a distance student at St. Mary's University, I pursued a degree in Management, mastering the art of organization, strategy, and self-direction while learning to navigate rigorous coursework independently.

One of the problems we have in education is the covid 19 virus, which makes it difficult for us to learn properly. We have also failed to learn the problems of the war between the Tigrays and the entire Ethiopian federal body It also added extra courses to us which was a problem for us.” We thank God for the blessings of the first family and our friend Muhammed Ahmed who supported us to achieve this goal.
