Let's Chat

As we reflect on the stories in this issue of Legacy, one thing is clear: bold giving makes a lasting difference.

You'll read about Patricia Schaefer, whose early belief in unrestricted giving helped shape the Foundation's ability to respond to community needs for decades. You'll also see how that same kind of giving made it possible to train more EMTs, strengthening emergency response across Delaware County.

These stories are different in scale and style, but they share a common thread: unrestricted giving fuels resilience. It allows us to meet the moment, support innovation, and invest in long-term solutions.

Thank you for being a part of The Community Foundation. Whether you've given for years or are just beginning your philanthropic journey, your generosity helps build our community today, tomorrow, and always.

Let's keep building together.

From Quiet Giving to Bold Impact Honoring Patricia Schaefer's Legacy

Bold Vision Then

In 1987, just a few years after The Community Foundation of Muncie and Delaware County was established, Patricia Schaefer made her first unrestricted gift. It was a quiet act—typical of Pat's style—but one that would grow into a legacy of extraordinary impact.

Over the next four decades, Pat became one of the Foundation's most generous and thoughtful supporters. Her giving exceeded $1 million during her lifetime which continues to support Community Grants and special projects today.

Pat's belief in the power of unrestricted giving was bold. She understood that the needs of a community change over time—and that the best way to meet those needs is through flexible, responsive funding. In 2014, when the Foundation launched the Difference Maker Challenge to grow its unrestricted funds, Pat stepped forward as a lead donor. True to form, she gave anonymously, letting the impact speak for itself.

Her legacy also includes service on the Foundation's Advisory Board and Grant Policy Committee, where she helped shape grantmaking strategies and deepen the Foundation's understanding of local needs. She supported the creation of designated endowment funds for nonprofit sustainability and championed causes close to her heart—arts, education, animal welfare, and community enrichment.

Pat's story is a reminder that bold visions don't always come with fanfare. Sometimes, they come with quiet consistency, deep care, and a belief in building something that lasts.

Bold Vision Now

Today, we invite you to carry that vision forward.

As we approach the end of the year, your unrestricted gift to The Community Foundation can help ensure that we remain relevant, responsive, and ready to meet the needs of Muncie and Delaware County—whatever the future holds.

Unrestricted giving fuels our ability to act quickly, support innovation, and invest in long-term solutions. It's the kind of giving that Pat believed in—and the kind of giving that builds a stronger community for all of us.

Your unrestricted gift today will build a better tomorrow for Muncie and Delaware County.

Patricia Schaefer's legacy lives on in every grant awarded, every nonprofit strengthened, and every life touched by the work of The Community Foundation. Now, it's your turn to be part of that story.

Be bold. Be generous. Build tomorrow today.

Ready for Anything: How Unrestricted Giving Builds a Resilient Delaware County

When an emergency hits, an ambulance siren signals that help is on the way. Across Delaware County, emergency response departments are experiencing a shortage of certified EMTs. In a 2025 grant application, the Daleville-Salem Township Fire Territory explained that on any given day, Daleville EMTs might cover an area from Middletown to Gaston because those departments didn't have anyone available.

Daleville-Salem Township Fire Chief Glen Tomlinson approached The Community Foundation with an idea. His request was for a $3,500 grant to support training for four local EMTs to certify them as Emergency Medical Services Primary Instructors. With this training, these EMTs could offer EMT classes to all Delaware County departments, which builds a stronger, more connected emergency response system.

Thanks to a grant from the Unrestricted Fund of The Community Foundation, Daleville EMTs completed their certifications, and the department launched a community-wide training program. The first round of EMT-basic and EMT-advanced classes wrapped up the first week of November. With more qualified EMTs, we have a safer, more resilient community. We are ready for whatever comes next.

“Our community has helped develop us and invested in us - in our careers, as a couple, in our faith, as neighbors, in learning to serve, in our parenting, in cultural belonging, and so much more - so we believe an unrestricted fund is a great way to give back. It's flexible, enduring, and rooted in the community that has helped shape us and continues to inspire us every day.”
