Mauritius

Experience Every Element

Beaches of brilliant white. Waters of perfect turquoise. Valleys of verdant green. Mauritius is an Indian Ocean gem that combines natural treasures and marine marvels with a unique heritage and luxuriously laid-back resorts. From bucket-list diving and colourful canyons to seriously scenic helicopter rides and traditional firewalking ceremonies, get set to embrace the elements of nature during your stay in paradise.

Earth

While the seascapes are simply spectacular, Mauritius is much more than its marine beauty. Inland, the island is home to striking volcanic landscapes, unique rock formations, rich flora and native wildlife. Don't miss a visit to the Chamarel Earth – a surreal geological formation made up of sand and rock in vibrant colours, from deep purple to fiery red. Head up to the viewpoint for the very best vistas over cascading waterfalls, rich vegetation and, of course, that beautiful, brightly coloured earth.

Wildlife lover? Head to Île aux Aigrettes, a 26-hectare nature reserve that lies just 800m off the coast. This idyllic island houses the final remnants of the coastal forest that once covered Mauritius and is now an important spot for scientific research – not to mention a sanctuary for a range of rare wildlife species. Take a guided eco tour to spot everything from pink pigeons and Mauritius kestrels to the amazing alibaba giant tortoises – which can live to over 150 years old!

Water

With vibrant coral reefs, underwater caves, UNESCO-protected marine parks and mysterious shipwrecks, the clear Mauritian waters are just heavenly for divers and snorkellers, home to a diverse array of marine wildlife – from rays and dolphins to rare dugongs, hawksbill turtles, humpback whales and whale sharks. Whether you stick to a snorkel around your hotel's house reef or deep dive down to the Indian Ocean floor, expect incredible visibility, fabulously colourful fish and marine memories to cherish.

Rather stay atop the waves? The sheltered, shallow lagoons and year-round trade winds make the island an ideal destination for windsurfing and kitesurfing, while Mauritius also happens to be one of the world's best big game-fishing destinations – the waters home to sought-after (and delicious) species like blue marlin, dorado and wahoo. Head out with a local fisherman before enjoying your ultra-fresh catch of the day for dinner. If you prefer a little more luxury, choose a catamaran cruise at sunset with a chilled glass of something fizzy.

Fire

From heavenly honeymoons to New Year's Eve festivities, Mauritius is (understandably) a popular place to celebrate those special moments, so you might catch a firework or two lighting up the stunning seascapes at night. You can also experience local culture by spending an evening spectating a traditional Hindu firewalking ceremony. Practiced for centuries, they are held in honour of the goddess of Draupadi, and are thought to bring good luck and prosperity to anyone that crosses the burning coals. Or, for a first-hand encounter of authentic Mauritian life, why not watch traditional Segha dancing? Originally performed around a campfire, the dance is an expression of freedom and 'joie de vivre'.

Air

With sapphire-coloured waters, striking landscapes and glorious greenery, Mauritius is equally as beautiful by air as it is on land. Experience the adrenaline rush of a zipline ride through the dense greenery of the Vallée des Couleurs Nature Park, soaring over the unique coloured rock canyons and striking waterfalls. But perhaps the most iconic aerial activity in Mauritius is a helicopter tour above the island, giving you the chance to see one of the country's most inspiring spectacles: the underwater waterfall. This surreal sight is caused by the constant movement of silt and sand on the ocean bed, creating an optical illusion that looks uncannily like a waterfall beneath the waves.

Welcome to 'The Spice Isle'

A picture-perfect paradise of natural beauty, historic charm and some simply superb luxury hotels, Grenada is a gem of the Caribbean. Cinnamon, ginger, allspice, cloves, turmeric and nutmeg are all grown in the rich volcanic soils here, and being blessed with such an abundance of aromatic crops, Grenada has earned the famous title of 'The Spice Isle'.

Of course, spices are just the start of your luxury Grenadian adventure – discover what else awaits and craft a trip that's just your flavour.

Have a Tipple or Two

Another glorious Grenadian product? Rum. In fact, the island is home to the privately-owned River Antoine Rum Distillery, the oldest functioning water-propelled distillery in the western hemisphere. Take a guided tour to learn more about the time-honoured processes here, which haven't changed much since the 1800s, before an expert-led tasting of the good stuff.

Hit the Beach

Quintessential white sands. Turquoise waters. Hidden coves like something from a postcard. Grenada's beaches are truly some of the finest in the Caribbean. While the island's highlight (and for good reason) is the world-renowned, three-mile-long Grand Anse Beach, there are over 45 more stunning spots to choose from. You can soak up the sun on the tranquil La Sagesse Beach, spend the afternoon snorkelling from Magazine Beach or enjoy a relaxed afternoon on Morne Rouge Beach, enjoying the calm shallow waters and the tropical breeze.

Head Underwater

Spectacular reefs, mysterious wrecks and plunging walls make Grenada a dream destination for divers – whether first timers or veterans beneath the water. And no stay on the island is complete without a trip to the Molinere Underwater Sculpture Park. Seen only by snorkelling, diving or glass-bottom boat, it showcases a truly unique collection of over 65 submerged sculptures, built to relieve pressure off the natural reefs and attract an array of marine species.

Get Lost in Nature

We know the beaches are breathtakingly beautiful, but with approximately half of Grenada's landscapes still forested, there's plenty of inland adventures to enjoy too. Take a thrilling Jeep ride or scenic hike through the island's rich rainforests, stopping for a dip in a waterfall pool to cool off and to admire the diverse wildlife – from colourful tropical birds to cheeky mona monkeys.

My Grenadian Experience

Grenada has utterly stolen my heart, it's such a special island. With stunning scenery, beautiful beaches and the freshest food, there is simply something for everyone.

Our first stop was the cool and contemporary Silversands Grenada, offering neutral interiors accented with natural wood. The suites are spacious and boast lavish garden terraces or sumptuous sea views of the famous Grande Anse Beach. Superlative service combined with modern amenities puts technology at the heart of this resort, but the real showstopper is the magnificent 100-metre swimming pool which stretches from the entrance right to the beach. The spa is wonderful, and the treatments were truly divine, combining Far Eastern techniques with a Caribbean twist.

Our second stop was the beautiful, family-run Spice Island Beach Resort, a grande dame of the Caribbean, which offers guests the ultimate beach retreat. The staff here are so welcoming and are incredibly proud of the history and heritage of the property - by the time I left, they all felt like old friends! Located right on the beachfront, many suites here open directly onto the sands and the whole resort is all-inclusive, giving the feeling of staying at a family home. Offering exceptional quality gastronomy, the dining area directly overlooks the beach and offers a creative Caribbean menu that I loved each day. When not relaxing by the water, there is a wonderful spa, and for those with smaller guests, the Nutmeg Pod is ideal for entertainment.

There really is something for every type of traveller in Grenada, so why not experience the "Spice Isle" yourself?
