NEVER DONE
PERFECTING

In an ever-changing global landscape, we've had a busy year diligently increasing our supply chain capabilities whilst continuing to create new options for our growing range of products and custom options. I'm proud of what our 2026-27 product line represents and I look forward to seeing it out on the competition floor this coming season.

TEAMWEAR DONE RIGHT

We strive to make our team order process simple and efficient, and I'm excited to progress one step further by launching our simplified team pricing structure this season: One competitive team price - no matter the quantity.

As you'll see throughout this catalog, showcased in the bespoke range we created for Capital Gymnastics, we love to connect with teams and infuse thoughtful design with professional branding to create a winning collection of products. Our artist-driven graphic designs are sublimated with striking clarity and durability, enhanced with stylish features not seen anywhere else in gymnastics.

In our ongoing partnership with Frederick Richard, we continue to lead development and refinement of our "future teamwear" concept — a contemporary reimagining of what competitive teamwear can look and feel like. Each iteration pushes the standard forward. We look forward to continuing this collaboration with Frederick, testing new enhancements and features, and creating more options for boys and men across the sport.

SUSTAINABILITY AS STANDARD

Our partnership with CleanHub continues to underscore our genuine commitment to environmental responsibility. Alongside OZONE, we have pledged to support efforts to set up well-working waste management infrastructures where there are currently none so that the waste never makes it into the ocean in the first place. Your business helps us increase our ability to support CleanHub's efforts.

With this, I proudly invite you to check out our latest offering. Thank you for considering TURN this season, we pour our hearts into our work and your support will never be taken for granted.

PROSPEKT

Our Prospekt training range is what we call our elevated basics - basic in color but packed with quality features that will make these your go-to garments beyond the gym.

We listened to frustrated customers who had bought from other brands only to find their apparel had been discontinued. This practice is both wasteful and costly, forcing teams to transition to new uniforms unnecessarily. So we did something about it. This range will be around for years to come.

At TURN, we're proud to say that our partnership with CleanHub is preventing 16,500lb of plastic waste from ending up in landfills, open environments, or our oceans.

More than 2 billion people worldwide dispose of their trash in nature because there are no waste collection services. Through CleanHub, we fund projects that collect plastic waste - either directly from nature, at community collection points or directly from local households. The plastic is then sorted and any material that can be recycled is reused. Plastic that cannot be recycled is used as an alternative fuel in cement production, replacing coal and gas. This prevents the plastic from entering the environment again.

Team Showcase

The Rocky Mountain Mavericks men's gymnastics team is a collegiate program competing in GymACT (Gymnastics Association of College Teams), an NCAA alternative that is helping create, grow, and maintain collegiate gymnastics programs. Established in 2019, the Mavericks were originally formed to unite athletes from Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, and New Mexico, but have since evolved into a Colorado centered team. Undergraduate athletes are primarily centralized at the University of Colorado Boulder, while the current full roster includes student-athletes from CU Boulder, CU Denver, UCCS, as well as individuals pursuing trade schools or professional careers. The team is headquartered and trains at Xtreme Altitude Gymnastics in Lafayette, CO, serving as the central hub for athlete development and team operations.

The Location:

Union Station, Washington DC, one of the country's first great union railroad terminals. Designed by renowned architect, Daniel Burnham, the station opened on October 27, 1907 and was completed in April 1908.

The color of stone and architectural features of the station worked as the perfect backdrop to capture this season's collection.

The Design Process by Cole:

With a clean slate, we got to work searching for inspiration. We settled on the white oak tree, a native and iconic species in the Washington, D.C. area. The trees are known for their strength and resilience- both traits needed to reach the heights of elite gymnastics. Incorporating the tree bark texture into the design is a nod to the local heritage and natural landscape. Developing the concept further, I developed a layer that captures the team's motto - "Strong body. Strong Self. Strong Mind" - this gives the design real depth and a level of personalization we are always looking to deliver.
