a look at what's to come

About our business

Family-owned and operated, Tassie Timber Things is located just south of Hobart.

Our workshop is just a short walk away from our home. Our family of four is all involved in the making and finishing of our large range of products. We also employ another five workers on a casual basis.

Tassie Timber Things is largely a wholesale business but we do sell on our own website and other online marketplaces. About once or twice a year we sell at boutique markets, which is a great way to network and continue to grow our customer base.

Our team understands retail challenges and expectations and will always endeavour to offer you the best customer service possible.

We may not get it right 100% of the time, but we are always open to suggestions and feedback of any kind.

Tassie Timber Things are all Australian Made. Made by us.

Guide to Timbers

A retailer always needs to know about the products they are offering. This can be a challenge when it comes to timber. Unless you are working with it often, it can be difficult to identify the various species. (My wife still gets it wrong occasionally.) 😊

So, here is a brief guide to the timbers we have on offer.

The easiest way is a visual guide and the example of these oyster shuckers is excellent.

Huon Pine: Light coloured. Yellowish tones.

Myrtle: Red/pink tones. Sometimes lighter. Occasionally with some cool features as well.

Sassafras: Blackheart is pictured with the contrasting light and dark grain. But this is not to be expected every time as there is a huge variety. Every piece is different. The Pepper mills here are also Sassafras, often called spalted. Lighter in colour, but still very nice.

Blackwood: The shucker is the typical colour, but again there is a wide range of brown tones. See the straight grain and darker flecks? Classic Blackwood.

Figured Oak: Tasmanian Oak with funky features. Generally lighter brown tones but with unusual grain. The two bottle openers are just an example.

Banksia: We use locally sourced Banksia pods for pens and occasionally other product. We make these to order.
