Editor's Note

Earlier this month I met my friend, and we are now speaking about my silent partner, whom I am trusting to help me build this franchise together. So we spoke about the running of the advertisements in the magazine, and at that moment, I told him this is not personal, but it is business now. Today we launch our 5th edition, and if you are reading this, I want you to know that this is personal; it has moved away from the business side of it, and now we dig deeper into the word of God. This is God right here, bringing together people from tribes, ethnicities, and nations like South Africa and across the globe to share their life-changing stories so that we may learn and grow in the word of God through their different experiences.

To the MyFaith communities and readers out there, I pray you take this personally. Yes, let us read, understand, and, most importantly, grow in the Spirit of God through his word. And don't forget, if you want the Magazine in hard copy, you can now Pre-Order your edition today; don't wait and delay. Stay blessed, family; may the peace of God be with you all in Jesus' name.

2 Samuel 26 vs 6.
David was greatly distressed because the man were talking of stoning him, each one bitter in Spirit. But David found strength in the Lord. There comes a time when the burden feels a lot, too much to bear. In such a distressing time, David found strength in the Lord. In such a time, Jesus Christ is the solution. The word of God says, "come to me those who are heavy burdened and I will give you rest. Normatter what you might be going through right know, no one seems to understand, let the Lord be your strong tower, for he is faithful. Just call unto him and he will answer you.

I love how God saves us! He is so diligent and faithful in how He works with us. Salvation is surely a work of His hand and great power!! He not only provides forgiveness for us but also powerfully changes us to be like Him.

Philippians 2:13 (NIV84): for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose

Note....
A)God works in us-woohoooo!
B)To have the desire to do His will.
C)And also enables us by His grace to actually act/do what His righteous will is!!

Salvation is surely a powerful work of God, and is not rooted in us or our own ability.

2 Corinthians 5:17-21

Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come. The old has gone, the new is here! All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting people's sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. We are therefore Christ's ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God. God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

KANIKI'S DIARY

MY ENCOUNTER WITH THE LORD

On the other hand, I now all of a sudden had a boss at my domestic job who would always tell me, "Lunge, you are not cut for this job", Time and time again, she would even mention how it made her feel uncomfortable having me do her domestic work. One day, my boss's lady told me to prepare my CV. She told me that she had put in a one-month resignation notice; her position was advertised in the newspaper, but her boss was just not finding a suitable candidate. She told me that her one-month notice was almost coming to an end, but her replacement had not been found, and she was a bit worried. So she told me to prepare my CV, so she takes it along and just puts it amongst those coming in.

I went back home, went to a nearby Internet café shop, prepared a quick CV, printed a copy, and handed it over to my boss lady the following day. She took it along to work, and surprisingly, around 10 a.m. that same day, I received a call for an interview for a job at Philtronics CC that I had applied for. For a moment I was blank; I almost said I didn't apply for any job, then suddenly I remembered that it was probably from my boss's company. The interview was scheduled for the same day at noon. I did my chores, later locked the house, and proceeded to my interview.

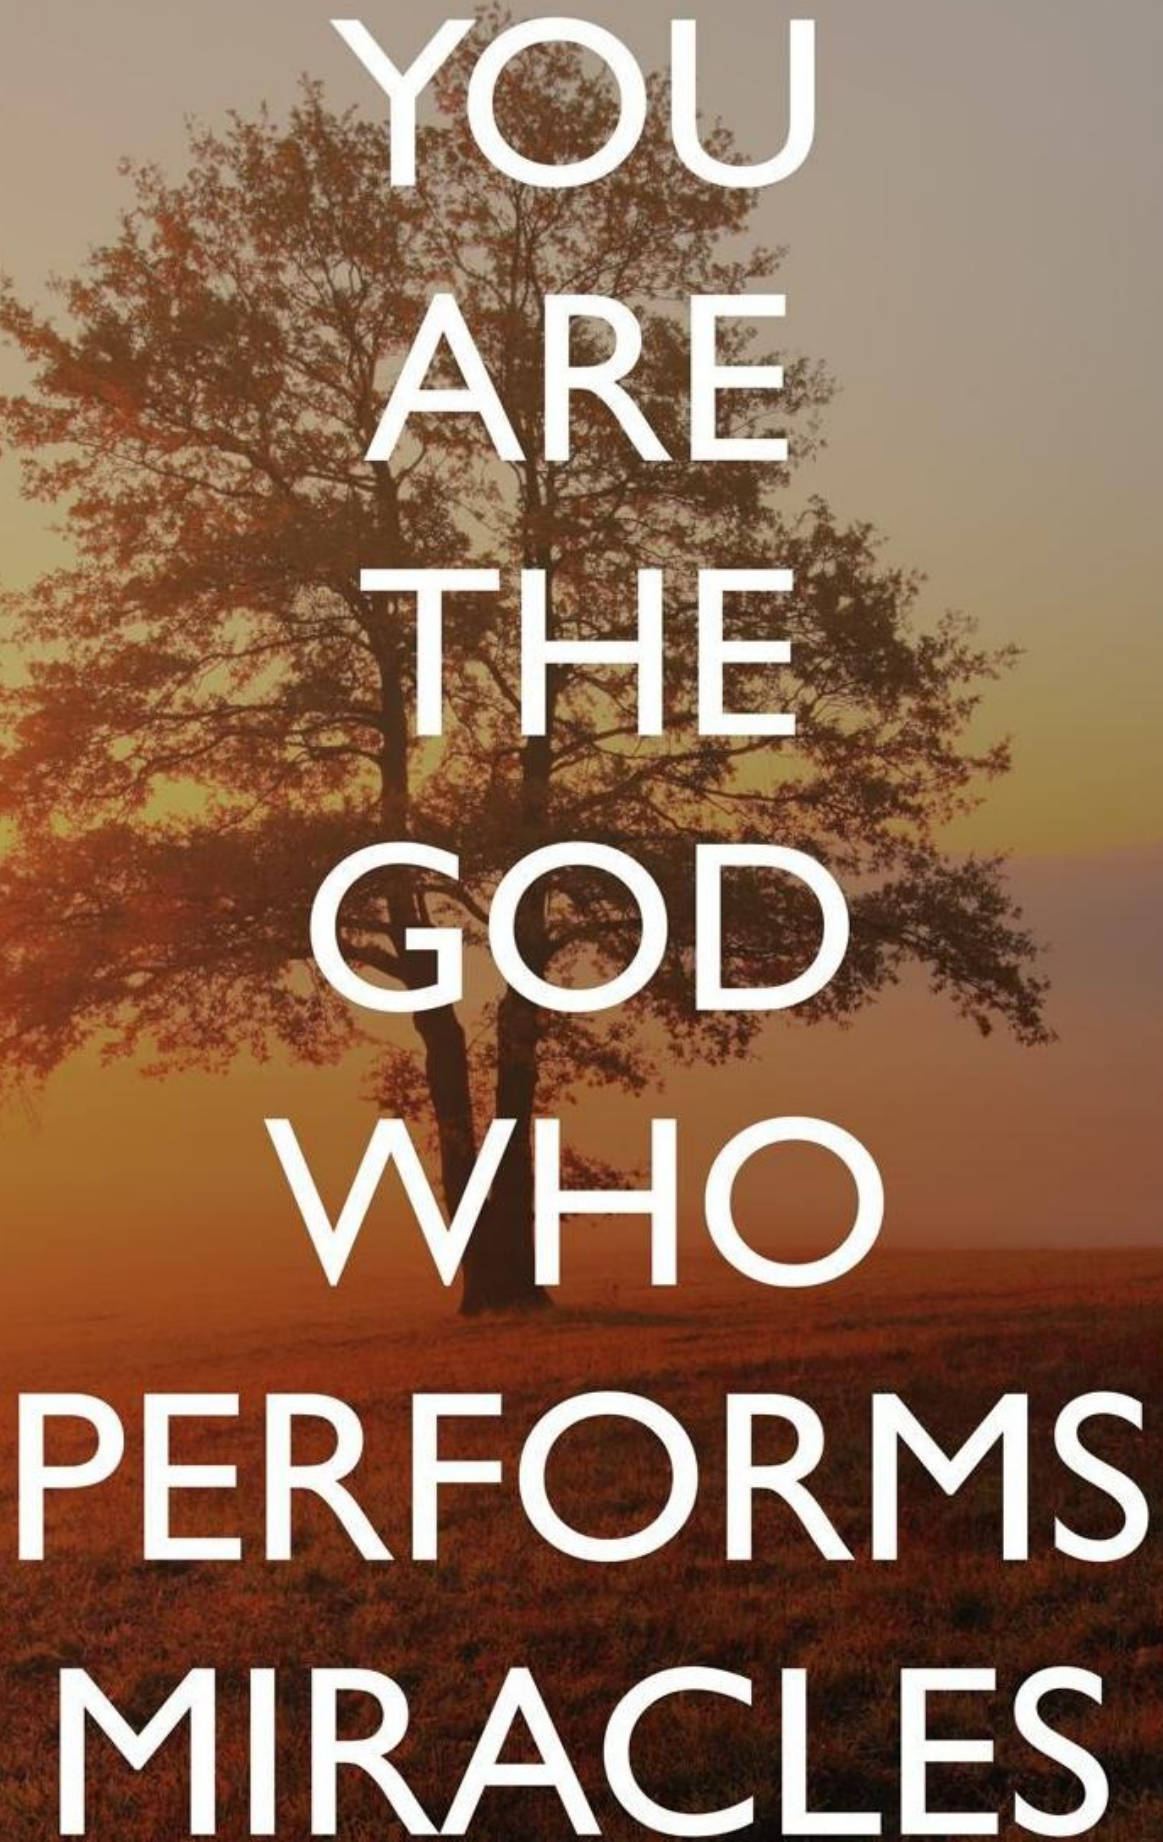

Upon entry at the company, the first eyes I met were those of my boss lady at reception, who indicated to me to shhhh and pretend I didn't know her. I greeted her and informed her I was there for an interview. She stood up and led me through to her boss's office, who was the manager of the company. I entered the office all nervous, but the manager just greeted me and asked me a few personal questions. We chatted for a few minutes, and towards the end she asked, "When can you start? You've got the job!" I could not believe my ears. I responded, "As soon as possible." And she said, "How about tomorrow?" I said, "Yes, ma'am, tomorrow is fine." I went back to work to complete my chores and to make sure I finished all the ironing. And then I sat and waited for my boss lady to inform her of the outcome of the interview. She was already informed, and she was quite happy that I got the job. She and her husband wished me well.

The following day I started work as a receptionist at Philtronics CC, which was an IT company and the only authorized IT company in Namibia back then to service and refurbish HP computers and printers. It was a small company; the structure was: manager, finance person, receptionist, three technicians, and a cleaner. The receptionist was also like a secretary to the manager, organizing the diary and logistics. This paid N$3500. It was a good payback then.

Now that both my husband and I had a better income, we moved to a bigger house. At the beginning of the following year, 2008, we brought both our kids to the capital city to live with us so we could stay as a family. The first-born daughter was enrolled in Grade 1, and the second-born boy was in preschool. After two years of marriage, we sought to have a third child, but I just couldn't fall pregnant. I tried for 2 years. And after several attempts to fall pregnant, I decided to go for a pap smear. The results of the pap smear indicated that I had pre-cancerous cell growth in the mouth of my womb and had to undergo an operation.

I went for an operation, and the cells were successfully removed. However, the doctor's report said it would be hard for me to get pregnant. I was heartbroken. I could not understand why it suddenly seemed impossible when I needed a child. Questioned God. But in my crying, I still prayed to God to make a way. And after a year, I fell pregnant and gave birth to a healthy boy, whom I named Miracle. And again in 2019, God blessed us with a beautiful baby girl. The story continues in the next edition.

BY: JEFFREY HAUSEB

THE WILL & TESTAMENT OF JESUS AFTER DEATH

When we usually talk about the will of the Lord what exactly are we talking about? Like, what does that mean for believers? And what do we mean when we say, "I want to do the will of God for my life?" What is the will of God? Can someone know and understand the will of the Lord completely? Or is it something vague and guess partly knowable? Like, people have so many questions about what God's will is and how to know it let alone apply it.

And because people want to know the will of the Lord for their lives they go to prophets or at least anyone who claims to be a prophet or a pastor in church because they understand that it's a divine revelation of what God in heaven wants from believers and is willing to offer them. Again the will of God being divine knowledge, most believers if not all would agree can only be revealed through the Holy Spirit Who is the Spirit of God and the third Member of the Godhead. Well, this is Biblical, and rightly so, however, what one needs to understand is how the Holy Spirit does this. So, it is clear how God through the Holy Spirit has inspired holy prophets and apostles to write the Scriptures we have preserved in the Bible today and the Bible claims that all of its content is divinely inspired and authoritative.

Okay, so what's the right question... Well, the right question is; what role does the Bible play in the lives of believers now in the 21st century? In other words, how can someone know the will of God today, and does one always have to go to a prophet for that if so, then, why do we need the Bible for? And the Biblical answer would be, NO! We don't have to go to any so-called prophet or apostle to know what the will of the Lord is today because everything is well addressed in the Bible.

2 Timothy 3:16-17/INJV

All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work.

So, a person can fully and completely know and understand the Lord's will for themselves by simply studying the Bible with the help of elders and evangelists today.

Okay, so we know where to find the will of the Lord and it's obviously in the Scriptures which is the inspired word of God, but now we need a proper perspective on what that is, you know... the 'will' of the Lord that is. The Biblical approach to this narrative would be, that the will of the Lord, in this case, the Lord Jesus Christ Who is the only begotten and divine Son of God Who alone existed with God the Father before creation was established,

John 17:5|NKJV

And now, O Father, glorify Me together with Yourself, with the glory which I had with You before the world was.

Mark 2:10|NKJV-

But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins

According to Jesus He only had this power to grant forgiveness and salvation to believers in person while He was still on earth, but when He departs to heaven after His death, however, He would no longer have this power because He wouldn't be around to grant forgiveness and eternal life to believers in person anymore and can only do this in His name by leaving behind a will or testament after His death as an everlasting inheritance for believers all over the world. For example, try to envision a very wealthy person giving out money and riches to anyone in person because he has the power to do so, but after death, he cannot give out riches to anyone in person anymore because he won't be around, and so the only way anyone can receive anything in the name of the deceased is if they are included in the will of the deceased person, otherwise, they cannot receive anything in the dead person's name apart from what's in the will. This ladies and gentlemen is what the New Testament of Jesus Christ is – the will of the Lord Jesus Christ and Son of God Who is the second Member of the Godhead,

Christ, sharing the very nature of God came in the world as a Man to die for the sins of mankind. And by doing this God had intended for Christ to share His heavenly possessions and eternal riches through the forgiveness of sins in His name as a promise for an everlasting inheritance to anyone who believes in the divinity of Christ and without a doubt recognizes His death, burial, and resurrection from death as a fact. This is where it gets interesting and even exciting the more you understand. Let's look at what Jesus said about His power and authority to grant forgiveness and everlasting life after death when He was on earth,

Hebrews 9:15-17|NKJV-

And for this reason He is the Mediator of the new covenant, by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, that those who are called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. For where there is a testament, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is in force after men are dead, since it has no power at all while the testator lives

Meaning He was God in the flesh and left all His glory and eternal riches for an everlasting inheritance after death and everything, as promised in the New Testament of the Bible, is currently still up for grabs for anyone who simply believes and would be baptized in obedience to the gospel as stated in the will of Jesus Christ by inspiration of the Holy Spirit through His apostles in the 1st century who served as Jesus' lawyers to release the testament He left behind when He died and resurrected before His departure back to heaven.

Mark 16:15-16|NKJV

And He said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned.

Praise God, and this testament is what is referred to in the New Testament as the will of God the Father. Hallelujah!

LAMENTATIONS 3:22-24

The Favour of God

~ Esther 2:17

The king loved Esther more than all the women, and she found favor and kindness with him more than all the virgins, so that he set the royal crown on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti.

Few years ago, a friend of mine went for an interview at a prestigious company. She later realized her boss was also called for the same interview that she was going for. Her boss had taught her everything she knew so she felt so hopeless and discouraged. In her mind it was obvious her for her that her boss would get the position. Out of respect for the company that was interviewing her she went for the interview. And to her surprise she got the position.

Her words "Charmain, the Favor of God did it! my boss skills and knowledge are no match to mine, but God leveled the ground, and I got the job."

Genesis 39:4

Joseph found favor in his eyes and became his attendant. Potiphar put him in charge of his household, and he entrusted to his care everything he owned.

The favor of God will distinct you amongst a crowd. Sometimes favor seems unfair. The favor of God will take you to positions you don't even feel you are qualified to carry. Favor and divine lifting go hand in hand. Favor is a grace. It can come upon a man and do wonders to their life.

Favor does also not mean we should be irresponsible; Esther took one year to prepare herself before stepping before the king. The things you are praying for are you actually preparing yourself for them? Are you putting in the work. When God by His favor brings top tier clients can you actually serve them with excellence?

How do we actually obtain favor before God & man?

1. Good Understanding

Proverbs 13: 15 Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressors is hard. What field are you in? Have you mastered your craft? How prepared are you for the favor you are trusting God for? Have you developed a good understanding of that which you are tasked to do, have you gained the knowledge?, knowledge that matches and even exceeds your industry?

2. Excellence

Proverbs 18: 16 A man's gift makes room for him, And brings him before great men. The other version even says the man's gift... brings him before kings, when the favor comes can you actually serve with excellence? Do you have the capacity to handle the favor. Can you steward your craft with excellence? Do you only serve big clients well or do you serve all man well(rich/poor)?

3. Integrity

Psalm 5:12 For you bless the righteous, O Lord; you cover him with favor as with a shield. Are you walking uprightly before God and man? Or do you do shady deals? Integrity brings a powerful covering of favour. If you do not walk uprightly - repent, read your word, ask the Holy Spirit to help you walk in alignment with God's word.

Honor And Prayer

Luke 2: 25 Jesus grew both in body and in wisdom, gaining favor with God and people. Pray and ask God for favor with God and with man, Jesus gained favor with both God and man so we must obtain favor with God and man, learn to Honor God and His principles, and also honor those who lead us.

This season of your life may you ask God for favor and step into rooms beyond your greatest imagination.

IMPACT CORNER WITH N.E. NGOVENI

Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.

The word of God is our ground to stand on, when God speaks we are assured of the manifestation of His power in our lives . As I now have something to share with you Be encouraged by the word of God as I share from the scripture above .

Romans 12:2

Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.

We've got a few key words to look at from this scripture given

The First key word is ;

Conform- it means to be similar in form or type; agree. Mean as per what the Bible says we are not to be similar nor be type or agree with the world . Live your life knowing that you are better inform when you more like Christ simple because that reconciles you to your blueprint image of being like God just like Adam in the beginning. In case you've been wondering as for how do you be God's image yet again, it is through Christ our saviour . He restored us back to our likeness with God . Of course through is righteous and the process of the cross . He paid the price . By any means we can't be type or agree with what the world is. It's a different form from what we are as the children of light through Christ .

The Second key word ;

Transform- make a marked change in the form, nature, or appearance of. It is Interesting to understand transformation process takes place through the renewal of the mind. Meaning if you want to change in form, nature, or appearance it is achieved through changing your mindset. “ What a man thinks so is he” Mind what you spend time thinking because what you spend time pondering eventually takes its form or nature. Hence the Bible says to refuse the enemy for he will flee away from you. It happens in the mind. Your mind is the driving power behind your behavior and action. Do you remember when the Bible in the book of Philippians 4:8 whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable--if anything is excellent or praiseworthy--think about such things. This is because if you think evil, you will act evil. Avoid feeding your mind with negativity and be intentional about the pure and the excellent things so you will be transformed. May God’s word transform your entire life in Jesus’s name

The Third key word ;

Discernment - the ability to judge well. this ability will make you see success daily . Did you know that progress begin to take place the day you are able to make proper decisions that are inline with the will of God. It is not easy to obviously know the perfect will of God not unless your mind is renewed. Meaning be able to be synced with who Christ is and the Holy Spirit. The Bible says 1 Corinthians 2:15 a spiritual man will be able to judge everything . if you are not to miss your opportunities on a daily basis . You must be able to discern what comes your way and what leaves your life . it’s very important thing you must have as a child of God. Discernment spirit will help you not to live a life of guessing as for who is who and what is what around you . Knowing the secrets of God need you to have discernment Spirit. If you have discernment Spirit you will be able to Seize the season and enjoy what the Lord has prepared for You.

As I conclude , it imperative for you to know that “Those who Know their God , Shall do exploits....” saints It is in the knowledge of God that you will be able to see His hand. You can only be able to acknowledge what you are aware of . Know God’s program for your life so you may not experience stagnation.

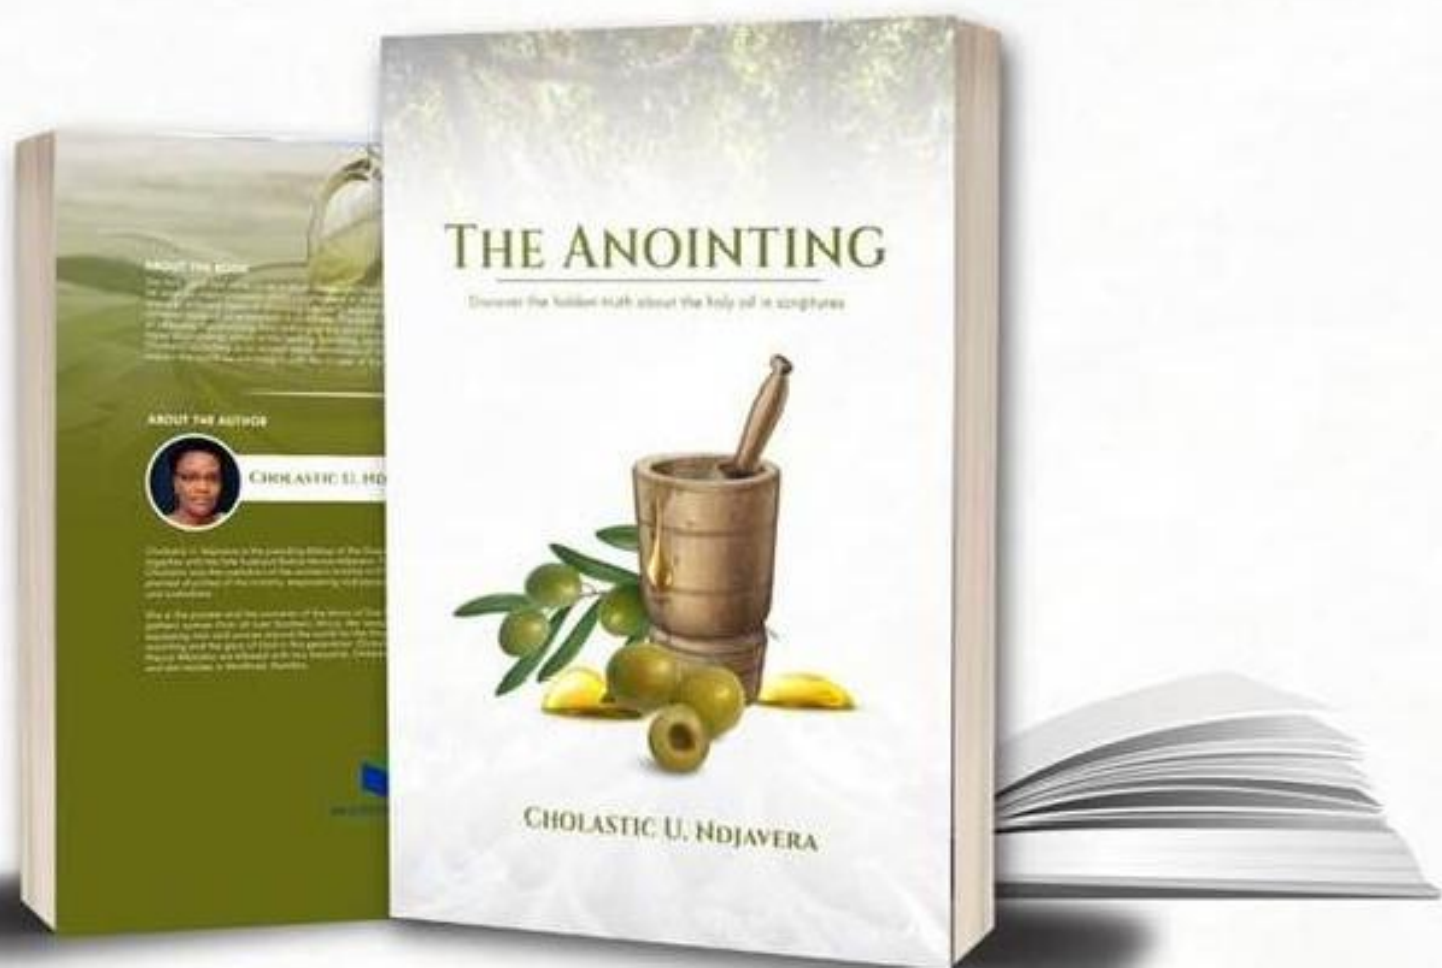

May the Spirit of the Lord be upon you this week so that you may be able to discern the perfect will of God for your life . Prosper in Jesus’s name .

TRAINING WOMEN & TRANSFORMING LIVES

"I have had this dream for the past 3 years. It all started when I hosted a conference for women where people from various fields came together to share their experiences. Then, in 2023, God spoke again about this vision and said, "The time is now." Transform Network was officially launched on April 17, 2023, and that saw more than 100 women globally register and express their desire and interest in my vision. Instead of just a conference, he wanted me to create a network where women could come together and share knowledge, wisdom, and skills. The goal was to uplift them and maintain God's favor in their lives. My aim is to help women see themselves through God's eyes and empower them with the tools to succeed. I am determined to multiply. We train, we activate, and we impart. The network offers a continuous membership that is open for enrollment at any time.

There is a new call. It is a call specifically for women to elevate themselves like never before. Nia-Cerise Conteh answered this call, as she has always yearned for women to no longer be hidden in the shadows. Instead, they should rise up and take the position assigned to God. It has been her conviction that women around the world are already equipped with the essential resources, but they lack the know-how to apply them productively. Her mission is to impart the knowledge and skills required to empower them on their journeys through her ministry.

Prophet Nia-Cerise Conteh is the CEO and founder of the Transform Network. "During my childhood, I had an inner desire to seek spiritual fulfillment, but I lacked discipline in my religious beliefs. As a result, I embarked on a path toward the supernatural and became engrossed in the new age movement, witchcraft, alcohol, smoking, and relationships with men. I found myself drawn to crystals and palm readings and even opened myself up to possession by demonic entities."

When she was 19 years old. While spending time with her friends in a kitchen, she had a life-changing encounter with the Holy Spirit, which altered her existence forever. After she turned to Christ, she encountered significant demonic oppression as a result of her past activities. "Every time I went to sleep, I was relentlessly smothered by demons, making it very difficult for me. I had to enter into a period of prolonged prayer and fasting to overcome it.

Not long after, God called her to ministry, and she created a YouTube channel to spread her belief in God to others, which became her initial platform. By the age of 21, God had presented her with a great opportunity, and she was invited to various churches around the UK to preach. "I have had the honor to receive a Research Award for my undergraduate degree, and that propelled me to study and graduate at the top of my Master's class at Cambridge University. I have the deepest burden to serve my community, lead people to Jesus, and leave a legacy of Jesus Christ on earth." She has been invited to speak and share the gospel and my testimony at TBN as well as on God TV.

Fear not, stand firm, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will work for you today.

Exodus
14:13

In Tanzania, here in Africa, she was selected as one of the participants in a boot camp training for the work of God at the Christ for All Nations Ministry of the late evangelist Reinhard Bonnke, now led by Rev. Daniel Kolenda. The ministry sent her to Tanzania, a region that was 90 percent Muslim. They went in with lots of prayers and saw more than 900 Muslims come to Christ.

This year, in April 2023, she officially launched Transform Networks, whose goal is to create a warm and friendly impact across the globe by providing women with the tools to succeed in their respective areas along with job and volunteer opportunities. Personally, she has been very passionate about mentoring and nurturing women, especially since there are limited opportunities for this. "I'm always seeking wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and I firmly believe that building something is better accomplished with others than alone. With God's help and support from others, I know it is possible because God has given me Himself to rely on and people to build with.

"PROCESS"

By: Tssadia Mapurisa.

Genesis 37: 7

Suddenly my sheaf stood up, and your sheaves gathered around it and bowed down to my sheaf." NLT
'We were out in the field, tying up bundles of grain.
Suddenly my bundle stood up, and your bundles all gathered around and bowed low before mine!'

So in the text we have just read we understand that God was revealing himself through Joseph and thus also telling his future. My message is in titled "Process" Before Joseph to reach his destiny he had to prepared, God had to create capacity in him so that he can fulfill his destiny. When Joseph was sold, made a slave and put in a prison did not mean that the plan of God upon his life had changed. In all that Joseph went through God was making him ready for his destiny, the whole nation of Israel was dependent on him. So in this process of Joseph we understand that all things works together for good for all those who love the Lord, though the naked eye seemed like God had abandoned him.

1 Samuel 17: 36-37 NLT

I have done this to both lions and bears, and I'll do it to this pagan Philistine, too, for he has defied the armies of the living God! The LORD who rescued me from the claws of the lion and the bear will rescue me from this Philistine!" Saul finally consented.

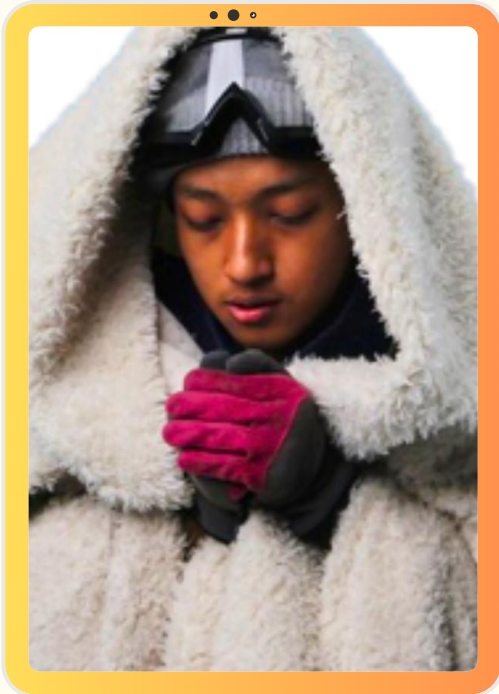

We see the same scenario on David. Before David to stand against Goliath he had to face the bear and the lion. 1 Samuel chapter 17 verse 36 to 37. So the bear and the lion was preparing David for Goliath and his experience with both the lion and bear gave him confidence about his God.

Before for you to step into your destiny, God have to create capacity in you to be able to handle your purpose. The word process in simplify means that something is in making. Allow God make you, design you into the shape he desires for he is the Potter and we the clay.

In conclusion in both stories we understand that what God had spoken about Joseph and David came to pass, meaning that what God have spoken about your life shall come to pass. Sometimes we don't see how for the direction of our lives seems opposite from what God have spoken, lean not on your understanding but trust the Lord. The ways of the Lord are not our ways neither his thoughts are they our thoughts. The same God who started the good work upon your life shall finish it for he is faithful. Process is not something that can be hurried , though it can be tempting to quickly escape it, let God shape and mold you. Enjoy your process learn from your process, process is not meant to kill or destroy you but to create capacity from you.

DONATE A BLANKET TODAY

The Anointed Levites Foundation has launched a charity project that will help our young ones keep warm this winter. So we urge our friends and partners to donate blankets, jackets, hoodies, and jerseys as well.

We are going to donate to two schools that have hostels, and we are looking into donating about 200 blankets, 100 per school. And we are also looking to donate winter goodies to the young ones. So the public is open to partnering with us on this project by donating blankets that are in great condition.

The two schools will be allocated in remote areas, and our target is to keep the Namibian future warm during the winter season. So I urge you, brothers and sisters, to please reach out to let us clothe those who are in need this winter by showing the love of Christ to the less fortunate. It takes one to bring about change, and that is me and you. Duration for the donation is from 1 June, to 31 July 2023.

For more information please contact.

Yeah. Basically. The question is why. The Kabossa Show, maybe?

Is in episodic format. This is called a series. Speaking the word of God: different topics surrounding the Jesus movement. Which is led by the Holy Spirit. Sometimes it would be more. Just me. Breaking down the scriptures. Just saying whatever the spirit of God leads me to say. So that lives may be transformed, and one may receive a new revelation. The revelation of Jesus Christ, who was crucified on the cross for our sins, and it is him whom I serve. So basically, The Kabossa Show caters to the gospel community, not even the gospel community alone. For those who would want to get in tune with the message of hope and the message of love. Who wants to connect to the Holy Spirit, which is only given to you when you answer Jesus Christ and make him your personal Savior and Lord?

So what do we talk about? For instance, in our first episode of The Kabossa Show Let us talk about the now! I am really excited. about MyFaith Connect moving into the printing market. We are now officially producing hard copies of My Faith Connect magazine. It's a milestone because it was just a vision when this took place. The vision manifested into something big as it is today, the glory of it all belongs to God, for I am just a medium serving you with his word, his purpose for our lives, and whatever he tells me to serve you with as the journey continues.

At the same time, we are celebrating our fifth edition. It might be our second Volume of the year, but it's our 5th edition, and I am super excited. I thank God for this opportunity. It's amazing what God is doing in the lives of so many people, and we're sharing those stories to help young people, the youth, and our elderly community reaching out to them through the word of Christ. It has been an amazing journey for us here at My Faith Connect.

I am excited to announce that our advertising platforms are now open for business. If you have a small business and feel like you want to take it to another level, you would be sharing that with our fellow brethren, the people with whom we share this message of hope, so it will be an opportunity for you to also sell your business to them and boost your business by advertising. With us here at My Faith Connect. Lastly, just to wrap it up with our first episode, I would love to thank God for the vision, the gift, and the energy that he gives me, and the Holy Spirit for leading me every single day, all the way. Thank you, brothers and sisters, for your love and support.

This month, I want to look at the gospel music Industry in Namibia and possibly Africa at large. I have come to realize that when I was in the depths of my sin and I used to listen to secular music, I hated the lengthy songs. I always wanted my music to be short and crispy-fresh; that is what I used to enjoy. When a song is longer than 5 minutes, by the time it reaches 3 minutes, I am already pressing the next button to switch to another song. But when I gave my life to God and got closer to worshiping him through music, it transformed my life just by listening to one song that glorified our God. Now with worship, it can be very lengthy; a song can run for 10 minutes, sometimes even 15 minutes if possible. The beautiful thing about worship is that the songs run very fast because you are caught in a moment, and in that moment you connect to the Holy Spirit. By the time the song is done, you want them to start it over again, or if you are listening to it on a device, you immediately put it on repeat. What has happened to me now that I enjoy long worship songs? Well, I will be taking a look at songs that boost my spirit, help my Spirit grow, and help me connect to God daily. I love Jesus' music, no matter what genre it is.

Pride Paneshe recently released his new single called Revival, and it is a hit for us who love Jesus's music. "Revival this revival; we have been praying and searching for you. We need revival; send us revival." These are the lyrics to a song that will connect you to God. I personally had to put it on repeat, and if I was far from my device, I would listen to this song from my heart because it has been stored up there, and it is my go-to when I am sitting and praying. Dry things come around when revival is around, and this song brings me revival not because of the title of the song but simply because of the Holy Spirit. Thank Pride for listening to the spirit of God and letting him work through you.

Uvatera officially launched Sing with Me Season 3. A show that caters to praising and worshipping God alongside various gospel ministers. You can watch and subscribe after that on her YouTube channel, namely UvateraOfficial. "This will be an experience you will enjoy and use to glorify God. Go on YouTube and enjoy great music, and don't forget to subscribe to show your love and support to a wonderful minister of the gospel.

Internationally, the Impact House worship team known by their stage name as Impact House Levites, released not one single but a whole project of 11 songs titled "We Shall Live," and the album features Omega Khunou, the song titled "A Hi Khenseni", and not forgetting Impact House leader Apostle N.E. Ngoveni, who also took part in the project on a worship song titled "Everlasting".

This project will lead you into worship and connect you to God. You can find this project on Apple Music; it will be a blessing to your life. The Impact Worship Team hails all the way from South Africa, in Johannesburg.

Naftalie Shigwedha Amukwelele, born January 1, 1974, commonly known as D-Naff, is a Namibian multiple award-winning and top-selling rapper, singer, actor, and former street gangster. D-Naff sings inspirational gospel and religious music in the styles of kwaito, rap, kizomba, dancehall, and afro-pop. D-Naff is also a motivational and inspirational speaker and has visited more than 100 schools, universities, and colleges in Namibia, including the Namibia University of Science and Technology, formerly the Polytechnic of Namibia, Windhoek College of Education, Ongwediva College of Education, and the University of Namibia. D-Naff is married to Dainess Ziba, originally from Chingola, Zambia, who is popularly known as Lady Dyna. She is also an artist under D-Naff Entertainment, and she is a Namibian multiple award-winning gospel artist as well. The couple has two beautiful kids: a girl, Princess Ethana Amukwelele, and a boy, Prince Ethan Amukwelele.

D-Naff's music career started back in the early 90s while he was a student at "Jan Jonker Afrikaner Secondary School" in Windhoek. He was part of an acappella group called the "Glamour Boys," whose members were all part of the National Youth Choir of Namibia. Later on, went on to establish yet another group called "Eagle's Mentality," which became the winner of the 2005 "Best Gospel" at the Sanlam-NBC Music Awards. Today, D-Naff is ranked as the 15th most downloaded artist on iTunes in Africa and second in Namibia after King Tee Dee. This gospel legend in the land of the brave today has a total of more than 12 albums that he started producing in 2006. He released his first solo album, entitled Oshagwana, in 2006, which made him more popular. In 2007, he released his second album, entitled likele Yuuyuni Mbu, which won him an award at the Namibian Music Awards in the gospel category with his song.

His music has seen him collaborate with international artists such as Marvin B3 Kasomo, Mark B3 Kasomo, Prince Keddy, Ephraim Mutalange, Ty2, Damiano, Chola Chola, and Tio, both from Zambia. In 2017, he collaborated with award-winning Zimbabwean-born gospel artist Magacha on the single 'Ndinotenda Jesu'. D-Naff admits that as soon as he heard Magacha's music, he immediately liked it and decided on a music collaboration. That same year, D-Naff also worked with Zambian musician Ty2. The two had worked on three songs previously, and D-Naff wanted to work on another with him. Over the years, D-Naff has held gospel concerts right across Namibia, and these concerts usually draw large crowds.

The artist also owns his own record label, D-Naff Entertainment. His work has been exceptional, as he keeps getting awarded locally and beyond. Here are some of the awards that D-Naff has got over the years. D-Naff has been appointed as the (goodwill) ambassador for the National Youth Council of Namibia (NYC). In 2014, he was appointed Kora Awards Goodwill Ambassador 2014/2015 to Namibia in the fight against the Ebola virus, joining 53 other African artists and musicians who are also Kora Awards Ambassadors in their respective nations. Together, they raise awareness about the Ebola virus and also raise funds to be sent to the organizations dealing with the epidemic. In 2019, along with other artists in the country, there was a bid to raise awareness about gender-based violence. MTC launched the Gender-Based Violence Knockout Boxing Project, which saw the who's who battling it out in the boxing ring to raise awareness about violence against women and children.

Jesus wants you to stop dating Him.

It's time, He wants to take His place in your heart. It's over time everyone in your life gets to know about Him and everything else in your life gives way and makes "the" room for Him. You know it's time too.

He wants you both to make it official. He can't wait for you to show Him off like he does you, His joy and jewel. Everywhere
When will you commit? He has been asking, when my love

He wants to come too with you and your friends! don't just come back to tell Him all about it. Take Him with you, To be with you is what He wants.

He wants to talk with you all day every day and night! 2am call Yes! Talking about everything, everything. He desires to share everything with you. Ohhh!!! the sound of your voice The voice of His beloved.

You've been reading His love letters. Combing through those Words over and over again like your life depends on it, because literally it does! His love is life; You can bank on it. His Word is life; You will find it so.

He wants you to marry Him. Take Him home to your meet your family. They're not blind, they've seen the glow in your eyes and the spring in your steps lately They know there's someone. Who is he darling

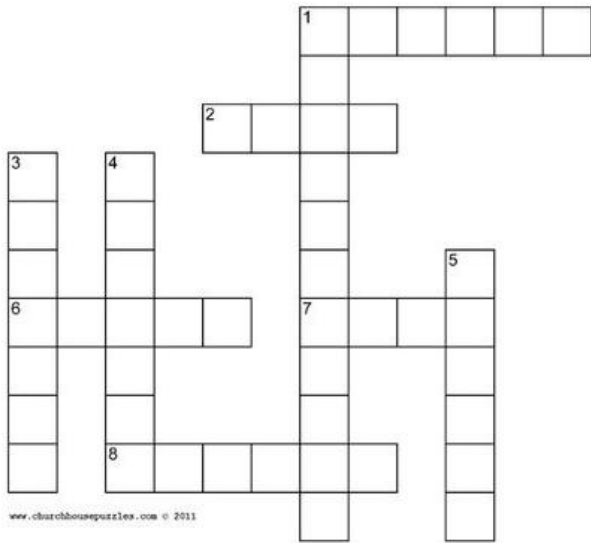

Make a vow. Walk down the aisle. Put a ring on it. To choose Him and spend your life with him. Make it forever!

He wants to get married to you. To call you "Mine"! There's nothing, nothing, not a thing He ever He wanted more than this.

He wants you, beautiful you.
Inspired by a beautiful sermon I heard the week of my 15th year wedding anniversary

1. Pray

This is the confidence we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us. - 1 John 5:14

Prayer should always be our first approach to any problem. Before we set out to face our inner demons, it helps to take a moment and return our hearts to God. Scripture tells us that the Lord hears our prayers and will walk with us through any trial (Psalm 102:17), so we shouldn't worry about standing alone. God knows our fears, he knows our suffering, and he loves us through it all. That knowledge alone can be very encouraging.

So take a moment and present your troubles to God. Tell him about your anger, your sadness, and your fear. Don't be ashamed, because he wants hear your worries. Who knows? By the end, you may discover your burden has grown a little lighter.

2. Journal

On that night the king could not sleep. And he gave orders to bring the book of memorable deeds, the chronicles, and they were read before the king. - Esther 6:1

Putting pen to paper can often help liberate your inner feelings. Don't worry about grammar or neatness, simply sit down and write. Some Christians may find it cathartic to write about their anxieties, while others gain encouragement by reliving old adventures. Either way, the act of journaling can serve to nourish and satisfy the mind. Studies have even found it's especially helpful for those suffering from stress-induced insomnia.

Oddly enough, even Biblical characters were fond of journaling. When King Xerxes couldn't sleep, he had a servant read to him from the recorded histories. David and Solomon were both experienced poets, and would frequently put their emotions into verse (Psalm 13:2). You don't have to create the next American classic, just take a moment and put your thoughts to paper.

3. Lean on Your Community

"Share each other's burdens, and in this way obey the law of Christ." - Galatians 6:2-12

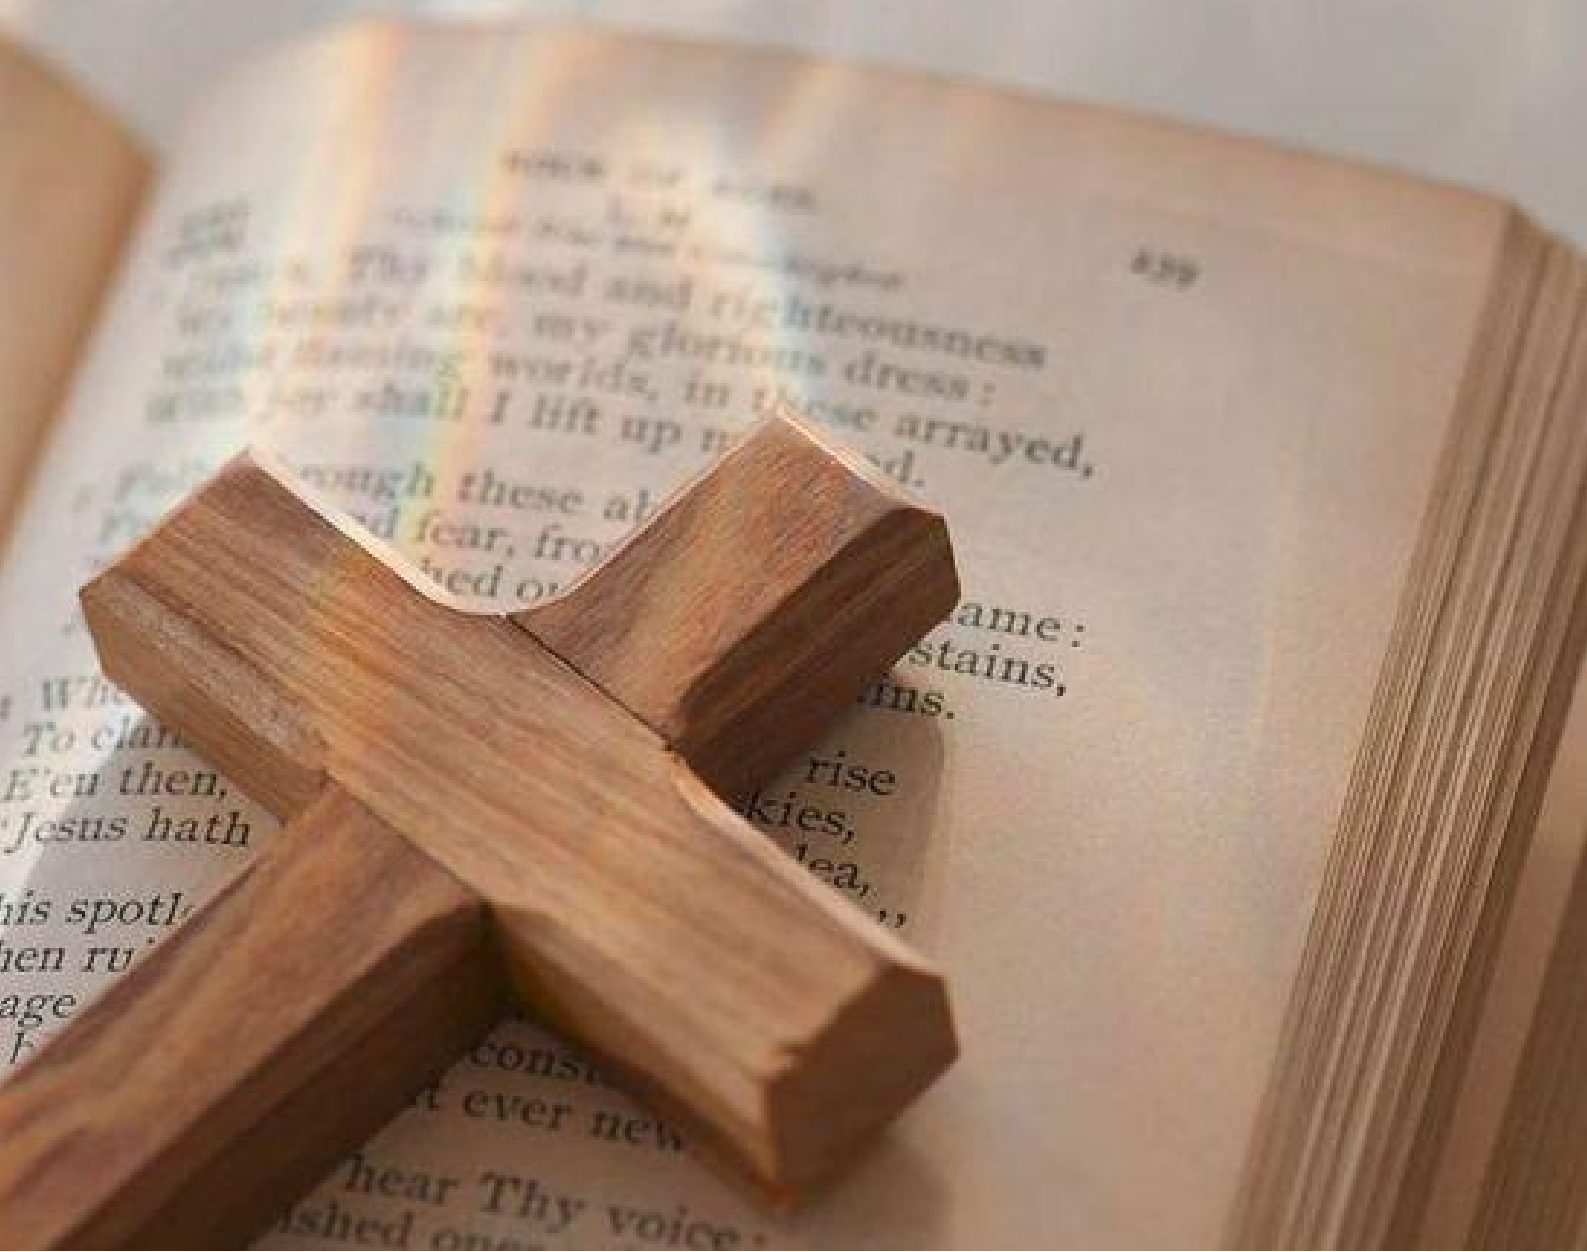

Never be embarrassed to share your struggles with other Christians. The Church was created so that fellow believers could nurture, protect, and inspire one another as they pursued Christ. In recent years though, too many congregations have become obsessed with outward appearances. They put on a showy display of being happy, wholesome individuals when inside they're barely holding together. This type of thinking is neither healthy nor holy.

If you're feeling overwhelmed, it's ok to reach out to your community for help. Find someone within the congregation whom you trust and let them know what's happening. No Christian was meant to go through life alone. So instead of toughing it out, lean on your fellow believers and remember we're all strongest when we work together.

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.”

-PSALM 46:1

4. Eat Well

“Do not join those who drink too much wine or gorge themselves on meat, for drunkards and gluttons become poor, and drowsiness clothes them in rags.” Proverbs 23:20-21

This may sound strange, but what you eat can have a profound effect on how you think! The Bible has plenty of warnings against gluttony, and its words are practical advice for anyone wrestling with their mental health. When we overindulge in sugary drinks or deep-fried foods, we're more likely to become overweight, incur physical problems like diabetes and heart disease, and see a drop in our overall self-esteem. Tempting as it may be to sooth our troubles with comfort food, Christians must learn to practice self-control.

Instead of snacking on candy, why not try a bowl of fresh fruit? Incorporate leafy-green vegetables into your diet, and cook up a nice piece of fish for dinner rather than a greasy burger. It may not seem as appetizing now, but you'll be amazed at how much better you feel in the long run.

5. Read Your Bible

“I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world.” - John 16:33

This one should be a no-brainer. Scripture is filled with multiple, encouraging passages for anyone going through a rough period. For starters, it helps to know several Biblical figures also struggled with depression and anxiety. Job was so miserable he cursed the day of his birth (Job 3:1). A dejected Elijah actually went into the wilderness and begged God to kill him (1 Kings 19:4). Even Jesus knew how it felt to suffer mental anguish (Luke 22:44). If you're feeling depressed, just know you're in good company.

Thankfully, the message doesn't stop there. The Bible teaches us that God will give us strength (Isaiah 40:31), provide shelter (Nahum 1:7), and walk with us through these dark times (Psalm 23:4). His message is one of hope, grace, and ultimately, joy. Whatever this world may throw at you, remember that Christ will see you through.

JAMES 1:17

Salvation means to be redeemed or delivered from sin and its punishment of death and set free to know, love and serve God our heavenly Father. The Bible states, "Therefore whoever confesses Me (Jesus Christ) before men, him I will also confess before My Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 10:32 NKJV).

"For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; ..." (Romans 3:23 KJV).

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23 KJV).

"But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8 NKJV).

"For whoever calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved" (Romans 10:13 NKJV).

"Now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (2 Corinthians 6:2 NKJV). Salvation is a free gift from God our heavenly Father. God gives us salvation based on what our Lord Jesus Christ has done for us on the cross. We accept and receive it by believing. Our Lord Jesus Christ died on the cross for us, bearing in His own body the punishment of God for our sin. God's justice was paid in full with the Lord's sacrifice. Those who accept, receive and believe are saved from the wrath of God our heavenly Father.

"Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, that he will also reap" (Galatians 6:7 NKJV).

"Then He will also say to those on the left hand, depart from Me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels ... And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life" (Matthew 25:41, 46 NKJV).

If you are ready, to receive this free gift, pray this prayer:

Lord Jesus, I confess my sins and ask for your forgiveness. Please come into my heart as my Lord and Savior. Take complete control of my life and help me to walk in Your footsteps daily by the power of the Holy Spirit. Thank you Lord for saving me and for answering my prayer. In Jesus' name. Amen.
