Letter from ENGMA's CEO,

Dear Valued Customers,

Engma would like to send customers our wishes for health, happiness and success in life.

Engma was born with the strong development of technology 4.0 and the big increasing demand of application technology that aims Enterprises to improve the business process and the areas of effective management.

Over the years, we have had the opportunity to meet and advise hundreds of enterprises from small to large and accompany them in the process of conceptualizing, deploying and operating software and applications.

We understand that application design & programming is not just about using an IT tool, but it also requires the consultant & programmer to understand the enterprise's own operating culture and model. By this way, the applying application success will not harm the existing culture and operating processes of the enterprise.

With our experiences and high level technical team. We are very proud and grateful to those Customers who have trusted and given us the opportunity.

Once again, we would like to wish our customers good health - happiness - success in life.

On behalf of ENGMA JSC.
