ABOUT US

ThinkPsych started with two friends that were also psychologists. We loved the power of games to help kids learn essential life skills like sharing, cooperating, and dealing with frustration. In fact, we used a lot of games in therapy to help children talk about their feelings and practice social skills. But there was something missing. The games we played - they didn't make teaching essential life skills a priority. They were a side effect, not the purpose.

In 2020, we decided to change that. Drawing from our decades of clinical experience, we started designing educational games to make a difference. Our goal is to bring fun and effective social-emotional learning to kids in every home. We thank you for joining us on our journey to help kids live happier, better lives.
