Day 18
Newfoundland

Set sail on an unforgettable 18-day journey from Reykjavík to St. John's, tracing the paths of Vikings, Inuit communities, and Arctic explorers. Along the way, discover ancient settlements, breathtaking fjords, and the dramatic beauty of Greenland, Labrador, and Newfoundland—each stop revealing the rich cultures and wild landscapes of the North Atlantic.

DAY 1

Reykjavík

Explore the World's Northernmost Capital

Your adventure begins in Reykjavík.

Reykjavík is a laid-back city of art, culture and history. Exploring this delightful place is well worth your time. Stroll past the boutiques and outdoor shops along Laugavegur, gaze in awe at the striking Hallgrímskirkja Church and drop into the fascinating Reykjavík Art Museum.

If you have time, we recommend booking a Pre-Program with us to discover some of Iceland's natural highlights before your cruise begins.

DAY 2

Nuuk

The Capital of Greenland

You'll have an early start today as we depart Reykjavík and fly to Nuuk.

Nuuk is Greenland's colorful and compact capital. With a population of fewer than 20,000, it's a striking mix of old and modern buildings. If you're more a fan of the former, head down to the old part of town by the waterfront, where you'll find Nuuk Cathedral and the statue of Hans Egede standing on a hill. In the water below, you'll see the beautiful Mother of the Sea statue.

Your expedition ship awaits you in the harbor. After being welcomed aboard and collecting your complimentary expedition jacket, it's time to settle into your cabin and enjoy your first dinner aboard.

DAY 3

At Sea

PREPARE FOR ADVENTURE AS WE HEAD SOUTH

While sailing toward South Greenland, you'll have time to get acquainted with the AECO rules and recommendations regarding operations and landings in the fragile Arctic environment. Make sure you attend these fascinating and important presentations.

You can also enjoy the state-of-the-art ship facilities and join the first lectures on topics such as ornithology, geology and culture. You'll also learn about the Citizen Science projects we run on board the ship.

The coast of Greenland is carved by many fjords. Depending on the conditions, in the afternoon we may be able to cruise deep into one of our favorites, Kuannersooq Fjord, as it's known in Greenlandic, or Kvanerfjord in Danish.

DAY 4-5

South Greenland

Kujalleq and The Viking Settlements

South Greenland offers curious travelers an intriguing blend of Norse history, Inuit culture and breathtaking landscapes. You can explore Viking settler ruins here and discover colorful small towns, marveling at awe-inspiring fjords, mountains, glaciers and icebergs along the way. Combining rich cultural experiences with thrilling outdoor adventures, both history enthusiasts and nature lovers will be enraptured.

Over the next two days, our possible destinations and landing sites include:

- Kujataa UNESCO World Heritage Site
- Qassiarsuk
- Brattahlíð (Qassiarsuk)
- Hvalsey
- Qaqortoq

DAY 6-7

Relax at Sea

SAILING TO THE GATES OF THE TORNGAT MOUNTAINS

After a few days of exploration, enjoy a day at sea and prepare for what lies ahead as we continue westward along the route of the Vikings, across Baffin Bay to the rugged coast of Labrador.

Enrichment at Sea

Why not listen to another fascinating presentation from the Expedition Team, perhaps on biology, ornithology or the history of the region? They'll continue to entertain and educate with their series of lectures and demonstrations. There will be storytelling, art and craft workshops, and perhaps even some singing. In September at this latitude, there may also be the opportunity to see the northern lights. If they appear in the middle of the night, be prepared for a gentle wake-up call!

---

Witness the Immense Torngat Mountains

Welcome to Canada! After clearing customs, we'll be joined by park rangers who'll accompany us as we explore Torngat Mountains National Park over the coming days.

Meaning “place of spirits” in Inuktitut, the national park spans some 6,000 miles, extending from Saglek Fjord to Labrador's tip, and from the Atlantic coast to the Québec border. This wilderness is peppered with small glaciers, and it's home to polar bears and caribou. It also has a rich Inuit heritage of hunting and fishing.

While exploring this magnificent area, we hope to visit:

- Saglek Bay
- Nachvak Fiord
- Ramah

DAY 8-10

Northern Labrador

DAY 11-15

Labrador Coast

Echoes of Labrador

Cruising along the southern coast of Labrador, you'll spend five days exploring a region steeped in cultural heritage and historical depth. Discover the remnants of Moravian mission settlements, visit a once-thriving fishing village now preserved as a National Historic Site, and trace the legacy of Labrador's whaling era. As you navigate its scenic waterways, each stop offers a compelling glimpse into the resilient communities that once called this rugged coastline home.

Over the next five days, our potential destinations may include:

- Hebron
- Mugford Tickle
- Hopedale
- Battle Harbour
- Red Bay

Charming Newfoundland

Your cruise continues to the island of Newfoundland, where dramatic coastlines, peaceful bays, and lush forests create a stunning natural backdrop. Rich in history and culture, this region reflects a blend of Indigenous roots, Viking legends, and centuries of seafaring life. Colorful towns and warm local hospitality make it a memorable stop filled with both charm and character.

As we explore, you can delve into the island's past, from pioneering missionaries and early explorers to as far back as Viking settlers. Over the next two days, we hope to visit:

- St. Anthony
- UNESCO-listed L'Anse aux Meadows & Norstead
- Bonavista

DAY 18

St. John's

End Your Adventure on a Colorful Note

We say a fond farewell to our ship as we end our expedition in St. John's, Newfoundland's capital. As one of the oldest cities in North America, St. John's is nothing but charming. Colorful houses are etched into the steep and rugged hillside along the coast, and proud Cabot Tower on Signal Hill watches over the city from above. It's well worth exploring the city further if you have time before your onward journey.

Whatever your next steps are, you'll take with you a wealth of memories that will no doubt endure, along with experiences that will change the way you see the world.
