Neuhaus' Pathway to CALT Certification

ENROLL TODAY!

Are you looking for an approved intervention for students with a consistent reading deficiency? Check out Neuhaus' Basic Language Skills.

Neuhaus Basic Language Skills (BLS)

is a scientific, research-based therapeutic curriculum designed for Tier 3 instruction. It is the core curriculum of the Dyslexia Specialist Preparation Program (DSPP) and based on an Orton-Gillingham approach and uses multisensory activities to build linkages between the visual, auditory, and kinesthetic-tactile senses.

Upon completion of all the requisites including coursework, practicums, and documented teaching hours, you are eligible to take the ALTA national exam to become a Certified Academic Language Practitioner (CALP) or a Certified Academic Language Therapist (CALT). The therapist level requires a master's degree.

Solutions for Effective Dyslexia Intervention

Our program provides specialized dyslexia intervention designed to enhance student competency to ensure mastery of the content to a degree of automaticity.

- Based on scientific research
- Developed for students to progress at their own pace
- Designed for students with special needs in learning to read and spell
- Effective with dyslexic or reading-disabled students
