THIS WEEK IN A PICTURE

A POIGNANT MOMENT

There was a touching moment at the recent Karen Walker Shield tournament as former England football captain Karen Walker returned to her roots – watching Goldthorpe Primary School in the very place where her football journey began.

Walker, who famously scored 40 goals in 83 appearances for her country and starred as a centre forward for the Doncaster Belles, was warmly welcomed by the current Goldthorpe girls' football team. The young players were thrilled to meet their school's most celebrated sporting alumna as they competed in the tournament named in her honour.

Goldthorpe's team put in a spirited performance, finishing third in the inaugural Karen Walker Shield. But for many of the players, the highlight wasn't just the football—it was the chance to meet a true trailblazer in the women's game.

Walker's presence served as a powerful reminder of how far women's football has come—and how much inspiration can be drawn from local heroes.

Swallownest's Surprise at Switch

By Steve Birch

@southyorkshiresport

In a move that caught many by surprise, Swallownest FC will be charting new territory next season as they join the United Counties League (UCL) for the 2025–26 campaign.

As reported last week (SYS Issue 10), the lateral shift, part of the FA's annual restructuring of the National League System, also includes Dronfield Town, who were re-prieved from relegation.

Swallownest, who finished 16th in the Northern Counties East League (NCEL) Division One, now become the first Yorkshire-based club to compete in the UCL—a league traditionally made up of teams from North Nottinghamshire and Lincolnshire.

A Decision Out of the Blue

Club Chair Louise Pink, speaking to SYS, expressed her surprise at the decision:

“We were very surprised to receive the news and had no inkling that this may happen. We were aware through conversations with officials of other clubs that there was potential for lateral movement—but not for us.”

While both the NCEL and UCL operate at Steps

5 and 6 of the football pyramid, there's a perception among some that the NCEL offers a more competitive environment. However, the real concern for Swallownest lies beyond the pitch.

Community First, Always

As a community-focused club, Swallownest prides itself on sustainability and local engagement. The shift to the UCL could impact both.

“We think there may be some unintended consequences of the move,” Pink explained. “We are concerned that our crowds may decrease. We're not a club with deep pockets—we don't pay extravagant expenses, even if we could. Our mission is to provide high-quality football for the local community, and the loss of local derbies could be a financial hit.”

Travel Worries and No Appeal

There were also initial concerns from players about increased travel times. However, a fan-led analysis on the Non-League Matters forum estimated the average away trip in the UCL would be around 35 minutes—comparable to NCEL travel times. The major difference is they will be travelling south rather than north! However, with many players who are based in West Yorkshire, this could make things more difficult. Local derbies will now be, besides Dronfield Town, Staveley Welfare and the two Retford clubs rather than Maltby, Dearne and Doncaster City who would bring with them a large following.

Despite considering an appeal, the club ultimately decided against it.

“With barely 24 hours to notify of the intent to appeal, we were on the back foot,” said Pink. “We also had to consider the cost and the fact that recent appeals haven't been successful.”

Looking Ahead with Optimism

While the move was unexpected, Swallownest is embracing the challenge, the club has priority for a return to the NCEL in 2026–27 should a suitable vacancy arise.

“We're looking forward to playing against many former NCEL clubs now in the UCL and getting to know new ones too,” Pink added.

As the club prepares for a season of new rivalries and fresh challenges, one thing remains clear: Swallownest's commitment to its community and values will continue to guide its journey—wherever the league map may lead.

Alan Farnell

Local cricket mourns the loss of one of its most dedicated contributors, Alan Farnell, whose passing marks the end of a remarkable era of service to the game.

Alan, a former solicitor by profession, was a cornerstone of Hallam Cricket Club, serving as its President for 16 years until 2019. His involvement with the club began in 1988 when his sons joined as junior players. From that point on, Alan became a tireless advocate for junior cricket, particularly in the training and development of young scorers—a role he embraced with passion and precision.

In 2006, Alan expanded his commitment to the game by qualifying as an umpire and joining the South Yorkshire umpires' panel. His calm authority and deep understanding of the game made him a respected figure on the field.

Following the passing of Tony Skipworth in 2008, Alan took on the important role of Child Welfare Officer for the South Yorkshire League. He served in this capacity with distinction until 2019, ensuring the safety and well-being of countless young players. His contributions also extended to disciplinary matters, where his legal background proved invaluable.

Alan was also a long-serving treasurer for the Association of Cricket Officials (ACO) South Yorkshire Branch, where his meticulous approach and financial stewardship were widely appreciated.

He was a live member of the Yorkshire Cricket Premier League South

His legacy is one of quiet dedication, integrity, and a deep love for the game. Alan Farnell's contributions have left an indelible mark on Yorkshire cricket, and he will be remembered with great respect and gratitude by all who had the privilege to work alongside him.

Pogmoor win Hospital Cup

AFC Pogmoor beat FC Cottage 5-3 on penalties on Tuesday night in the Barnsley Hospital Cup final played at Oakwell.

Finn Ellis' overhead kick gave Pogmoor a 50th minute lead but Cottage came back with a last minute equalizer thanks to Callum Walton scoring direct from a corner kick.

With no extra time, the game went immediately to penalties with Pogmoor having a 100% conversion rate.

Disappointment for Cottage following their County FA Sunday Trophy defeat earlier in the month.

John Shaw

Sheffield RUFC is deeply saddened by the passing of John Shaw—former player, team manager, and lifelong club servant. Arriving at Abbeydale in 1977, Shawsy made 123 first-team appearances and became a beloved figure off the pitch.

Known for his humour, loyalty, and tireless dedication, he remained central to club life long after retiring, organising everything from kit to travel.

His trademark “Hey kid, listen here...” will echo fondly in many memories.

The club extends heartfelt condolences to his children, Rob and Ruth. Shawsy's legacy will live on in the spirit of Sheffield RUFC.

RFU Announce club placings for National League Rugby for 2025/26

In a move that reflects the ongoing challenges of balancing geography and competition in English rugby, the Rugby Football Union (RFU) has confirmed that Chester and Lymm will compete in National Two West for the 2025/26 season.

The decision follows a comprehensive review by the RFU Governance and Adult Competitions Committees.

While the current league structure generally serves clubs well, this season presented unique challenges. Several clubs, including Chester and Lymm, found themselves on the fringes of geographical boundaries due to promotions and relegations. This prompted the RFU to reassess placements to ensure fairness and sustainability across the leagues.

“The RFU works hard to review the travel scenarios facing all clubs,” a spokesperson explained. “We aim to make the best decisions for the game overall, even when there’s no perfect solution. We understand this has been a challenging situation for the clubs involved.”

To address concerns and plan for the future, the RFU has committed to a broader review of the league structure during the upcoming season. This review will include significant input from clubs and explore ways to reduce travel demands for the 2026/27 season and beyond.

National League Rugby chairman John Inverdale echoed the RFU’s sentiments, highlighting the complexity of dividing England into three regional leagues—National Two North, East, and West. “This season has illustrated the geographic difficulties more than ever,” he said. “The game had to make tough decisions to be as fair as possible to as many teams as possible.”

The upcoming review signals a willingness to adapt and evolve the league system in response to club feedback and logistical realities. For Chester and Lymm, the 2025/26 season in National Two West marks a new chapter—one shaped by both challenge and opportunity.

CLUB PLACINGS:

National One: Birmingham Moseley, Bishop’s Stortford, Blackheath, Clifton, Dings Crusaders, Leeds Tykes, Leicester Lions, Plymouth Albion, Rams, Rotherham Titans, Rosslyn Park, Sale FC, Sedgley Park, Tonbridge Juddians.

National Two North: Billingham, Darlington Mowden Park, Fylde, Hull, Hull Ionians, Macclesfield, Otley, Preston Grasshoppers, Rossendale, Scunthorpe, Sheffield, Sheffield Tigers, Tynedale, Wharfedale.

Blue Plaque Honours Football Pioneer

In a heartfelt tribute to one of South Yorkshire's unsung football heroes, a blue plaque will be unveiled on Friday, May 30, 2025, to commemorate the life and legacy of legendary football scout and coach Mark Crook.

The ceremony will take place at 2:00 PM at Cortonwood Miners Welfare on Knollbeck Lane, Brampton—once the home of the iconic Wath Wanderers football team.

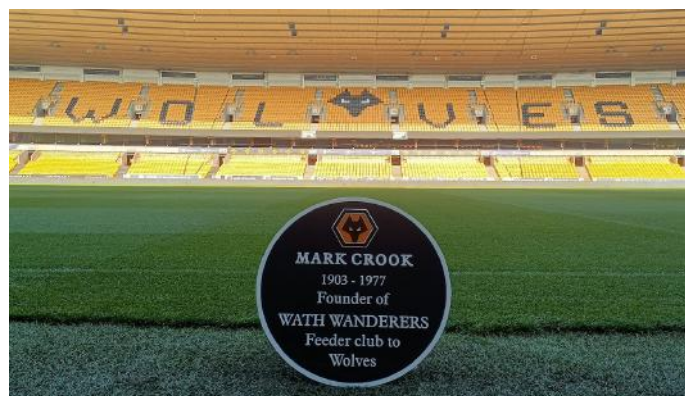

Guests are warmly invited to gather beforehand for tea and coffee from 1:00 PM at Brampton Parish Hall, conveniently located opposite the plaque site, next to the old pit wheel. Parking is available behind the Parish Hall and at the nearby Bulls Head pub. Wolverhampton Wanderers fans attending the event are encouraged to proudly wear their club colours in honour of Crook's deep ties to the team.

Mark Crook's contribution to English football is nothing short of extraordinary. As the man behind Wath Wanderers—a youth team affiliated with Wolverhampton Wanderers—Crook was instrumental in discovering and nurturing over 100 professional footballers. His most notable protégés include Ron Flowers, Roy Swinbourne, and Alan Sunderland, all of whom went on to achieve national acclaim.

Crook's football jour-

The plaque on display at Molineux

ney began on the pitch, playing for clubs such as Wolves, Blackpool, Swindon Town, and Luton Town. But it was his post-playing career that truly set him apart. Given the freedom to run his own scouting and development club in Brampton, Crook created what many now regard as one of the earliest football academies in England—decades ahead of its time.

"Mark's story is a unique one that should never be forgotten," said local football historian Chris Brook, who spearheaded the campaign to honour Crook. "He was a pioneer and a visionary. His eye for talent and his commitment to developing young players changed the lives of so many."

Brook, who previously led a successful campaign to commemorate the Robledo brothers of West Melton, has also announced plans for a charity book chronicling the history of Wath Wanderers, set to be released later this year. The project has received backing from Brampton Bierlow Parish Council and the Hooper Ward, with Crook's granddaughter, Jane Whitlam, lending her full support.

Anyone with memories, photographs, or stories of Wath Wanderers is encouraged to get in touch with Chris Brook at brookchris@talk21.com. For more information about the unveiling and the upcoming book, visit tinyurl.com/crookwwfc.

As the plaque is unveiled and stories are shared, the community will come together not just to remember a man, but to celebrate a legacy that helped shape the future of English football.

Wath a Tale!

Precious Insight Into Institution That Kept On Giving

Renowned Wolves historian David Instone with a background to the Wath Factory

Gerry Taylor, Bob Hatton and Steve Daley were present to hear the word 'factory' used more than once. Well, Wath Wanderers always was regarded as a unique production line or conveyor belt leading all the way to Wolverhampton.

For decades, under the stewardship of a former Molineux winger, this outstanding nursery system sent a stream of talented lads down from South Yorkshire to the West Midlands.

And, now, the window offering an insight into the whole fascinating process is being pushed considerably wider.

We have spoken before on this site of the under-construction Feeding The Wolves book that is due out later this year. In the meantime, we have learned more about the ways of Wath through a two-hour presentation that showed us what that place actually looked like and how it operated.

It also became clear that the parent club overseen by the disciplinarian Major Frank Buckley and then the similarly-principled Stan Cullis (with a bit of Ted Vizard in between) were guilty of poaching young players in a way that was quite legal back then.

Ok, so Wolves famously missed out on Dudley's finest, Duncan Edwards, partly, it is reported, because they were unwilling to offer inducements to lads and their parents. Edwards might well also have become England's finest of the 1960s – and may even have skipped our heroic 1966 World Cup team – had he and seven others off the Old Trafford playing staff not perished in Munich in 1958.

But imagine if Matt Busby had set up a feeder club in Tipton, Cannock or Rugeley – Wath upon Dearne is no more than a small town, after all – and drawn in the top teenage players from this area and beyond, then hand-picked the best of them for United. Neither The Major nor Frank would have been too chuffed!

At that time, though, Wolves were openly raking in lads from under the noses of not only Barnsley, Rotherham and Doncaster but also the bigger fry like the Sheffield clubs and Leeds, even those in the north-east. It was an academy of the most basic kind long before that term was applied to football.

Ron Flowers, Roy Swinbourne, Jack Short, Barry Stobart and Geoff Sidebottom were among the Wath graduates just before or while Wolves were at the pinnacle of the English and European game.

Numerous others followed, including Alan Sunderland, Ken Knighton, Jim Barron, John Galley, Jimmy McVeigh, Dave Galvin and the incomparable maverick who preceded the three we named at the start of this piece, Peter Knowles. In all, 27 Wath players or trialists graduated to Wolves' first team.

Taylor, Hatton and Daley were part of an enthralled audience who learned much more in the Molineux Museum auditorium three nights ago, each speaking of their gratitude to this long-disbanded nursery.

Chris Brook (left) and Ashley Ball with the soon-to-be-unveiled Mark Crook plaque.

Our hosts, author Ashley Ball and project manager and football historian Chris Brook, teased us with the thought that Crook might have tipped off his first professional club, Blackpool, about Alan Ball after Wolves decided the future World Cup winner wasn't for them. They could easily be right. Some years before highlighting his six-season Molineux stay with two crucial late-season goals in the escape from relegation in 1932-33, Crook played for two years under Major Buckley at Bloomfield Road.

To anyone with Wolves' history and past greatness at heart, the Wath story is a wonderful one; overdue in book form and now being told by those on the ground in the area in which the 1984 coalminers' strike began.

Alan Sunderland - rags to riches Wath made story

What gems Ball – a journalist on the Barnsley Chronicle – and former schoolteacher Brook have unearthed through their own digging.

Like the fact that Wolves despatched not only a pristine set of old gold and black kits for Wath to play matches in but also a trusted groundsman to ensure playing and practice conditions were as good as possible. They discovered too, that Sunderland wore borrowed rugby boots to his first Wath trial because his family couldn't afford to properly kit him out.

Crook's grand-daughter, Jane Whitlam, who we mentioned in a previous piece, has also been interviewed at length.

Wolves Heroes will continue to support this belated acknowledgement of a remarkable institution. We plan to travel to South Yorkshire at the end of next month for the unveiling of a commemorative Mark Crook plaque – manufactured here in Wolverhampton by cast iron specialist Robin Lumley – and to provide further publicity to what sounds like an outstanding publication.

Carrfield Crowned Champions in Thrilling Don & Dearne Girls Cup

WORDS: Chris Brook PHOTOS: Julian Barber

Carrfield Primary Academy etched their name into local football history by winning the Don & Dearne Girls Cup, becoming the fourth different school to lift the trophy in as many years.

The tournament, now a staple of the school sports calendar, was founded in 2022 by Carrfield's own Vice Principal, Andy Morton, to give girls in the Totty Cup region their own competitive platform.

This year, Carrfield's girls were unstoppable, going undefeated in a seven-team league that brought together primary schools from the area nestled between Rotherham, Doncaster, and Barnsley.

The tournament, hosted at Mexborough Athletic's Fireparts Stadium, saw standout performances from Lydia Ludlam and Jessie Green, who led Carrfield to glory with skill and determination.

A Fierce Battle for the Podium

While Carrfield took the top spot, Wath Our Lady & St. Joseph's claimed a well-deserved runner-up finish—thanks largely to the sensational nine-goal haul from Frankie Jeffries, a tally that outscored the entire Carrfield team's total of seven goals.

Wath C of E secured third place, edging out Swinton Fitzwilliam, Thurnscoe Gooseacre, Mexborough Windhill, and Goldthorpe Sacred Heart in a tightly contested league.

Karen Walker Shield Debuts with Drama and Defence

In a welcome expansion of the competition, this year also saw the introduction of the Karen Walker Shield—a second-tier tournament for schools that didn't qualify for the main cup. Named in honour of Karen Walker, a former England captain and proud alumna of Goldthorpe, the shield brought its own share of excitement and surprises.

Walker herself made the trip from Hull to witness the action, and she wasn't disappointed. Brampton Ellis emerged as the inaugural champions, going undefeated with five wins from seven matches in a low-scoring but fiercely competitive tournament.

Swinton Queen edged out Walker's former school, Goldthorpe, to take second place. Remarkably, the remaining five teams—Rawmarsh Thorogate, Rawmarsh Ashwood Road, Bolton Lacewood, Thurnscoe Hill, and Kilnhurst St. Thomas—earned all their points through 0–0 draws, highlighting the defensive grit on display.

Community Spirit and Support

Both competitions were made even more special thanks to the generosity of Kev Silverwood of ABC Landscaping, who provided medals for all participants. His support helped ensure that every player went home with a memento of their efforts and achievements.

As the Don & Dearne Girls Cup continues to grow, it's clear that the future of girls' football in South Yorkshire is bright—and fiercely competitive.

Stings Stung but Show Spirit

WORDS: Bill Hardy

The Sheffield Steelkings development squad, known as the Stings, faced a formidable challenge on Saturday as they took on the reigning British Para Ice Hockey League champions, the Cardiff Huskies. Despite the odds and a final scoreline that favored the visitors, the Stings delivered a performance full of heart, resilience, and promise. Stings in a Sheffield Derby.

The match began with a ceremonial puck drop, featuring both team captains and a representative from match sponsor Henry Boot. From the outset, the Stings were under no illusions—they were up against a team stacked with talent, including several Great Britain internationals. The Huskies came into the game as clear favorites, but the Stings were determined to make their mark.

The first period saw the Stings put in a strong defensive effort, holding off the Huskies' early attacks. It wasn't until the sixth minute that GB star Tyler Christopher broke the deadlock, followed by a second goal from veteran Jonathan Le Galloudec. Despite the early setbacks, the Stings showed composure and discipline, frustrating the champions with their structure and work rate.

The second period, however, began with a bang. Just ten seconds in, Christopher struck again, and less than a minute later, Josh Davies added a fourth for Cardiff. The Huskies' momentum continued as former Sting Katie Reed found the net in the 19th minute. The goal came at a cost for the Stings, as netminder Bryan Hackworth was injured on the play, prompting a change in goal. Damian Barker stepped in to face the relentless Cardiff offense.

The Huskies added two more goals before the end of the second period—one from Emma Douglas and another from Davies, who was in fine form. Despite the growing deficit, the Stings refused to back down.

Their persistence paid off midway through the period. Captain Russ Clarke (#75) seized on a pass from Lucas Thomas (#87), broke through the Cardiff defence, and coolly slotted the puck past an aggressive Nicole Hill to score the Stings' first goal of the season. It was a moment of pride and a much-needed morale boost for the young side.

The third period saw a renewed defensive effort from the Stings, who held off the Huskies until the final 25 seconds, when Davies completed his hat-trick.

Though the scoreboard read heavily in Cardiff's favour, the Stings' spirit, teamwork, and breakthrough goal were a testament to their growth and potential in the league.
