– IN THE MIDDLE OF LOFOTEN

Leknes cruiseport is located in Vestvågøy municipality in Lofoten.

Leknes is located geographically in the middle of Lofoten, approx. 68 km west of Svolvær and approx. 65 km east of Å.

Vestvågøy municipality includes Vestvågøya and several smaller islands and islets in the surrounding waters.

Vestvågøy was named Lofotr in the Viking Age, the origin of Lofoten.

Vestvågøy municipality is Lofoten's most populous with its 11 294 inhabitants (2017).

Vestvågøy is a popular tourist destination with high mountains, southern fishing villages such as Ballstad and Stamsund, and on the west side of the island white sandy beaches such as Haukland beach, Viksanden, Unstad, Utakleiv and Eggum.

Eggum Nature Reserve is located at Eggum. Utakleiv, Eggum,

Vestresand and Kvalnes are favorite places to watch the midnight sun.
