Dear Miss Oregon Family,

Let me first start by saying how thrilled our Board of Directors is by the fact that we can gather together, even with some restrictions, this year. A few months ago, (heck - even a few weeks ago!) the prospect of having more than a few people in person was pretty low. So thank you for being here! We're glad to see you in our audience and we know all of our candidates are so happy to have their friends and family here to cheer them on. As we continue to transition into the new normal, we are so happy to host the 74-year tradition of the Miss Oregon competition with all of you.

Speaking of our candidates, what an amazing group of young women we have! The Miss Oregon and Miss Oregon's Outstanding Teen Class of 2021 is outstanding. They have a huge variety of accomplishments, are incredibly talented, and honestly, are just really pleasant to work with. I'm especially excited as this is my first year serving on the Miss Oregon Scholarship Program Board of Directors and getting to know them has been a true pleasure. When I see the caliber of young women that are here, I have confidence in the future of our world. We should probably all take a step back and follow their lead.

I would be remiss if I didn't mention the insanely generous, talented and dedicated folks who sit on our all-volunteer Board of Directors and wider volunteer committees. And actually, the word "sit" does not describe them at all. These people MOVE, and they get stuff done. Without them, the Miss Oregon competition would not happen. A dear friend once told me that putting on a competition was like planning a wedding every year, a big wedding with a lot of guests. It takes so much work and I thank all of our volunteers from the bottom of my heart. People use their vacation time to be here every year. They take vacation to come here and work! And they put in hundreds of hours throughout the year to make this event, and our state titleholders' year of service, the very best it can be. Planning for this year has been uniquely challenging, but our board and other volunteer staff have more than risen to the occasion.

To Shivali & Marin - It has only been a short 6 months or so since I began working with this board and with you as my state titleholders. That seems especially short given that you've both been in your roles for two years now, thanks to a global pandemic. I have so enjoyed getting to know you a little bit better and I want to thank you both for all of the work that you have done to ensure that even though things looked quite different, our organization still had wonderful spokespeople at the helm. Two years as a titleholder is a long time. You have both shown grace under fire and helped move our organization forward in your own ways. The entire Board of Directors wishes you well on your next steps and looks forward to seeing where you take your life. I'd say "good luck," but honestly, you don't need it. You have everything you need to be successful, already inside of you.

Lastly, to all of our sponsors: thank you for believing that the world needs more great women and for supporting us as we provide guidance, support and scholarships to the next generation. Your support means more than you will ever know.

Sincerely,

Blaine Barklow

Thank you to the many volunteers who assist us during Miss Oregon week. Your support and dedication is essential to the success of this program I knew that number would always hold special significance for me, as it named the year that I finally earned the job I had been working towards for four years of my life: the job of Miss Oregon. However, I had no way of knowing on the night of my crowning how significant that number would become to every single person on this planet by the end of the year. The year that I believed would change my life ultimately changed our entire world. As I reflect on the almost unbelievable two years that I've held the title of Miss Oregon, the most powerful emotion I feel, and would like to share with you, is gratitude.

I am grateful to the Miss Oregon Scholarship Program, including its candidates, titleholders, directors, volunteers, and sponsors for showering me, and one another, with unconditional love and patience during this incredibly taxing time.

I am grateful to the ideal of Miss Oregon herself, for reminding me on my most helpless days of the ability I have to make a positive impact, the responsibility I have to be a role model for young women, and the commitment I made to myself to continue being a woman deserving of such a title in the first place.

Lastly, I am grateful that we are all able to gather as a family tonight to celebrate Miss Oregon 2021 when so many in the past year and a half had the opportunity to celebrate anything again abruptly taken from them. That it could have very easily included me or someone I love is a fact I am acutely aware of; that it didn't is a blessing I have counted daily. In so many ways, the absolute chaos we endured opened my eyes to how privileged I really am.

When wildfires raged across Oregon last year, there was a brief period of time when even a breath of fresh air proved elusive. An action so essential to life that it is a wholly unconscious effort was suddenly a luxury. I felt so suffocated, physically and otherwise, during that time, overwhelmed by the realization that I had taken every past breath for granted and that no future breath is guaranteed. It is such an obvious thought, but one we so seldom ponder.

I woke up today, on my last day as your Miss Oregon, and did what I have every single morning since then: I took a deep breath and was just grateful that I could.

The sisterhood is real.

The opportunity to serve as Miss Oregon's Outstanding Teen for two years has been a whirlwind of people, service, and experiences. If you look closely at my crown, you'll see the loose stones from dropping it when I let little kids try it on and a few crumbs from my discovery that it is the perfect place to hide cookies. My sash has some dirt from outdoor events, stains from the state fair, and snags from hugging people pre-COVID. And noone will ever be able to scrub the Oregon from my heart. My crown and sash are in much worse condition than they were two years ago, and that is what I consider to be my greatest accomplishment.

Some moments of my years were filled with glamour, as in the banquets and galas I attended, but I'll cherish the real moments, the real people I met, and the real way I've experienced the power of the crown as a tool to use to serve the community, rather than merely a sparkly accessory.

To my parents: Thank you for your ceaseless support and encouragement these past two years. I couldn't ask for a better pageant mom and pageant dad to experience this opportunity with, and I couldn't have done it without you two by my side!

To my grandparents: I couldn't be more grateful for your love and support as my cheering section during my reign!

To the Miss Douglas County program: Brooke and Angie, you have been some of my biggest supporters this year! Your constant encouragement, kindness, jokes, and holiday hedgehog memes have meant the world to me.

To Cindy, Beth, and Blaine: Thank you for always being there for support or advice! I'm honored to have worked with and gotten to know each of you through the program. You've been such an amazing part of my years as Miss Oregon's Outstanding Teen.

To the Miss Oregon board: You are some of the most inspiring people I've had the privilege to encounter. You made my Miss Oregon experience one to remember, and I'm so grateful for you!

To Shivali: I know I can always count on you for science memes and a good laugh! Thank you for being my partner in crime, shoulder to lean on, and friend over the past two years together. From the national competitions to the Bridgeport Village promotional shoot to the Oregon preliminaries, I'm grateful to have had you by my side.

Oregon, I am truly honored to have represented and served you. Words cannot fully express how grateful I am to the Oregon community for supporting me.

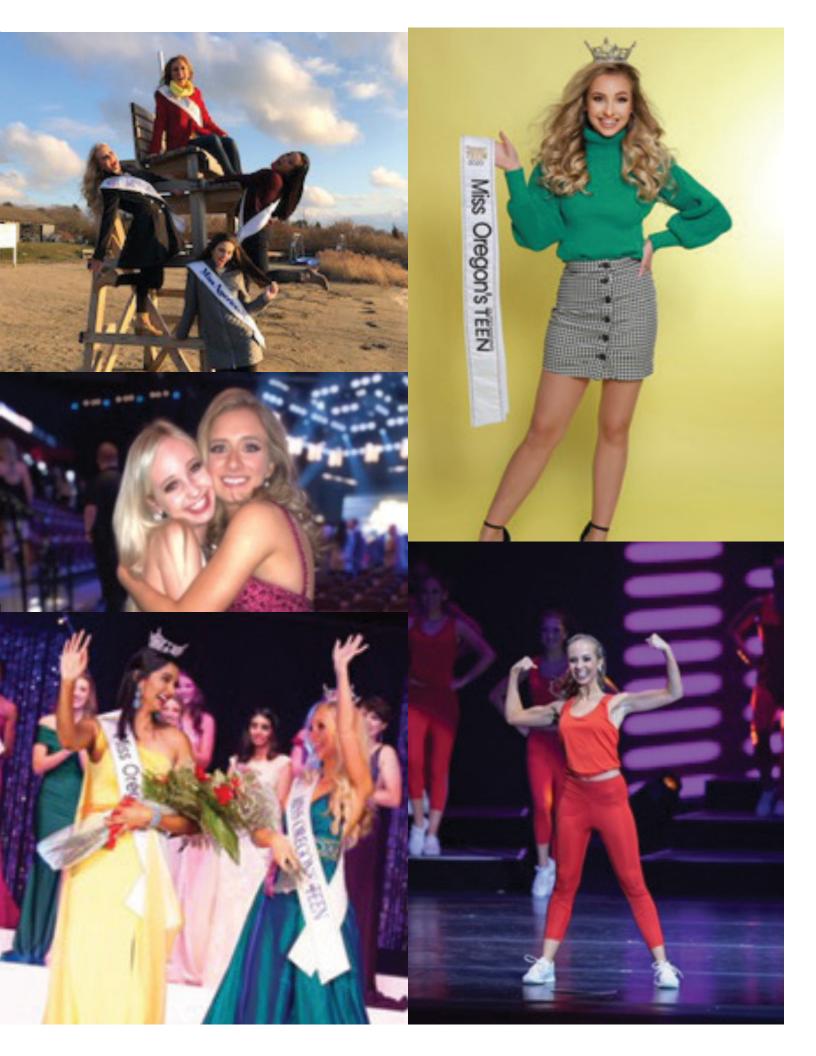

To the next Miss Oregon's Outstanding Teen: I hope by the time you finish your reign, your heart will be full, your sash will be dirty, and a few sparkles in your crown will have come loose. That's how you'll know the sisterhood is real.

Signing off, Marin Gray

Audrey, I am so so proud of you for working so incredibly hard to make your dreams happen. You are so talented, and I am so inspired by you! Almost five years ago when I met you, you and Aurianna immediately became sisters to me. We have had the craziest times together and my best memories were made with you. You mean the world to me and have no idea how blessed I am to be your ride or die! You can do anything you set your mind to, beautiful girl. Hove you so much, and I am so excited to see where life takes us. You'll always have a piece of my heart. Love, Anaiah

Audrey, to say we are proud of you is quite the understatement. From being our flower girl 5 years ago to now—you have consistently amazed us with your grace, beauty, determination and drive. There is nothing you cannot do. We are thankful that our daughter has you as her best friend and if she grew up to be just like you, we'd consider ourselves blessed. Praying for only good things to come out of your time up at Seaside and we love you so, so much! -The Garland Family

Miss Oregon's Outstanding Teen

Brighid,

You are almost too much sometimes; too smart, too funny, too accomplished, too kind, too generous, too talented., too tall;) We are so proud of you—your accomplishments in the classroom, the pool, and the community; your fortitude in overcoming adversity; your fierce love for your family and friends; and your wisdom, confidence, and ability to speak your mind. You are a force to be reckoned with and we are jazzed to be along for the ride!
