Hey girl! It's spring!

And you know what that means... longer days, fresh energy, and the irresistible urge to start something new under the needle.

There's something about spring that makes me want to tidy up the sewing room, pull out bright fabrics, and dream about the projects I've been meaning to start. Sometimes, that's all the further I get! Maybe it's the sunshine, maybe it's the flowers starting to bloom, or maybe it's just that feeling of a fresh season and a fresh stack of fabric waiting to become something beautiful.

So tell me... what's under your needle right now?

Are you finishing up a winter project that's been patiently waiting? Starting a cheerful spring quilt? Making a bag for summer adventures? Or maybe you're doing what many of us do best—starting three projects and happily bouncing between them depending on your mood and hoping that one of them gets finished!

One of my favorite things about our quilting community is seeing what everyone is working on. Every time someone brings in a project for show-and-tell, it sparks ideas and inspiration for the rest of us. There have been many times when I have fallen in love with something we picked out together for you and brought it home with me as well! Quilting is so much more fun when we share it.

And if you're looking for your next "what's-under-the-needle" project, we've been unpacking some wonderful new fabrics lately that might just spark an idea or two. Fresh collections are arriving, and the colors practically shout spring. It's the perfect excuse to start something new (as if we needed one!).

We also have some fun classes on the calendar if you've been thinking about learning a new technique or just carving out a little dedicated sewing time for yourself. Sometimes the best motivation is simply showing up with friends, fabric, and a project ready to go.

So the next time you're in the shop, bring your stories and your projects with you. We want to hear about what you're making, what's inspiring you, and what's currently living under your needle.

Because around here, quilting isn't just about fabric and thread. It's about friendship, creativity, and the joy of making something with your hands. Happy Spring, friends.

Now... go stitch something beautiful.
See you at the shop,

Cyndi
