BambooBath

In the intro catalog you can find out why bamboo is environmentally sustainable and versatile. Bamboo is perfect not only for making tissue and fabrics but is also a viable alternative to even the finest woods. Super light but incredibly strong, it is also called vegetable steel and has been used since ancient times to build houses, furnish them and even to make the handle of samurai swords

Today, bamboo has been rediscovered and is increasingly used in interior design, because in addition to being strong and lightweight, it is naturally water-repellent, easy to clean and versatile, making it ideal for making high-quality, environmentally friendly parquet flooring, wall coverings, furniture and home accessories

In this section you can begin to discover the full potential of bamboo wood with a selection of accessories designed to give a contemporary, green look to your bathrooms

With H+Contractor, you can create entire environments in bamboo wood

The Ecofriendly bathroom furniture line made by GreenGuroo

Made of bamboo wood, with eco-friendly waterbased finishes and AISI 304 steel components

All FSC and BSCI certified so respect the virgin forests and the rights of the
