Comprehensive Integration Program for Vets

The Recent Vet Graduate Support Program supports new and recent graduates and associates through their foundation years in clinical practice. The program has been developed with three key aspects:

Personal Development

A series of interactive digital workshops and individual coaching sessions, covering essential elements including emotional intelligence, selfcare, working in teams, dealing with difficult clients, structuring successful consultations, fee setting and financial conversations.

Clinical Case Studies

A calendar of case study reviews and example template for participants to prepare and discuss with their managing/senior vet.

Self Evaluations

Self-evaluation appraisal tool for participant and their Manager to regularly review progress and development throughout the program. Assists in identifying where further training, focus and support is required, proactively address any areas of concern, and set goals for achievement.

Your Program Coach

Tracey Strazzeri

Tracey is one of CCG's most trusted and respected Consultants. As an experienced new graduate coach, she plays an integral role in delivering all of CCG's new and recent vet graduate support programs. Benefit from her years of in-practice experience and practical guidance.
