CHAMPAGNE, SPARKLING & ROSÉ

The story of Vieilles Vignes Françaises (VVF) began with English author Cyril Ray when he gave an advice to vinify a special wine from unique ungrafted pinot noir vines.

Following the wine's launch in 1974, VVF promptly became a collectible. Over the decades, its uniqueness and scarcity have made it one of the most sought-after and expensive champagnes. Moreover, and much to its credit, it has almost on its own established the reputation of the blanc de noirs champagne style and contributed greatly to the rise of the single-terroir champagne phenomenon.

At the Exposition Universelle of 1855 in Paris, Emperor Napoleon III asked each wine region to establish a classification. The historic 1855 Bordeaux classification stands as the single most important and famous classifications of any wine region in the world. Almost 160 years later, this historic document continues to stand the test of time, with almost no changes. The classification came up with a ranking of the best Bordeaux wines in five, unique Classé for the red wines. The wines included were all from Médoc, except for the already legendary Château Haut-Brion from Graves, which had to be included, due to its worldwide fame and the fact that it sold for as much, or more than the other first growth wines of the Médoc.
