GROEZY™ PRODUCTS ARE

PATENTED FOR DESIGN AND UTILITY

We design our products to ensure optimal dry-backs and compatibility to all growing styles.

- ✓ The grow media, encompassed in a casing made of fabric or plastic : making grow blocks to adapt to expand on hydration, thereby filling up the space inside the garden fabric/plastic casing.
- ✓ A center hole is drilled at the top center part of the compacted grow media : to help align the irrigation system and watering equipment used in cultivation.
- ✓ A bottom layer of spongy or fibrous medium having hygroscopic properties : helps to improve absorption capability and maintain moisture inside the block.
- ✓ A plurality of perforations or holes are provided on the bottom of fabric/plastic casing : to create suction/siphon effect of fluids into the block.

GROEZY™ CULTIVATION BLOCKS

FEATURES:

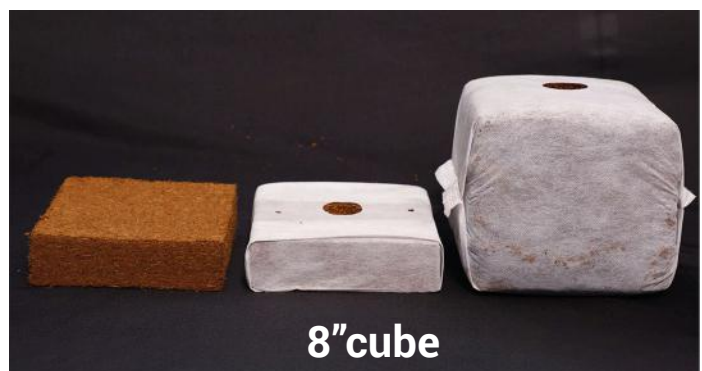

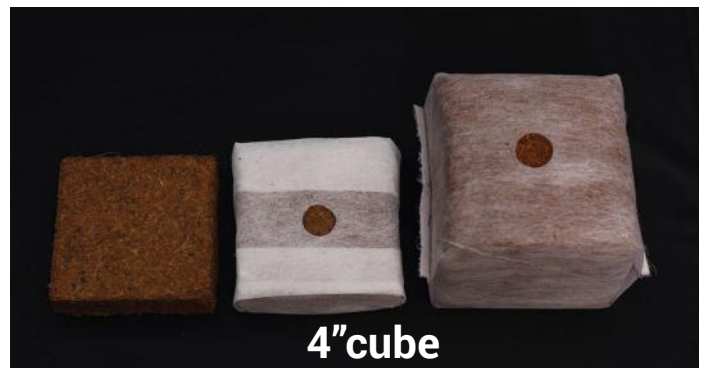

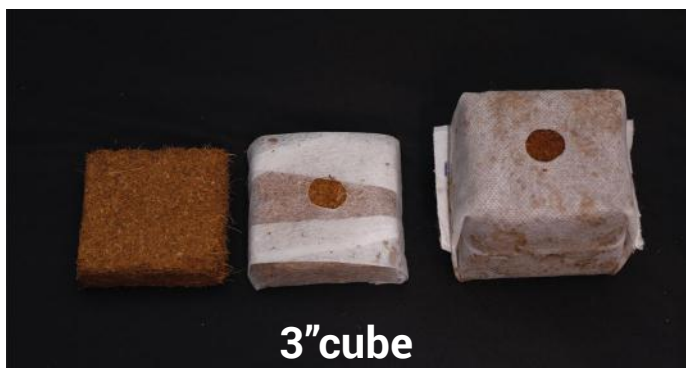

- Define workflows to suit your setup
- Switch grow media without switching your technique
- Compatible with most grow technique and systems
- Pre-buffered and ready to use coco
- Premium grow media, triple washed
- EC below 0.5, balanced pH between 6.2 – 6.7

GROEZY™ COCO GROW CUBES

- Hydrate the compressed block to expand into a cube
- Starter grow cubes (3"-4") for seeds or clones

Fabric coverings will prevent the freezing air from coming into direct contact with the moisture on the plant while also capturing the heat that is radiating from the ground.

THE COCO DEPOT

We specialize in the design and development of coco based products. Founded in 2012, a start-up geared to service our Garden and Horticulture communities in the Bay Area. We have an assortment of Organic products for a more natural and environmental friendly gardening experience.

We own and operate 3 raw material processing units and contract 2 other large units to ensure adequate supply. Since inception, our customer base has and continues to grow.
