LOCATION OVERVIEW

AIRPORT PROXIMITY

Seattle–Tacoma International Airport (SEA): Commonly known as Sea-Tac, SEA is located about 30 miles north of Lakewood in SeaTac, WA. It is the primary commercial airport for the Puget Sound region, offering a full range of domestic service and is a major gateway for international travel, as well as direct service to nearly every major U.S. city.

Tacoma Narrows Airport (TIW): Located roughly 11 miles northwest of Lakewood in Gig Harbor, this general aviation airport is primarily used by private and corporate aircraft. While it does not provide scheduled commercial service, TIW offers charter flights, flight training, and small-aircraft facilities, making it useful for business aviation and regional connections.

King County International Airport – Boeing Field (BFI): Situated about 36 miles north of Lakewood near downtown Seattle, BFI serves as a hub for cargo, private aviation, and corporate flights. It also handles some limited passenger service, particularly private charters and smaller regional carriers. Boeing Field is home to Boeing test flights and significant aerospace industry activity.

Olympia Regional Airport (OLM): Located approximately 27 miles south of Lakewood, Olympia Regional primarily supports general aviation and corporate aircraft. While OLM does not offer commercial airline service, it serves as a convenient secondary airport for private travel.

Portland International Airport (PDX): About 130 miles south of Lakewood (just over 2 hours by car), PDX in Portland, Oregon, is another major international airport option. It is well-regarded for passenger experience and offers a wide range of domestic and international flights, sometimes providing fare and route alternatives to SEA.

HIGHWAY ACCESS

I-5 (Interstate-5): Major north-south artery bisecting Lakewood, providing direct connections to Tacoma (north) and Olympia (south).

State Route 512 (SR-512): Western terminus at Lakewood, linking to Puyallup and I-5 eastbound, facilitating east-west travel.

State Route 704 (Cross-Base Highway): Proposed route across JBLM intended to connect to I-5; ultimately cancelled due to environmental and cost concerns.

Public Transit: Served by Pierce Transit and Sound Transit Express, with the Lakewood station serving as the southern terminus of the Sounder S-Line commuter rail to Tacoma and Seattle
