WELCOME

Welcome to our July / August Edition of our Libra Drinks Headlines Promotional brochure.

As we bask in the glow of the summer sun and wall-to-wall Football World Cup coverage, our customers start reaching for those cold, light, and refreshing drinks to help while away time with friends and family. By now, you probably know how great it is to have a SPRITZ

MENU at your place, whether it's a cozy country pub, a bustling city bar, or a cafe that serves all day and night. But don't forget about other summer classics like the mojito, the Pina Colada, or the crowd-pleasing Spicy Margarita that everyone loves right now. Whether you need these cocktails fresh, in a can or partly made for speed of service, we have you covered for this summer

But what if you're not in the mood for a drink in the heat and just want something tasty and bright to sip on in your favourite beer gardens? We've got a fantastic selection of mineral options for you to enjoy. Whether it's the crisp, refreshing CAWSTON PRESS FRUIT SODA CANS, the delightful presses from BELVOIR, or the flavour-packed range of FRANKLIN AND SON'S MIXERS that we offer, we guarantee you and your customers will have plenty to enjoy when the sun shines!

On the wine side of things, we're really focusing on the lighter and bubbly options in our collection. We have our exclusive, AWARD-WINNING Prosecco range to offer you tremendous bang for your buck. And if England make it to the latter stages of the World Cup, then what better way to celebrate than with traditional method

English sparkling wines from our very own TINWOOD WINE ESTATES in Sussex. The summer is the height for the thriving Rosé market. I'm always on the hunt for fresh and exciting listings to move away from the usual Provencal choices on menus to something more unique and enjoyable. Check out the page featuring three new wines I've just added to our collection: dare to be different and get ready to be amazed! In the same easy drinking vein alongside the CHACUBUCO MALBEC ROSADO, take a look at my favourite wines from South America. You can enjoy the Chilean CASA SANTIAGO PINOT NOIR chilled and savoured straight from the fridge or reach for the Uruguayan Chardonnay or the Argentinean Viognier... absolutely perfect!

Moving into the height of summer and holiday season, our beer and cider category continues to deliver with some excellent seasonal ales available and some brilliant deals on offer to help you make the most of this vibrant drinking opportunity. Whether it's the outrageously refreshing Damm Lemon or the fruity delights from Lilley's Cider, we've got loads on to offer to help you cater for the summer. Also check out our piece on Gluten Free and Vegan friendly beers. As we continue to see a rise in demand of diet friendly beers and ciders, we've pulled together some information to help make the best choices to keep your customers happy and healthy.

Whatever your customers' choice, Libra Drinks are here through the sunshine, the football, the odd downpour and those moments we share together.

Cheers and may this season be a profitable one.
Best regards from the team at Libra Drinks.

English Sparkling Wine Feature

A Summer of English Bubbles

THE CHARM OF SUSSEX-MADE SPARKLING WINE

Summer is here, which means the fruiting canes on vines are heavy with bunches of grapes, ready for véraison in August. The season brings an abundance of beautiful foliage on the vines, plenty of glorious English sunshine, and glasses upon glasses of wine flowing.

However, English summers aren't always just suncream and bikinis. England is rapidly gaining a reputation for producing excellent sparkling wine—and we have our cool climate to thank for it. The lower temperatures in the UK result in lower sugar levels in the grapes. As a result, the wine undergoes a second fermentation to raise sugar levels and create natural bubbles. You might recognise this process as the Méthode Champenoise or Méthode Cap Classique (MCC).

At the foot of the South Downs National Park in Sussex, you'll find the family-owned Tinwood Estate, renowned for producing exceptional single-vineyard sparkling wines. They cultivate Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, and Pinot Meunier on flinty, chalky soils—ideal conditions for crisp, dry wines with delicate, memorable bubbles in every bottle. Tinwood Estate wines are now available at Libra Drinks—ready to be enjoyed on a balmy summer evening.

Discover more about Vineyard Tours and Wine Tasting Experiences, or Luxury Lodge stays at Tinwood Estate at www.tinwoodestate.com. Shop their wines at www.libradrinks.co.uk

Sparkling wine is particularly abundant along the South Coast of England, where vineyards strive to grow the highest-quality Champagne-variety grapes. In 2022, Sussex was awarded PDO (Protected Designation of Origin) status, making it the first—and only—official UK wine region. This prestigious recognition places Sussex Sparkling Wines alongside the likes of Champagne, Cava, and Crémant. Celebrate this summer with the indulgent taste of the finest English strawberries, perfectly paired with Cornish clotted cream and a silky-smooth Sussex-made sparkling wine.

Barton & Guestier
DEPUIS 1725

Thomas Barton left his native Ireland in the beginning of the 18th century and emigrated to Bordeaux when he was just 30 years old. As a true adventurer he founded his wine-shipping company in 1725. Very quickly, his efforts brought an unbelievable level of prosperity and by 1947, Thomas Barton was considered Bordeaux's number one shipper and his loyal clients nicknamed him "French Tom". He was the first shipper to have his own wine estates. In 1802 Hugh Barton, his grandson and successor, teamed up with Daniel Guestier, a French trader, to create Barton & Guestier which is today the oldest wine merchant established in Bordeaux.

The Rise of Gluten-Free and Vegan-Friendly Beer in the UK

The UK beer market is undergoing a major transformation. Once considered niche categories, gluten-free and vegan-friendly beers are now firmly part of the mainstream beer conversation. Driven by changing consumer habits, greater dietary awareness, and increasing demand for healthier and more ethical drinking options, breweries across Britain are rapidly expanding their offerings.

From supermarket shelves to craft taprooms, drinkers are increasingly seeking beers that align with their lifestyle choices without compromising on taste or quality.

Gluten-Free Beer: From Specialist Product to Mainstream Growth Category

Gluten-free beer has seen particularly strong growth across the UK and Europe over the past decade. Originally aimed primarily at consumers with coeliac disease or gluten intolerance, the category now appeals to a much broader audience seeking lighter, easier-to-digest beverages. Industry analysts estimate that the global gluten-free beer market was worth approximately £841 million in 2025 and many experts now predict this will grow at nearly 15% annually through 2033.

In the UK specifically, retailers have significantly expanded gluten-free beer availability in recent years, with major supermarket chains now stocking both domestic and imported gluten-free lagers, pale ales, and IPAs. More and more breweries opting to exclusively brew products that are both Gluten free and vegan friendly, with no compromise to taste and quality. Here in the East Midlands we don't have to look far to see some of the great beer being produced locally that hits this criteria, Little Brewing Co in Derby are consistently making fantastic beer which is all Gluten Free whilst Nottingham's local heroes Castle Rock have a permanently available Session IPA which is also Gluten Free.

National brands such as Daura and Peroni Gluten Free have become increasingly visible in UK retail, with more and more brewers recognising the need for national brands to have a presence in the Gluten Free market due to growing consumer demand.

Innovation in Gluten-Free Beer Production

Modern gluten-free brewing has evolved dramatically.

Rather than simply replacing barley with alternative grains, many brewers now use advanced enzymatic processes that remove gluten while preserving the flavour and body of traditional beer.

Production innovation has helped improve product quality significantly, encouraging wider consumer adoption. Brewers are increasingly experimenting with:

- Sorghum
- Millet
- Rice
- Buckwheat
- Gluten-removal enzyme technologies

Vegan-Friendly Beer Continues to Expand

Many consumers are surprised to learn that not all beer is vegan.

Traditional brewing methods sometimes use animal-derived fining agents such as isinglass during filtration. However, as plant-based lifestyles have become more popular, breweries have increasingly reformulated recipes and production methods to remove animal ingredients.

The UK has become one of Europe's leading vegan markets, and beer producers have responded quickly.

Large international brewers and UK craft beer brands now actively promote vegan-friendly credentials as part of broader sustainability and transparency initiatives. Younger consumers in particular are driving demand for:

- Vegan-certified beverages
- Sustainable brewing practices
- Ingredient transparency
- Health-conscious alcohol choices

Industry observers note that vegan-friendly beer is no longer confined to craft breweries. Mainstream lagers, stouts, and IPAs are increasingly being reformulated or certified as vegan to meet growing consumer expectations.

Changing Consumer Behaviour

The growth of gluten-free and vegan-friendly beer reflects broader shifts within the drinks industry.

Today's consumers are increasingly seeking products that combine:

- Premium quality
- Wellness positioning
- Ethical sourcing
- Inclusivity

- Sustainability
- Modern brewing innovation

Research also suggests younger drinkers are consuming alcohol more selectively, favouring premium and specialist beverages over higher-volume consumption.

This trend has created substantial opportunities for breweries that can successfully combine flavour, authenticity, and dietary inclusivity.

Many of the UK's highest-selling mainstream beers are now vegan-friendly.

Rank	Beer Brand	Country	Notes
1	Guinness	Ireland	Reformulated production process to become vegan-friendly
2	Asahi UK	UK	Large proportion of core range, such as Asahi and Peroni marketed as vegan-friendly

4	Corona	Mexico	Widely recognised vegan-friendly lager

The Future of Inclusive Brewing

The outlook for gluten-free and vegan-friendly beer in the UK remains extremely positive.

For breweries, pubs, retailers, and distributors alike, gluten-free and vegan-friendly beer is no longer simply an alternative it is becoming an essential part of the modern beer landscape. As always, Libra will continue to monitor trends and update our range to ensure your bar has the availability it needs to meet consumer trends. Our sales team are continually updated as range evolves to meet your needs. We are currently updating our website to ensure all gluten free and vegan friendly beers are listed and easy to find so keep an eye on developments as they come.

STRANGE CHARM

Part of our always vegan, always gluten-free, hazy pale cask range.

WHAT ARE GLUTEN-FREE BEERS?

Our cask beers marked as 'gluten free' are brewed much like regular beer. However, during fermentation, the beer is treated with Brewers Clarex® - a widely used enzyme that breaks down gluten proteins.

After this process, the beer is carefully tested to ensure gluten levels fall below the recognised threshold of 20 parts per million (ppm), which is the standard for gluten-free certification.

Giving up gluten doesn't mean giving up great beer. In fact, there should be no noticeable difference in flavour compared to beers that contain gluten - so you can still enjoy the same quality, character, and refreshment.
