HOW TO BUILD A SEX ROOM

Over a couple of rainy days I made my way through this new Netflix series...
WOW, was even better than I had expected and I'm now telling everyone they NEED to watch it.

Whether you are wanting something light and easy to watch, or wanting some inspiration for your own sex life spice up I highly recommend this series. From my perspective as someone who sells sextoys and works in this industry I think it's going to do wonders for bringing SEX to the forefront again and for educating people that it's just sex, we all do it and we all have different needs and wants and desires.

Seeing such a range of couples in the show was awesome for me. Gay, Straight, Lesbian, Polyamorous, Kinky, vanilla...Every flavour.. I see this everyday with this business but I feel there is still such an image in minds of the "type of people" who use sextoys or are into BDSM etc. But you truly can't judge a book by its cover, you have no idea what goes on behind closed doors, and well we shouldn't really care either..

Sex is something we all do and need and how we do it shouldn't be the big deal some people make it out to be!

These rooms covered so many relationships, needs and wants - from the more extreme needing drainage for water sports through to a couple who needed to get there intimacy back as work, kids and life just gets in the way.. They were all just couples wanting to enhance their sexlife and their relationships so how can that be dirty or wrong!

Any way I now can't wait for my kids to leave home and I want to personally invite Melanie Rose to come and design it!!

PILLOW TALK

With JONI MORRISSEY

How to use your vibrator discreetly when you don't live alone.

All of us have experienced it - aroused, but nervous that the next room will hear us if we turn on the vibrator. No matter where you live, you are likely to have a very valid concern: how can I mask my vibrator's annoying buzzing sound?

It might seem strange to suggest a room redesign, but I honestly think it is worth it. Consider moving your bed to the other side of the room if it's relatively close to the door.

1. First, do a sound check

The vibrator you're using probably sounds louder than it actually is. Therefore, I recommend conducting a trial run when you are next alone at home. Turn your buzzy companion to the highest setting and leave the room. What can you hear from the other room? Can you hear it in the living room? The office? To feel more at ease, perform a listening check where necessary in the house.

4. Bring a waterproof vibe into the shower/bath.

Your vibe may be loud(ish), but the cascade of your shower is loud(ish)-er!

Ensure that the vibe is waterproof. Don't confuse waterproof with water-resistant. The PlusOne G-spot Massager and PlusOne - Air Pulse Arouser are wonderful options for shower time play. "Waterproof" means the toy can be fully submerged, while "water-resistant" simply means you can get it wet when you clean it.

2. Get a really thick sheet/comforter.

Purchasing a super thick comforter might feel like it adds weight to your bed. Plus, it muffles louder toys well.

5. Block the space under your door with a rolled-up towel

Rolling up a towel or blanket to cover the small space between the door and the floor stops scents and sounds from escaping.

3. Be strategic about where you put your bed. Position your bed closer to walls you don't share with other people.

6. Drown out the sound with other sounds

Play music or put on a TV show

If you can get off with sport or the formula one blaring in the background ,have at it — the cheers do a GREAT job of camouflaging buzz. Other good options: Music videos, and any movie in the “Terminator” series (aka the loudest movies ever made).

7. Buy a quieter vibe

If you're truly worried about your roomies hearing you, avoid the toys that are particularly loud. I recommends

- Touch by We – Vibe

For a quieter vibrator

Though vibrations are an amazing modern invention, there are many pleasure products that don't vibrate, such as those that create feelings of fullness, pressure, or heat

I recommends these two non vibrating toys especially:

- A stainless steel/ glass toy that stimulates internal hot spots
- Naughty Bits Shake Your Ass Petite Vibrating Butt Plug a booty plug that can stimulate the nerve-dense anus in new ways.

8. Ask for 30 minutes of alone time

The majority of people don't feel uncomfortable telling their roommate they need the apartment for a few hours so they can get off with their partners, so why should it be any different with themselves?

9. Alternatively, you might decide not to give AF if you feel comfortable with others hearing your toy

The reasons for hiding the sound of your vibrator are many, but most of them are related to either the shame of masturbating or the shame of using a vibrator while masturbating, neither of which are things we should be ashamed of. Masturbation is a self-care process!

Keep in mind that your roommates are probably doing the same thing. If your parents are your roommates, you may feel somewhat disturbed by the thought. However, the fact remains.

IT MEANS WHAT??

SEX TERMS AND WHAT THEY MEAN.

Sex almost has it's own special language now and with every generation it grows as new things are discovered and explored.

I scoured the internet to find some of the more interesting and have compiled a list below of what I consider to be the need to know and some I just found interesting.. At 40 I definitely learnt a few new terms. Hope you enjoy.

Anorgasmia: When you have a difficult time reaching orgasm despite receiving the necessary stimulation. (more common than we realise I would suspect)

Blue Balls: A non-dangerous, non-medical term, blue balls is a term for when a person's scrotum feels pain because they are experiencing prolonged sexual arousal without the release of an orgasm.

Bukkake: Bukkake is a sex act (and a popular porn genre). Multiple men , often three or more, ejaculate all over a woman. (hmm I wonder which gender it's more popular with)

Cuckolding: Cuckolding is when a person in a relationship stands by as their partner has sex with someone else. There are many ways to cuck: The "cuckold" may look on while tied up in a corner, or the cuckold's partner may go out on their own, have sex, and then report back the details. There is usually an element of humiliation involved: For instance, a wife may tell her husband all about how her other partner has a massive penis and can satisfy her in ways her husband cannot. Yes, some men are turned on by being told they suck in bed. (Important note: It's totally possible to share sexy fantasies about cuckolding with your partner without actually doing it.)

Creampie: We are not talking after dinner dessert here! It is when semen visibly drips out of a vagina or anus after ejaculation during sex.

Doppelbanger: When you have sex with someone that looks identical to you (but isn't actually related).The part in brackets is an important point to remember!

Edging: Delaying an orgasm for as long as possible with the goal of having an ultimately more intense climax. (highly recommend you all try this)

Edge Play: Extreme sexual activity that falls under the BDSM umbrella. It involves trying riskier activities and can include consensual physical or psychological pain for pleasure, arousal, and stimulation.

Facefuck: When someone (aggressively) fucks their partner's mouth, typically while holding their head in place. (protip-check out our Suck it deep throat spray)

Facial: When referring to the sex definition of a facial, it's when a penis-haver ejaculates semen onto their partner's face.

Foot Job: Similar to hand jobs, but involves using feet rather than hands to rub and stimulate a partner's genitals.

Golden Shower: Also called "water sports" and refers to a sex act involving urine. This can mean peeing on your partner, in front of your partner, near your partner, or having your partner pee on/near/in front of you.

Hotline Bling: It's just another word for a booty call. The word became popular after the Drake song, Hotline Bling. (Bootycall is more my era)

Impact Play: Impact play refers to any impact on the body done for sexual gratification, from spankings to whips and crops. When engaging in impact play, you should use a safe word and continually check in with one another to ensure the level of pain is desirable. It's also important to stick to areas on the body which are safe to spank or tap on with a crop, which means fleshy, meaty areas away from the organs, such as the butt and thighs.

Mastuwaiting: When you're watching porn while jacking off but you have to wait because the video's buffering. (#firstworld problems)

Metamours: Your lover's lover in a non-monogamous relationship—aka your wife's boyfriend, your girlfriend's girlfriend, and/or your boyfriend's casual hookup buddy.

Pegging: When someone without a penis performs anal intercourse on their partner with the help of a strap-on dildo.

Pillow Princess: Someone who likes to lie back and let their partner do most of the physical work during sex. (Who doesn't want to be a princess now and then?)

Pompoir: Using vaginal muscles in different ways to stimulate the penis during intercourse. Basically, Pilates for your vagina. It's historically an act meant to give pleasure to a male partner, although strengthening the vaginal walls can help with incontinence and bladder health.

Pearl Necklace: When someone with a penis ejaculates onto their partner's neck or chest. The term comes from the drops of semen that are said to look like the individual pearls on a strand of beads. (I'll take the real pearls thanks)

Queefing: A noise that can come out of your vagina during sex. (And yep, it can sound like a fart.) It's when air is released from the vagina suddenly, and the sound is loud enough to notice. It is totally normal and there's no odour.

Queening (a.k.a. Face-sitting): This is just a word for when a vulva-owner straddles their partner's face to get eaten out.

Rimming: Also called a rim job, tossed salad, and analingus; refers to oral sex involving mouth-to-anus contact.

Rusty Trombone: The act of performing a simultaneous rim job and hand job.(just thinking how I can't pat my head and rub my tummy at the same time..??)

Shrimping: The act of sucking on your partner's toes.

Sploshing: A sexual fetish that entails bringing food into your sex life—specifically large quantities of food, so that things get messy. (Sploshing is a subset of the “wet and messy” fetish.)

Strap-On: A two-piece sex toy that includes a dildo and a harness, which attaches to the hips of the person wearing it. Strap-ons are often used for penetrative vaginal or anal sex.

Squirting: When fluid comes out of someone's vagina, often accompanying orgasm.(yes it's real...no it's not pee)

Teabagging: When a penis-haver places their scrotum into the mouth or onto the face or forehead of another person, usually while standing or kneeling over that person.

Tantric Sex: Sex that lasts for hours and hours and involves study, meditation, breath-work, eye contact, and intimacy with your partner.

Temperature Play: An erotic form of consensual sensation play that's often carried out by people who engage in BDSM play or kink. The goal of temperature play is to use the elements of heat and cold to heighten the senses.

Thigh Job: A sexual act where someone's genitals are stimulated by a partner's thighs. A thigh job can be done with clothes or bare thighs, thighs in latex, pantyhose, thigh highs, lubed up, or without lube.

Venus Butterfly (technique): A sex act that involves both oral stimulation of the genitalia (cunnilingus) and manual stimulation (fingering) at the same time. (high 5 for whoever invented this move)

Wet and Messy (WAM): A sexual fetish for getting covered in a messy substance, such as food or paint.
