ABOUT CHEYENNE FRONTIER DAYS™

SINCE 1897, THE DADDY OF 'EM ALL® HAS BEEN KICKING UP DUST WITH THE WORLD'S LARGEST OUTDOOR RODEO & WESTERN CELEBRATION

Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) is commonly referred to as the Daddy of 'em All® — The World's Largest Outdoor Rodeo. The phrase was coined in 1919 when Cheyenne had gained worldwide recognition for having the biggest and best rodeo. Some folks credit T. Joe Cahill, who served as a 1919 committeeman, for the nickname. No matter who christened Cheyenne's rodeo with the name, one thing is certain; each year since, CFD has lived up to its reputation.

The Daddy of 'em All® continues as a leader in rodeo action. It remains the favorite rodeo for most PRCA contestants and fans alike. Rodeo cowboys are known to proudly display their winning belt buckles as status symbols. A past rodeo study points out that contestants who have competed at Cheyenne prefer to sport their CFD championship buckles even more so than a world champion buckle.

IMPORTANCE OF VOLUNTEERS

For more than 128 years the citizens of Cheyenne have banded together in this annual community project. CFD has a minimal staff with the rest of the work being done by over 3,000 volunteers. Due to this effort, and numerous other community-oriented volunteer projects, Cheyenne has been dubbed “the volunteer capital of the world.”

LARGE OUTDOOR RODEO COMMITTEE OF THE YEAR

Cheyenne was voted “Large Outdoor Rodeo Committee of the Year” by the PRCA for 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 2000, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. The award was voted on by the top 100 contestants in each PRCA event, stock contractors, and PRCA contract personnel.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

CFD was organized over 128 years ago to economically benefit the City of Cheyenne, and we continue to stay focused on delivering our mission to be a positive economic resource in our community. CFD draws cowboys and rodeo and music fans from throughout the country for a spirited, ten-day celebration of Western heritage. CFD serves as an important boost to Cheyenne's economy, bringing hundreds of thousands of visitors who pump a significant amount of money into the local community.

In 2023, total ticketed attendance for rodeos and nightshows was over 269,543. The three free pancake breakfasts saw 18,588 meals served and approximately 46,824 visited the Indian Village.

According to the 2021 Economic Impact Study, visitors spent nearly $40.3 million in Laramie County during CFD, including $7.9 million at restaurants and bars, $7.6 million on accommodations, $12.7 million on entertainment and recreation, and $12.1 million on shopping, gas and other retail purchases. CFD also creates over 509 full and part-time jobs.

ABOUT CHEYENNE

ABOUT THE WYOMING STATE CAPITOL

Cheyenne was founded on the banks of Crow Creek in July 1867. The town, named by Army General Grenville Dodge after the Indians who inhabited the area, took on many nicknames over the years. Cheyenne originally was referred to as “Hell on Wheels” because the first businesses to arrive at the new railhead were ones that traveled along with the Union Pacific as it broke ground westward across the Great Plains. These businesses were set up in tents with false storefronts. Most were drinking and gambling establishments catering to the rough and tumble life of transient cowboys, local ranch hands and soldiers at nearby Fort D.A. Russell.

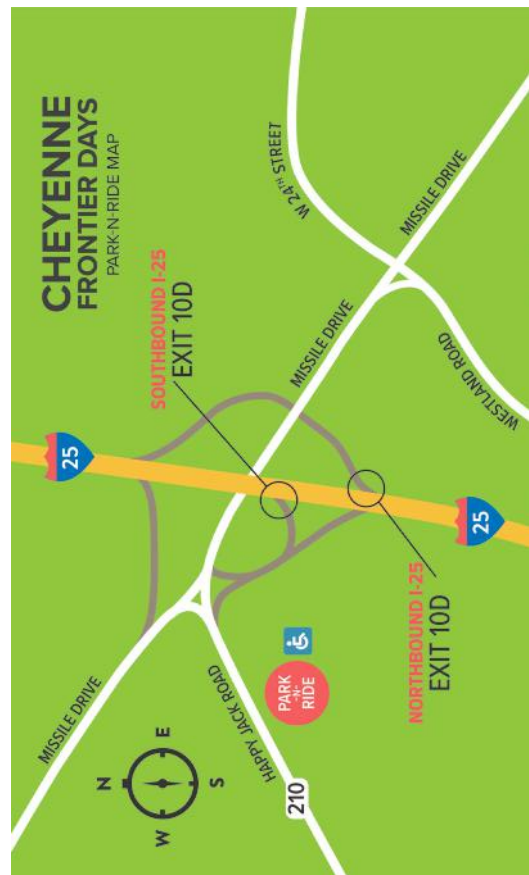

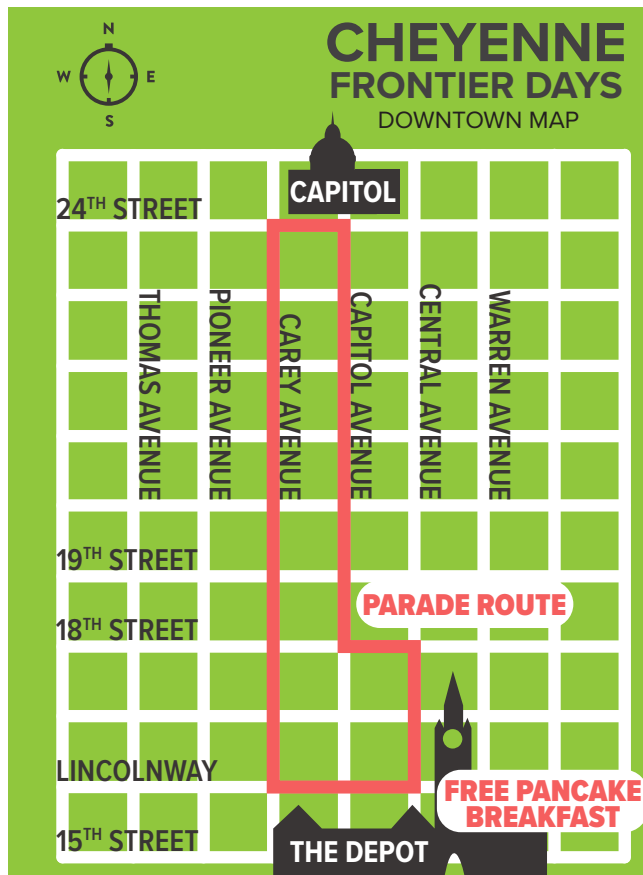

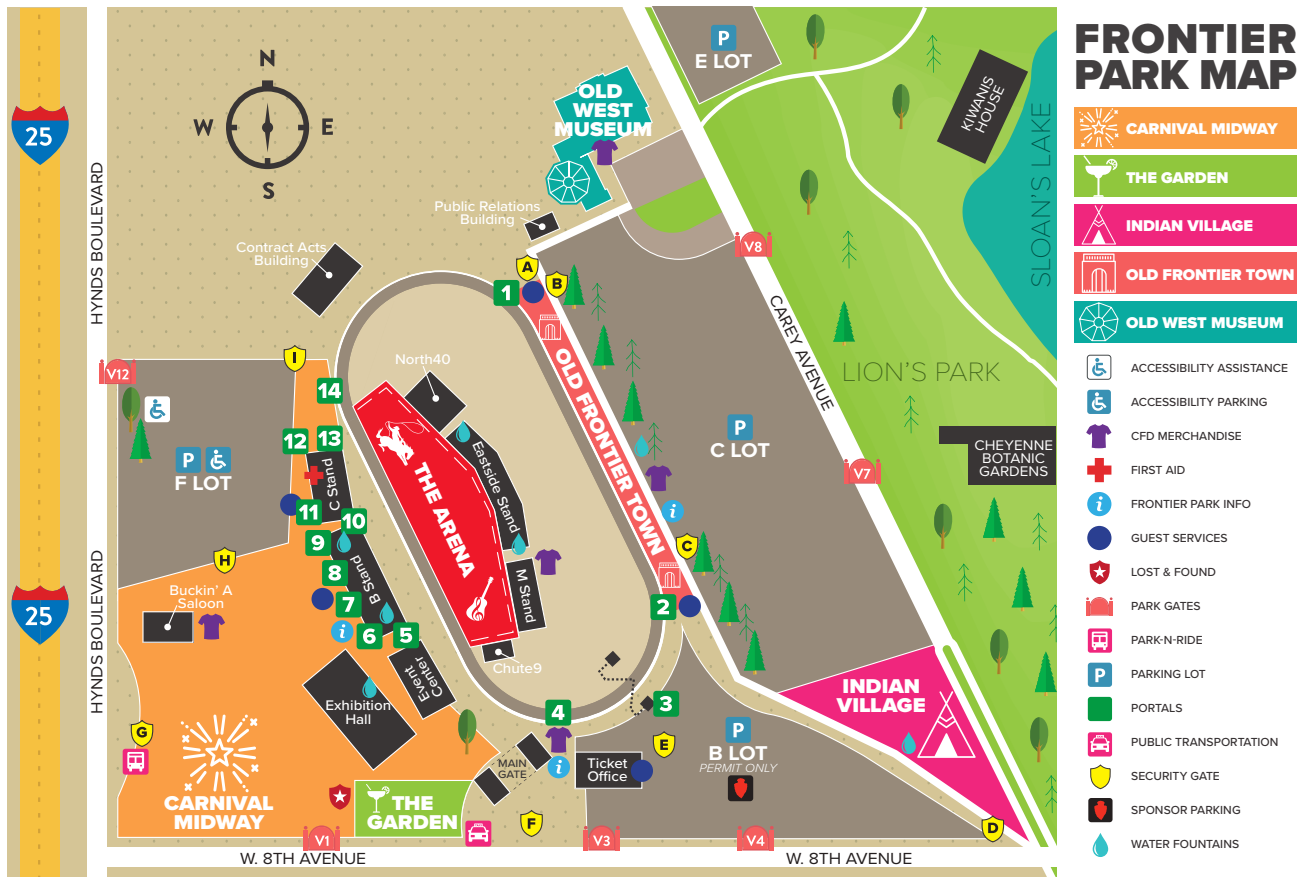

Within 15 years Cheyenne became known as the “Magic City of the Plains” and gained status as the “richest city of its size in the world.” Wealthy cattle barons from the East and abroad invested in the booming cattle industry and built huge, elaborate mansions in Cheyenne. Many of these historic landmarks are still standing today, including the historic Governor’s Mansion which is open to the public year-round.

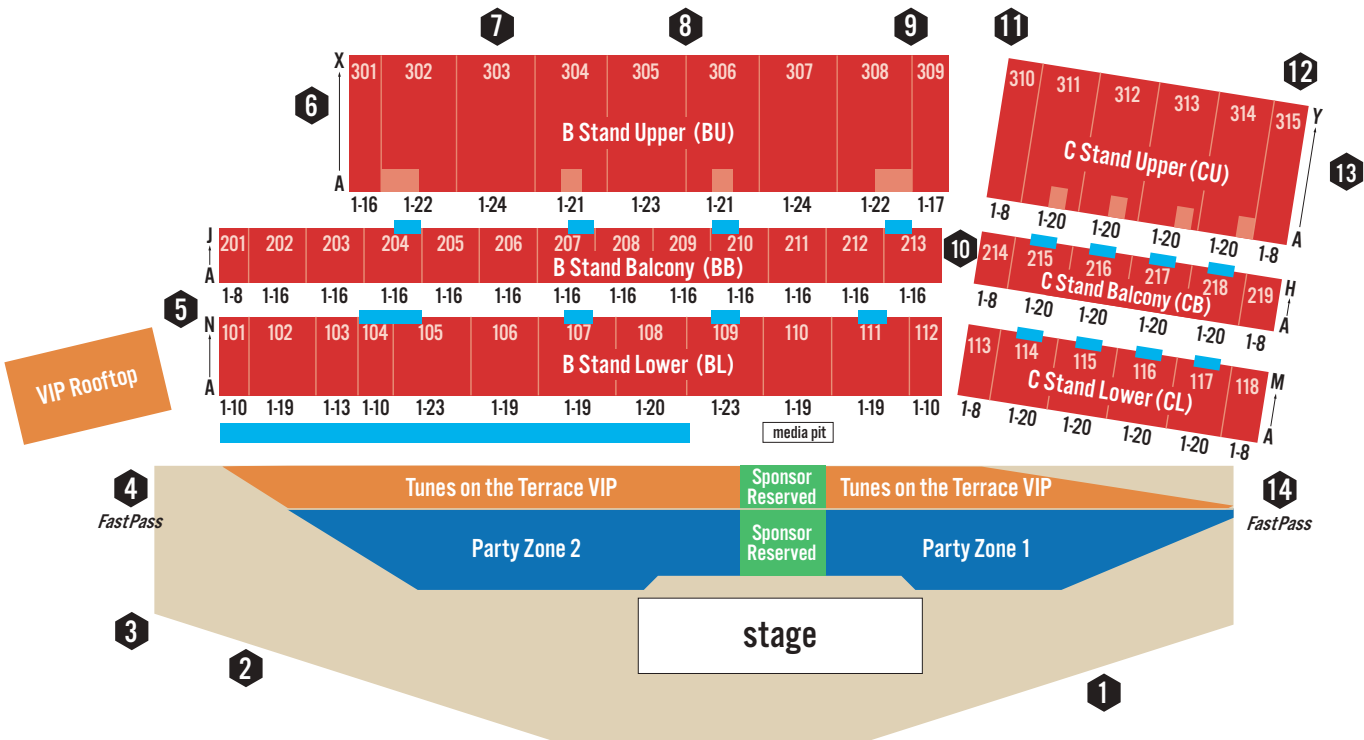

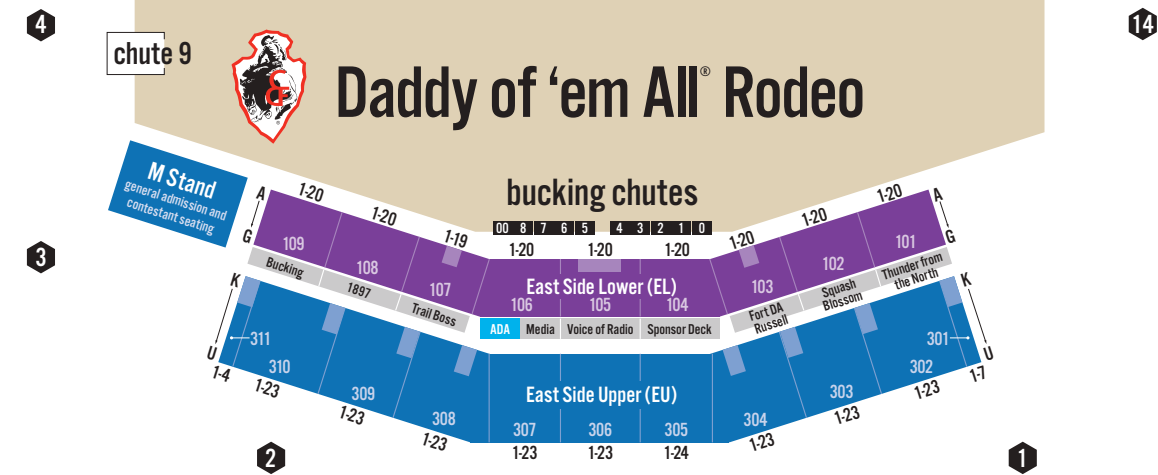

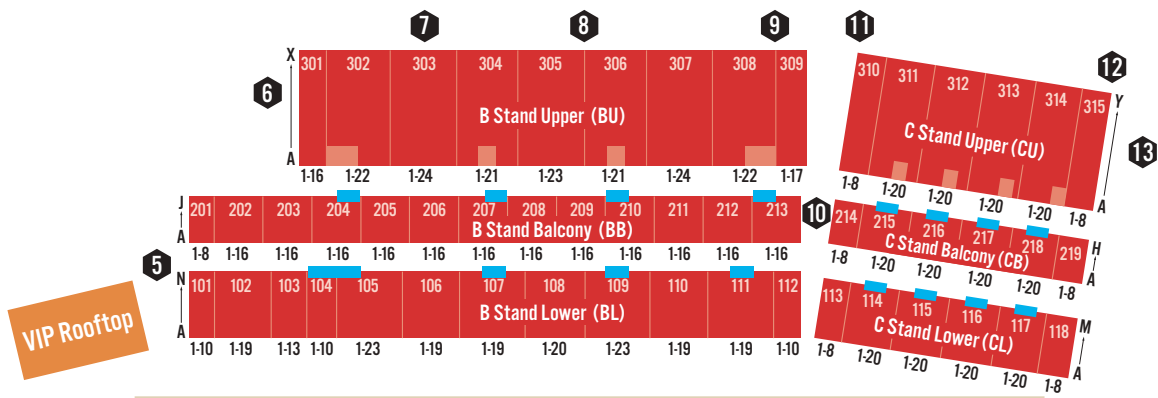

Today, Cheyenne’s economic base is supported mostly by government, wholesale and retail trade, and tourism. Cheyenne still serves as a major crossroad in the West for the Union Pacific and the Burlington Northern Railroads, as well as Interstates 80 and 25.

CREDENTIALS

Credential requests should be submitted as early as possible. Priority is given to professionals working on assignment for specific media outlets approved by the Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) PR Committee prior to the celebration.

FULL CREDENTIALS

Full credentials are valid for all ten days of CFD, and will be issued only to the following:

- Paid employees of media outlets or CFD
- Writers or photographers on assignment with an established/recognized media outlet. We request all individuals provide a copy of their work when it is published.
- PRCA photographers (2024 membership card)

PHOTOGRAPHER PIT PASS

These passes are issued daily on a priority basis to photographers on assignment. The photo pit is an excellent vantage point to capture action shots of arena events. Photographers requesting a pit pass should contact the PR Media Office prior to 10 a.m. Movement to and from the pit is prohibited during the rodeo with the exception of a short intermission halfway through the performance. During this time, photographers wishing to stay for only of half the events may leave, and others may take their place. This allows a greater number of photographers an opportunity.

Please note that bottled drinking water is available in the photo pit, however, there are no rest rooms.

Space in the pit is very limited and access will be prioritized as follows:

- Paid employees of media outlets (working press)
- Photographers/Videographers with a valid letter of assignment from a media outlet
- PRCA photographers (2024 membership card)

PHOTOGRAPHER CHUTE PASS

Photographers requesting a chute pass should contact the Media Office prior to 10 a.m. There are a limited number of chute passes available to general media. If you have a specific need that cannot be met with the photo pit's accommodations, contact the Media Office at the PR Building.

Chute passes allow the holder to photograph rodeo events from a restricted area alongside the roping and bucking chutes. For safety reasons, the chute area and arena are the most restricted areas and PRCA regulations apply.

PLEASE NOTE: The PRCA retains media rights to all sanctioned rodeos. These rights are specific to rodeo action and competitors. Complete rules governing broadcast and print are available at the PR Media Office or by contacting the PRCA directly.

NIGHT SHOW POLICY

All night show/concert press passes must be approved in advance. If you wish to cover a nightshow, please submit a request in writing to the Cheyenne Frontier Days™ Public Relations (PR) Committee by June 30. Any media who does not request a night show/concert media pass in advance will not be able to take photos, video or review the show. When the request is submitted please include information on what you intend to do (e.g. photography, video, or review of the show). The Public Relations Committee will have a listing for who is approved, the artists' restrictions and any added requirements (often only the first 2-3 songs) one or two days prior to the show. If you wish to conduct an interview with an artist, we can provide contact information for the artist's management and you can contact them directly. The PR Committee will not set up interviews for you.

DRESS REQUIREMENTS

PRCA clothing regulations state all media personnel and photographers must wear a long-sleeve western style shirt, long pants, boots and western hat while present in the photo pit, arena, chute area and in the cowboy ready area. The rodeo is highly photographed for both television and print media; the clothing requirement ensures the western flavor of the event and the safety of working media in and around the arena. If the requirement presents a problem, please contact the PR Media Office. We have extra hats and western shirts available to borrow.

MEDIA PLACES

MEDIA CENTER

Cheyenne Frontier Days™ has a dedicated space for media, located in the building behind the PR House. Volunteers are available to help you obtain pit and chute passes, as well as help you with story ideas and interviews. There is wireless internet and work areas for media.

MEDIA BOX

During the rodeo, media can watch from a shaded box located in the east stand. PR volunteers are available to answer questions and help obtain interviews with contestants. Secure your seat early, this area fills up quickly.

PHOTO PIT

The photo pit is an excellent vantage point to capture action shots of arena events. It is in the middle of the arena and allows photographers to capture contestants from the chutes and Chute 9. You need a pass to get in this area.

CHUTES

The chutes are restricted areas requiring a pass. The chutes on the north end of the arena tend to be less crowded than the south chutes, which include sponsors. Photographers must first check with a PR volunteer before going on the chute platform. You are only allowed to stay on the chute platform for a few rides.

COWBOY READY AREA

Underneath the east stand near the north chutes, rodeo contestants are getting ready for their rides. PR volunteers are available to help you find an interview and escort you into the area for photos/b-roll.

PARKING

- Directions to the Public Relations Facility: Take Exit 12 off I-25. Turn right on Central Ave. Turn right on Kennedy into the park and travel approximately one and a half blocks to Carey Ave. Turn left on Carey and proceed to Gate V-8 just past the CFD Old West Museum. Tell the gate attendant you are picking up media credentials. The attendant will direct you to the PR/Media Center. You may park in "C" Lot with your parking pass. Parking is subject to availability.
- Park-n-Ride Shuttle Service: Cost will be $20 per carload and operates daily. A quick five minute bus ride takes you directly to the celebration!

RODEO

CHEYENNE FRONTIER DAYS™ HAS OVER 1,600 COWBOYS/COWGIRLS
& OVER 2,000 ANIMAL ATHLETES.

PRCA RODEO

JULY 20-28, 2024
ALL RODEOS BEGIN AT 12:45 P.M.
COST $27 – $55

Cheyenne Frontier Days™ received the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) Large Outdoor Rodeo Of The Year at the National Finals Rodeo awards banquet held in Las Vegas. Cheyenne Frontier Days™ has previously received the PRCA Large Outdoor Rodeo Of The Year award in 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 2000, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014.

Cheyenne's world-class rodeo is truly the Daddy of 'em All®. Known for its fast pace and large number of contestants, the CFD rodeo ensures visitors see more rodeo action – two sections of bulls, and two sections of saddle and bareback broncs daily – than they can see at any other rodeo. Every rodeo event is performed in each of the nine daily performances, so any day at Cheyenne Frontier Days™ is a good day to see an exciting, action-packed rodeo.

The rodeo consists of track acts in a fast-paced display of athletics, heroics and good-natured fun. Ultimately, the rodeo is about the people who make it great: the contestants, the announcers, the barrelman, and last but not least, the bullfighters.

TIMED EVENTS

The PRCA rodeo also spotlights barrel racing, tie-down roping, steer roping, steer wrestling, team roping and women's breakaway roping.

BULL RIDING

In rodeo's most popular and dangerous event, a cowboy is required to remain aboard a 2,000 pound bucking, spinning, jerking bull for eight seconds to receive a score.

Grasping a bull rope around the bull's chest, a rider maintains body balance "over his hands" by sitting up, arching his back, and using his free hand to counteract the action of the bull. Spurring is not required of a bull rider but can add points to a rider's score.

Leaning back can result in the rider being whipped forward when the bull bucks, throwing him forward toward the bull's head, an undesirable and dangerous place to be.

Bullfighters play an important role in the bullriding. They risk their lives daily to save a cowboy life.

BAREBACK RIDING

Required to ride for eight seconds, the rider grasps a suitcase handle-like rigging made of leather and rawhide. Optimum spurring action begins with the rider laying back on the horse, his heels above the horse's shoulder on the first jump out of the chute. If not in the correct position, the rider is disqualified with a penalty flag thrown by one of the judges. A rider is also disqualified if his free hand touches the animal the rigging or himself.

He pulls his feet, toes turned outward, across the horse's shoulders. The rider is judged on his control during the ride, his spurring technique.

RODEO

CHEYENNE FRONTIER DAYS™ HAS OVER 1,500 COWBOYS/COWGIRLS
& OVER 2,000 ANIMAL ATHLETES.

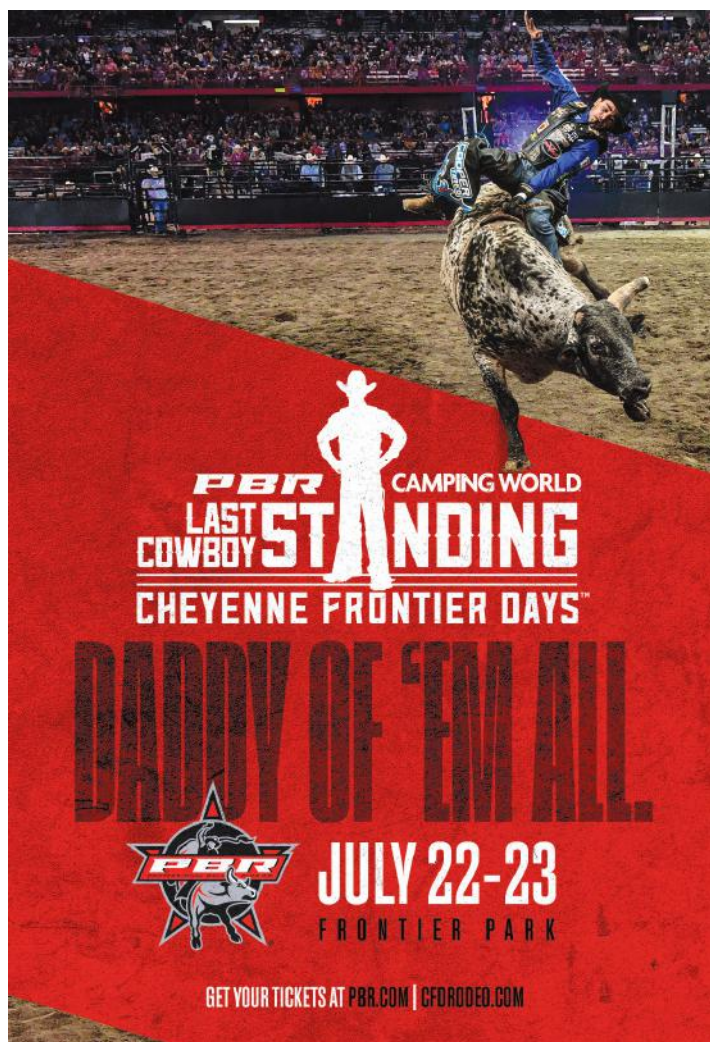

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Developed from the early chore of breaking wild horses, ranch hands would often compete to see who could ride wild horses with the most style. The rider must begin the ride with his feet over the bronc's shoulders or risk a "no score." During the ride the cowboy must synchronize his spurring action with the animal's bucking efforts. Model spurring action begins with the rider's feet above the point of the bronc's shoulders, sweeping to the back of the saddle as the horse bucks and is repeated during the ride. The rider uses a buck rein for balance. The rider is disqualified if he touches the animal, himself or his saddle with his free hand, if either foot slips out of a stirrup or if he drops the buck rein during the eight second ride.

FRONTIER NIGHTS®

Night time entertainment naturally followed the rodeo performances in Cheyenne, but it became an official part of Cheyenne Frontier Days™ on the eve of the Great Depression. In 1929, the committee built a small version of old-time Cheyenne on the grounds at Frontier Park complete with false-front saloons and theaters to depict the rowdy days of yesteryear. Soon, a carnival was added to the park's attractions. Downtown, square dancing on a designated street intersection along with dance performances by the Sioux Indians enticed people out for the July evenings.

During the big band era of the 1940s and 50s, top-name bands provided music and dancing at Frontier Park. In the late 50s, a 10-cent fee was charged for each dance. The "dime-a-dance" feature was a Frontier Days favorite of Cheyennites who danced at the Pavilion, which now houses the CFD Old West Museum. The first night arena show was staged in front of the grandstands in 1951. Television's Fred McMurray held the audience spellbound that first year along with Lawrence Welk and his orchestra just prior to landing their famous television show. The early night arena entertainment ranged from clown and dog acts to chariot races, fancy and trick riding, and drum and bugle corps performances. Other Hollywood stars that followed in the 1960s included Michael Landon as "Little Joe" of TV's Bonanza and Robert Conrad of The Wild Wild West. In the early '70s, the current "B" stands replaced the old stands, and in 1977 Frontier Days was extended to 10 days. Now, Cheyenne is equipped to book top country and western entertainment as well as rock acts.

NATIVE AMERICAN INDIAN VILLAGE

American Indians have always been an important part of western history. In 1898, just after the second annual Frontier Days rodeo, the CFD committee invited American Indian performers to participate in the CFD celebration. American Indian performers have returned to CFD each year since, entertaining and educating visitors about American Indian heritage and culture. Historically, the visiting performers camped on a corner of Frontier Park, and that became a tourist mecca. Over the years, the site of the camp ground shifted from place to place. In the 1960s, the CFD committee established a permanent camp ground, dubbed the “Indian Village,” on the southeast corner of the park, where it remains to this day. In addition to hosting authentic American Indian dancing, music playing and storytelling, the Indian Village also includes a number of Native American exhibit booths and food vendors.

PANCAKE BREAKFASTS

FREE

MONDAY, JULY 22; WEDNESDAY, JULY 24;
& FRIDAY, JULY 26 FROM 7 – 9 A.M.

Initiated by the Cheyenne Frontier Days™ Committee in 1952, this traditional free breakfast, initially served twice a week, has become a beloved event among locals and visitors alike. The Kiwanis Club, with the assistance of Cheyenne Boys and Girl Scouts, sizzle up the cakes on military ranges. For the Kiwanis, the pancake breakfast isn't just about fun; it's also an opportunity to hone their skills. These ranges have proven invaluable in the past, aiding in feeding victims of natural disasters. Frontier Days offers the perfect occasion to showcase Civil Defense's capability to feed large crowds efficiently.

The all-time Cheyenne Frontier Days™ free pancake breakfast single-day record was set during the Wednesday 1996 feeding frenzy, with 16,897 individuals served. That same year, the weekly record was shattered when 39,111 people relished in a free breakfast and Cheyenne's Western hospitality. For the record, nearly 40,000 were fed in a combined serving time of eight hours and ten minutes.

This year, Cheyenne Frontier Days™, along with the Kiwanis Club, the City of Cheyenne, and sponsors Community Coffee and Black Hills Energy, are set to dish out over 100,000 flapjacks crafted from 5,000 pounds of pancake mix. Additionally, they'll serve 9,200 cartons of milk and 520 gallons of coffee, accompanied by 630 pounds of butter and 475 gallons of syrup!

Starting at 7 a.m., the free breakfast is open to all!

PARADES

SATURDAY, JULY 20; TUESDAY, JULY 23;
THURSDAY, JULY 25; SATURDAY, JULY 27 AT 9 A.M.

The Grand Parades have been popular with Cheyenne Frontier Days™ audiences for over 125 years, and 2024 promises to continue that trend. Four Grand Parades are scheduled during the 10-day celebration. A rocket announces the beginning of each parade at 9 a.m. on the opening Saturday, Tuesday, Thursday, and final Saturday; and then a procession of charming splendor begins. The Cheyenne Frontier Days™ Grand Parades have evolved into a colorful pageant of the frontier West, mixing the nostalgia of yesterday with the excitement of today.

The "Evolution of Transportation" was developed for the parades in 1925, and from this beginning, subsequent committees have acquired over 50 horse-drawn and open-drawn vehicles by gift, purchase, and loan. Favorites include: the stagecoach, sleigh, ambulance, meat wagon, depot wagon, surreys, and landaus. In 1926, the late Dazee Bristol designed five floats depicting various aspects of frontier life in early Wyoming. Her designs of dance halls, saloons, and mining camps have highlighted Frontier Days parades for more than 85 years.

Other highlights of the parade are equestrian units, historical floats, pre-1964 vehicles, precision drill teams, fancy riders, clowns and much more.

OLD FASHIONED MELODRAMA

ATLAS THEATRE 211 WEST 16TH STREET
MONDAY—SATURDAY AT 7 P.M. & 9 P.M.
SUNDAY AT 7 P.M.

The Cheyenne Little Theatre Players added to the night time entertainment of Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) in 1958 by staging an Old Fashioned Melodrama performance at the Frontier Park Pavilion. The show was a hit, and the performers have carried on their volunteer tradition ever since.

In 1966, they were moved to the abandoned and dilapidated Atlas Theatre downtown. The Atlas Theatre building was erected in 1887. Originally, it housed a confectionery shop on the main level with office spaces on the upper floors. The building was remodeled in 1907 with the assistance of local architect William Dubois. The upper floors were converted into rooms for rent with the main level reserved for the elegant Atlas Theatre, a soda fountain, and a large penny arcade—Wyoming's first. Today, the Atlas Theatre seats 260 guests per performance. Much of the interior has been restored to its original state. The original fire curtain installed in 1908 still hangs from the ceiling above the stage.

The Cheyenne Little Theatre Players have entertained thousands of visitors during CFD with sellout shows that bring about rounds of “boos” and “hisses” for the villain, “cheers” for the hero, and “ah-h’s” for the heroine. The melodrama is a three-act play that focuses on some part of Wyoming's western heritage. It is often written by local talent and includes a variety of crowd-pleasing olio acts, can-can dances, and fun for the whole family.

In the 1960s, a few downtown businessmen were known to assume the status of a vigilante committee aimed at men in golf shorts and boat shoes. The makeshift lawmakers took matters into their own hands by tossing the nonconformists in the lake at Holliday Park—only to give themselves an excuse to donate articles of western attire to poor wet souls who dared not to dress accordingly during CFD.

CHEYENNE GUNSLINGERS

DURING CFD, PERFORMANCES ARE:
MONDAY—SATURDAY AT HIGH NOON AND 6 P.M.
SUNDAYS AT HIGH NOON

In 1983 a local downtown art gallery owner, Ron Levene, sat drinking coffee with a few other 16th Street business owners discussing the western-ness of Cheyenne. It seems they all shared the same blank expressions when summer visitors and tourists came into their shops and asked, “So, where’s all the cowboys and Indians?” Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) certainly provided the old western frontier atmosphere, but only for 10 days in July. These fellas decided to give ‘em what they asked for. Armed with a sizeable donation from the head office of the LaQuinta Inn hotel chain in San Antonio, Texas, these businessmen started the Cheyenne Gunslingers.

They got off to a slow start that first season. The volunteers didn’t anticipate the costs involved with staging the gunfights. But, within a few years the association had grown into a first-rate tourist attraction not only during CFD, but for the whole summer. The men furnish their own guns and costumes, and together, they write the scripts that are staged twice daily at Gunslinger Square, 16th Street and Carey Avenue. In addition to the fun-filled skits, the Cheyenne Gunslingers also have a more serious side. They show the audience the importance of gun safety, and much of the information is aimed effectively at the youth in the crowd. The “shoot ‘em up” show is free to the public.

FORT D.A. RUSSELL DAYS MUSKETS TO MISSILES

Fort D.A. Russell Days is a celebration of the U.S. military throughout the history of what is now, Francis E. Warren AFB. The base is the oldest active Air Force base and has been an active duty military installation since its inception in 1867. The installation's ties to CFD dates back to the very first installment of the famous rodeo in 1897, when soldiers from the post fired a canon signifying the start of the event and staged a mock battle in the arena.

Today, the base holds its annual open house during the rodeo so that the public can learn about its current and past missions. Visitors to Ft. D.A. Russell Days will be able to tour the historic brick homes, several dating back to the 19th century, tour the base museum and watch historic military reenactments. The base also demonstrates modern technology associated with its current intercontinental ballistic missile mission. Visitors can observe military working dogs in action, tour a real-life training launch facility, and marvel at the wide variety of missile support vehicles, such as the gigantic missile transporter erector. F.E. Warren Air Force Base is located at exit 11 on I-25 in Cheyenne.

VOLUNTEERS & STRUCTURE

FOR MORE THAN A CENTURY, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF LARGE COMPANIES, BANK PRESIDENTS, SCHOOL TEACHERS, REALTORS, HOMEMAKERS, STATE & FEDERAL EMPLOYEES-LITERALLY FOLKS FROM EVERY WALK OF LIFE-HAVE DEVOTED MILLIONS OF VOLUNTEER HOURS TO PLAN, ORGANIZE AND EXECUTE ALL THE EVENTS ASSOCIATED WITH CFD.

VOLUNTEERS

“IT’S THE CHEYENNE THING TO DO...” That’s how Bill Dubois, a 2004 inductee in the Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) Hall of Fame, replied when asked why he had been volunteering for more than four decades in a variety of capacities at the Daddy of ‘em All®. “It’s the Cheyenne thing to do” for tens of hundreds of volunteers who provide the people power to produce what arguably is the largest outdoor western celebration in the world.

It began as a simple one-day celebration in September of 1897 when a group of volunteers from the Cheyenne business community thought it would be fun and profitable to stage a western celebration. Today, more than 3,000 volunteers work around the calendar to produce an event that borders on two weeks long and includes parades, pancake breakfasts, world-class concerts, chili and chuckwagon cookoffs, carnival, exhibits, Indian Village, military open houses and performances by the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds and, of course the event that started it all-nine Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) rodeos.

Volunteers are the fuel that drives the CFD engine. Tasks range from sorting stock for the nine rodeos plus the slack performances; caring for the world’s largest horse-drawn carriage collection and a remarkable period clothing collection; mucking horse stalls; directing traffic in all types of weather; manning gates; the care and feeding of a large media contingent; serving as hosts to the tens of thousands of spectators who enjoy the variety of events; the care and maintenance of a 100-acre park with barns, grandstands, exhibit halls, food facilities and arenas and thousands of other grizzly little details that must be accomplished for the event to succeed.

STRUCTURE

Only a handful of the estimated 3,000 workers who make Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) come to life each July are paid for their services. The Committee employs 20 full-time people to manage the year-round production of the show, and a Board of Directors serves as an advisory council to the General Committee.

BUCKLE CLUB

The Buckle Club is comprised of past and present committee chairpersons and their spouses. This group was organized in 1979 and utilizes the talent and experience of seasoned volunteers to assist with various functions of Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD). Members have been instrumental in producing the Exceptional Rodeo in past years and continue with the Challenge Rodeo, which is Cheyenne's independent version of the special children's rodeo.

HEELS

The idea of the "HEELS" emerged in 1934 as a result of financial difficulties brought on by the Great Depression. Because the pocket linings of Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) were pulled inside out and drooping, a group of volunteers put their heads together and brainstormed over how to remedy the show's tough financial situation. They tossed around the idea of replacing paid arena help with volunteers of the committee, and the HEELS organization was born. It is said that volunteer Ed Storey commented during that casual meeting that they'd be a bunch of heels if they didn't help out, and the name stuck.

Today, the HEELS are comprised of 430 volunteers who have been recognized for their exceptional service to CFD. Each year new members are nominated and voted into the select group based on their contribution of volunteerism to the show. Each HEEL is entitled to wear a specially designed badge and belt buckle to distinguish the honor.

W-HEELS

The W-Heels is a group of volunteer women who work with the Parades Committee in producing the horse-drawn vehicle section of the four Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) parades each year. These gals provide the carriage riders with over 600 authentic costumes that reflect the styles worn between 1897 and 1914. The group supports the CFD Old West Museum and is active in carriage preservation and restoration.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The Cheyenne Frontier Days™ Memorial Foundation provides scholarships for Cheyenne Frontier Days™ volunteers and their dependents to any college of their choice. $1,389,900 in Scholarship money has been given since inception.

The new facility features 17 single-occupancy rooms with full bathrooms, eight of which are equipped with air flow exchanges for patients with infectious diseases, and two specialized rooms designed for bariatric patients' safe care.

This year, CRMC achieved several notable firsts within the Wyoming healthcare landscape. Notably, CRMC secured sepsis certification from The Joint Commission, becoming the first hospital in Wyoming to receive this distinction.

CRMC's interventional pain management physicians are the first to utilize the SPRINT Peripheral Nerve Stimulation (PNS) system. This innovative system, a minimally invasive and nonopioid neurostimulation device, is instrumental in treating acute and chronic pain, reflecting CRMC's commitment to embracing cutting-edge medical technologies and approaches.

Since then the iconic Wrangler patch has been worn by countless World Champions, ranchers, farmers, fans, and hard-working families in every occupation.

Things seem to move faster. People seem to move faster. Life seems to move faster. Some call this change... some call it progress. And maybe it's a little bit of both. CHEYENNE'S WORLD-CLASS RODEO IS TRULY THE DADDY OF 'EM ALL®. ULTIMATELY, THE RODEO IS ABOUT THE PEOPLE WHO MAKE IT GREAT: THE CONTESTANTS, THE ANNOUNCERS, THE BARRELMAN, AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST, THE BULLFIGHTERS.

BARRELMAN & BULLFIGHTERS

Bullfighters may appear to do a lot of “clowning around,” but their role is of utmost importance to the contestants. Their job is to help prevent the contestants from sustaining injuries by the bulls. In many cases, these bullfighters have been responsible for saving a contestant’s life. For this reason, they must be in peak physical condition and mentally alert for their “dances with bulls.” Most bullfighters and clowns wear good athletic shoes or cleats as part of their costume. The costumes are generally quite colorful and loose fitting to divert the bull’s attention from the contestant after the ride. Occasionally, a contestant’s hand may become “hung up” in the rope when he is bucked off. When this happens, the bullfighters are right there risking their own safety to free the cowboy’s hand from atop the bucking bull’s back. One bullfighter distracts the bull while another tries to free the cowboy’s hand. At Cheyenne, two bullfighters work together in the arena to assist the contestants during the bull riding events.

Frank Thompson is a former World Champion PRCA Steer Wrestler and CFD Volunteer. The arena director is responsible for the activities in the arena. He ensures that PRCA rules are followed and provides the safest environment possible for anyone who enters the arena. During the rodeo he coordinates the roping events that take place at Chute 9 on the south end of the arena with the rough stock events that come out of the bucking chutes. Frank acts as a troubleshooter and takes action to solve problems that arise in the arena. He also starts the wild horse race and decides which direction around the track the horses will travel.

CHUTE 9 BOSS

PAUL CLEVELAND

Paul is the "chute boss" for the timed events at Cheyenne. He is responsible for facilitating the correct order of the stock and the contestants. Paul physically inspects the equipment used and by the contestants to make sure it complies with PRCA regulations. He is in charge of the Chute 9 setup. Paul also supervises the grading of the tie-down cattle and steers to meet weight requirements.

JUSTIN SPORTS MEDICINE

Justin Sports Medicine maintains a comprehensively equipped mobile medical unit directly behind the "E" Stands during the CFD rodeo. Cheyenne physicians volunteer their time and services by working with the Justin team to patch up the contestants should they require medical attention. The unit and its staff focus on prevention as the first line of defense against injury, but provide emergency medical attention including cardiac life support if it is needed.

MISS FRONTIER

The first Miss Frontier was selected in 1931 when the Cheyenne Frontier Days™ committee sponsored a contest. All six of the girls who entered were sponsored by a civic organization. Each girl was judged based on the number of tickets sold by her sponsoring organization. Miss Jean Nimmo Dubois had the honor of becoming the first Miss Frontier when the Cheyenne Post of the American Legion sold the most tickets to the show. The year 1934 saw the CFD committee select Lois Crain Moor as Miss Frontier and Leona Burner Gillen as her Lady-in-Waiting, starting a tradition that follows to this day. During the reign of Mary Helen Warren Welborn in 1936, Miss Frontier acquired her traditional garb of the “White Bucks.” Mary Helen had seen Sally Rand, the fan dancer who appeared at CFD wearing an outfit of leather, consisting of a divided skirt and vest trimmed in fringe and silver conchos. Mary Helen thought the outfit was most appealing and so the familiar official clothing of Miss Frontier came into being with a satin blouse. The role of Miss Frontier has evolved through the years. Today, as well as appearing at all of the events of the show, she is a visible representative of CFD appearing at other rodeos, press conferences and special events.
