

by Emma's Quilt Cupboard & Sewing Center

I feel like I blinked and—poof—we're here! I'm absolutely not ready for the rush of the season... but I am thrilled to say my knee replacement went beautifully. I'm finally on my way back to walking like a normal human being—no more "old lady two-step stair shuffle" for me!

One of my favorite parts of the holidays is the memories we create year after year. Every Christmas, I sew pillowcases for my grandchildren, and I love that they still get excited about them—no matter how old they get. We make our annual trip to the enchanted village at Jordan's Furniture. And of course... the legendary Rich Family Gingerbread House Contest. This is serious business, people—rules, point systems, the whole nine yards. My husband serves as the judge, awarding the grand prize (a year's worth of bragging rights) to the winning team of one adult and one kid. It's wildly competitive, wonderfully creative, and honestly one of my favorite traditions.

But what truly matters most are those small, shining moments we share with the people we love. Yes, the holidays can be hectic and stressful—but it's the little things that stay with us: making hot chocolate for my grandkids, shivering through backyard football games, endless board games, listening to them bravely play the instruments they're learning, watching Star Wars for the umpteenth time. These simple memories mean everything to me—moments I treasure with both my grandkids and my kids. It truly doesn't get any better.

From my family to yours, we wish you a joyful, peaceful holiday season—and may you be blessed with the laughter of children, the warmth of togetherness, and the magic of Christmas.

With Warm Stitches,
-Cyndi
