Micro Mentor Texts

Penny Kittle

At a time when students' attention is being pulled in many directions, writing expert Penny Kittle shows us the power of helping them focus in and communicate clearly. She does that through the study of "micro mentor texts," excerpts from acclaimed books, and the decisions that authors make to craft those texts so they deeply engage readers. Kittle's book includes dozens of short texts and mini-lessons, as well as many practice opportunities for students and demonstration videos for teachers. 176 pages.

Grades 1–2

Chloé Wonders

Jamie Hector and Alaine Roberson

Introducing Chloé—a curious kid with a lot of heart. Based on the real-life daughter of actor Jamie Hector, Chloé asks questions most children wonder about and builds key social-emotional skills as she solves them with her family's help. She learns about various cultures, takes responsibility for her little brother and her cat, figures out how to handle stress in school, and more.

"And we would want good cat food to eat," says Chloé.
They look at Butter's food dish.
"Dad, I know what's wrong with Butter!" says Chloé.
Butter's dish is filled with Sajés's favorite sugary cereal.

Malika begins to comb Chloé's hair. "Your hair is soft and fluffy, but it's also nice and strong. Let's see what we can do."
Chloé looks through the pages of Malika's book.
She sees long blond hairstyles, curly red hairstyles, and straight black hairstyles.

The Science of Reading in Practice Series

We can draw upon and learn from quality research and practice. Focus on what we know works. Focus on purposefully guiding children to decode words, chunk words, and—most of all—read fluently, proficiently, and joyfully.
