HEADMASTER'S COMMENT

Everything changes but change itself.
John F. Kennedy

Our society has changed; it continues to change; society will always change. The turbulence we are experiencing can be viewed with anxiety or as a life force representing opportunity. I am inclined towards the opportunity viewpoint, particularly as far as education and Bryanston High are concerned.

The path of transition from privilege to equity for all South Africans has allowed a movement away from prescription and division towards freedom of decision and association. Educationally this represents a valuable opportunity to adjust to a new social order and a technological age. It should not be forgotten that ninety-eight percent of our community voted in favour of opening the school to all races under Model B in 1991. A similar majority accepted Model C in 1992, not for the exclusionist motive of some communities who discredited the system, but with the desire for greater flexibility of community choice and the maintenance, if not improvement, of standards. I suggest that the community has reason to be proud of its active response to change and of the enhancement of the quality of relevant education our pupils experience.

Today Bryanston High has a deserved status as a centre of educational excellence. The pupils acquire knowledge and interact within a multi-cultural ethos based on merit not tokenism. 939 individuals, representative of the rainbow nation within the Bryanston community, attend school every day. They avail themselves of the superb facilities and additional staff to excel academically and extra-murally as the pages of this magazine proclaim so clearly. The school has a vibrancy and enthusiasm that draws applications from far afield. There is a strength of purpose and a willingness to accept challenges within the pupils and staff that has a durability to confront change. The Parents have a long tradition of support for the school and a conviction about the paramount importance of education. The elements which brought Bryanston through 27 years are in place to greet the future calmly and purposefully. The school will remain a centre of excellence within the context of education in South Africa. This is my conviction and my commitment.

There are only two lasting bequests we can hope to give our children. One of these is roots, the other, wings.

Hodding Carter

Parent involvement at Bryanston High is legendary. The school would be significantly impoverished without the time and effort donated to its cause by the Governing Body, the Parents' Association, the Mothers' Committee and the tuckshop and tea mothers. The pupils, staff and I thank you all.

Mr. R.E. Paige.

GOVERNING BODY REPORT

The academic year 1995 will go down in the history of Bryanston High as one of the school's most successful. Opening against a record of excellent matric results by the Class of '94, the pupils launched into a most commendable catalogue of achievements spanning the academic, the cultural and the athletic. Functions such as the Matric Dance bore admirable testimony to the high standards and fine qualities of decorum inspired by the education offered at our school.

The Parent's Association were similarly dedicated and successful in their fundraising ventures which culminated in an outstanding evening of melodramatic theatre which demonstrated the fine rapport that exists between our pupils, teachers and parents.

The Governing Body has entered a new three-year term of office and bade farewell with sadness to stalwarts John Fitzhenry, Etienne Huggett, Lorraine Stafford, Brian Huskisson and Peter Acutt, who in their various roles, rendered invaluable service to the administration of the school.

In changing and largely, unpredictable times, the school is well positioned to address the challenges that lie ahead. Principal among these will be the increasing financial burden facing all schools that wish to grow and maintain high standards of education. Bryanston remains committed to serving the community in which it is situated and will endeavour to build further on its excellent record of achievement in all spheres. Currently, with a full complement of highly qualified staff, we expect enrolment in the region of 950 to 1000 pupils for 1996 and, while being positively disposed to the imperatives of our times, will strive not to compromise the standards of which our Headmaster and his team can be justifiably proud.

PARENTS' ASSOCIATION REPORT

We have reached the end of yet another school year and a very successful one at that. This is the fun department of the school and therefore the Financial success of the Parents' Association during 1995 was a bonus.

The AGM this year saw the following new members elected: Pat Hainsworth, Rosemary Warfield, and Dennis Spencer, while Lorriane Stafford (Mothers' Committee) Thelton Hatherell, Brian Huskisson, Rod Pearson (Vice Chairman), Jeff Smith and Ted Stevens were re-elected with Graham Mullany co-opted during the year.

The PA worked slightly differently this year and Sub-committees were formed to handle specific projects, which proved to be very successful.

The Golf Day was once again a huge success and for the first time in many years, was over-subscribed. I'm am sure all who participated will agree the Bryanston Country Club was in superb condition. The dedication and diligent work of all those involved contributed to the success. A special thanks must go to Deon Visser, without whose help and organization the day would not have materialised. This was our first fund-raising event and set the scene for the rest of the year.

The highlight of the year was by far the Melodrama, Fun-A-Galore. This was enjoyed by both pupils and parents. I believe the cast, Teachers and PA, had the most fun of all. It was both an interesting and valuable team-building exercise, where new acting talent was discovered and some most definitely best forgotten!

The event proved to be the most talked about event ever, with the three evenings being box office sell-outs. Special thanks to our producers Neil and Hazel Gardyne and Jeff Smith for their patience, hence producing an outstanding show. We are all looking forward to next year's production.

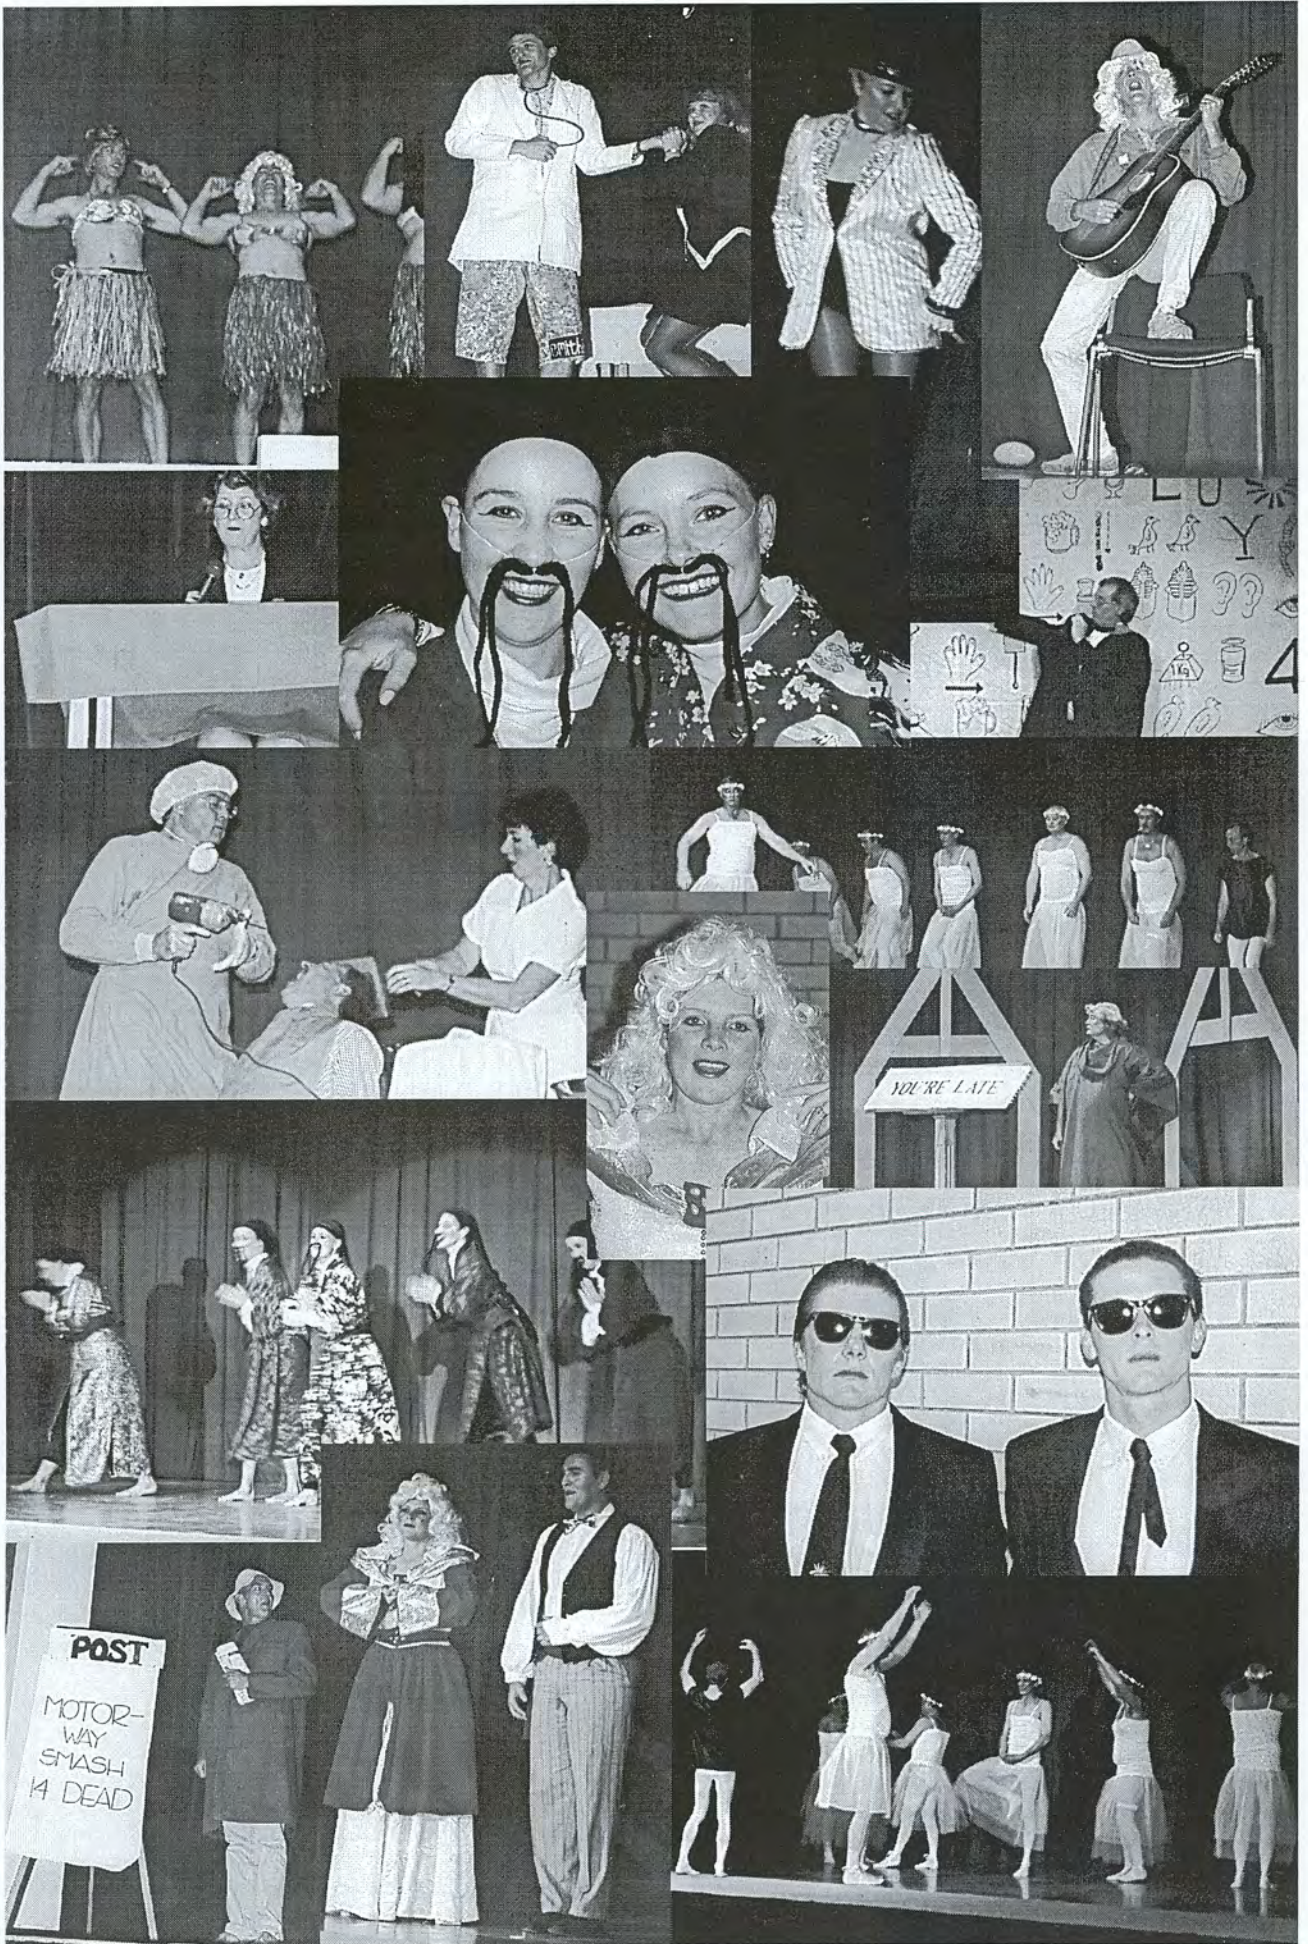

The Spring Ball was held in fine style, albeit on a rather chilly evening at the Wanderers Club Ball Room. The evening was well-attended and I'm sure enjoyed by all. The decor was spectacular and a special thanks must go to Lorriane Stafford and her team of mothers who excelled themselves once again this year, ensuring that everything went according to plan on this special occasion.

In conclusion, if 1996 is as successful a year as 1995 was I am sure we will have and exciting year to look forward to.

MOTHERS' COMMITTEE REPORT

As the year 1995 rapidly draws to a close, the committee can reflect over an extremely full and happy year. Our activities have been numerous and varied, and our achievements, most satisfying.

Involvement in the sporting calendar, such as the annual A and B Inter-High Galas - which includes the making of cheerleaders' outfits and 800 shakers - becomes part of our accepted routine. Catering for the various sports fixtures is a difficult task. With a representative responsible for each individual activity the weekly catering arrangements dutifully performed by our members and a few parents, have progressed smoothly. We have also catered for various meetings, functions and courses held at the school over the past year. Two highlights of this aspect of our activities were the Multi-Media Education which was attended by staff members of many different schools - the number catered for being 195, for whom we had to supply a light breakfast, morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea. The other function of course was the most unforgettable "Fun-A-Galore", for which my committee dedicated many evenings of training for our routine. Ladies you were superb!

We undertook the awesome task of selling the necessary advertising space, to produce this edition of our School Magazine. We successfully achieved our target, and found the many business concerns we approached willing and co-operative. Adele Benfield must receive a special mention for all her hard work in this regard.

Absent: Mrs J. Barrow, Mrs L. Eaton, Mrs A. Smit, Mrs M. Browne, Mrs K. Liackman

This year we say farewell to Gail Prior and Leigh Eaton who, between them, have convened the Tuckshop for the past five years. This was a mammoth task for which these two special mothers gave up many hours - thank you both most sincerely. Gail, Leigh and I would like to thank all the mothers who gave up their time to work in the tuckshop. Your efforts have been very much appreciated.

My report would not be complete if I failed to mention the invaluable service provided by the Lost Property and Swap Shop. Di Smith and her Ladies continued quietly and efficiently to assist the parents and pupils. To Mr Waite and his staff who at all functions and sports events have steadfastly supported us in the background with the arranging of tables and chairs whenever required - a very big thank you.

For me, 1995 has been fulfilling yet sad, as it is the end of 19 years' happy association with a wide variety of parents devoted to making a contribution to creating a happier and more integrated school community. It is with confidence that I now hand over the reins of the committee to Jenny Barrow, a capable and competent person for the following year, who will be ably assisted by Kim Liackman.

Last but not least I would like to take this opportunity to thank my committee most sincerely for their wonderful support throughout the year. To those members continuing next year - Good Luck.

FROM THE STAFFROOM

1995 has been an extremely busy year at Bryanston High, and nowhere has this been more evident than in the frenetically active staffroom.

The beginning of the year saw the arrival of two new members of staff. Mr Crichton joined the Accountancy Department and Mr Bouvron, the Physical Education Department. Mrs McKeith joined us in a part-time capacity in the Mathematics Department. We were sad to bid farewell, in April, to Mrs Fitzgibbons, a Mathematics teacher, who has ventured into the world of Commerce - but pleased to welcome Mr La Grange in her place. Mrs Wapenaar replaced Mr Felgate in the Geography department, while Mrs Bottome, an old friend to the school, served in Mrs Fulcher's place for a short while.

On the administrative side, Mrs Wethmar our financial secretary, left at the end of last year after many years service, and was replaced by Mrs Henderson.

Many staff members this year have found time to "burn the midnight oil" in pursuit of higher qualifications and expertise in their respective fields. Considering the challenging and time-consuming nature of our career, this is to be admired, and we wish "first-class" passes to Miss Arderne, Mr Binedell, Mr Rogers, Mrs Schumann, Mrs Meikle, Mrs Middleton, Mrs Buchan, Mrs Felgate, Ms Dos Santos, Mrs Weir and Mrs von Ludwig.

We boast not only of academic achievement, but success on the sports field as well. Our veteran athlete, Mr Breytenbach, was re-awarded his Springbok colours and Springbok veteran Tennis Player, Mr Smith, is ranked first in South Africa and competed in Germany during the year. Hearty congratulations go to Mr Rogers, who was selected as a member of the South African Sumo Wrestling Team and will be competing in Japan at the end of the year; also to Miss de Witt, who recently achieved her Third Dan and Central Transvaal Colours in Karate. Pupils need not be reminded to treat these two teachers with extreme caution!

We are once again extremely proud of our longest-serving member of staff, Mrs Deacon, who has been appointed treasurer on the National committee relating to Youth Hockey, under the auspices of U.S.S.A.S.A.

The romantic side of life has not been neglected and wedding bells rang as we celebrated no fewer than three marriages: Miss Stephens became Mrs Middleton, Miss Duggan became

There have, again, been welcome additions to the greater Bryanston family and once more, little boys seem to be the flavour of the year! We congratulated Mr and Mrs de Vos on the birth of their son Stefan and Mr and Mrs Fulcher on the birth of Brendon.

Sadly, the end of the year brings with it the departure of some staff members. We say goodbye, with regret, to Mrs Wapenaar, and to Mrs Wucherpennig who will be relocating to the Wilderness; Mr Bibb and Mrs Horn will be taking up teaching posts elsewhere; Mr Binedell and Miss Rogers are entering the commercial world and Mrs Snyman will be running her own business from home.

Perhaps the true spirit of the Bryanston High staff emerged on the night of Fun-A-Galore a resoundingly successful staff-parent production. To expose one's ability (or lack of ability) to perform and entertain to hypercritical pupils, is no mean feat. Actually it was difficult to determine who enjoyed the event more - staff or pupils.

If teamwork is what it's all about, then the staff of '95 certainly have had an enjoyable and fulfilling year.

ENGLISH OLYMPIAD

Staff responsible: Mrs M. Schumann and Mrs H. Middleton
Entrants: Forty pupils from Standard Eight to Standard Ten wrote the three hour open book exam on 7 March 1995.

This year the candidates were presented with a formidable task in dealing with a topic as broad and as controversial as "Propaganda".

While the two books by George Orwell : "Animal Farm" and "1984" could be used as base texts, the candidates were expected to investigate all forms and uses of propaganda ranging from political cartoons, political speeches and party manifestos to their commercial counterparts in advertising. The recent political and economic changes in South Africa, the 1994 elections and subsequent government re-organisation provided pertinent topics for discussions.

The candidates were introduced to Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs and the Value System Taxonomy devised by Dr Clare Grave in order to understand certain aspects of the human psyche and the different ways that people may be manipulated. This information was then related to the methods employed by the propagandists in the two World Wars, especially that of Dr Goebbels. The tutorials culminated in a visit to the Johannesburg War Memorial Museum where the candidates attended a slide show and talk based on the topic "Propaganda".

The candidates' hard work served them well as twenty four pupils achieved Merit passes and twelve pupils achieved Honours rating. Two pupils received Highest Honours: Cindy Ives was placed in the top 100 candidates and Louise Nicholson achieved sixteenth position which earned her a prize from the organisers and recognition at Bryanston High School when she was awarded a white blazer .

MATHEMATICS OLYMPIAD

Many pupils showed interest in participating in this year's Mathematics Olympiad, thus both Juniors and Seniors took part in the first round. This is an extremely tough competition with many questions totally beyond the ability of bright mathematicians, but taking part and getting involved is the motto. Congratulations go to Philip Tomlinson and Monika Michalczyk who qualified for the second round. Philip did so in 1994, gaining some valuable experience. He did exceptionally well to be invited to take part in the final round of 100 participants. Unfortunately, final results were not yet available at the time of writing this article. Because of the type of challenge inherent in such a competition, all pupils are to be commended for entering.

S.A. TAALBOND AND AFRIKAANSE TAALEKSAMENS

During August several of our pupils wrote the well-known Taalbond Eksamen and the Afrikaanse Taaleksamens.

The Taalbond Eksamen is a three-hour exam where pupils are tested in both Afrikaans and English. Successful candidates receive a diploma in bilingualism. Twenty-six of our pupils from Standards Six to Ten entered this exam, which is run on a National basis.

The Afrikaanse Taalesamens are three-hour exams in Afrikaans, First Language. Pupils could choose between Standard Six, Eight and Ten exams. Twenty-two of our pupils wrote this exam and felt that they had learnt much about the language and that it would definitely help them in the future.

At the time of writing this article the results of these exams had not been received.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Our Annual Home Economics Display took place on the evening of the 13th September with a glamorous, dignified and elegant touch of class. Each of the 362 students participated, either modelling the outfit she created or displaying her hand crafts. The high standard of work was the talking point of the evening. The Matrics modelled their track suits; the Standard Nines their ball gowns; the Standard Eights casual wear; the Standard Sevens accompanied little girls who modelled their children's dresses; while the Standard Six girls modelled summer dresses which they had created to suit their own tastes. To the rhythm of the best the girls entertained a full audience at an excellent fashion show, culminating in the presentation of the Home Economics Department's prizes for 1995. Refreshments provided by the Home Economics girls were served at the Media Centre where the display of hand crafts astounded the guests. Work was widely varied from Standard Six candlewicked cushion covers, Standard Seven Duck doorstops and knitted toys, Standard Eight covered baskets and layettes, Standard Nine counted thread embroidered pictures and layettes and Standard Ten quilted tog bags.

Prizes for the evening were awarded as follows. The most outstanding Home Economics student in each Standard was:

|----------------|---|---------------------|
| Standard Six | - | Emily Davis |
| Standard Seven | - | Samantha Barachievy |
| Standard Eight | - | Vicky Barrow |
| Standard Nine | - | Carmen Dell |
| Standard Ten | - | Joanne Wakefield |

The award for Excellence in Embroidery went to Caroline McMurdo and Jacqueline Weil while the overall winning embroidery marked at all stages of completion went to Amanda Jeffries. The Standard Six class judged the best group for modelling was 6G.

The individual modelling awards for best presentation of each garment went to the following pupils:

| | | |
|----------------|---|------------------|
| Standard Eight | - | Tammy Timmers |
| Standard Nine | - | Caroline McMurdo |
| Standard Ten | - | Brie Roussos |

Four students entered the Pro Alphen Park cookery competition in August, of which three were selected to attend the final round of the cook-offs out of a total of 300 entries. The cook-offs were of a high standard, consisting of mostly students from the hotel schools. Petra Spoerk and Kerry Muller came second, winning silver medals in the Senior and Junior Competitions respectively. Both competitors won large cash prizes for themselves and gift vouchers to the value of R 600 for the purchase of stock for our school centres. Our top Standard Nine work was entered into a National Needlework competition run by the ATKV. We were honoured to have two embroidery items come tie in the regional competition. Caroline McMurdo's embroidery, the "Flower Seller" was selected to go through to the National Final in Pretoria, where it won this category making her work the top piece in her age group in the country! The girls of Bryanston have most certainly established outstanding standards in the department this year.

To every pupil we salute you for your enthusiasm, participation and outstanding work. May you all strive to fulfil the need that society has for the feminine touch in our homes.

MEDIA CENTRE NEWS

Media Centre Prefects:

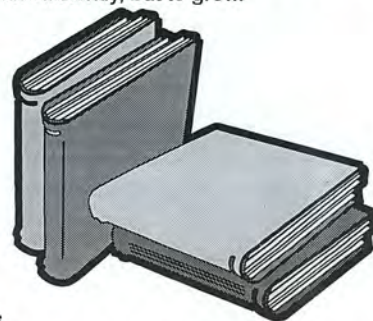

Carla Simoes, Gugu Bhengu, Nick Hart, Kerry Joyce, Lorna Steele, Tracey Hatherell, Joanna Simeonides, David Linton, MaryAnnMorgan, Audrey Dinsmore, Tessa Blane, Tammy Norris, Pete Joubert, Travis Briscoe, Marc Robbs

This year has primarily been devoted to the continued computerization of our books. Our Media Services Supervisor had warned us last year that it would take at least two years to complete the accessioning of all our books and resources, old and new, onto the new computer system and we smiled. We're not smiling now. Nevertheless, the benefits at the end of it all outweigh our despondent moments. Definitely more beneficial to our pupils is the fact that a new, more extensive, system of cataloguing has been introduced in media centres so we are able to adapt immediately. This will provide a cross-reference of all types of our resources and give pupils quick access to a wider range of research subjects, no matter how specific. At the same time we have been able to "weed out" books that are outdated, damaged or no longer relevant to the syllabus. The whole process is certainly providing the opportunity for a complete "clean up" in the Media Centre. Lindy Stalker and Shirley Frost have given up their time once a week to help with the administration in this regard.

Apart from the purchase of several new books for our pupils this year, our Staff Reference Library continues to expand. Kay Gregory and Annie Bennett have completed the task of accessioning all the books and Kay has now started on our video collection.

The Media Centre has been even busier this year with many more classes being brought in for assignment research and "self study", which must be adding to our increasing popularity in the afternoons! Mrs Middleton, Mrs J. Frost and Mrs Snyman have regularly manned the centre after school, and we must thank Mrs Van der Colf, Mrs Caron, Mrs Schumann and Mrs Webb for assisting over the various terms. A special thanks must go to Mrs Webb, in charge of the Media Centre, for enabling us, not only to run efficiently, but to grow.

YOUNG HISTORIANS CONFERENCE

Participants: Saranne Summerly, Preston Rogers, Amy Evans, Nicky Long, Brendan Harris, Kinga Kuc

The Young Historians Conference this year was most topical and enjoyable. The Standard Eights were faced with the challenging topic of examining a revolution. The Standard Nines had the innovative topic of analysing an "-ism" and the matrics looked at the use and abuse of power.

There were a couple of controversial presentations on sexism in the Standard Nine group as well as Nicky Long's dissertation on moralism. Amy Evans and Saranne Summerly stood Bryanston in good stead as both got through to the provincial finals!

INTER-CLASS DANCE COMPETITION

The Physical Education Dance Competition of 1995 was once again a huge success and the girls found themselves performing to a full house. The participation level was the best we've ever had. Each year the standard of the dances seems to increase and this year we were certainly entertained by some lovely choreographed pieces. The costumes that the girls managed to round up were superb and overall a huge effort was made. Although the Standard Sixes and Sevens have a separate elimination round before the "big" evening and only the best ones qualify to go through, they must be congratulated on their excellent costumes and wonderful enthusiasm. It was a pleasure to help them, simply because they were so keen. To all those who will be back for the 1996 competition, let us make sure it lives up to the success of the 1995 display.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

Staff responsible: Ms K. Hofmeyr
 Pupils involved: Tarryn Stead, Nicky Manson, Michael Rayne, Margaux Ebden

To celebrate World Environment Day in June, the Johannesburg Zoo invited Bryanston's Art Department and various schools from Gauteng to join in this celebration of Nature.

The pupils were given a pre-stretched canvas (approximately 2 metres by 1,5 metres) and had to make a statement in paint about the state of affairs of our environment. They decided to depict the world in the middle with a "good" side and a "bad" side on either end of the globe. The latter was illustrated as a balloon about to be burst by the Devil's Fork. The left side was shown as evil and depressing - dirty, dark colours, full of litter, smog and no hope for animal, plant or man. The right side shows hope, flowers in bright colours, natural beauty and animals - a rainbow of positive images.

UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE

Participants: Nicky Long, Amy Evans, Sean Smit and Michael Malokoane

This year Bryanton High School was fortunate to take part in the 50th Anniversary celebrations of the United Nations Organisation. This consisted of a competition of various rounds which was established to create awareness amongst South Africa's youth about the aims, successes and failures of this world body. We all gained valuable experience and we went home with a surprisingly optimistic attitude regarding world affairs!

PREFECTS' REPORT

Our year began with the orientation week, which proved to be a daunting task of controlling 240 or so Standard Sixes. Our reward for coping with that task was our Prefects' Camp. It was absolutely fabulous. We had such an incredible weekend. We proved to be excellent obstacle course candidates as we broke last years prefects' record. With mud from top to toe we made our way to the showers to try and look respectable. It is most definitely not going to be a weekend we will forget very quickly. Being woken up at 6.30am to go for a jog, willingly led by our triathletes, Hartley and Paul, proved to be quite trying on one's patience.

I believe we achieved all that we set out to do. We kept our heads held high throughout the year and are proud to be able to say we led the school as prefects, particularly during a year so filled with success on the sportsfield, culturally and academically.

STANDARD NINE BOYS' LEADERSHIP CAMP

At approximately 3 pm on Thursday, 14th September, about fifty Standard Nine boys set off for a camp which they would not forget in a hurry ! Those who were expecting luxury chalets with hot and cold running water were sadly mistaken; the small farm on the Groot Marico river included such facilities as well the river !

The river was our only source of water and would also provide the option of many unplanned, early morning aquatic excursions. We arrived quite late and set up camp immediately, after which each group composed a war cry which symbolized the strength and unity of the group. That night we were led far away from camp without torches or lights and were made to find our way back to camp - a task which did not go down too successfully !

Friday morning saw us don our cadet uniforms in preparation for the inspection which was to follow. Then came the dreaded words. "Thirty seconds; hit the water!" This was promptly followed by a loud splash and a painful scream as Mr Essex-Clark claimed another victim. We then received camouflage kits and proceeded to learn the art of bush camouflage. Soon imitation "Rambos" were all over the place as we ambushed each other along a dry river-bed. That night we all stalked the lantern while the teachers took much delight in preventing us from reaching the elusive light.

Saturday morning saw us involved in the real leadership side of the weekend. We all learnt much about ourselves and others during the open talks given by the staff. Groups bonded together and learnt to work in unity to achieve their objectives and goals. That afternoon, the obstacle course was attempted by all groups, with some of us being a bit reluctant to ride the 25m high foofy-slide. A relaxing night around a large campfire was then enjoyed by all.

Sunday morning was spent playing games such as tug-of-war and discussing the finer points of leadership. Then, all too soon, it was time to strike camp and leave for home.

Standard Nine Boys' Leadership Camp is an valuable experience for all boys. I was struck by the spirit of unity which was achieved this year. Many thanks go to all the staff who were involved in making this weekend one which will linger in the minds of the boys as being a truly great experience.

STANDARD NINE GIRLS' LEADERSHIP CAMP

After one of the longest days at school, the Standard Nine girls hurriedly got changed and dragged their numerous suitcases and togbags to the front gate. Once the daunting task of squeezing the luggage, cooler boxes and bags full of food into the bus's four luggage compartments was completed, we set off to a well-anticipated weekend.

Arriving two hours later at Haded Creek, we off-loaded our luggage and raced to find the most comfortable looking tent. That evening we played a trading game, prepared our "five-star" dinners and climbed into our cold sleeping bags for a restless night's sleep. (All but one person woke up several times due to the cold - she brought her hot water bottle with her!)

After going for an early morning jog, eating breakfast and drinking our much-needed coffee, we were given many talks about leadership qualities and had to solve problem situations we would be faced with next year, as seniors of the school. That afternoon we went river-rafting (or should I say "rock"-rafting, as the water level was extremely low) and played volleyball. After dinner, our famous Bryanston war-cry had to echo through the still night air before Mr Paige allowed us to go to bed.

After a few more problem-solving exercises on Sunday, the rest of the morning was spent playing games. Some of these included passing an apple from mouth to mouth, throwing raw eggs over a volleyball net to a team member on the other side, and "bull fights" where two members from each team ram into each other, the object of the game being to knock the other teams off their feet.

All in all, the weekend was full of fun and very beneficial. It brought a sense of unity to each and every one of us, and as the future matrices of 1996 we will do our duties to the best of our abilities and help one another in giving the school a year to remember.

CHEERLEADERS

We have had a particularly successful year in all aspects of our academic and extra-curricular programme. Two highlights involving the Cheerleaders were our Swimming and Athletics victories.

The 1995 Cheerleaders egged our A Team Swimmers on to win the Inter-High A Gala and our Athletes on to win the Inter-High B-League Meeting.

There can be no stars without dedicated supporters, so it is always gratifying to see our pupils united and motivated by their enthusiastic peers.

Vice Captains: Stefano Marani and Brie Roussos

Once again Apollo completed a successful year, both in the sporting and cultural spheres. The year was highlighted by team involvement and spirit, which led us on to win the Inter-House Gala for the third year in succession. Congratulations to Kathy Cronje for winning the Junior Victrix Laudorum and to Shirley Davidson for receiving the trophy for the Most Promising U14 Swimmer.

A great deal of hard work, fun and dedication went into this year's Inter-House plays. Our Junior play "The Dawning", written and directed by Amy Evans and Jo-Ann Reed, proved to be successful, winning the Best Playwright and Sound Awards. Stephen Leepile walked off with the Best Junior Actor Award. The play was later entered into the RAPS Play Festival and received three merit certificates. In the senior section "The Man in the Bowler Hat" was placed third, with Jo-Ann Reed winning the Best Supporting Actress Award. Congratulations must go to Stefano Marani for winning the overall Drama Trophy for the Best Senior Actor for the second year in succession.

On the sports field Apollo ended second in the Rugby and Cricket, third in the Girls' Hockey and Squash. Congratulations are extended to Simon Masemola for finishing first in the 1500m and second in the 800m and 3000m at the Inter-House Athletics.

There have also been many individual achievements of Apollo members. At the outset of the year, Apollo was rewarded with the selection of five prefects and several sports captains. Congratulations go to Lisa Dallas (Netball Vice Captain), Murray Clack (Cricket Vice Captain), Pam Prior (A Swimming Vice Captain) and Brie Roussos (B Swimming Vice Captain).

Mention must be made of our Provincial Representatives in Jason Farrell (Judo), Pam Prior (Hockey Umpiring), Kathy Cronje and Shirley Davidson (Swimming), Angie Peckover (Gymnastics) and Lauren de Wet (Hockey). To add some culture to the House, Sakhe Mahlangu made the Gauteng Youth Choir.

Second row; B. Abrahams, C. Williamson, M. Clack G. Spilsbury, P. Chenery

However, on the academic side, Apollo showed their true worth, winning the Inter-House Debating. Brendon Benfield received the Best Senior Speaker award and six of our Matrics received Academic Colours. We congratulate Monica Michalczyk for receiving her Cum Laude Award.

Not to be outdone, the Apollo Staff members also have some talent. Mr Smith was selected to play for the South Africa Over 35 Tennis Team in Germany, Mr Rogers received his Springbok colours for Sumo Wrestling and Miss De Witt, a Third Dan, received her Central Transvaal Karate colours.

As a climax to a successful year, and to extend a challenge to the other houses, Apollo was rewarded with the election of ten Prefects for the 1996 year. May this auger well for next year and may Apollo House succeed even more in the years to come.

As 1995 draws to a close we think back to Jupiter's efforts, consistency and successes throughout the year.

At the Inter-House Swimming Gala, our swimmers gave of their best, and although we came fourth, Jupiter, as usual, made its mark. Our cheerleaders, dressed as Mickey Mouses, seemed to dominate the scene, and where we lost in the pool, we made up for in spirit, which led us on later to win the Inter-House Rugby, the Inter-House Girls' Hockey, and to come first in the Netball and Girls' Squash. Jupiter certainly gave Neptune, Apollo and Mercury a run for their money. We came second in the Inter-House Cross Country, Boys' Squash and Boys' Tennis and were third in the Girls' Tennis.

On the cultural side, a great deal of effort went into our House Plays this year and earned us exceptional results. Our Senior Play won the Best Production Award and walked off with various technical and artistic awards. Our Junior Play also did well. Congratulations to all aspiring Jupiter actors and actresses!

*Senior Athletics

 Winner, Craig Napier*

Perhaps the most exciting event this year, was the Inter-House Athletics, in which Jupiter came second to Mercury by a mere two points. Well done to Craig Napier for winning the Senior Victor Laudorum.

Good Luck to the 1996 House Committee. Keep Jupiter's flag flying high!

Mercury proved without a doubt this year that "only green gets gold." The Leprechauns tricked them all, and had an excellent year. Team spirit, both on the stands and in the pool, assured Mercury third place at the Inter-House Gala. Although many members of the house are not at home in the water, they admirably supported Candy Routledge and our other stars.

Mercury's enthusiasm extended to Netball, Hockey, Cricket and Rugby, but our year definitely hit its high point at the Inter-House Athletics. Mercury, won the day, due to a wonderful team effort! It could not have been accomplished without all those who ran for the good of their House, particularly those who are not members of the Athletic Team.

Culturally, Mercury excelled. Both the Junior and Senior House Plays achieved second place. Justine Bennett and Joanne Wakefield (directing the juniors) and Michaela Gebhardt and Agusia Filocha (directing the seniors) have good reason to be proud. Mercury also did well in the Inter-House Debate.

The year began on a very positive note with the Neptune Pirates coming second in the Inter-House Gala. Only 15 points separated us from Apollo. I would like to congratulate all our swimmers for your effort. The participation and commitment of the Neptune team makes us what we are.

Neptune produced a Senior House Play with a difference this year. "The Simpsons" was pure entertainment, adapted from the television show by Tarryn Stead. Gareth Algie and Tarryn Stead won the Best Actor and Best Actress trophies for us.

Later in the year we won the Inter-House Badminton and were placed third in the Inter-House Athletics.

Thank you to all those who contributed towards making this year the success it was.

UNDER 16 RUGBY TOUR

On the 12th April we embarked upon a journey that would alter our perceptions of ourselves as individuals forever. It was to instil in us the desire to be identified as a functioning member of a self-contained unit, each performing an indispensable service towards the accomplishment of a greater objective. This journey was the 1995 under sixteen Rugby tour to Margate.

Upon our arrival, we were extended the warmest of hospitality by the proprietors of the Margate Sport School and those of The Surf's Edge holiday flats. We were introduced to the do's and don't's of our etiquette by observing the antics of those more experienced than ourselves.

With the gradual progression of time we were to face Herculean odds and opponents (competing against top Afrikaans Rugby schools), gruelling training sessions and much free time which allowed for the exploration of one's personal interests.

Our extremely stiff competition prevented us from maintaining a firm grasp on the elusive capture of victory. However, we acquired something much greater, a sense of heightened camaraderie and trust in our fellows.

The scoreboards did not reflect the ultimate success of the tour; the friendships created and strengthened throughout the duration of our stay did. We arrived in Margate, unseasoned, relatively athletic rugby-playing, rambunctious louts. We returned hardy, seasoned, superfit, rugby-eating, -sleeping, -thinking rambunctious louts !

STANDARD SIX GEOGRAPHY TRIP TO THE PLANETARIUM

On the 14th of February 1995, the Standard Sixes set off for the Planetarium in Braamfontein. We arrived with enough time to eat our lunch before leading in. The first thing we noticed, once inside, was the magnificent, colossal projector, which we later discovered is worth R13 million. We sat down and stared at the huge round dome until we heard a loud voice introducing us to what we were about to experience. The light around us dimmed and in the darkness, we all placed our heads on the specially designed headrest, ready for the show.

The ceiling suddenly became alive with beautiful stars and we entered a different world. We heard the story of Orion and about many other figures formed by stars. Personally, the most entertaining part was when we were informed about the nine planets in our solar system. We were shown several amazing pictures of the actual planets, some revealing craters and volcanoes. We also learnt about the temperatures of the planets and many other intriguing facts. Unfortunately, the demonstration came to an end and we all climbed into the bus for our trip home, a lot wiser and more enthusiastic about Geography.

STANDARD TEN ART TOUR

The matric art pupils, accompanied by Mrs Kromm and Ms Hofmeyr, went to the Johannesburg Art Gallery. This forms an important part of their syllabus, as approximately half the work in the History of Art section relates to Contemporary South African Artists.

We were taken on two organized tours, one on various South African sculptors and painters and one on a specific sculptor Jackson Hlungwane. He has an Installation (a room full of work made especially on commission by the Gallery) on display. His work is very African and very religious. His works are roughly and crudely carved out of indigenous wood. They are mostly of a very large scale and are left the natural wood colour. Titles include "Adam and the birth of Eve" and "The Altar of God". Seeing these works in real life rather than in mere pictures or slides makes Art come alive for the pupils. It was a most enjoyable (as well as educational) trip!

Ms K. Hofmeyr

STANDARD SEVEN HISTORY TOUR TO THE MILITARY MUSEUM

On Wednesday, May 25th 1995, the Standard Seven group were taken on an excursion to the South African National Museum of Natural History, next to the Johannesburg Zoo. We left school, accompanied by three of our History teachers, Mrs Caron, Mrs Snyman and Miss de Witt, and arrived after a short bus trip.

Once there, we were greeted and shown to the main auditorium. Inside, we watched two incredible movies on the events leading up to, and the causes of World War II. Sitting in the huge room, seeing the damage, the blood-splattered corpses and other spoils of war splashed across the screen, one could not help feeling angry, helpless and yet also ashamed for being a human.

After a brief summary of the movies, we all moved out into the welcoming sunshine to calm ravenous hunger pangs, before being divided into two groups and taken on a tour. One cannot begin to describe the emotions one feels at learning just how cruel man can be towards his own brothers. Awe-struck, we were led around a showroom of murderous weapons, defence mechanisms and precautionary methods, all of which help to create one thing: disaster. By lunchtime we were being loaded back on the buses, still dazzled by facts and figures we had learnt.

Happily, the war museum is just that - a museum - and the machinery, weaponry and armoury that is there, will never be used in a war again.

GRAHAMSTOWN FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS (In true artistic style)

Staff responsible: Mrs C. Buchan
Participants: N. Manson, C. Ives, A. Filocha, G. Davis, N. Mahlangu, S. Mahlangu, S. Mabitje,
 L. Nicholson, T. Blignaut, T. Stead

On our way to Grahamstown for a week of act and culture,
 we had a bit of trouble
 as our wheel got a puncture!

So we stuck out our thumbs and stood in the cold - found an extra wheel but no spanner, we were told.

Once we got going on our trip of music and bass, when halfway down the road
 we ran out of gas.

Finally on the road again
 we arrived at good ol' Rhodes and checked out all the other schools, that arrived in loads and loads.

During the five day festival
 we saw some plays by Pact and by the end of it we learnt to sing, dance and even act.

The people were so friendly, ready to stick out their necks
 we made alot of pals - especially at the discotheque!

The weather there was a bit strange it got a tad bit funny
 it couldn't make up its mind
 whether to be windy, cold or just plain sunny

The food was quite nice - if you didn't eat a lot
 but if we got hungry
 there was the little coffee shop.

We had so much fun in Grahamstown coming home is such a bore
 our advice is to go next year and see more and more and more !

HIGHVELD FESTIVAL II

When I first put my name down for the three day Highveld Festival, it was with visions of boring lectures followed by even more boring workshops. This, however, was definitely not the case.

The festival got under way on the Wednesday with opening addresses by Mr Sej Motav and Dr Richard Chernis and world-reknoned playwright Athol Fugard. This was followed by a quick orientation speech before the actual festival began.

The days were divided up into three sessions in which we either did one of four workshops (such as playing games in Theatresports, or stage-diving in Fall and Catch), attended plays or musicals like the musical "Marabi" or the humorous play "Neville's Island" or were given a variety of lectures to go to (such as Stargate, telling of Science Fiction).

Whatever we were doing, we found it most enjoyable and were all glad to have been given the chance to attend such an enriching and entertaining festival that left us a little more knowledgeable in the fields of English and Drama.

GOLF TOUR TO MARGATE

Our golf tour to the South Coast was action-packed from the start with one of the school Combis experiencing problems. After an hour or two of jumping and jerking, the bus came to a halt on the side of the road. It took a while before we reached Margate - with some assistance!

The next day the golfers went to Margate Country Club and played their best in order to try and avoid having to clean the coaches' clubs as "punishment" for the losers.

Following our second day's golfing at Umdoni, Dave Robertson earned his teammates a great meal at the Kentucky Fried Chicken at the expense of the coaches through a well-won bet that Dave would beat Mr Bouvron that day.

We were privileged to play on such great courses as Wild Coast and Selbourne where we experienced the more exclusive side of life.

After we came back from a good day's golfing we would often go to the beach and play a bit of touch rugby in the sand, teachers alongside pupils as teammates.

At the Golf prize-giving at Port Shepstone Country Club the teachers once again showed us up and brought in all the prizes. Mr Crichton managed to capture two trophies and Mr Bouvron was awarded one.

This was a wonderful experience and if the opportunity presented itself again, I would take it without hesitation !

STANDARD NINE BIOLOGY TRIP TO THE ZOO

On the 6th of July, the Standard Nine Biology pupils spent the day at the Pretoria Zoo. It was a day of fun and learning as we leisurely strolled around the zoo admiring the animals and commenting on all their strange habits and appearances. After our walk, we were given a lecture which we all found informative and interesting. Our visit to the aquarium was very entertaining. This was followed by a visit to the reptiles, which horrified and shocked many of us. At the end of the day, we had to admit that we had enjoyed ourselves and had fun exploring the zoo and learning about the different animal species.

STANDARD NINE ART TOUR

Two Bryanston High Combis braved the bucketing rain of relief on the 19th October, taking the Standard Nine Art Pupils to two galleries. The Standard Bank Gallery was showing the latest in contemporary South African sculpture: Jane Alexander won the Young Artist of the Year Award, presented by Standard Bank annually at the Grahamstown Festival. Her works are realistic, life-size portrayals of typical South African people.

We then visited the Museum Africa where several exhibitions were being held. The Colgate Toothpaste Children's Sculptures involved fun images of child-like fantasies. Then the legacy of pioneer artists, Thomas Baines, was discussed by Mr Deon van Tonder, organizer of educational and historical happenings at Museum Africa. The Museum of Photography and Fashion are also housed here.

Our day was ended off by a well-deserved lunch!

STANDARD NINE HISTORY TOUR TO GOLD REEF CITY

On the 6th of September all the Standard Nine students went to Gold Reef City. When we got there we were placed into two groups and were assigned to our respective guides. After that we were lead into a room where we were told about the discovery of Gold and how gold-fever spread like wild fire. Then we descended down the mine-shaft, approximately 800m. We were told about the way miners communicated underground by means of pictures and speaking funagalore. We were shown how they clock in, in the morning, and at the end of the day the workers have to sign out and give their quota. After that there was a demonstration on how they dug for gold in the past and the modern way of drilling. After that deafening experience the guide showed us a diagram of the Gold Reef City mine-shaft and she also showed us a gold reef or vein in the rock. Once that was all done we ascended to the surface where we watched the pouring of gold and the procedure for melting the gold was explained to us. Finally, we were able to explore Gold Reef City at leisure.

CRICKET TOUR TO MARGATE

This year's season started off with a tour to Margate on the 22nd of July, together with our Golf Players. This tour was a tremendous success for a number of reasons. It provided the basis for developing a good team spirit as well as an opportunity to get to know all the players, in a competitive situation, from very early on in the season. The team worked extremely hard this year to maintain the standards set by previous teams, as we are developing into a motivated, close-knit side. Our younger members in the side are showing much potential.

Generally, the sides' bowling and fielding proved to be its strength, with Sean Brogan developing into a fearsome seam bowler, complemented by Justin O'Meara, whose left arm seam always troubled the opponents. Russell Watkins, Dieter Niebuhr and Andrew Cotton supplied the accurate support seam attack and Wade Cawoods spin bowling proved to be the sides' potent weapon.

The touring side could bat up to number 9 and call on as many as seven bowlers. Fielding in general was also of a high standard.

We were able to spend some free time at the beach and were privileged to have Omar Henry talk to us about the challenging game of Cricket. Overall, the touring side to Margate proved to be most enjoyable and a great learning experience.

And last, but no means, least the coaches on the tour worked extremely hard to instil a new discipline and aggressive attitude towards the game that is essential to succeed at the highest level. Thanks must go to Mr Binedell and Mr Skelton for their time and effort!

MIDMAR MILE

The excitement all began on the tenth of February, when very excited Bryanston Pupils met at the Johannesburg station to board the Sports Train to Durban. We were given our nametags and refreshments and we were on our way.

After an almost sleepless journey, with certain other schools making full use of their radios and encouraging a disco, we arrived at Durban Station in the morning. We spent the day at the beach, soaking up some very much needed sun. Some of us came away with Blue Bottle stings, though! The next morning was the big day. Trevor and Quentin, having made full use of the food carriage, were definitely prepared to tackle the swim. As the busses took us to the Midmar Mile from Howick Station we all became very nervous and a little apprehensive. However, when the races were over, there was actual jubilation as our pupils had done so well. Kenneth Smith came first in the Junior Boys' event and Candice Routledge came seventeenth among the Senior Girls.

Some of us had enough energy left to hike to a nearby waterfall.

That evening saw us holding a braai at the Howick station, as a fitting close to a wonderful experience for staff and pupils.

NETBALL TOUR

Our First and Second Netball teams set off on the 1st April to Potchefstroom for our Netball Coaching Clinic. Soon after arrival we decided to explore the town. The following day we headed down to the fields at Potchefstroom University where the course was to commence. We were all introduced to the organizers, Mrs Marlene Wagner, Springbok Netball Coach, and a special guest Mrs Carol French who came out from Australia to help with the development of Netball in South Africa. Both were great sources of inspiration and taught us many Netball skills.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TOUR

The girls hockey tour to Durban during the April holidays was a great success. There was never a dull moment! Even though we had to wake up and get organized at the crack of dawn, we were rewarded with an outstanding breakfast buffet at the Holiday Inn, every morning. The days were long and tiresome as we spent many hours at the Astro Turf practising our newly-learnt skills under the close supervision of Springbok and Provincial player and coaches.

In the afternoons, we put our skills to the test in matches against other teams at the coaching course. We were able to practise our indoor skills when the weather turned bad on the last two days of the course, which was definitely to our advantage! The evenings were spent at the Fun-fair after we had eaten dinner at one of the numerous restaurants in the area. Because of all the activity during the day, the evenings ended rather early, as almost everybody was exhausted.

The enthusiasm and encouragement from our coaches was greatly appreciated.

The 1995 Swimming season began with the Inter-House Gala which saw victory by Apollo for the third year in a row. The overall standard of swimming was exceptional, with four new records achieved and an outstanding new group of standard sixes arriving. The results were:

First: Apollo - 568 points
Second: Neptune - 553 points
Third: Mercury - 433 points
Fourth: Jupiter - 411 points

In the friendly Thursday Galas we went from strength to strength and were unbeaten. Our closes rivals for the A Gala appeared to be Northcliff who held us to a twelve point lead from early February and this certainly indicated that the Inter-High was going to be an exciting event indeed. A number of records were broken this season, which is no mean feat in a school with over 27 year swimming tradition.

Record breakers were: Nick Winstone, Paul Siebert, Ivan Stransky, Gareth Spencer, Grant Ansel, Kathryn Cronje, and Angela Fonda.

Fifty six swimmers and five teachers went on the Midmar Mile Tour. Once again the behaviour was exceptional and they did the reputation of the school proud. The swimming performances seemed to be the best ever. In the event for U14 boys and men over 30 Kenneth Smith in Standard Six placed First. This was an absolutely outstanding achievement!

Finally the big day arrived and 450 spectators accompanied our team to the Inter-High A Gala. The pressure was on our swimmers as we had won the previous year. Our swimmers were clearly better prepared than the other schools and we were never behind at any stage.

The final result was:

Bryanston - 775 points
Northcliff - 712 points
Rand Park - 582 points
Sandringham - 490 points
Sandown - 455 points

All swimmers who had won their events at the A gala were invited to swim in the Transvaal High Schools Prestige Meeting. As such this determined the Transvaal High School champions.

Many of our swimmers won medals:

Bronze: Candy Routledge, Ivan Stransky, Nicole Schule, Kenneth Smith, Justin Lawrence
Silver: Kathryn Cronje, Gareth Spencer, Ivan Stransky, Shirley Davidson, Kenneth Smith, Matthew Stead
Gold: Nick Winstone, Candy Routledge, Kathryn Cronje, Grant Ansell, Jacqui Larsen

B TEAM SWIMMING

Staff responsible: Mrs G. Fulcher (in charge), Mrs D. Fulcher
Captains: Tracey Habib, Peter Janovsky
Vice Captains: Brie Roussos, Jason Farrell

The co-educational swimming League consists of thirty schools. The B Team has always maintained a consistent place in the league. The number of B Teams from other schools has increased, yet Bryanston's B Team has continued to beat all the other schools B Swimming Teams. There have been many occasions when the B Team has surpassed the A Teams of other smaller schools.

1995 proved to be a difficult season for the swimmers. The reason for this was that the team achieved good results in the Friendly Galas, which unfortunately ended in a disappointing final. However, the swimmers continued to show commitment and enthusiasm throughout the season. The most exciting gala was the Inter-High against all the B Teams, which Bryanston won, beating seven other schools, by a large margin. Many of our swimmers won their races and their dedication paid off.

As the season progressed, the swimmers set their goals for improving their times.

The Inter-High League was held at Kempton Park and turned out to be an extremely exciting gala. The schools participating in the gala had a great advantage as they were all A Teams with school sizes in excess of 1000 pupils. The atmosphere was exhilarating and the swimmers were cheered on by excited Bryanston supporters.

The final results placed Bryanston fifth. Only two points separated Bryanston from Norkem Park! However, the swimmers maintained their pride and are determined to regain their status in the D League, which will be achieved by winning the 'E' league in 1996. Congratulations must go to Jason Farrell, Jason Leach, Tarryn Neary and Peter Stevens for winning their races. All the swimmers can be proud of their involvement in Swimming this year.

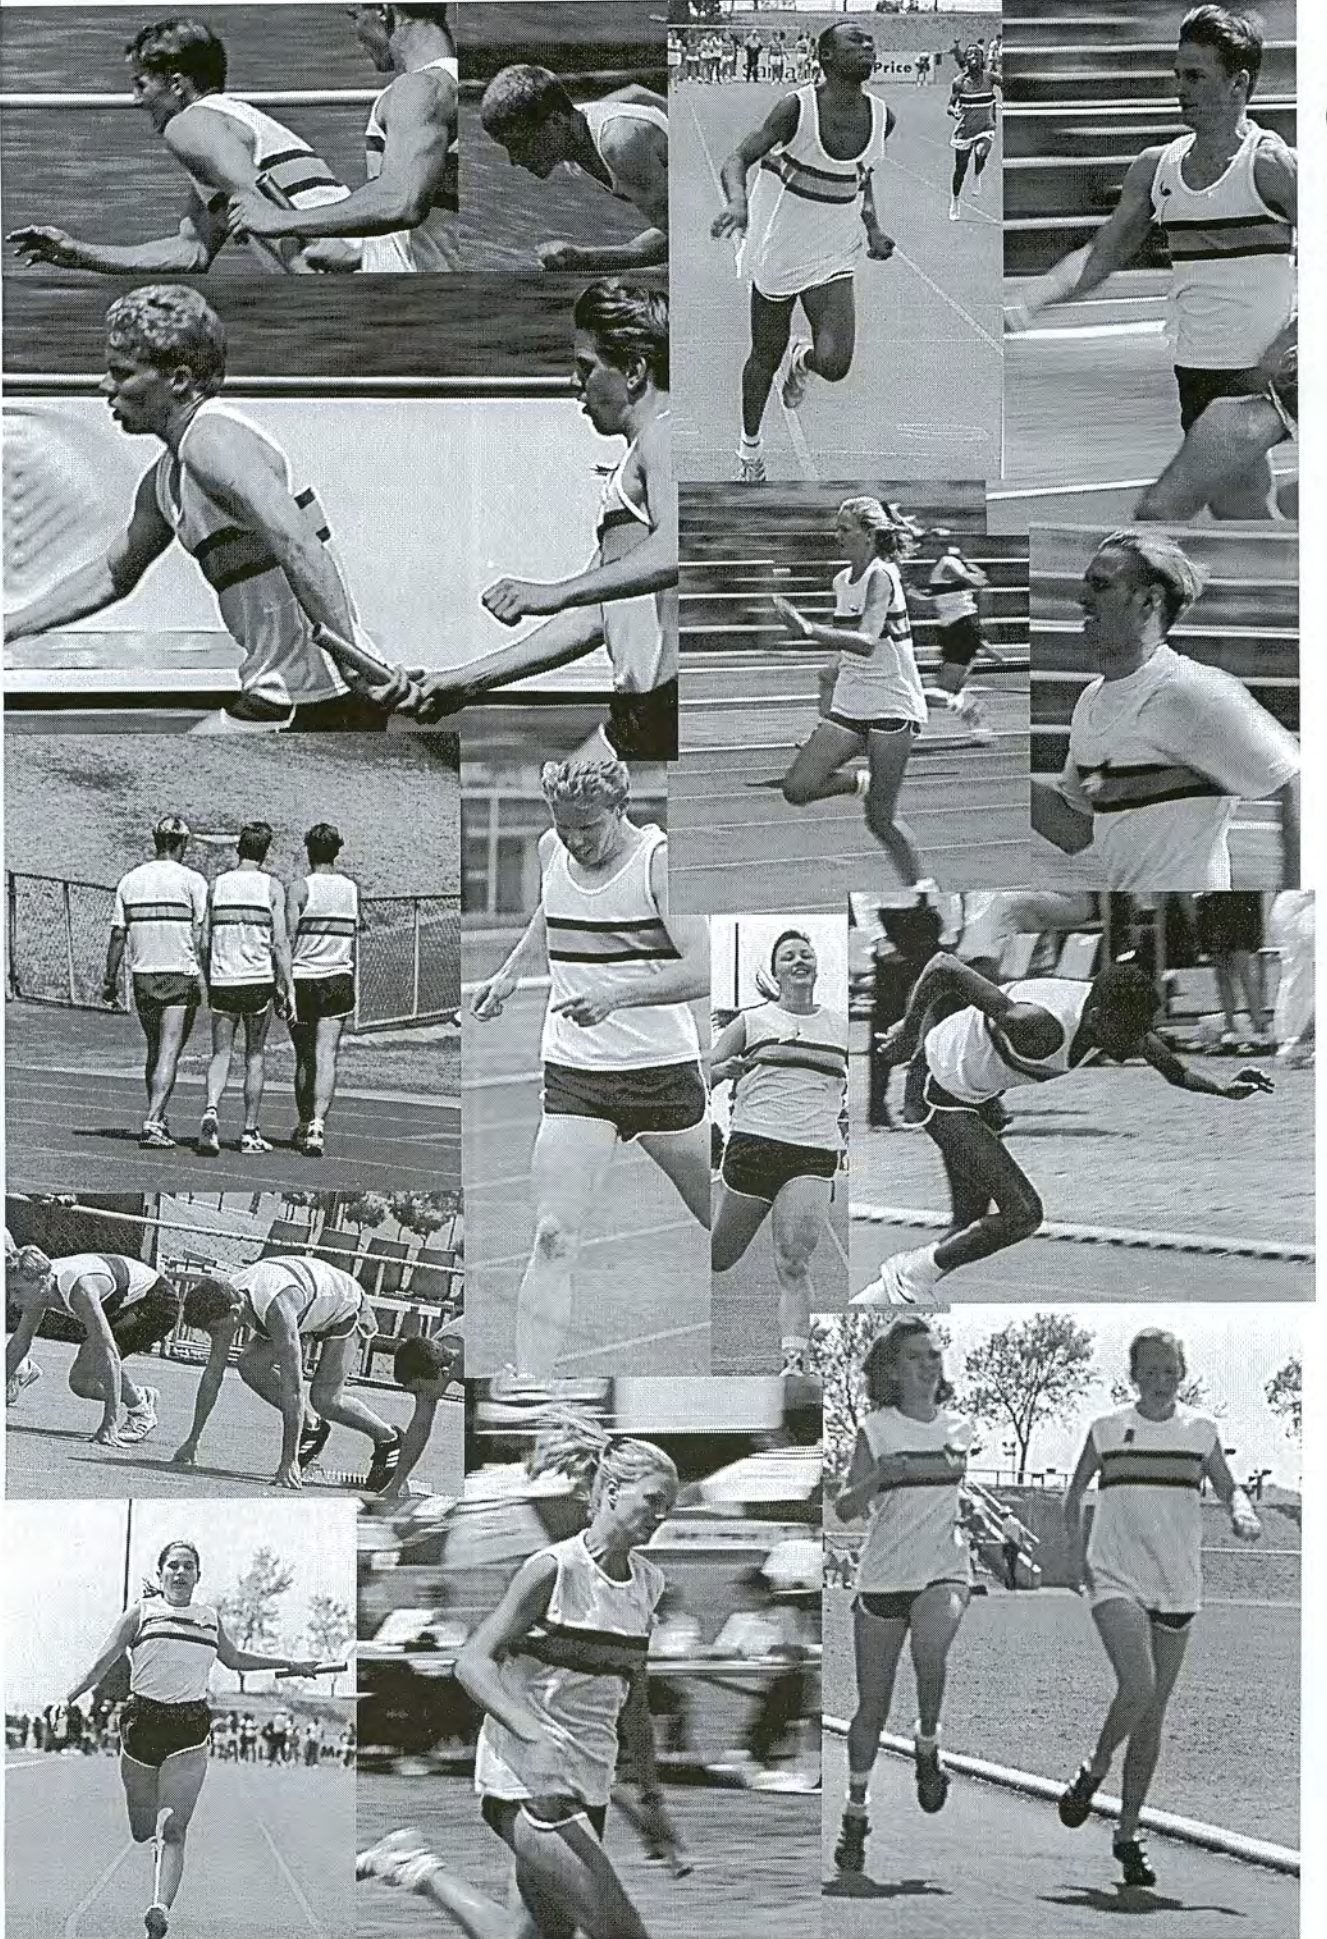

Many thanks to captains Tracey and Peter for their dedication to swimming and for their organization of the team.

The 1995 Athletics season was certainly a challenging one for all Bryanston Athletes. From the word go, all athletes and coaches were focused on the big day of the B League Inter-High and all preparation was undertaken with that goal in mind.

The season consisted of eight meetings, two of which were held at Bryanston. One of these was against Fourways High and Bryanston runners showed their true colours by beating them. The team also ran against the three other A League schools - Northcliff, Randpark and Greenside respectively. The team's first meeting of the season was at Northcliff and we provided strong competition and came second. Randpark, who were the A League champions this year, were fortunate to beat us by a mere 10 points. Finally we beat Greenside, who have been in the A League for many years.

The spirit of the team was great and each athlete gave of his or her best. We excelled at the B League Inter-High at RAU, winning by a very large margin. We can certainly look back with pride and be happy with our victory.

Many of our athletes were invited to run at the Prestige Meeting held in Germiston. The results were outstanding, with Bryanston eventually obtaining the second greatest total of medals out of all the schools there.

This year's team was no doubt one of the strongest that the school has ever seen and we would like to pay tribute to all the athletes for their enthusiasm and hard work throughout the season. A special word of mention must also go to the Junior athletes who were one of the main contributions to our success.

CROSS COUNTRY

Staff responsible: Mr J. Breytenbach and Miss W. De Witt
Captain: Hartley Humphreys

Cross Country had the most successful season yet in the school's history. Our Junior Girls dominated their section. The team of Kerrin Dawson, Michelle Williams, Megan Ford and Judy Kruise represented the school with distinction by winning the League championships. This is the first time ever that Bryanston has won at this level. A number of athletes also did very well by being selected to represent the Northern Districts Team. Hartley Humphreys was selected for the Senior Boys' Team. Kerrin Dawson, Michelle Williams, Megan Ford and Judy Kruise were all selected for the Junior Girls' Team. Kerrin Dawson finished second at the Inter-district championships and Michelle Williams finished third.

Congratulations to all Cross Country athletes.

The 1995 Tennis season for the Boys' team was once again successful. We were fortunate in that losses due to pupils leaving at the end of last year was minimal. This resulted in only one defeat in six matches and this was only lost by one game. The boys' commitment throughout the other teams is what makes it possible to field such a strong First side. We look forward to a great season next year.

Participating in the A section of the Southern Gauteng League, the First and Second Teams played against the top schools and some of the top players in the Greater Johannesburg area. In the previous years, only doubles matches were played. This year a new system was introduced where both singles and doubles matches are played. The girls approached this new challenge with determination and are to be commended on their enthusiasm. They were finally placed sixth in their section.

To cope with the number of girls, particularly Standard Sixes, who turned up for trials was a challenging task! However, this ensured that all the teams were comprised of enthusiastic Tennis players and it bodes well for the future of Girls' Tennis.

The Third and Fourth teams competed in Section E of the Southern Gauteng Tennis League. The opposition were very strong as they were composed of either First Teams or the B Teams from the top tennis schools in the area. The girls were placed seventh in their section and are to be commended for the determination and sportsmanship they showed in all their matches.

In true Bryanston spirit the boys showed tremendous sportmanship and dedication competing in the A League. Despite the fact that the team was missing one of its top players, our members faired very well considering the calibre of players they were up against.

The Second Team, consisting largely of junior boys, played with great enthusiasm throughout the season. These promising young players can be expected to be a great asset to the future First Team. We look forward to building on the talent and enthusiasm which characterised the Boys' Badminton this year.

The 1995 Badminton season was an enjoyable one in which the Girls' A Team encountered stiff competition in all their matches. Despite the fact that the girls had to play one position above the ladder due to an injury of one of our players they acquitted themselves admirably. The girls must be commended on the unflinching optimism and spirit. The Girls' B Team consists primarily of juniors and they have also gained valuable experience during their season.

With the start of the 1995 school year came the squash season. It was with great enthusiasm that many girls arrived to try out for the limited number of teams. This year BHS fielded two Open teams, one U16 team and one U15 team.

Many challenges were hard fought and it was with great effort that the four players per team achieved their places. Our season was a memorable one, albeit that the victories were scarce. Despite this fact, our sportsmanship was always of a high standard and our enthusiasm and commitment never diminished.

It is with mixed feeling that I on behalf of the matric players bid farewell and wish the remaining players all the best for the forthcoming season.

After the first few competitive matches the girls fought back hard and gained surprising results. During the season Louise Slater came along to team practices to help coach us and keep us fit.

The team's skills improved tremendously. The coaching really paid off and hopefully, our coach will stay with us in the future.

It was most encouraging to arrive at the first practice of 1995 to find twenty six enthusiastic players waiting to play Squash. Bryanston High School does not have any of its own courts, so each practice entailed transporting the players to Bryanston Sports Club.

The practices flew past, because having only four courts to play on, for twenty-six girls, took some organising and - at times - patience ! While most of the players had played squash before, there were players who had to learn the basics quickly in order to work their way down the ladder.

Unfortunately Bryanston only played in one League. Only the top five players had the opportunity of playing matches against other schools.

The level of enthusiasm and team spirit remained high throughout the season and the girls appeared to be having fun.

MOTORSPORT

FORMULA VEE

Participant: Chris Ryan Smith

Formula Vees celebrate their 30th year of competition in 1995. The Formula was started by Ferry Porsche in 1965 in Germany, with the cars competing with power from VW Beetle engines. The modern cars have evolved greatly and now boast twin carburetors, a racing cam shaft and a lightweight aluminium and fibreglass chassis, powered by a 1300cc VW Golf engine, producing speeds of up to 220-230km/h. This is the largest formula of single-seater cars in the country, with fields of up to 40 cars per race event. It is used by young drivers as a stepping stone to higher Formulas such as Formula GTI and the European Formula 3.

FORMULA K

Participant: Greg Wilford

Most racing drivers start their careers in Formula K (karting). Ayrton Senna and Nigel Mansell are just two examples. This Formula gives each driver the basic "car control" skills needed for controlling larger, faster cars, such as for Formula Vee and Formula GTI. Each Driver will graduate to a Higher Formula once he or she is able to secure a drive, provided he or she is older than 16 yrs of age. Ayrton Senna once said, "Karting is the purist form of motorsport ...including Formula one!"

This year's shooting season extended from the First Term through to the end of the Third Term, leaving all shottists and their coaches extremely exhausted. We started the season with a large turnout of hopeful pupils trying their best to gain a coveted position in one of the four school teams. The successful shottists then underwent extensive training which lasted through to mid-May when we took part in the North Rand School Shooting Competition.

Bryanston shot very well in this competition and we came second to Randburg Hoër Skool with both our Boys' and Girls' First Teams. Our Junior Boys gained second place and our Girls' Second Team came third.

The top six teams in each division consisting of 48 teams were then invited to attend the Transvaal Schools Shooting Finals. Our Boys' First Team and our Girls' First Team were invited to this prestigious event. The conditions for shooting were not ideal, due to a cold front bringing cloudy and icy conditions. Nonetheless, we gained fifth place with both our teams. Gregory Truter, Nicky Ager and Heidi Kempen were invited to participate in trials for the selection of the Transvaal Schools Shooting Team. We were delighted that Greg Truter was awarded his Provincial Colours after three months of intensive trial sessions. The Transvaal Senior Boys' Team gained second place at the South African Schools National Bisley, held during the October school holiday. The combined Transvaal Team, consisting of Senior Boys, Junior Boys and Girls was placed first overall.

The North Rand League was exciting and had everyone on edge from the start. We took part in seven shoots, culminating in a final shoot at Durban Deep Shooting Range. Greg Truter tied for first place overall, which then placed David Maskell, third and Heidi Kempen, fifth.

Having lost the majority of our good shottists as school leavers last year, our results this year have far exceeded our expectations. It is to the credit of all our shottists this year, whose dedication and skill have managed to keep us ranked as the top English-speaking co-educational school in the Transvaal.

SODWANA : OPEN WATER I

(to the tune of "Under the Sea" from "The Little Mermaid")

You dream about going down there
But that is no easy task
Because you will find there's no air
You have to breathe through a mask.

Your BC is now deflated
You're far from the ocean shore
The sharks teeth, they are serrated
Oh, what am I doin' this for?

Oh Boy!

Under the sea (Under the sea)
Under the sea (Under the sea)
Darling it's better down where its wetter
Take it from me.

There are no worries, wish it could last
But when your air runs out, get up fast!
It is outrageous!
It is contagious!
Under the sea.

Thanks to Mr Bibb for feeding the fish!

B Team: B. Rodgers, T. Habib, J. Bennett, B. Brandslatter, T. Stead, R. da Souza

Our Netball season kicked off with eighteen U14 sides! With two more Netball courts, a choice between Hockey and Netball, help from Old Bryanstonian players and even a Cake League we managed to field four teams in each age-group and seven teams in U14. All the players had matches almost every week and the others were catered for in the Cake League on a Tuesday.

Our teams did extremely well: U16 A went through to the play-offs; Open A's won all their matches and went on to the quarter-finals and the Open B side won the Southern Transvaal Trophy after beating Roosevelt in the finals.

We are also proud of Bev Rodgers and Michelle Williams who went to the semi-final U16 Trials; Natalie Guebert to semi-final Trials of Opens; Kathe Sims who made it to the last 30 Southern Transvaal players and Yvette Smith who made the A side of Southern Transvaal. The Netball season also included a holiday coaching course at Potchefstroom, where the girls were coached by Springbok coach, Marlene Wagenaar.

The season ended with a most enjoyable Netball dinner, a boys vs girls match and a highlight, the Open A mothers' match against Open B mothers.

It was an enjoyable, busy season and we are sad to lose our matric players and parents who have always been very keen supporters!

B Team: C. Furness, C. Hofmann, N. Edmonson, C. Redshaw, N. Manson, P. Chenery, L. Jensen, J. van Vuuren, K. Hawkins

The U17 A and B Netball girls were enthusiastic, energetic and formidable opponents. We enjoyed the Netball season thoroughly. I would like to wish the Standard Nine team members, all of the best for next year's season, and thank the Matric members for their participation in Netball over the past few years.

This year's Under Sixteen Teams displayed a wealth of talent and a unique ability to work coherently as a team. From the beginning to the end of the season the players performed with consistent excellence, which resulted in the U16A team reaching the regional quarter finals where they lost a hard-fought match against St Barnabas, who went on to win the League. The U16A team was rewarded by being named the Best Junior Team for 1995.

B Team: K. Cronje, D. David, D. Taylor, B. Waddell, J. Ferreira, A. de Gersigny

Due to the outstanding talent and enthusiasm of the U15A and B Netball girls the 1995 season proved to be most enjoyable and rewarding. Although the girls did not win all their matches, they always played with spirit and determination. Each girl must be commended for her commitment to the U15 Netball squad.

Captain: Nicole Southgate

Vice Captain: Lara Richardson

B Team: T. Napier, S. Warfield, T. Dumas, D. Fanti, J. Kerekes, R. Golding

Although the U14 A Team did not have a very successful season, they never gave up, always rising to the challenge of learning new skills in order to improve their game. Their hard work paid off when they won their last game against Ferndale, a tough opposition. The B Team had an extremely good season, losing only two of their matches.

All girls showed determination and great enthusiasm, which made the season a most memorable one.

Staff Responsible: Miss L. Nunan

Captain: Lucy Nel

Vice Captain: Maria Malakoane

C Team: L. Moyes, A. Olen, L. MacMillian, J. Wainwright, E. Sulley, E. Ndlovu

We all started off the season as complete strangers, but united readily. Our practises were all coached by Brenda Ferrar, who devoted her valuable time to train us. Our team spirit was highlighted in the game against Capricorn where we won. But winning was not all that counted; it was important that we enjoyed ourselves.

Captain: Alexa Manson

Vice Captain: Daniela Cloete

D Team: J. Corbett, L. Harrison, R. Mothapa, K. Kekana, C. Darks, C. Snyman

Our season was full of spirit and enthusiasm. We have all learnt new skills and to work as a team. It was wonderful to see the number of girls who wanted to play for our school. Their work and loyalty made our Netball Team what it is today. Congratulations to Mary Zonda for being the Most Improved Netball Player of the Year!

We had a successful season winning most of our matches and losing only a few. We learnt from our mistakes in the few that we lost and were sure not to make them again.

Captain: Cindy Davidson
Vice Captain: Casey Marais
D Team: M. David, T. Norris, C. Walsh, L. Steele, C. Craig

The C Team had a very successful season, losing only to King David's U14 B Team. A few girls proved themselves to such an extent that they were promoted into the B Team. The D Team played fewer games, but showed great team spirit and determination at all times. The girls' enthusiasm can be seen in the fact that we always had two full teams at every practice.

Captain: C. Smith
G Team: T. Groenewald, S. Brown, J. Newberry, K. Sceivity, N. Lawrence

The E and F Teams played three matches this season. They played against Alberton's U15D and U14D, Hyde Park's U14C and Sandringham's U14D. They won two of the three matches, losing 10-13 to Hyde Park.

All three teams took part in the Cake League on Tuesday afternoons. This was a very successful league and although they did not manage to walk away with Mrs Weir's delicious chocolate cake, they thoroughly enjoyed all their matches!

RUGBY 1995

This was a tremendous year for South African Rugby that saw a nation unified by the euphoria of victory and the World Cup - ours to have and to hold for the next four years! Since our admittance into the International Rugby arena our Springboks have followed an arduous path to success through trial and error and a great many positional changes. They finally adopted an expansive attacking game that suited our nimble players whose excellent handling, ball retention and rock-solid defence was conducive to their World Champion status. The Springboks have injected a new style of flair into the game and have displayed an intensity of commitment that has been unequalled in our country for many years.

At school level we can learn from the example set by our National side; that high levels of dedication and commitment are essential requirements for the success of a team. As coaches we must nurture this new enthusiasm and continue to raise the level of participation in Rugby at our school. With the arrival of professionalism in Senior Rugby, talented school boys can look forward to lucrative financial offers even at club level. We can be proud of our school Rugby tradition - a tradition that has been forged by coaches and hundreds of dedicated players over the last twenty seven years. 1995 was no exception for our First XV with Peter Janovsky, our Captain, and Ashley Vivian, our Vice Captain, setting fine examples of leadership and extracting every ounce of effort from their teammates. We boast an extremely committed and talented team with a bold persistence that won them many games this season.

This year's First Team was compiled of a few boys who had a lot of talent. Unfortunately we were unable to perform the way we wanted to in every match but when we did it must have been the most attractive rugby I have ever seen.

Thanks should be made to our two coaches who encouraged us to give our best and often we came very close to beating many top Rugby Schools.

The Under Sixteen Rugby Team started their season with a remarkable trip to the South Coast where they played Strong opposition. They showed that this team has a lot of potential as they drew 1, won 1 and lost 1 match. During the season the team was unfortunate in having a series of injuries which meant that some players played two different positions in a week. The spirit and determination of the side were the most characteristic of all and showed the true value of Bryanston Rugby.

We experienced a slow-starting season that had the extra setback of losing Uba as captain just as the team got things together. The cohesiveness of the team then went from strength to strength with all the players making great progress as they learned more and more about the game of Rugby. While being of an age-group with a relatively small percentage of boys, we have a lot of depth with regards to talent and enthusiasm. The years ahead in rugby for all these boys looks extremely promising.

The U14A Team had an outstanding season as their results reflect; played 14, won 13, lost 1. This was due to a combination of factors, including plenty of talent, commitment to practice and the support of parents. In winning the Roy Paige Shield for Team of the Year the U14 age-group has set high standards to maintain in the years to come. I have no doubt that this age group can become one of our top Open age-groups.

The first half of the season was marked by the high level of participation of the boys of the school, where Bryanston fielded an incredible fourteen sides. Unfortunately, few other Co-ed schools field this amount of sides and the C and B teams did not play as many fixtures in the First Term.

A young First Team had a successful season, with talented players like Gareth Spencer, Murray Clack and Sean Brogan. They were always a side to be reckoned with.

The Second Team played their aggressive and determined style and were rewarded with the Team of the Year Award for their 9 wins in 13 fixtures.

Bryanston High School shows enormous talent in the junior age groups where these teams will grow and develop into a mighty First Team in the years to come.

The Primary Schools Day was a great success and Bryandale Primary walked away with the honours for the Second year running.

A most successful Cricket Dinner was held on the 18th of March where Mr Tony Pithy, who represented South Africa in 1956/7 and was one of the Springboks selected when we returned to the international arena, was the guest-speaker. The function was held in our new Pavilion for the first time and that also contributed to a special evening.

As often remarked by visiting coaches and Staff, Bryanston boasts one of the best cricket pitches in Gauteng and here a special word of thanks must go to Mr Pat Waite and his staff.

Vice Captain: Murray Clarck
First Team: G. Walker, G. Spencer, S. Brogan, W. Cawood, R. Watkins, A. De Haas, L. Poyers, A. Wildman, A. Cotton

The 1994/1995 season will be remembered as the new beginning for cricket at Bryanston. The emphasis was on building a team for the future - young players were given the opportunity to play alongside older and more mature cricketers. This gamble paid off since the younger batsmen performed well above expectations.

It was a busy season with 20 matches played. Eight of these matches were won 8 were lost and 4 were drawn - solid statistics for any team. The Bryanston team consolidated itself as a limited over side with 8 matches played. Five were won and 3 were lost. This was the result of attacking and motivated cricket.

As a teacher it was a pleasure to coach these eager and dedicated boys.

SECOND TEAM

Staff Responsible: Mr J. Skelton
Captain: Mark Wolfaardt
Vice Captain: Craig Napier
Second Team: I. Olivier, D. Gray, R. Laubscher, P. Janovsky, V. Abdinor, S. Gruhler, J. O'Meara, K. Glorioso, D. Niebuhr, G. Spilsbury, D. Phillipps

The Second XI had a very successful year with a final result of: played 13 lost 4 won 9.

Led by a dynamic Captain, the Second Team played aggressive and motivated Cricket. Always believing in themselves they enjoyed the game more than the final result and that led to the team winning the Team of the Year Award.

A Team: C. George, P. Jones, J. Gregory, B. David, T. Mulholland, B. Tomlinson, J. Kerkhoven, P. Rogers, A. Winstone, P. Frost
Captain: Sean Nicholson
Vice Captain: Daniel Griffiths
B Team: P. Robb, A. Knight, D. Blignaut, M. Brumbey, S. O'Connell, S. Stephan, A. Haefele, W. Merrifield

The A Team had a fairly successful season. When our side was at full strength, we were undefeatable. This is shown in our performances against Greenside and Saint Davids. Overall we played 12, won 7 and lost 5.

This year's U14A Team had many talented players in their ranks and can develop into one of the best produced by Bryanston. The team won 6 out of 9 matches with memorable performances from Brendon Jones (112 not out against Fourways and 79 against Sandringham). Andrew Griffiths (79 against Sandringham) and Neil Murphy (77 against King David). The teams fielded and played well as a unit and approached matches and practices alike with enthusiasm and an appetite to learn. It was a pleasure to coach and umpire for this year's U14A Team.

The First Team had a mixed season, sometimes playing outstandingly and then just not getting it together. Although the results could have been better, the girls really tried hard. They practised hard, developed excellent skills, and worked well at the game plan. Always enthusiastic, really wanting to achieve and being great sports they were a united team exceptionally well led, both on and off the field, by Kirsty and Petra. Both suffered from shin splints but always gave of their best. Great improvement was shown by all in particular Candy, Alta and Romy, with our Standard Eights showing exceptional potential. They were a team of whom Bryanston could be proud as their behaviour both on and off the field was impeccable, their dress always neat, their efforts tremendous and their camaraderie a pleasure to be near.

Many achieved well and to them go our congratulations. Candice Huskisson played in the Final Trials on the Astro Turf. Alta van Zyl was chosen as the goalkeeper for the Colts A side (an U16 side) after having played in the Final Open Trials. Petra Spoerk and Lauren de Wet played for the Nuggets Team (Transvaal C) at the tournament in Durban, Whilst Kirsten Stafford represented us in the Witwatersrand Side (Transvaal B) at the U.S.S.A.S.A. tournament in Pretoria and played extremely well. Our umpires also achieved excellent results with Pam Prior getting into Nuggets B; Tracey Habib into Colts B; Candice Huskisson into Colts A and Petra Sproek and Kirsty Stafford into Nuggets A. All received good gradings with Candy being chosen to umpire the U16 Inter-Provincial Finals.

We hope the matrics will continue to play good hockey in time to come and aim at representing South Africa. To those still at school in 1996, may the ball run your way and all the efforts to be made, be rewarded.

Second Team: A. Evans, N. Morgan, C. McMurdo, Y. Smith, H. Kempen, B. Wakefield, M. Kuehnast, C. Van Eeden, C. Williamson, B. Rodgers, V. Giles, D. Loffell

Congratulations go to the Second Team girls, on a fine performance throughout the season. Not only was there a general improvement in skill and tactical play, but their positive attitude, self-motivation, determination and sportsmanship did us proud.

Some excellent hockey was played and the following results were obtained :
 won - 4; drew - 2; lost - 5.

Congratulations to Cathy Van Eeden for scoring the most goals and to Debbie Loffell and Heidi Kempen for being Players of the Season.

It is always a pleasure to coach a team which shows excellent spirit and sportsmanship both on and off the field and the Thirds and Fourths epitomized both these characteristics.

The highlight of the season was the match against St Mary's. The girls, by sheer determination and constructive hockey, managed to draw against a very strong team.

The fact that Bryanston is able to field a Third and Fourth side of skilful and enthusiastic players is an indication of the girls' total commitment to Hockey. Well done to you all.

As a result of a decision taken by the Transvaal to reshuffle the Girls' School Hockey Association where the Under Fourteen age-group disappeared, it took a while for the girls to bond with one another as the Under Sixteen teams consisted of a range of age groups from Standard Sixes to Standard Nines. However, a successful coaching clinic during the April holidays helped a great deal and the teams were quickly knuckling down to their stickwork and skills. It was a fairly erratic season with a brilliant win often followed by an unnecessary loss. However, in every match each girl gave her very best. So much was learnt this season, about the overall game of hockey and the team spirit that is, of necessity, coupled to it. Certainly, if the girls work as hard next year as they did this year, Mrs Deacon will have some fine Senior Teams.

Grateful thanks must go to Natalie, who assisted so ably and with so much enthusiasm. She is a terrific player and a superb coach.

Best wishes to all players for next year - those who made up the official teams and especially those who diligently came to every practice but because of limited places, were unable to comprise school teams. Your commitment was noted and appreciated.

There were approximately forty beginners this year and each week the attendance was excellent. The girls showed plenty of enthusiasm and willingness to learn and this resulted in some excellent skills and techniques being learnt. The Under Thirteens of 1995 have much potential and if each one perseveres Bryanston High can look forward to some excellent players in the next few years. Well done.

Second Team: G. Spencer, R. Watkins,
D. Phillips, G. Comrie, R. Layton,
P. Prior, J. O'Meara, O. Hooft,
P. Hooft,
D. Johns and C. Morrison

This year the First Team was more active than in the past, participating in 19 fixtures, as well as the traditional Chairman's Trophy and Aitken Cup. The side matured during the course of the year and a general improvement in overall commitment and attitude to both practices and matches was noticeable. Good results were recorded against Capricorn and St David's and we once again defeated our arch-rivals, Northcliff. Grant Walker, Troy Lee and Alex de Haas attended Provincial Trials and Grant gained selection to a Transvaal representative side.

The Second Team showed great determination and played positive attacking hockey which allowed them to win the majority of their games.

S. Benfield, D. Blignaut, P. Jones,
D. Naude, S. O'Connell,
A. McCann, E. Aldersley and
C. Dutton

This side must be commended for their constructive attitude and the spirit to enjoy themselves in all aspects of the game. Because they were competing against many of the opposition's second teams, they gained valuable experience and displayed a true sense of sportsmanship throughout the season.

UNDER FIFTEEN

Captain: Alex Kuehnast

Vice Captain: Grant Walters

A Team: C. Murray, M. Ashton,
H. Schonfeld, W. Merrifield,
S. Victor, D. Linton, P. Laughton,
G. Koen, C. Sampson

A committed, positive and enthusiastic approach by this age-group resulted in a constructive improvement during the season. The boys' determination to succeed, as well as the enthusiasm of their coach, Johnathan Forster, has laid a solid foundation for the future.

UNDER FOURTEEN

Staff Responsible: Mrs C. Deacon

Captain: Lance Robinson

Vice Captain: Greg Shaw-Taylor

A Team: N. Wilson, B. Comrie, R. Moore,
J. Hare, C. Plummer,
A. Stubbington, J. De Villiers,
T. Martens, M. Stead

For the first time in our history, Bryanston fielded an Under Fourteen side. This was the boys' first attempt at hockey and it took some adjustment to this "strange" game. With the right attitude and determination these boys will become solid players in the future. Congratulations to Damian Schumann who gained selection to the Transvaal U14 A Team and who completed the season in our First Team!

Road slob get away with murder

SAY NO WAY

•DRIVE•ALIVE•

What is Drive Alive?

A movement of concerned South African citizens determined to create a new environment in which the number of road deaths and casualties will be drastically reduced by

- raising resources for a hard-hitting public education campaign that instructs youth and adults into safer driving habits
- keeping the public constantly aware and informed about road safety
- lobbying for stricter legislation against reckless and drunken driving.

Drive Alive strives to:

- reduce deaths and casualties on our roads
- eradicate drunken driving
- reduce irresponsible speeding
- promote a positive attitude to law enforcement officials
- instil a sense of courtesy and safety awareness in all South African drivers
- improve the roadworthiness of our vehicles.

Drive Alive aims to achieve these objectives through:

- creating public awareness of road safety by means of media coverage i.e. radio, newspapers, television and audio visual programmes
- eliciting the support of interested parties in parliament, the insurance industry and commerce
- striving for the creation and enforcement of effective laws against drunk and reckless drivers.

- 36 killed every day on our roads
- One collision every six seconds
- This costs the country R16m a day

We need your help and support to reduce these tragic statistics by promoting a new breed of motorists and safer roads in our country.

Miss Elegance and Miss Pizzaz 1995

One of the highlights of the Bryanston High year is always the Miss Elegance and Miss Pizzaz Contest. The themes were chosen to suit the age groups involved. Miss Pizzaz's theme was "Island in the Sun", and Miss Elegance's theme was "Midsummer Night's Dream". All the girls looked beautiful and the judges, including, Cliff Simon (star of Egori), Romy Davies (ex-pupil and former Miss Sandton) and Petra McCardle (Miss South Africa Universe finalist), had a difficult time deciding on the winners:

- | | |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| Miss Pizzaz - | Shirley Davidson |
| First Princess - | Olivia Vermaak |
| Second Princess - | Taryn Groenewald |

| Miss Elegance - | Dineo Maope |
| First Princess - | Lisa Dallas |
| Second Princess - | Saranne Summerley |

Prizes included modelling contracts, facials, purses and gift vouchers of jewellery and luggage.

TALENT SHOW

Staff Responsible: Mrs C. Swart (in charge), Mr B. Bibb, Miss M. Dos Santos, Miss H. Arderne, Ms L. Wilkinson.

The Matric Dance Committee's first function of 1995 was the Talent Show. With a lot of very enthusiastic pupils, the night which was filled with talent turned out to be a successful, enjoyable one. Our theme this year was "Woodstock '95". Our contestants interpreted the theme very well and amazed us with their talent and wonderful ideas.

Some of the talent included Nirvana look-alikes, a masculine Sonny and Cher duet and an amazing performance from our Three Tenors. The evening's entertainment created a difficult task for the judges!

MATRIC DANCE COMMITTEE

This year's Matric Dance Committee consisted of 35 members and 5 teachers, each committed to the daunting task of giving the matrics of 1995 a matric dance to remember. Each task, Talent Show, Saturday braai, raffle and Miss Elegance and Miss Pizzaz was tackled and completed enthusiastically.

The Matric Dance was held at Wanderers in the Ballroom on the 9th September. Our theme was the "Palace of ICE" with silver-sprayed centre pieces and balloons on mirrors, "snow" on the floor and a snow scene on the wall, the matrics danced the night away. It was a magical night that the matrics and Dance Committee will look back on and remember for the rest of their lives.

SCHOOL NEWSPAPER

Staff Responsible : Ms E. Buist
Editors : Hannah Martens and Alta van Zyl
News Team : Claire Hoets, Taryn Cassidy, Lorien Swemmer, Stephen Leepile, Sophy Mabitje, Christine Laidlaw, Julie Laidlaw

The school newspaper, the Blueprint, is a year-round activity. Four issues are printed - one per term - and each one represents hours (sometimes days) of hard work, particularly for the editor.

Hannah Martens managed to cope with this enormous responsibility, in spite of a heavy matric workload for the first two terms.

Alta van Zyl then took over and will be Editor for next year.

This year the Interact Club of Bryanston High has had a lot of fun and raised some funds for worthwhile causes. We started off the year with a welcoming dinner where we discussed worthwhile projects and had a lot of fun following them through. This was followed by our main fund-raiser of the year, where we sold carnations to the school to be sent to their sweethearts. Some of the money raised was donated to Child Welfare on Red Nose Day.

Members helped at both the Rotary Horse Show, where we made many new friends with the Interactors from Redhill, and at the Environmental Day at Bryanston Shopping Centre.

Talking of fun, no more fun could have been had than when happy Bryanston High Interactors set out for the Intercon Camp organised by Rotary, where we met many new friends and learnt a lot. After that we had a very successful visit to Bertrams Primary School near the centre of Johannesburg. We took food to the underprivileged school and put on a play for them. Coming back in the bus everybody decided that we should do more.

We have just completed a chocolate raffle and we hope to give the proceeds to Bertrams and other charities.

POTTERY CLUB

Staff responsible: Ms K. Hofmeyr

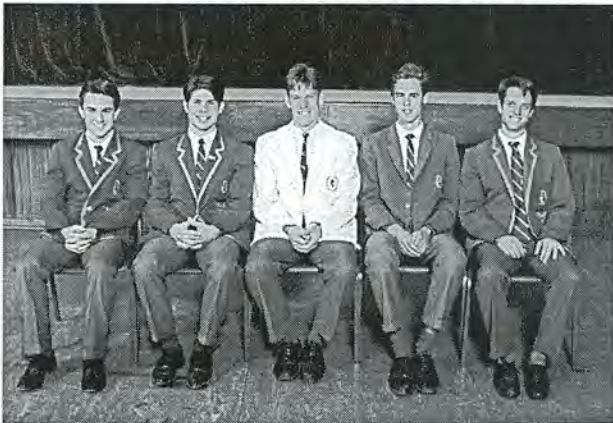

We started off the year with over 25 pupils. Rose Mothapo and Kedibone Kekana remain our most dedicated potters, making the most beautiful objects. We fired and glazed many items which were displayed in the Media Centre with this year's Art Exhibition.

Pottery is a way to have fun and be creative on a Wednesday afternoon!

The Business Game is a simulated project, administered by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of South Africa, together with the Business Development Unit of Standard Bank, where in each school is required, by a decision plan, to build a business. This year Bryanston was required to manufacture and market satellite dishes.

Our team which was brought through from 1994 featured very well, moving into the quarter-finals of the Gauteng Region. However we were eliminated just before the selection for semi-finals. As they are all matriculants, I wish the participants luck with their future careers and, knowing their business acumen, am sure that they will become successful businessmen!

J.S.E. GAME

Staff Responsible: Mr W. Rogers

Entrepreneurs: Constantine Metsos, Michael Stevens, Italo Olivier, Dale Maythen

The J.S.E. Game is run by the Johannesburg Stock Exchange in order to provide a simulated environment, wherein the pupils can learn, under a controlled situation, the dynamics of the Stock Exchange. Each team is given R 100 000 to start and is required to make as much money, by trading shares on the Stock Market, over an eight month period.

With the aid of a Beltel line and the Compu-share computer programme, our team members are able to access information daily before it becomes available in the newspapers. As a result of this advantage Bryanston was placed 21st out of a total of 254 schools. This position places us in the top 8% of participating schools in South Africa. Of the initial R 100 000 invested we made R 56 000, or produced an average increase of 56% in the worth of our portfolio - a grand achievement for our enterprising pupils!

DRIVER EDUCATION

Staff Responsible: Mrs. M. Schumann

1995 heralded our first year of sharing a school car with Brescia House; a venture which proved to be very successful. It gave both teachers at both schools a respite and the pupils gained time to practise their newly acquired skills.

A number of matriculants added more to their already heavy participation programmes by attending theory lessons on defensive driving tactics. These lessons were held at odd times, but proved to be successful as 18 matriculants (Proving their commitment/stamina) passed the theory exam and proceeded to the practical course.

The pupils who qualified to participate in the practical course ranged from beginners, who had never driven, to those who were quite adept but needed the refinements demanded by the K53 test. It was strenuous and even nerve-racking at times but very rewarding especially when pupils found they could achieve what seemed to them to be impossible - completing an incline start without rolling !

The dreaded parallel parking proved to be far easier than most had expected, however it was in the co-ordination of the driving activities, observations and correct procedures while remembering the defensive driving tactics that most pupils experienced difficulties. The emergency stopping/braking lessons led to much hilarity, many pupils discovering that they harboured secret desires to become Formula 1 racing drivers !

I have realised more and more how invaluable this course is and how important its purpose is in making new drivers aware of the necessity to drive with care and consideration and not to treat it as a casual activity requiring little skill, effort or concentration.

Congratulations to those who achieved their Driver's Licences during the course and I wish all those who will be taking theirs in the near future all success. Safe driving to you all !

The Inter-High Dance and Movement competition this year was held at Queens High School on the 19th September. There were many more schools participating this year, amongst them our rivals Sandown, Queens, Wendywood and Greenside.

The competition comprises of two categories - the Movement category and the Dance category. In the Movement category, our theme "The mystery of Stonehenge" was performed by seven boys and ten girls. The "Hunks" were involved in magnificent lifts and formations, while the girls danced with elegance. Our simple but effective costumes received many compliments. In the Dance category our theme "The Sound of Silence" was performed by the girls with great success.

After many hours of fun, sweat and tears we were placed fourth overall.

WILDLIFE CLUB

Staff Responsible: Mr A. La Grange

We had a good year in the Wildlife Club. On behalf of myself and the Wildlife Club I want to thank all six girls for their time, hard work, enthusiasm, and just because they love and care about our environment so much! We are planning a very exciting program for 1996, which will include going on hikes, visiting research centres and starting our own data base on the plants and animals which one can find in the school grounds. We always welcome new members. Remember: "We have only one earth, if we mess it up, we have no place to go."

Mr A. La Grange

CHESS

Staff responsible: Mrs H. von Ludwig
Southern Transvaal Schools League

The 1995 Chess Team must have been the strongest team Bryanston High has had in many years. The fixture dates, however, proved to be totally unsuitable to most players, due to other commitments to the school. Consequently we struggled to raise a full-strength team. The efforts of those who played, however, are highly appreciated.

Bryanston High School's Results (out of a total of 10) against the following Schools:

| | | |
|-----------------|---|----|
| SANDRINGHAM | : | 3 |
| MARYVALE | : | 8 |
| HIGHLANDS NORTH | : | 4 |
| YESHIVA COLLEGE | : | 4 |
| PARKTOWN BOYS | : | 4 |
| DE LA SALLE | : | 8½ |
| REDHILL | : | 2½ |

Players who fared exceptionally well were Alex Kuehnast (2nd and 3rd position), winning five out of six games and Mhlungisi Mtsi (4th position), winning 5½ out of six. Alex managed to beat one Southern Transvaal Player and drew against another (both times playing in second position). He is only in Standard 6! Both Alex and Mhlungisi as well as Philip Tomlinson and several other "intermittant" players have been invited to play in the Southern Transvaal trials. Well done to all of them.

I would like to take this opportunity to invite any chess player, regardless of how talented he or she is, to join our team next year. Let us show them that we have the Brains to Beat the Best out there!

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Staff responsible: Ms K. Hofmeyr
Photographers: Paul Smith, Iain Sherwell, Vaughan Phillips, Nathan Veitch, Constantine Metsos, Ackim Nyachikanda, Richard Moore, Angela Kozlowski

Earlier in the year the club went to the photograph museum in Museum Africa and this term's outing took us to the Johannesburg Zoo. This was most successful, culminating in Paul Smith's photograph of an old staircase at the zoo coming in the top ten at the Ilford Photographic Competition held at Greenside High School in September.

In the first term we focused on the theme "Bryanston" and some wonderful images displayed "professionally" in the Media Centre and again in the Art Exhibition held on the Kaleidoscope Cultural evening. Even Ms Hofmeyr "dusted off" her photographic skills to join in this time!

It has been a very busy year for all - taking photographs at all sporting, cultural, artistic and other daily activities at Bryanston. The fruits of all the hard work by our members can be seen in this edition.

FIRST AID

Staff Responsible: Mrs V. Webb

Some members of our First Aid Team, through dedication and perseverance, provided an excellent service during the year.

The following pupils deserve special mention: Ceri Davies, Peter Head and Emrys Aldersley, who assisted with rugby and hockey matches; Adrian McCann who regularly did Pavilion duty in the afternoons and helped with rugby and hockey duty; and Clive Mckinley, whose regular presence next to the Rugby field was greatly appreciated.

During the busy Winter Sports season we dealt with numerous grazes, some strained and torn muscles, a dislocated shoulder, a dislocated knee cap, broken fingers and two broken noses!

In February 1996 we will be starting a First Aid Course for beginners and for experienced First Aiders. Many pupils, teachers and some school secretaries have indicated that they would like to complete the twenty-hour course. We therefore look forward to an even more successful 1996.

CHARITY COMMITTEE

Staff Responsible: Mrs G. Fulcher, Miss T. Bennett

1995 has been a very successful year for our Charity Committee. Our aim was to be innovative in raising the funds and helping those charities which receive less attention. In the First Term we raised R 800 in aid of the S.P.C.A. We continued our annual blanket collection in the Second Term and collected 160 blankets. The winners of this competition were 9B and 9D who collected 23 blankets each. This is a wonderful achievement and congratulations to all who were involved! These blankets were given to the Salvation Army and Child Welfare. Blankets were in great need and these charities were very grateful. We also raised R 10 000 in the Second Term through our weekly Friday collections and major fundraisers.

In the Third Term we collected food hampers, holding a competition in which each class had to be creative in presenting the most original hamper. Standard 6F were the winners here. Standard 7C collected the most generous hamper and Standard 9A donated the best presented hamper. These hampers were given to the St Mary's children's home and to Animals in Distress. Overall it has been a wonderfully charitable year; Bryanston has made a superb effort and we have certainly made a difference to many lives.

The Students' Christian Association had a very exciting year. It began with a change of name to "The Edge" as it was felt that Christians live on the edge of life, experiencing new things with the Lord Jesus Christ on a daily basis. "The Edge" meetings proved to be a time for pupils to encourage and uplift one another and to rejoice in what the living Lord is doing in teenage lives.

SCA meetings were held every second break on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Meetings usually took the form of a mini Bible Study which helped the youth of Bryanston to apply Biblical principles to everyday life. Thursdays were set aside for guest speakers, in particular Aaron Salisbury, who diligently brought God's word. Thank you; your input will stay with us for many years to come !

"The effective fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much" and so prayer meetings were held from 7.30 - 7.45 am, most mornings. Many prayers were answered and once again scripture proved true !

I'd like to end by thanking our Lord Jesus Christ. Without God there is no life, without life there is no living.

RHETORIC SOCIETY

Staff responsible: Mrs H. Middleton and Mrs J. Frost
Chairperson: Brendon Benfield
Vice Chairperson: Amy Evans

The Rhetoric Society has enjoyed success throughout the year in both the Public Speaking and Debating arenas. Again this year we were able to enter two teams per standard in the Speech and Drama Teacher's Guild Public Speaking competition and all the teams fared admirably. Brendon Harris eloquently represented us in the Bilingual Individual Competition. Later in the year, Amy Evans and Stuart Benfield spoke in the ITC Speakout. Stuart was promoted to the semi-final round and ultimately to the finals, where he placed third. This was a remarkable achievement when one considers that there were over 700 competitors in the first round. The Junior and Senior Best Speakers' titles have become highly sought after in the last few years and this year's competition was no exception. Candice Waterer won the Junior title and Brendon Benfield won the Senior competition.

We were also fortunate to have a strong contingent entering the Randburg Eisteddfod Public Speaking event. We achieved six gold certificates (80-94%) and Stuart Benfield and Philip Tomlinson earned Diplomas for achieving 95% plus.

On the debating front we have had an exceptionally challenging and successful year. We participated in two leagues. In the SACEE league we had the opportunity to debate against Emshaka Ntamba, Protea North and Hyde Park. A defeat against Hyde Park robbed us of promotion to the semi-final round but we were pleased with our performance. Better luck next season!

In the Northern League Junior Section, our team members met with some stiff opposition, but we ended the season with a pleasing result of two defeats and five victories. The Senior Team outdid themselves this year, finishing the season undefeated.

In addition to the league debates we were also involved in the annual Bryanston vs Capricorn event where we won all four debates convincingly. We look forward to next year's debates which will be held at Capricorn.

The Rhetoric Society is growing in strength and number every year and we look forward to bettering this year's performance in 1996.

BEST PLAYWRIGHT'S COMMENT

Politics is the principal theme behind my play. Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, being my set-work, was uppermost in my mind, but I wanted every South African politician to have a part as well.

While mulling this over in my mind, with Egoli in the background and the newspaper with Obelix and Asterix on my lap, my warped sense of humour came to the fore as I decided what fun it could be to put them all together into one political farce - and so the idea of "Roman in the Gloaming" was born.

The introduction of each act with an appropriate tune proved to be quite a task but it worked out well in the end. The real fun was to cast the play and then to see each of my friends grow in their parts, making each one funnier than the next. The costumes were the final touch, and if I have one lasting memory of all the practices it was how much I laughed and enjoyed those times. The audience on the night was wonderful and winning just about every award, from Best Script and Best Director to Best Decor, Set, Costume and Sound made all the weeks of effort very, very worthwhile!

This year we decided to produce an old favourite, South Pacific. We held the auditions for the main parts in October 1994 with Joanne Wakefield being chosen as Nellie, Stefano Marani as Emile, Karlo Glorioso as Cable and Tracey Habib as Bloody Mary. We started practising in the first week of January 1995 and worked hard for three days a week until the performance went on in the first week of May. Ms Hofmeyr and her team of Art pupils worked hard to get the decor ready in time for the production. We went on stage on the 3rd of May, fully prepared and had the time of our lives.

The scene for the musical is set during World War Two, on a South Pacific island, with American, Australian and British doctors, nurses and soldiers, based on this island. An American nurse, Nellie, falls in love with a French planter, Emile, but as all love stories go, something happens to make things complicated!

What is always notable, however, about putting on a Major Production, is the spirit of co-operation it fosters between staff, pupils and parents.

Bryanston High School prides itself for stimulating a unique cultural creativity through the development and application of dramatic skills, technical skills and creative writing of monologues and plays. Through constant development and maintenance of high standards the pupils involved in drama and cultural activities develop strong individual identities, convincing language skills and creative and astute writing techniques.

During the course work sessions, drama pupils displayed an exciting integration of the dramatic elements and creativity of great potential. Utilising the Media Centre resources, scripts and various make-up and theatrical costume techniques, the junior pupils showed a sensitive and observant ability of people in developing an imaginary character of their own choice.

Four original plays written by pupils were received for the House Plays, showing that Bryanston High pupils rise to the challenge when opportunities are presented. The best production of an original script was entered into the R.A.P.S. Inter-High Plays Festival and suitably impressed the adjudicators for its keen awareness of character and topic. The Eaton trophy is awarded to the playwright who most closely formats their creative ideas to the essential elements and structures of a conventional play and yet another original script meets with external appreciation. The best playwright was selected on concise adaptation of a published story and clear and concise format.

Strong acting qualities, adaptable characterization, flexible use of accents and voice production, together with good self-discipline in mastering large scripts, selected the best dramatic performers who were entered into the Randburg Eisteddfod where many diplomas and gold placings were received.

KALEIDOSCOPE EVENING

Musical skills are nurtured in a variety of styles ranging from classical to contemporary and the Dramatic Society may boast a few rising stars who have mastered mature presentation and performance skills together with a uniquely strong development of self confidence.

The development of a group of keen students in lighting and sound techniques allows us to promote technical management and creativity of the pupils' use of sound and lighting techniques in all our dramatic and culturally associated functions. Reliable and hardworking pupils are considered for these positions, thus holding true to the standards set by the Kruse Trophy.

Traditional dance, creative movement, choreography and synchronisation to music are some of the criteria which select dancers for the various dramatic events which support dance.

Thoughtful imagination and vivid creativity in poster, programme and ticket design, together with decor and properties design and production has set a high standard according to conventional regulations. The best posters for "South Pacific" were framed and donated to the school, thus commencing a traditional record which the Dramatic Society would like to maintain.

All participants in the House Plays Musical and Cultural Evening, Kaleidoscope, suitably impressed the audience with their displays of talent, varied cultural expression and self confidence.

This year, the Dramatic Society changed the format of the Annual Cultural Evening somewhat, to one of incorporated dramatic scopes, and it was aptly named the Kaleidoscope Evening.

The Head Prefects had the challenging task of compering for the evening and did so superbly!

The evening took the form of a large variety of acts, ranging from poetry presentations to some rather humorous mime acts. All of the acts were of a extremely high standard, with many of the participants having achieved Gold Certificates at the second Annual Randburg Eisteddfod.

The evening was a great success, thoroughly enjoyed by the participants and audience alike.

Hard work and dedication were the order of the day as Bryanston High School pupils responded to the challenge of this year's Randburg Eisteddfod. No fewer than eighty pupils entered a great variety of categories including Dance, Mime, English and Afrikaans Poetry, Choral Verse, Dramatised Prose, Public Speaking and Sight Reading. Their efforts were rewarded by extremely pleasing results. The majority of the pupils received Gold Certificates (which reflect 80% - 94%), but special mention must be made of the following pupils who each achieved a diploma (95% - 100%) in their respective items:

|------------------|---|--------------------|
| Philip Tomlinson | - | Public Speaking |
| Stuart Benfield | - | Public Speaking |
| Angelique Emdin | - | Mime |
| Tracey Fletcher | - | English Poetry |
| Candice Waterer | - | English Poetry |
| Tessa Blane | - | Sight Reading |
| Stefano Marani | - | Dramatic Monologue |

It is not, however, the excellence of our performance which is so gratifying; it is the fact that so many pupils worked so hard and displayed tremendous enthusiasm and interest in this, a true celebration of the Arts.

RAPS INTER-HIGH ONE ACT PLAYS FESTIVAL

Staff responsible: Miss E. Buist and Mr M. Bowie

Producer and director: Tracey Habib

Co-directors: Amy Evans and Jo-Ann Reed

Actors: Tracy Fletcher, Stefano Marani, Karlo Glorioso, Joanne Wakefield, Raquel Feliciano, Samantha Barichiev, Stephen Leepile, Olivia Vermaak, Yvette Smith, Tarryn Stead, Tessa Blaine, Claire Hoets and Candice Waterer

Backstage: Kelly Scott, Jo-Ann Reed, Rochelle de Sousa, Nicole Edmondson, Diane Freeman, Peter Roeters van Lennep, Debbie Loffell, Taryn Cassidy, Lee Hitge, Michelle du Plooy, Kirsten Edwards, Candine Smith and Anabella Simoes, Olimpia Staszczuk

Sound and lighting: Amy Evans, David Wilson, Harry Lomas and David Phillips

Decor, Props and make-up: Amy Evans, Penny Chenery, Jo-Ann Reed and Tracey Habib

Bryanston High's entry this year was The Dawning, written by two of our pupils, Jo-Ann Reed and Amy Evans. It concerns an elderly woman who is dying and begins to reflect upon her life. The theme of the play urges the audience to appreciate life and what it offers and to be grateful for memories. Our decor was designed to focus attention on the actors and actresses and we were very successful with our lighting and sound technique. The cast put many long hours into this production, and we managed to overcome the difficulties of an unfamiliar theatre and lighting system.

The adjudicators were pleased with the play and the play received three merit awards. The merit awards went to Stephen Leepile for acting, Tracy Fletcher for acting and Jo-Ann Reed and Amy Evans as playwrights.

Congratulations is extended to the crew for a pleasing performance. I am sure this experience has taught all involved much more about the art of drama.

 Absent: J. Bennett (Director)

Staff Responsible:

- Mercury: Miss T. Bennett, Mrs C. Swart and Mrs S. Snyman.
Apollo: Mrs M. Schumann and Mrs C. Ludik.
Neptune: Ms L. Wilkinson and Mr B. Bibb.
Jupiter: Miss E. Buist and Miss M. Dos Santos.

The curtain opens and there in front of your very eyes is a stage, transformed. Is it a house or a forest? Could it be a garden or a restaurant? The play goes on with nail-biting suspense. What will go wrong?

This year the Inter-House plays went on without a hitch. On the first night we had our Junior plays, which were of an incredibly high standard. They ranged from passengers on an aeroplane, with a hijack taking place, to an old lady reminiscing on her life, to those very strange, out of the ordinary people we call the Adam's family, to scouts and guides on camp in the middle of a forest. Apollo's directors Amy Evans and Jo-Ann Reed wrote a wonderful play entitled "The Dawning" and they walked off with the best playwright award. The Mercury play "Benny and the Woodwose" directed by Justine Bennett and Joanne Wakefield, won five of the awards, including Best Production.

The Senior plays went on the following night, in true Bryanston spirit. These plays ranged from true comedy to serious dramas.

The cast of the winning Junior House Play - Mercury

Mercury Senior opened the evening's events but were not to be seen, or so we thought, with their satirical T V - minded play "Being visible". Apollo followed with the well-known dramatic play "The man with the bowler hat". Nicholas Whittall played the very silent, but amusing, onlooker. The very hilarious "Simpsons" was performed by Neptune. Tarryn Stead, excellently cast in the part of Marge, walked away with the Best Actress award. Last but not least, was the winning play of the evening "Roman in the Gloman", performed by Jupiter. A touch of politics and a dab of good South African humour led this outstanding play, written and directed by Yvette Smith, to victory.

The wider our global network...

...the deeper our roots in Africa.

We take great pride in the fact that Interwil has unsurpassed quality in the people who grade the world's finest quality hardwoods at source for us, making sure our customers always get the standard they have come to expect from us as a group.

And we draw strength from the knowledge that our handling and shipping facilities are among the finest in the world. Our global communications network ensures we keep constantly in touch with timber we have in transit.

But despite our worldwide links and global communications, Interwil remains very much a South African company, serving the needs of the southern tip of Africa and dedicated to true customer service. We have never forgotten where our roots lie.

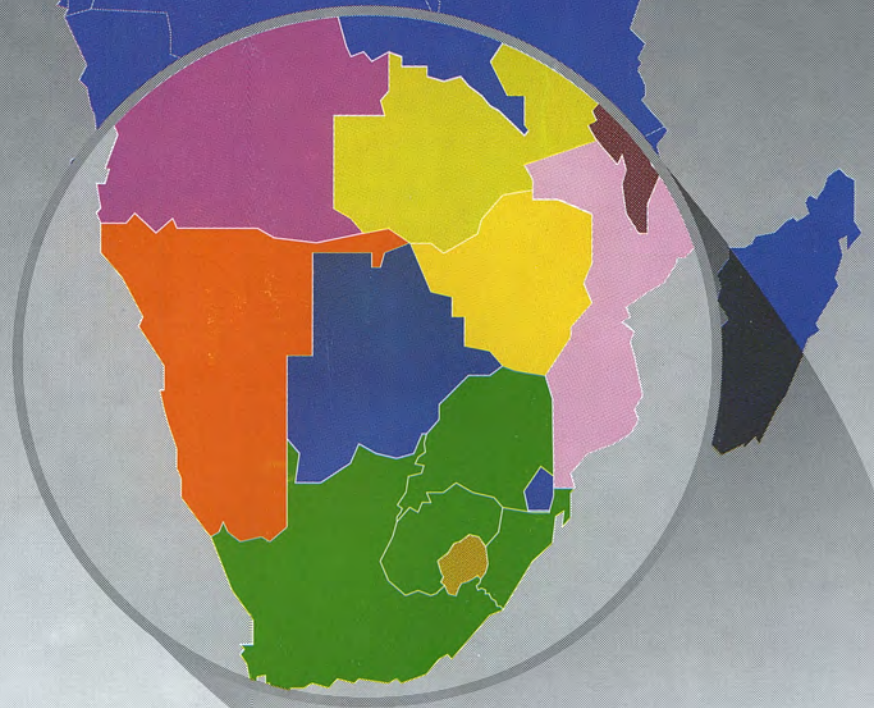

It is a philosophy which has made us South Africa's leading procurer of bulk timber. And one, we trust, will keep us doing what we know best ... being the best.

HEAD BOYS' ADDRESS

Good evening Mr Paige, honoured guests, staff, parents and my fellow matrics.

I'd like to take the opportunity this evening to thank a number of special people here who have made this year possible. To begin with I'd like to thank Mr Paige and Mr Visser, with the deepest respect for all the guidance and support they have shown the seniors, and myself, especially whilst working so closely with them this year.

Secondly I would like to express my sincere appreciation to our standard controllers, the dedicated Mrs Buchan and Mr Breytenbach. We will always remember the energy and effort you used in developing us into the young adults that sit before you this evening. Also our appreciation goes to the teachers and sports coaches who have "grinned and beared" the year. The patience of these people will be the basis of our successes outside of the classroom.

The work of Mr Waite will not be forgotten as he prepared our sportsfields and kept the school grounds in immaculate condition.

We would like to thank the parents for their crucial support throughout the most important year of our lives, as well as the Governing Body and Parents' Association who have put timeless effort into making everything we've done, a success. Thank you. Petra, thank you for all your support; you taught me a great deal about patience and collaboration.

To Philip, Kirsty and the prefects, congratulations on a successful year as role models for the school.

Lastly I'd like to thank our VIP'S here this evening, the seniors of 1995, for their perseverance throughout the year in all they did.

It has been said "A poor man is not one without a cent, a poor man is one without a dream."

At the beginning of the year it was decided that the prefect theme for 1995 would be "up where we belong."

In this year we have kept our school's name up there and successfully lifted every other aspect of Bryanston. As Victor Hugo, the French Philosopher said, "There is nothing like a dream to create the future."

It has also been a great year for our country in terms of its sporting achievements such as the unforgettable win of the Springboks during the Rugby World Cup.

"We shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills, we shall never surrender." Winston Churchill. We too followed that pledge.

Excellent seasons were had by all teams in our sporting arena. Particular mention must be made of Swimming and Athletics. It is not often a school is able to dominate in both these sports in the same year. But this year Bryanston High rose to the challenge as it so often does and managed to win the A League Inter-High Swimming as well as win the B League Inter-High Athletics, which promotes us to the A League next year.

Not only has the school been nationally recognised for its sport but also for its academic results and not only for previous matric results but also in terms of Olympiads.

This year we have had three pupils finish in the top 15 pupils nationally in the English and Afrikaans papers, earning them each an Honours Blazer. Adding to those three pupils there are seven other recipients who achieved Honours Blazers, which has broken the record of the most amount of Honours Blazers received in a Year.

"If you have a dream, follow it. If you catch a dream, nurture it and if your dream comes true ... celebrate it."

The road ahead is full of uncertainty for some and for others it is full of utmost clarity. However the future appears to be now, do not despair because life has already chosen you for its purpose. "Nature gives you two ends, one to sit on and one to think with. Your success or failure is dependant on the one you use most." If, however, you don't take life responsibly it shall show you no responsibility - and no-one can go through his entire life burden-free.

"If you love sleep, you will end in poverty. Stay awake, work hard and there will be plenty to eat" (Prov: 20:13)

The past is described by Alfred Housman as "The happy highways where I went and cannot come again."

Cherish your last moments at our school and know you have made your mark.

Instead of closing with figurative poetry I've chosen a statement by Abraham Lincoln.

"I will study and prepare myself and then someday my chance will come." And so too will yours.

Ashley Vivian

HEAD GIRLS' ADDRESS

Good evening, Mr and Mrs Paige, Mr Visser, Guests of Honour, Parents, Staff, Seniors and Ladies and Gentleman.

This evening marks the end of a chapter in each one of our lives, be it parents or Seniors. The culmination of twelve years of schooling is about to become a part of our past. However, even though that may be so, it is most definitely not going to be something which will leave our memories or the memories of our parents who have made the past twelve years of schooling possible for us.

I can remember the first day of Standard Six, the apprehension, the excitement, the daunting task of crossing that bridge all on my own and, of course, all the new faces. But though that was almost five years ago, it is something which I believe is definitely never going to leave my mind and the minds of many others sitting here this evening. We have most certainly come a long way this evening, Seniors. 1995 has been a wonderful year for one and all. Bryanston has shone from beginning to end and I am proud to be able to say that we, as the Seniors, were able to lead the school through a year of tremendous achievements, such as winning the A League Swimming Gala and regaining our rightful place in the A League Athletics.

The future is all that lies ahead for us after we have walked out of the gates of Bryanston High. It is a future which we can all look forward to; the road which we follow is now up to us. Will it be a road of success? We hope. A road of joys or a road of experiences, which will in turn make us stronger for future years? That is, of course, something which only time can answer. Joan MacIntosh once said, 'Accept the pain, cherish the joys, resolve the regrets then can come the best of benedictions, if I had my life over, I'd do it all the same.'

This year has had some wonderful occasions which will make valuable memories for us, such as our Matric Dance which was absolutely spectacular and the Fun-A-Galore, which proved to be an occasion where we could see our teachers and some parents in a totally different light. It will most certainly be one of the more humorous memories to accompany all the others. We have been fortunate enough to have our high school careers at a school such as Bryanston High. To the dedicated Staff, under the expertise of Mr Paige, who have given us so many dedicated hours and so much encouragement throughout the five years, we'd like to thank you all. To Mrs Buchan and Mr Brytenbach for all they have done as our Standard Controllers, it is greatly appreciated and I'm certain all the de-merits will be happily forgotten.

To the Tuckshop Mothers who provided us with food during breaks and also after sporting fixtures, a big thank you. It is also important to note that the people right from the Ground Staff to the Secretaries made a valuable contribution to our lives, in a quiet, yet very important way. I would like to thank you all for that. I would like to thank Mr Paige for his guidance which was so willingly given to the Head Prefects throughout the year. It is always a pleasure being guided by someone for whom we all have such great respect. To Mr Visser, for his constant back-up and support of the Prefect body and the inspiration to do our best - our deepest thanks to you, Sir. I would like to thank the entire Prefect Body for their dedication and constant support throughout the year. We achieved all that we set out to and managed to stay 'up where we belong.'

To Ashley, my greatest thanks to you for being a wonderful Head Boy and not only for that, but for the friendship and continuous support which was always there from the beginning to the end. I wish you every success in the future and may you be rewarded for all that you have given to others. To Kirsty, for all your constant support and friendship through the years, I thank you. To Philip, for your insight and knowledge when it was needed the most, thank you.

Seniors, this is my wish for you by Patience Strong: "Strength for the task you have in hand; Time for the lovely things you've planned; Hope to sustain you day by day; Laughter and sunshine all the way; Wisdom to guide and light to lead; Courage and faith in the time of need; Health never failing; Friends to bless and Love to complete your happiness."

Before I conclude, there are two very special people I would like to thank this evening, for their love and constant guidance which I have had the pleasure of following and for their never-ending faith in whatever I do. To my parents, the greatest thanks of all.

I hope that these words which I have compiled over a period of time and have had the privilege of uttering this evening reflect my innermost feelings of our years at Bryanston High.

I leave you with a thought. What determines the course of a ship, big or small? What makes it possible to unlock the door of the largest safe? I know that this sounds very complicated, but it isn't at all. In the case of the ship, it is not the massive engine or the rudder mechanism, but a feather-light compass needle. And a few grams of metal in the form of a key unlocks the largest safe door. So Seniors as you can see, what I'm saying is, that we have received all the means to stay on course and to unlock the doors of our future lives from Bryanston High. I wish you every success for your futures. Thank you.

Deputy Head boy, Philip Tomlinson.
29. Welsh Cup - Dux Leadership Award - Girls:
This award is made for the highest leadership position for girls in the school - to our Head Girl, Petra Spoerk

30. Welsh Cup - Dux Leadership Award - Boys:
This award is made for the highest leadership position held by a boy in the school - to our Head Boy, Ashley Vivian 31. Cum Laude Awards:
The criterion for this award is the achievement of academic colours for five successive years. These recipients will be awarded a gold medal.
Congratulations Michaela Gebhard, Karlo Glorioso, Philip Tomlinson, Monica Michalczyk and Joanne Wakefield
32. Esprit de Corps Trophy :
This award is decided on by the Standard Ten pupils themselves. It is presented to the Senior pupil who, in the opinion of his or her peers, best epitomises the spirit or "esprit de corps" at Bryanston High School by virtue of his or her commitment to the motto: "one for all, all for one".
Girls: Tracey Habib
Boys: Craig Napier
34. Special Awards:
Prefect's Trophy
This award goes to a person who, throughout the year, has shown excellent dedication to the duties and responsibilities of the office. He is modest, yet immaculate in his own behaviour and appearance. He will never turn a blind eye even in the most difficult of situations whether involving juniors or fellow matrics. We appreciate his loyalty, commitment and integrity and it is a pleasure to make the Prefect of the Year's award to Nick Winstone.
35. Headmaster's Award
The recipient is one of those special young people who have the courage and perseverance to dismiss adversity as a mere challenge. Five years of full commitment in the sporting and cultural activities of the school masks a disability borne with quiet stoicism. The recipient does the right things for the right reasons. His involvement is for the good of his school. His inner strength and maturity are evident in his refusal to allow disappointment to deter him, in the decency of his values, in the consistency of his positive demeanour. His destiny is to a pillar of his community - a man admired, valued and envied for his stalwart qualities. The 1995 recipient is

I DON'T FEEL IT ...

"This is the end."
and yet, in saying it,
the effect is lost.

This is the end
-Nope.
I thought I might be able to revive
The seriousness I felt when I said it.
I was wrong: It's dead for now.

I wonder when I will...
Feel it seriously.
Maybe later,
Later...

It's not like it's that serious,
Anyway.
We're all clutching sentimentality.
Like it was our life.

I've always felt like I was watching Something.
I'm not part of,
Watching people.

But suddenly,
I'll become part of it,
When our faces are wet
With the fruit of this sentimentality

And for a moment,
I'm reminded of the God-given
Ability
To do good
And saddened instantly
By the knowledge
That many people hide it.

School has been a large Chunk
Of our Lives.
And now it's the end.
And again, in saying it,
The effect is lost.

ENGLISH CREATIVE WRITING COMPETITION

THE FACE OF FEAR

The English Creative Writing Competition 1995 once again revealed and confirmed the creative abilities of our pupils. The competition consisted of the following categories:

- i) Essay
- ii) Play
- iii) Poetry

and a junior and senior winner was elected in each category.

The results were as follows:

- | | | | |
|------|---------------|---|--------------------|
| i) | Junior Essay | - | Shannon Cawood |
| ii) | Junior Play | - | Pheteni Mokoatlong |
| iii) | Junior Poetry | - | Shannon Cawood |
| iv) | Senior Poetry | - | Simon Searra |

Some of the entries can be read here.
FACES

A lone figure
Stripped of dignity
Stands vulnerable,
Naked before the hungry, bitter crowd
Faces blur, swell, become bloated
Feeding on the power of the masses
Faces mold
Become indistinguishable
Forming an ocean of hatred
The tide of anger rises, swells
Becomes deafening
As pleas for mercy go unheard

The wave crashes and Throws itself against the Solitary column of rock
The waters subside and recede - Almost dissolving
Leaving horror and revulsion
In their wake
Yihla moja yihla moja
Spirit come down, spirit come down

The man is dead
I fall on my knees
my face to the sun
May God have mercy on me

Simon Searra 8A
(Senior Poetry Winner)

As the shining orbs
Deepen further into the skeletal sockets
A crystalline bead forms upon his brow
It slowly traverses
The pock-marked surface of his terror-stricken countenance
The stench of his own fear
Clogging his nostrils
He seems to search for the hint of a shadow upon his gaunt features
Finding none,
He returns to the flight.

THE FACE

Simon Searra 8A

A rivulet of crystal sadness
Punctuates a tear-streaked face
Caressing timeless furrows,
Rolling languorously through sun-beaten pathways
Etched by the tireless hands of time

The tear climbs ever earthward
To strike her surface
And shatter
A silent cry of defiance
Against the unbearable inhumanity of being

FACES

Black, White
they're all the same
it doesn't matter
in Life's light!

Shannon Cawood 7E

LET'S PLAY

As I watched and saw them play
 It crossed my mind that it might never have been this way.
 Two children might not have had such a good friend;
 on the course of history it did depend.
 The song of joy they sang might not have been there while they ran.
 Bound by friendship they danced with glee as the one said to the other, "I'm glad you're you and I'm me!"
 They sat on the green grass as they talked,
 hand in hand they peacefully walked.
 It's sad to think this delightful scene once may never have been if their parents had not changed their ways-
 Apartheid - gone are those awful days!
 Black and white now live together helping each other, no matter the weather.

HOKKIETOER DURBAN TOE - APRIL 1995

Sewe en vyftig meisies het per bus sesuur in die oggend op sewende April vertrek om verskillende hokkie tegnieke te leer en toe om hulle in wedstryde te gebruik.

Toe ons by die Holiday Inn, Garden Court opgedaag het, moes ons eie tasse en die tasse van ons 'skiewie masters' binne dra.
 Ons was vier per kamer en ek was saam met Wendy Stevens, Samantha Bunting en Pippa Gregory.

Toe ons, ons klere in die kaste gebêre het, het ons strand toe geloop om te swem.

Die volgende drie dae het ons net hokkie gespeel. Die onderwysers was professioneel en ons het wedstryde teen die eerste spanne van die ander skole gespeel. Op die tweede laaste dag, was daar 'n toernooi en dit was blykbaar dat ons teen hierdie tyd baie geleer het.

Op twaalfde April het ons douvoordag opgestaan. Ons moet daardie dag die reis terug Johannesburg toe oorneem. Dit was ook my verjaarsdag en my vriende het vir my 'n silwer armband en 'n sjokolade-koek gegee.

Alhoewel ons baie moeg was, was dit 'n aangename toer.

Dankie onderwysers.

UN BEAU PAYSAGE

*Du village nous voyons un beau paysage,
 Les montagnes sont couvertes d'arbres.
 Il y a beaucoup d'arbres différents:
 Comme le pin et le châtaignier,
 Ou le sapin et le peuplier.
 Ces arbres ont aussi beaucoup d'oiseaux:
 Comme des alouettes
 Ou des roitelets.
 Un ruisseau traverse les montagnes,
 C'est un beau rempli de poissons:
 Comme des truites
 Ou des sardines.
 Ces montagnes sont le Drankensberg.*

VISIONS

As I lay down and prepare to sleep,
 I close my eyes, I am not strong; I am not weak.
 As I quietly say my prayers,
 I hear a churchmouse climb the stairs.
 I say, "Thank you for today,
 It was just as good as yesterday!"

Visions in my head collide
 All fears inside me quietly reside,
 To me wonderful dreams do come,
 They are of the morning and of the sun,
 They are of tears,
 and many happy years,
 They are of kind things said,
 They are of me painting the whole town red.

They are of pure luck and joy
 Special gifts, a shining new toy,
 They are a torrent of laughter babbling
 like a brook in spring,
 These are my visions of almost anything.

MOTHER!

I would like to explore some of the reasons that nice, normal people have for disliking their mothers. Mention the word "mother" to your common unsuspecting citizen, and he is often reduced to a quivering, unintelligible lump of fear, apprehension and probably worst of all, guilt.

Everybody knows that mothers are classic creators of guilt. Mothers remember that children are unformed, emotionally unstable, ignorant creatures. To make them feel secure, mothers must continually remind them of the things which they are denying themselves, on their account. They won't let them know they fainted twice in the supermarket from fatigue. But they'll make sure they know they're not letting their children know. Common catch phrases of the guilt-imposing mother? "I'm fine, it's nothing at all, it will go away" or "Don't worry about me" or the blunt "You'll be sorry".

A huge irritation for many, concerns the subject of mothers and food. Mothers believe in the Miraculous Power of the Raw Egg. If you are sick, the egg will make you well. If you are well, the egg won't make you sick. Mothers tend to take the extreme opinion with regards to food. Either you are overconsuming and each spoonful that enters your mouth is cynically greeted with an I'm-watching-and-you're-eating-too-much stare, or you're not eating enough. Mothers' definition of foods differ greatly from our own. Their "nourishing" is our fattening. Their "scarecrow" is anyone who weighs less than them. Their "sliver" is any portion of food smaller than a breadbox and their "shameful waste" is throwing out a teabag after using it once only.

Mothers are often seen as terrible hypocrites. If they had to compile a set of life rules, some of them would go something like this: Mom is the unquestionable authority in all areas of life. In the case that she may be wrong, she may place full blame on husband and children. Moms must teach self-restraint and self-control. In the occurrence that she herself cannot do this it must be recognised that she is allowed to because she is, after all, Mother.

There is an old Spanish proverb that says "The mother is a matchless beast". Well, matchless she may be, but beast she is not. I have highlighted some of the common grumbles people have about their mothers. But common grumbles are all they are.

Many of us do not stop to consider how important a role our mothers play for us. Motherhood in today's society is much more demanding than it was just a few years ago. Current trends towards legalised abortion, the gain of women's liberation and the competitive environment in which we live has ensured this.

Mothers today are often career women, and as they compete in what was in the past a man's world, phenomenal demands are made on them by their families and work environments. Yet, they cope. As Ed Nussault wrote: "If evolution really works, how come mothers have only two hands?".

Men, in particular, do not aptly express their feelings for their mothers. But those feelings are there, and they are strong. Adolf Hitler was a mother's boy. To the very end of his life he kept his mother's photograph with him and was said to gaze continually at it. Another man greatly affected by his mother was Winston Churchill. "My mother made a brilliant impression upon my childhood life. She shone for me like the evening star - I loved her dearly, but at a distance".

Mothers and daughters also share special bonds. They are inextricably linked together, with mothers having a profound effect on the lives of their daughters. I have heard daughters say that they don't love their mothers. I have never heard a mother say she doesn't love her daughter.

We are often cruel and uncomprehending when we deal with our mothers. Perhaps if we could understand them better, by liberating them along with other women, by seeing them more realistically and allowing them to be themselves, we will no longer have unrealistic expectations of them.

In a sense, it is more about letting mother down from her pedestal than anything else. I end with a simple poem written by Anne Taylor in 1804.

Who ran to help me when I fell?
And would some pretty story tell?
Or kiss the place to make it well?
My mother!

THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG

Once upon a time, in a land far away
 There lived a princess whose name was Faye
 She was rapturously beautiful, her figure divine
 And all the men in the kingdom, with her wished to dine.

But poor Faye was too fussy;
 she couldn't decide and found something wrong with each man whom she tried.

So down to the pool
 she went each fine day
 to play with her ball, golden like hay.

She'd throw the ball
 up in the air with a swish and each day she would chant
 her lifelong wish,

"Oh, magic spirit, in the depths of the pond,
 please help me by waving your magic wand.
 Let a charming prince, tall dark and handsome,
 come and carry me off to his star-studded mansion.

But take note: he must be a worthy acquisition.
 No dirty lout from a low class position".

It happened one day, by chance that she threw her ball in the pond where the white lilies grew.

"Oh, dear ! " she cried.
 Distressed and in tears,
 "My ball is gone,
 I'll be an old maid for years !"

"Never fear, my sweet maiden,
 help is at hand.
 I shall return your ball,
 for a gold wedding band."

Faye's bottom lip trembled, her eyes grew wide.
 Her face turned green
 with the vision she spied.

She peered into the bog
 and there on a leaf,
 sat an ugly green frog,
 Faye was filled with disbelief.

"It can't be ! " she cried.
 "Not you ! " she muttered.
 She tried to compose herself;
 stumbled and stuttered.

"Just a kiss from your lips and your wish will be granted.
 You will make me a prince,
 and we'll never be parted".

"Be my bride, " he croaked, forever and after! "
 But Faye was convulsing
 in fits of great laughter.

"Marry you ! " she snorted,
 "Why would I do that ? "
 You're green, you're slimy, you're ugly, you're fat ! "

"But it's not really me ! "
 He tried to convince.
 "Look into my soul.
 I'm really a prince ! "

Kind frog that he was,
 he returned her ball.
 She ran back to the castle
 not heeding his call.

Every sunny day after she went back to the pond,
 and of the green fellow,
 she soon became fond.

The years passed by
 and it happened one day
 Faye's young, little niece
 by the pond came to play.

And being less fussy
 and not so short-sighted,
 she kissed the green frog,
 who was immediately knighted.

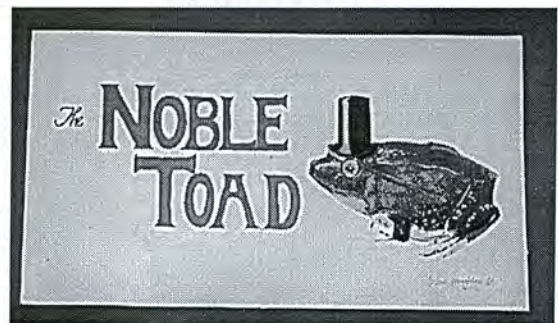

In a puff of smoke,
 to Faye it grew clear,
 she'd missed out on love
 for many a year.

The prince and princess
 In happiness stayed and alas for poor Faye,
 she remained an old maid.

For the rest of her time
 in that far away land,
 Faye lived with the thought of no wedding band.

The moral of the story:
 when opportunity calls,
 take a chance; you don't know
 you may get more than a ball

HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW

From the start, it is part of you. You nurture it, guide it, help it through its tough beginning. You love it without knowing it - unconditionally. Everything you do concerns it. It limits your abilities, yet opens the door to a whole new world you hadn't realised existed. And it does all of this so innocently, so unwittingly, so peacefully. It unfolds, from a tiny seed, into a beautiful, gentle, loving flower.

After nine months of giving, you finally see the one who, for so long, has changed your life. For so long you didn't know each other, yet knew each other intimately. The tiny seed which had taken over a part of your body was finally ready to show its face - a pink, wrinkled, serene face, unaware of the hardships of the world, only needing its mother's love.

Then it begins: the sleepless nights, the changing of dirty nappies, the warm milk being splattered over your shoulder. Your eyes become heavy, you turn pale and are constantly tired. Just when you think you can't take anymore, he looks up at you and smiles. A ray of sunshine breaks through the dark clouds of gloom and it all seems worth it.

As time passes, you are always there next to him, teaching him his first word, guiding him on his first step, being his friend. You begin to develop an unconditional love for him, and he for you. You try to keep him as unaware of the world's hardships as he was when you first looked at him. You try to keep him innocent, yet you have to teach him the way of the world.

However, nature slowly takes him away from you. On the first day of nursery school, you stop walking with him, and take a step sway, leaving him to brave the unknown alone, yet always aware that you are there. You begin to realise you are losing your child. Yet, he still shares his secrets with you, brings his pictures home for you, still loves you. He means so much to you, and you mean so much to him.

The following years seem to go by so quickly, and the tiny pink baby you remember grows up. He goes to school, he makes his own friends. He goes to parties, brings home girlfriends and leads a life which you begin to feel excluded from. Yet, there are times when a mother's love is the only remedy and he seeks your advice. The child you once knew is alive within the man.

And so, as time goes by, the step you take away from your child becomes greater as you leave him to learn life's lessons for himself. But it never grows too wide for you to extend a helping hand or a reassuring pat on the back.

Children don't disappear into adulthood - the lives of parent and child are constantly entwined. Sometimes we have to rearrange the setting, but the two never become isolated from each other.

MEMORIES

Memories of a life written ...
 If everything I possessed was taken from me
 The only thing I'd have left would be Remembrance of things past:
 Five years of Fun, Friendship, Security and Me
 Forever I thought it would last.

Tomorrow, Today will be a memory too
 So enjoy the present, never let it be blue,
 Always to yourself be true.
 Classes, matches, productions, Friends and you
 Will I remember years from now,
 Every moment and every row.

Never let others dampen your way
 Tomorrow they will only be a memory of yesterday.
 To your Friends, be unselfish and true
 For when your memories begin to fade
 It is your Friends, who stick to you like glue;
 If you have Friends, you have life made.

Your memories will over time, inevitably grow dim
 But to let your friends also disappear with time
 Is not only a disservice to yourself but a sin;
 A life without friends is not worth a dime.
 Memories and Friends, the most important assets you possess
 Your life without them would be dull and a complete mess.

TRAPPED

Have you ever felt those walls crushing you?
 Those walls that suck your last living breath out of your being?
 Trapped...nowhere to run...nowhere to hide.
 Heading towards you steadily no giving up where to turn?
 That is the question on the lips that are now silent.

Just watching the impending doom - taking up the space for new life, for new hope.
 Hope was that last emotion that seeped out of you like fresh blood;
 the dread,
 the hate
 the anger.

The confusion of belonging has always been there and now the belonging is confused and it is you who is stuck between those walls.
 Who wishes it next? Is it you?

SUDDENLY THE EARTH ERUPTED AND THE FORM OF LIFE BEGAN.

It is a word that comes up in everyday situations or conversations. Whether it be in the North Pole or the South Pole, whether it is about the news on television or the new kid in town, it is everywhere. Life is what we live, the places we go, the people we meet. It is all around and will never leave us, until we leave it.

No one really knows for sure where or when Life began, but some have ideas and a few even have proof that it began before the birth of Christ. It could have started when God said 'Let there be man.' Or it could have come about when apes were created and from there we developed through their looks and lifestyle. I am not too sure how our ancestors were made but I believe we developed from apes.

Now for the question that bothers me the most. Where do I fit in Life? Do I have a particular role to play - before I die? Through positive thinking I have discovered that I must live the way in which my instincts tell me. I must be myself! I am only fourteen years old and I have my whole life ahead of me. Although I am being pressured by many people to start thinking about my future career, it does not worry me in the least. I consider myself a caring person, and for long time my mind had been made up. I am going to be a psychologist.

I am a lucky person, as well. I live in a house, I have a roof over my head, I have people who love and care for me. There are many people who don't have homes, they are out of food, and they are not loved, but sometimes they are the ones who put themselves in that situation. I wish I could help people like that but unfortunately I don't have the strength. I play hockey, and I do athletics, I listen to music and I'm quite sociable. Those are my qualities and Life has produced these opportunities for me to enjoy. I have fun watching what is happening in Life and trying to make new discoveries and to think of the different possibilities which life presents. I want to get married and have children; maybe Life will lend a hand in achieving those goals.

Many things happen during Life. Sports events like the Olympic Games are held every fourth year, a Nobel Peace Prize is handed to an achiever annually and a new life is brought to Earth every three minutes. I have experienced many peculiar things during the time that I have been alive, but I would say the most important and exciting part was when my aunt was pregnant with my baby cousin, Kyle. Every day was a new experience; either he would kick or turn around. It is amazing to think how a bunch of tiny cells can turn into a living human being.

I think Life is the most important and amazing thing that is happening. Good and bad things occur in Life but remember, everything is done for a reason and next time you are having a wonderful time, stop and think about how lucky you are.

I MARCH TO A DIFFERENT DRUMBEAT

It's five-twenty-five on Tuesday the twenty first of March 1978. Sally-anne Cooper is giving birth. She has toxemia and is semi-conscious. Mother and child have eight hours to pull through. After tedious efforts by Doctor Harrison and his nurses, a new, fragile body with a broken umbilical cord breathes in life. Natural selection.

A truly unique birth brought this small baby girl into a unique world. Ever since her childhood, the mystical girl did things differently to others. When all the other girls had long, curling pony-tails, she had a brush-cut. She knew that all she had to do to be like them was to put track-suit pants on her head and she too would have a long, curling pony-tail.

At the cheeky age of five, she became the flower queen. Her throne, made from rock, was smothered in reds, oranges and greens which gave the queen hours of joy and a tanned body as she insisted that Nature wore no clothes and being the flower queen, it was quite unexceptionable that she should cover herself up. What she never realised was, her daddy was leaving! However, the energetic young mind of this young lady was more concerned about what bed her father would use, than his departure.

The sound was ear-blasting, it seemed as if the sky had been shattered as the British Airways jumbo stampeded down the runway.

Her new home was amongst the snow, underneath the tallest green trees ever and surrounded by playful and extremely hungry squirrels. Unusually, they were not scary to the girl, simply friends who would play catches with her in exchange for nuts. She learned too, how to maypole dance, how to barn dance and do macrame.

Emily Lawrence 10B

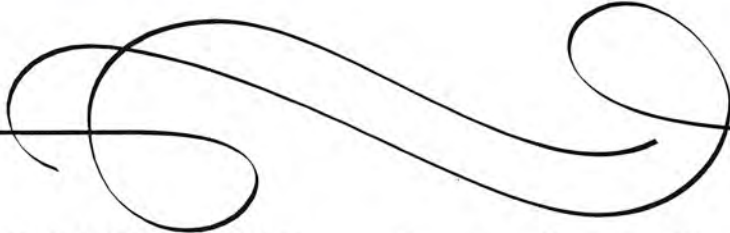

Dad was burning with anxiety when he saw his little girl come running to finally crash into his chest with excited laughter. She was home. Now she was misinterpreted even more than before. Her cousins cried out in hysteria when she spoke. What was so funny? Why was she different? It couldn't be helped picking up an accent after a whole year, you know.

Many different things happened to the flower queen; she could ride her B.M.X., her step-mother had been killed and her mother remarried.

Not much could have phased her now she thought, only to discover that almost all the people she had met and was close friends with, also had different lives. Cathy's brother had epileptic convulsions and Samantha was adopted.

She realised that people in the world were all similar, yet they all marched to a different drumbeat.

SLIPPING THROUGH MY FINGERS

MEMORIES OF MY CHILD'S WONDER YEARS!

"Go to sleep my precious one, Mommy also needs to sleep, you can't be hungry, Daddy just fed you. Come now, quietly"

She is six months old now. She's getting much better. In the beginning I was lucky if I had an hour's sleep; now I average about five hours per night. I watch her closely as she drifts into her dream world. Her eyes are now fighting to stay awake but eventually you see that deep blue being closed up by the silky touch of her eyelids.

How exciting it is waking up to sunlight seeping through the window onto your face and with the notion that today is the day that your dear baby, well not so much a baby anymore, experiences her first dat at "big school". The memory so dear in her mind today, but tomorrow, it will be yet another day, then another, until that blurry vision of her first year at school. I wish I could gather up my special memories and place them in a gold box which will be tucked away in a secret place for no-one to enjoy but me.

"Mommy, Mommy, I've never seen so many girls and boys like me before! We had lots of fun and my teacher is the greatest, she lets us paint and draw!" Well the excitement boomed all day until finally to my relief night fell and everyone closed their eyes and dreamed of amazing things.

"Please Mom, don't make me go to school, we have a maths test and I can't do maths, it's so boring, everything about school is boring, I hate it, please don't make me go." She never believes me now when I tell her how much she actually enjoyed school. Sweet sixteen and never a moment without a smile, followed by a moan of course!

"Mom, I'm going to visit my friend Tom, he lives about three streets away and I'm taking the car, if that's alright, but I won't be back for dinner and um, don't wait up."

So much for the times when I used to be in control and had the opportunity to say yes or no or plan things around myself.

These days I'm yet an image in her life, sometimes a bother, other times a best friend but most of the times a bank.

She moves out tomorrow; she and Tom are engaged now. As I place the covers over her young and excited body I see the glimmers of her childhood. I remember her rosy cheeked smile and her bouncy love for everyone and suddenly I realize I hold her golden box filled with memories but it has been slowly slipping through my fingers and now it falls to the ground, splintering, the memories float around with no meaning or purpose, they are just there waiting to be caught up and remembered again.

For the last time I have her all to myself and for the last time watch the deep blue being held shut, recovering in order to be able to absorb all the moments still to come.

WAR

War is the ultimate form of death
 It has no odour
 It has no breath
 And most of all it has no friends

LIFE

Life is a mystery
 It contains many vibes
 It has many emotions
 And no one will ever understand it

DEATH

Death is pure fear
 It makes no noise
 It has no feelings but hate
 And all it brings is misery and tears

A DAY

As aurora awoke, the shimmering sunshine enveloped the hunchbacked outcrops of the mountains.

A mocking bird sang its first song, and the sweet uncharted melody filled the age-old volcano.

The sun rose higher into the blue-black sky. Its colour changed from peaceful pastel to fierce and violent shades.

This was calmed by the serene gaiety of blueness of a hundred oceans turned, tumbled and thrown into one. Flowers opened and bees darted like sharpened arrows from one flower to another.

Birds swept like battleships preparing for war. And rivers danced with glee.

What was the occasion for such splendour ?

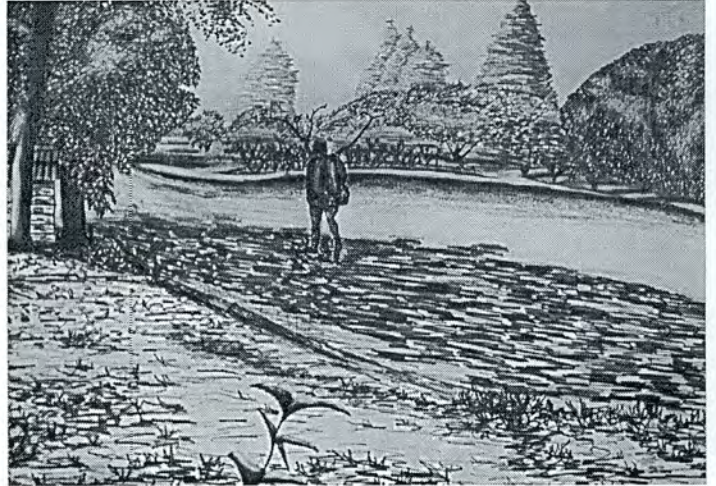

NOTHING ! In this world of pristine mosaic of landscape - it was just another day !
