MO NAJAR

MAN ON A MISSION

Meet Mo

Mo is an army veteran. He was stationed in Alaska and was deployed to Afghanistan. After his term, he decided to join the Army National Guard where he was deployed to Africa. While in the National Guard, he pursued his education in Cyber Security and Information Assurance. One highlight from his army days was working alongside the Texas Rangers, Border Patrol, and DPS Special Reaction Teams.

Mo then went on to work for law enforcement. He installed and worked specifically with LPR and Safe City products. This made a pretty easy transition for Mo to come to work for us in 2022. He is currently one of our field service engineers, and we're happy to have him. He likes it here too. "I get to work with different amazing people and travel," Mo said.

But wait.. there's more. He also loves photography. He provided us with the wonderful picture below. Thanks, Mo for your contributions to the company.

Financial Wellness September 2023: The Home Stretch: Seven Things You Need to Do in the Decade Before You Retire

Date & Time Sep 19, 2023 12:00 PM in Pacific Time \(US and Canada\)

Description Have you ever been in, or watched a foot race? As the runners turn the last corner and start their final sprint, the intensity ratchets up. This part of the race is known as the home stretch. During this critical stage, the last thing a runner wants to do is stumble with the finish line in sight. As you get to the point in your career where you can start to see the retirement finish line, you want to make sure you don't stumble either. This program looks at seven things you need to do in the decade (or so) before you retire.

Terminal 207 for receiving trucks at Ashdod port

The 207 terminal company specializes in providing logistics solutions for all types of cargo and containers. From the moment they are unloaded from the ship to fast loading using advanced information systems.

The company is known for developing in the field of technology and services to give customs officials and carriers the best service.

As part of the expansion of the lanes for the entry of goods loading trucks, Dangote designed, planned, and installed stations Hardened with height adjustment and tilting the positions to the right and left.

The hardened positions have high brightness and adaptability to harsh outdoor conditions such as rain, sun, and wind.

The operation of the positions is efficient and convenient for the user. The stations are used to register and identify the drivers at the entrance to load the trucks at the port.

The truck driver identifies himself using facial recognition and a personal code, after which the station takes care of directing the driver to the loading destination/port. Through the stations, the drivers' waiting and stay time at the port will be significantly shortened, preventing the entry of unauthorized trucks.
