

Do Your Chores

Story by Education Development Center (EDC)
Illustrations by Hannah Manaligod

“May I play now?” asks Max.

“No, you must pick the fruit,” says Mama.

“May I play with the fruit?” asks Max.
“No, you must sweep the floor,” says Mama.

“May I play with the broom?” asks Max.
“No, you must feed the chickens,” says Mama.

“May I play with the chickens?” asks Max.
“No, you must gather the firewood,” says Mama.

“May I play with the sticks?” asks Max.
“No, you must wash the clothes,” says Mama.

“May I play with the clothes?” asks Max.
“No, you must bring the goats in,” says Mama.

“May I play with the goats?” asks Max.
“No, you must pick some tomatoes from the garden,” says Mama.

“May I play in the garden?” asks Max.
“No, you must fetch water,” says Mama.

“May I play by the river?” asks Max.
“Yes! You may play,” says Mama.