University of Galway MBA

We define the mission of our MBA as: 'Developing globally talented leaders of vision, with regional edge.' We define our MBA regional edge as:

'The unique synergy of University of Galway expertise, delivery and focus combined with exceptional regional business enterprise and talent.'

The University of Galway MBA has a long tradition of success over the past five decades and has contributed substantially to management and leadership development in the region and nationally. Our students and alumni have successful careers in leading indigenous, multinational and public sector organisations across a broad array of industries and sectors

PROFESSOR ALMA MCCARTHY
Dean of J.E. Cairnes School of Business and Economics at University of Galway.

Welcome from the Director

Studying for an MBA equips you with the leadership skills required to navigate a rapidly changing business environment. Here at University of Galway, we have continued to innovate our MBA curriculum for over fifty years and we are immensely proud of the achievements of our graduates over that time. Many have gone on to achieve senior leadership and CEO positions or brought their organisations to new highs.

The University of Galway MBA is an AMBA-accredited, intensive, two-year part-time programme that transforms participants into impactful leaders. The programme achieves this through an integrated learning experience characterised by our unique focus on three pillars:

- Transformational Leadership: A journey characterised by self-discovery, personal growth and individual achievement.
- Business for Society: A focus on responsibility, ethics and governance for a sustainable future.
- Creative Edge: Fostering creativity and innovation to excel in times of change.

Distinctive features of the University of Galway MBA include an international leadership gateway experience and a masterclass and leadership-lesson series. In addition, the programme's faculty of internationally recognised researchers and award-winning teachers integrate an academically rigorous business education with real-world industry engagement.

We invite you to browse through the following pages to discover more about the programme's key features and to read insights from some of our graduates. Pursuing an MBA takes careful consideration given the financial, academic and personal commitments required. We are here to answer any of your queries and to help you make this important decision.

We have a proven track record in providing the knowledge and transferable skills that will enable you to accelerate your career with confidence. If you are ready to fulfil your leadership potential, then join us for the University of Galway MBA experience.

Programme Objectives

To Provide

- A curriculum of immediate value that delivers.
- An excellent integrated learning experience that is highly interactive, built on the business expertise of the participants, led by domain experts and connected to exceptional regional, national and international business enterprise.
- A vibrant executive development environment characterised by shared learning with like-minded, ambitious, talented people from a diverse range of backgrounds and experiences.

To Engender

values in our participants consistent with a business for society motivation which are inspired by sustainability, ethics and corporate social responsibility.

To Guide

you on a transformational leadership journey characterised by self-discovery, personal growth and individual achievement.

To Challenge

you to discover in social entrepreneurship and enterprise domains.

To Prepare

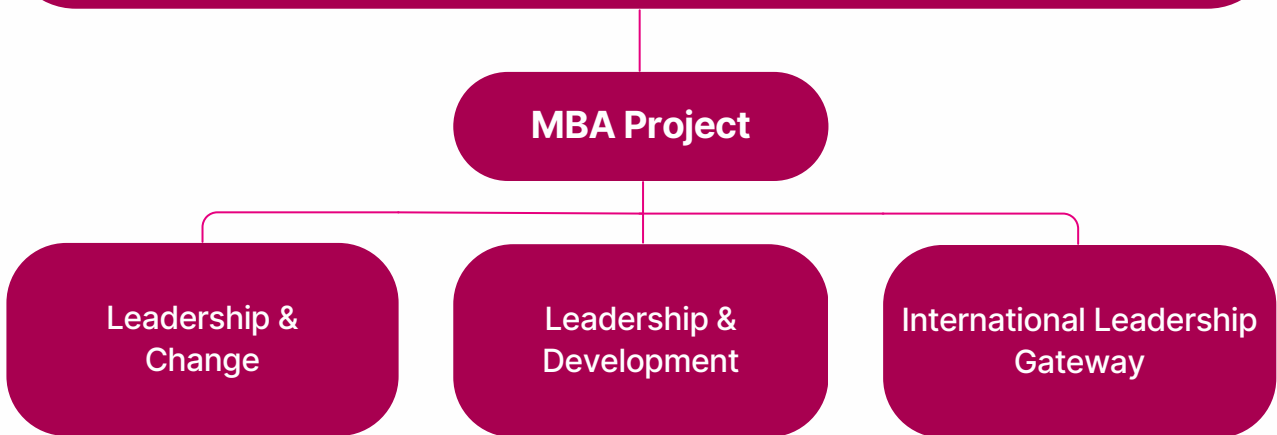

you for accelerated career progression through expanding career options and earnings potential.

Integrated Learning Experience

Our three integrated learning experience pillars are complemented by our broader MBA curriculum which includes team empowerment, business negotiations, lean principles, multi-cultural appreciation, decision analytics, the digital enterprise and strategic management and the core functional areas of accounting, finance, management, and marketing.

1. Transformational Leadership

Transformational Leadership is the core pillar of our MBA programme.

In this pillar we have designed an integrated learning experience consisting of the combination of three leadership modules and an integrated learning activity. The modules are:

- Leadership Development - which provides participants with a personally reflective journey in understanding oneself as a leader.
- International Leadership Gateway (e.g. Fordham University, New York) which provides participants with an exceptional, experiential Global perspective on leadership.
- Leadership & Change, which provides participants with the skills, tools and know-how to lead change.
- Participants then undertake their MBA Project which is the key integrated learning activity that solidifies the participant's Transformational Leadership journey.

Management

Financial Analysis,
Governance &
Sustainability

Irish Economy in a Global Context

The MBA graduate is charged with leading innovative success that will offer our region, our country and our planet a sustainable future. We believe in values consistent with a business for society motivation and this pillar centres on sustainability, ethics & governance and understanding the role of business and its leaders in the broader economic, societal and global realms.

3. Creative Edge

Innovation & Entrepreneurship

Human Resource Management

Management Consulting (MBA Project)

Our MBA graduates are expected to develop creative mindsets and our programme is designed to support them to do just that. This pillar centres on fostering creativity by empowering people, motivating continuous innovation and driving achievement through internal and external business consulting.

MBA Programme Delivery

The University of Galway MBA is an intensive, part-time programme open to EU applicants, run over 21 months in a hybrid format, blending on-campus and online delivery. This model retains the best elements of both the on-campus, in-person experience, while providing the flexibility of online learning to enhance & support your journey through the programme.

Women in our MBA

J.E. Cairnes School of Business & Economics at University of Galway, in collaboration with the 30% Club, is delighted to offer a scholarship for its MBA programme. Globally, the 30% Club is establishing partnerships with a number of business schools to rectify the under-representation of women pursuing post-graduate management education by offering scholarships for women. See what our past recipients Katie Devin and Edel Kelly have to say:

Edel Kelly

“As someone who feels passionately about the importance of gender diversity and inclusion in the workplace I was delighted to be awarded the 30% Club scholarship.

The J.E. Cairnes school of Business & Economics Executive MBA is helping me develop a broad range of skills in areas including finance, economics and leadership that will help me progress in my career.

I have enjoyed the opportunity to learn from experienced faculty and guest speakers. It has started to change my way of thinking and how I approach problems.

The MBA has introduced me to many like-minded people from a diverse range of backgrounds.

Working and collaborating with them on this MBA programme has helped me broaden my understanding of business.

The experience has been both challenging and rewarding. I am very grateful to the 30% club, University of Galway and Genesys for their support and this great opportunity.”

Katie Devin

“Being awarded with the 30% Club Executive MBA scholarship was a honour. I’m passionate about gender diversity, particularly in leadership and STEM.

This scholarship demonstrates how critical it is for companies today to have a diverse leadership to ensure all perspectives are considered and are reflective of their customer profile.

My background is in engineering but after achieving my engineering degree and working as an engineer, I realised I was more interested in the impact that engineering actions had on the business metrics. Working in a role that required more business knowledge than engineering.

Studying a MBA has given me the knowledge and skills needed to navigate the complexities of today’s business world and more confidence in my leadership abilities.

“I’m very thankful to the support of the 30% Club and TE Connectivity so I can continue to develop my skills further.”

Hear from the

“The Strategic Management module covers the concepts, theories and techniques of strategy for generating and sustaining competitive advantage. This is done with a view on sustainability and for a wide range of organisational settings”.

MBA Community

“Completing my MBA at the University of Galway was a transformative experience that had an immediate impact on my career. Upon graduation, I was promoted to a senior manager position, a testament to the practical skills and knowledge I gained throughout the program. The learning environment was rigorous but incredibly rewarding—challenging me to think critically, prioritize effectively, and delegate responsibilities with confidence”
