About us

In the vibrant heart of Delhi-6, amidst the aroma of street food and the energy of celebration, our story began – not with wealth, inheritance, or industry connections, but with one dream and an unshakable belief in its power. It was the spark of ambition that turned a simple vision into a lifelong purpose, driven by the desire to create something valuable, lasting, and truly our own.

Raised in a traditional Punjabi household, far removed from entrepreneurship, the journey started on a conventional path – education, a degree, and a secure job in a reputed MNC. For many, that would have been the destination. For us, it was just the beginning of something far more meaningful, filled with learning, challenges, and the joy of building a dream from the ground up.
