Editor's Letter

What is more magical than a sense of community and celebrating the people in your life?

This guide can help as you hunt for meaningful gifts to let others know how much you care. This Holiday Shopping Guide is a collection of small businesses owned and operated, and products created, by people with disabilities. These one-of-a-kind gifts will impress your loved ones and give back to the community made up of one-of-a-kind people.

Many of these artisans and entrepreneurs can be found on a variety of social media like Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, YouTube, and LinkedIn. Company titles link to their websites but be sure to connect with them on social media to explore further and show your support.

Happy Shopping and Happy Holidays,

Natalie Symons

One Person Makes a Difference

By shopping small businesses, you are supporting neighbors across our country. Not only can you find quality, unique items no one else has, but you are also part of an empowering movement. Your purchase helps the mission to employ people with disabilities, further dreams, and promote equity in our communities.

Do you know a small business
that needs recognized?

Please let us know about any businesses owned or operated by people with disabilities that we could feature in our next Holiday Shopping Guide. Additionally, if you're aware of any product lines created by individuals with disabilities, we'd love to hear about them.
