

Fondamenta

Casa Branca collections are the thread of an ongoing conversation—tracing historical references, classical concepts, and the continuation of our own brand's story. As we explore centuries of pattern, techniques, and textures, we expand and innovate for a new school of decoration and living. Textiles, furniture, and wallcoverings born out of reverence and admiration for the past and a new found curiosity find the freshest reference with unique twists.

FONDAMENTA, or foundation, is a collection that one can return to time after time. These timeless textiles are born from one of our most basic and essential senses—touch. We begin at the source, selecting from amongst the most versatile and functional materials used over the last two thousand years. Linen and cotton are woven in a variety of techniques, giving them each their own character. From the comfortable refinement of our upholstery-weight linen, to the textural variation of our linen velvet, these material staples become essential in your design toolkit.

The world is a feast of reference and inspiration. Enjoy it!

Pietra

WALLPAPER

Repeat: 17 1/2" H x 18 19/32" V

Width: 52 1/2"

Content: Textured Paper

A classic pattern derived from architecture, Pietra is an homage to the running bond design featured on a 16th Century wall only blocks away from Alessandra's Roman home. The multi-dimensional surfaces of this timeless Italian courtyard are brought to life and made modern through our trompe l'oeil interpretation.

Manali

WOVEN FABRIC

Repeat: 6 5/8" H x 23" V

Width: 53 1/2"

Content: 100% Cotton

Classic Indian paisleys are typically realized using colorful flourishes that form the motif. Originally woven in India, these patterns were popularized in the west and often recreated as prints. Manali imagines this teardrop shape in a matelasse woven of soft cotton. It is a cozy and textural fabric with a familiar and comforting hand.

Prato Linen

FABRIC

Width: 57"

Content: 100% Linen

When it comes to the most exquisite textile inspiration, all roads lead to Italy. In particular, the Tuscan city of Prato has been a hub for weavers since the Renaissance, and remains the largest producer in the country. Ever evolving innovation and techniques, especially in wool and linen, produce textures and styles found nowhere else in the world.

Our Prato Linen, was created as the perfect “canvas” to dream up any design under the sun. The ground cloth for many of the prints in our collection, Prato has a tight weave with a beautiful hand well suited to drapery, pillows, and light- to moderate-use upholstery.

Branca Ticking

WOVEN FABRIC

Repeat: 1 5/32" H

Width: 59"

Content: 100% Linen

Since Sister Parrish famously popularized classic ticking in the mid-20th century, the stripe found its way from a utilitarian 16th-century French fabric used to cover straw or feather mattresses, to everyone's favorite counterpoint for florals, chintz, or contrasting solids. Our ticking playfully recalls men's shirting, with a refined hand from the best weavers in Italy in a twill linen weave, rather than traditional cotton, for a uniquely special hand and feel.

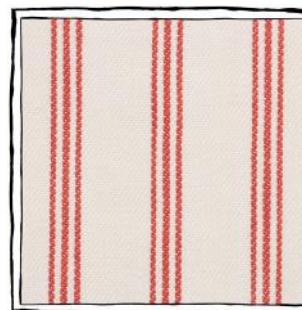

For upholstery, play with contrasting stripes, florals and paisley, or on window treatments as panels or flat Roman shades. On lampshades, try laminating and orienting as a horizontal stripe, or hand gathered as a vertical stripe. When you love something as much as we love our Branca Ticking, you find all the ways and places to use it!

Audrey & Fiamma

Saffron & Sky

Our new colorway recalls the harmonious color palette of the elaborate Queen's Bedroom at Sanssouci Palace in Potsdam, Germany. The vibrant hues clash romantically in a merge of soft brights and clean pastels.

Introduced on:

AUDREY, a subtly textured paper with a softness of depth that amplifies color, enveloping the room in florals and vines.

FIAMMA fabric, inspired by a favorite rug of Alessandra's at Chateau Vaux-le-Vicomte. Works wonderfully as a valance, in full repeat on sofas and chairs, or as an accent or pillows.
