STORIES OF HOPE

COCHLEAR IMPLANTS

Hearing Hope: Amin's Journey

At just 10 years old, Amin Al-Khatib faced the challenges of both hearing and vision loss caused by Usher Syndrome. Though he exceeded the typical age limit for the procedure, SAMS approved his case for a cochlear implant at Bab Al-Hawa Hospital due to his urgent needs and high chances of success.

“Post-surgery tests showed excellent results,” said Dr. Hamze Sayd Hassan, the ENT specialist who led the procedure. “He’ll now begin advanced speech therapy to support his communication.”

“This is the second cochlear implant SAMS has done for my son,” Amin’s father shared. “I’m filled with gratitude for their support and compassion.”

To date, SAMS has performed 51 cochlear implant surgeries in northwest Syria, bringing the gift of sound—and hope—to children like Amin.
